HIS Excellency the GOVERNOR is pleased to direct the publication, for general information, of the following copy of a Report, this day received, from the New South Wales Medical Board, in reply to a communication made to them from this Office, requesting to be furnished with any information in their power as to the prevalence of sickness, at the present time, in the town of Sydney, and also as to whether, in the opinion of the Board, anything could be done by the Government for its alleviation.

*By His Excellency's Command,
E. DEAS THOMSON.*

(COPY)

New South Wales Medical Board, 10th May, 1841.

SIR,—We have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 6th instant, conveying the request of His Excellency the Governor, “that he might be furnished with any information which the Medical Board might possess, as to the prevalence of sickness at the present time in the town of Sydney, and also as to whether the Board considered anything could be done by the Government for its alleviation.”

In directing our consideration to the important subject of His Excellency's communication, we beg most respectfully to state, that as the duties of the Medical Board are confined solely to the examination and registration of the testimonials of qualification of parties desirous of being enrolled as legally qualified Medical Practitioners, the matter referred to by His Excellency has never come before us as a Medical Board; but, as some of the Members, in their individual capacity, have had an opportunity of becoming conversant with the general state of health of the Inhabitants of the town of Sydney, we do ourselves the honour of submitting, for the information of his Excellency, the following brief and necessarily hurried observations in regard to it.

1st. It is undeniable that an unusual amount both of sickness and mortality, has, for some time past, prevailed, and still exists, in the town of Sydney.

2ndly. That the condition above referred to as affecting the state of health of the Inhabitants of Sydney, in a great measure depends upon the existence of “Scarlatina” or “Scarlet Fever,” a disease of a specific and contagious character, usually manifesting itself only once during the life time of an individual, and which, from its never having previously appeared in the Colony, must, we apprehend, owe its origin to some exterior source.

3dly. That the existence of this disease was first brought under our notice (and we believe made its first appearance in the Colony) about the commencement of the present year—that at the period abovementioned it was almost exclusively confined to the north-western parts of the town of Sydney, but that it has since extended itself in every direction, and is now, we believe, prevailing in many parts of the country.

4thly. That the extreme prevalence of the disease in the Colony, may, in a great measure, be accounted for, by the circumstance, that a large proportion of its Inhabitants has for the first time been exposed to its influence; and the probable increase on the average mortality arising from the same disease, as observed in Europe, may be explained by reference to the generally acknowledged law, governing the diffusion of contagious disorders, viz.—that they are always more fatal on their first introduction to Countries, where their influence had never previously been experienced.

5thly. In allusion to that part of His Excellency's communication, which refers to the steps which the Government might possibly take for the removal, or alleviation of the prevailing sickness, we regret to say, that we consider no measures which the Government could adopt, would have any decided influence upon the progress of the disease. As it is generally believed, however, that most diseases of a contagious character are apt to assume a more or less malignant aspect, according to circumstances, which have a general influence on the health of the community, such as the due supply of water, an effectual drainage, the removing of all decaying or refuse animal and vegetable matter, and the avoidance of too great a concentration of the population in crowded and close lanes and alleys; we would most respectfully suggest, that it can only be by the establishment of some municipal or legislative enactments, whereby the Police of the town might, in such particulars, be regulated, that the health of the inhabitants can hereafter be influenced, and the progress of any future epidemic, or contagious disorder, either mitigated or arrested.

Other causes, frequently assigned as tending to produce or aggravate epidemic, or contagious diseases in Europe, and as creating a more than usual susceptibility to their influence, viz.—those arising from poverty, insufficient or unwholesome food, insufficient clothing, or unhealthy occupation, we believe can have had no influence whatever on the disease now prevalent. The lower ranks of the inhabitants of Sydney seem by no means to have been affected in a greater degree, or in undue proportion, by the prevailing disorder, over the other classes of the community; a circumstance arising, in all probability, from the high rate of remuneration for labor, the sufficiency and reasonable price of food, and their ability to command a large share of the comforts and necessities of life.

In concluding these necessarily brief and imperfect remarks upon the subject of His Excellency's communication, we would take the liberty of adding our conviction of the paramount importance of a strict enforcement of all Quarantine regulations.

We are led to offer this observation, more particularly from the circumstance of our having recently learned that “Small Pox” is prevailing to a great extent at the Mauritius, with which Island this Colony is in frequent communication, coupled with the fact, that at the present time there are no means of affording the inhabitants of the Colony the protecting advantages of vaccination, and we need not add, that the introduction of the Small Pox, under the circumstances here pointed out, would be much more serious in its consequences, and in all probability attended by a much larger amount of mortality, than that which has accompanied the existing, or any previous disease.

We have the honor to remain,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servants,

J. V. THOMPSON,

Office. Due notice will be given of the days appointed for the hearings.

Case No. 944.—Thomas Place, of Windmill-street, Sydney.

Two roods six and a half perches, county of Cumberland, town of Sydney, parish of St. Philip, allotment No. 18 of section No. 94; bounded on the south by the line of street bearing east 13 degrees 30 minutes, north 410 links; on the east by allotment No. 19, bearing north 10 degrees 15 minutes, west 131 links; on the north by allotments Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 16, bearing west 10 degrees 30 minutes, south 133½ links; then west 11 degrees 30 minutes, south 124 links; then west 9 degrees 30 minutes, south 122½ links; then west 12 degrees 30 minutes, south 29 links; and on the west by allotment No. 17, bearing south degrees, east 134 links.

