General Post Office, Sydney,

5th November, 1844.

NEWSPAPERS.

IN consequence of the frequent complaints of the loss and exchange of Newspapers passing through this department, which is mainly attributable to the insecure manner in which they are enclosed in their covers, Parties forwarding Newspapers, through the Post Office, are recommended to write the address on the printed part of the paper itself as well as on the envelope, which will, in a great measure, remove the evil, and tend to secure their safe delivery.

It is to be distinctly understood, however, that nothing more must be written on the paper than the Address of the Party for whom it is intended, as it will otherwise become subject to Postage.

JAMES RAYMOND,

Postmaster General.
