On the north by the Surveyor's Creek Run, belonging to Messrs. Jamison and M'Kenzie, being on the west side of the River Macdonald, a stony ridge running back for about 4 miles from the river, at an old station called Mona Vale, to the range dividing the Liverpool Plains from the New England district, all waters falling to the south side of the stony ridge being claimed by us; and on the east side of the River by Cash's Creek, all waters falling into this Creek on the south side being claimed by us; this portion of the Run on the east side of the river is bounded on the east by the main range, dividing the eastern and western waters and as far as to the ugly range up the river to the south; on the south by Ingalba Run, being on the west side of the river, a straight line drawn at right angles from a point on the river, exactly half way between the two head stations of Ingalba and Aberbaldie, to the range separating the Liverpool Plains and New England Districts, and dividing the country between the two head stations into two equal portions; and on the east side of the river, by Glen Morison, being a straight line drawn from a point on the river one mile and a half below Glen Morison, to the point where the road from Glen Morison and Ingalba to Branga crosses the Bald swamp; on the east by Branga, being the Bald swamp from the point where it is crossed by the road from Glen Morison and Ingalba to Branga, to its junction with the running creek, and from that point of junction in a line to the rough country between the deep gully on the Cobrabald Creek, from that point down the Cobrabald Creek to its junction with the river Macdonald—being the boundary line between ourselves and Bergen-op-zoom; on the west by the range dividing the Liverpool Plains from the New England District.