This description was inserted in the Gazette notice of 30th March, 1839, page 377, preparatory to the making out of a deed of grant in favour of Susan Newman, who was found in possession. Claimant alleges, that it was originally located to Thomas Newman, who devised it to Susan Newman for her life, with remainder to him and his children.

Case No. 945.—Ann Byrne, of Campbelltown.

Three roods and thirty one perches, county of Cumberland, parish of St. Peter, town of Campbelltown, allotment No. 87; bounded on the north-east by Lithgow-street, being a line bearing east 44 degrees 45 minutes, south 4 chains; on the south-east by Oxley-street, being a line bearing south 44 degrees 15 minutes, west 2 chains 36½ links; on the south-west by allotment No. 86, being a line bearing west 44 degrees 45 minutes, north 4 chains and 1½ links; and on the north-west by allotment No. 92, being a line bearing 2 chains and 36½ links.

This allotment was appropriated on the authority of Governor Darling to William Byrne, as intimated to the Surveyor General in a letter of the Colonial Secretary, dated 10th November, 1827. Byrne being deceased, intestate, his heir-at-law is entitled to receive the deed of grant, which is, however, claimed by his widow Ann Byrne.

Case No. 946.—Matthew Hughes, of Richmond, Schoolmaster.

Three roods and one perch, county of Cumberland, parish of Ham Common, town of Richmond, allotment No. 7, of section No. 1; bounded on the north-west by allotment No. 8, being a line south 9½ degrees, west 4 chains 16 links; on the south-west by allotment No. 6, being 1 chain 84 links; on the south-east by Bosworth-street, being a line bearing north 19½ degrees, east 4 chains 12 links; and on the north-east by Francis-street, being a line bearing east 19 degrees, south 1 chain 85½ links.

According to the map signed by Governor Macquarie, this allotment is part of No. 22, originally located to Patrick Haad, now deceased. According to Mr. Cox's map, it belonged to J. Ansell, deceased, from whom, it is alleged, claimant purchased.

Case No. 947.—Matthew Hughes, of Richmond, Schoolmaster.

Three roods and four perches, county of Cumberland, parish of Ham Common, town of Richmond, allotment No. 10 of section No. 1; bounded on the north-west by allotment No. 11, being a line bearing north 19 degrees, east 4 chains 19 links; on the south-west by allotment No. 3, being a line bearing east 19 degrees, south 183 links; on the south-east by No. 9 allotment, being 4 chains 19 links; and on the north-east by Francis-street, being a line east 19 degrees south 1 chain 88 links.

According to the map, signed by Governor Macquarie, this allotment is part of No. 19, originally located to Andrew Worth; but according to Mr. Cox's map, it belonged to Mr. James Horse, who (being deceased) devised it, it is alleged, to Daniel Harreskey, from whom claimant purchased.

Case No. 948.—Thomas Silk, of Richmond.

One acre one rood and twenty perches, county of Cumberland, parish of Ham Common, town of Richmond, allotment No. 4 of section No. 14; bounded on the north-west by allotment No. 3, being 4 chains and 5 links; on the south-west by allotment No. 5, being 3 chains and 37 links; on the south-east by Paget-street, being a line bearing south 19 degrees 20 minutes, west 4 chains 10 links; and on the north-east by Lennox-street, being a line bearing west 20½ degrees, north 3 chains 41 links.

This allotment appears to have been located on the authority of Mr. Cox to Patrick Hand, deceased, from whom, it is alleged, claimant purchased.

Case No. 949.—Mary Hudson, of Richmond.

Two acres, one rood, and thirty-four perches, county of Cumberland, parish of Ham Common, town of Richmond, allotment No. 1 of section No. 3; bounded on the north-east by Lennox-street, being a line bearing east 19 degrees 25 minutes, south 5 chains 4 links; on the south-east by allotment No. 2, being a line bearing south 18 degrees 40 minutes, west 5 chains 83 links; on the south-west by a line bearing east 39 degrees 55 minutes, south 5 chains 48 links; and on the north-west by Chapel-street, being a line bearing north 19½ degrees, east 3 chains 91 links.

This allotment on Mr. Cox's map, and on the present maps in the Surveyor General's Office, is charted to Miller, now Silks. In 1832, according to a list in the Surveyor-General's Office, it had been purchased by Silk; claimant alleges that Miller sold to one Joseph Nobbs, of Sydney, who devised it to claimant by deed of gift, but no mention is made of the interest of Silk in the allotment.

Case No. 950.—Elizabeth Ward, of Richmond, widow.

One acre two roods and four perches, county of Cumberland, parish of Ham Common, town of Richmond, allotment No. 4 of section No. 13; bounded on the north-west by allotment No. 3 being 4 chains 15 links; on the south-west by allotment No. 5 and part of No. 6, being 3 chains 72 links; on the south-east by allotment No. 7, being 4 chains 10 links; and on the north-east by March-street, being a line bearing west 19 degrees 40 minutes, north 3 chains 73 links.

This appears to be part of an allotment located on the authority of Mr. Cox to Robert Westmore, who sold this portion to one Carlisle, who sold to one James Ward, who died at Norfolk Island. His representatives are to show to whom a deed of grant should now issue. The widow claims it.

Case No. 951.—John Patrick, of Campbelltown, representatives of.

This allotment was located to John Patrick, on the authority of Governor Darling, as intimated to the Surveyor General on the 10th November, 1827. Patrick being deceased, his representatives are to show to whom a deed of grant should now issue.

Case No. 952.—Messrs. Berry and Wolstonecraft, Representatives of.

By direction of the Commissioners,
JOHN THOMPSON.

Secretary.
