

NEW SOUTH WALES

Government Gazette.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FRIDAY, 3 JANUARY, 1851.

PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency SIR CHARLES AUGUSTUS FITZ ROY, Knight Companion of the Royal Hanoverian Guelphic Order, Captain-General and Governor-in-Chief of the Territory of New South Wales and its Dependencies, and Vice-Admiral of the same, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS a certain Bill was passed by the Legislative Council of New South Wales in the thirteenth year of Her Majesty's Reign, intituled, "An Act for the more effectual prevention of Vagrancy, and for the punishment of idle and disorderly persons, rogues, and vagabonds, and incorrigible rogues in the Colony of New South Wales," which Bill was assented to in Her Majesty's name, by me, as Governor for the time being: And whereas I did, by the first convenient opportunity transmit to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, an authentic copy of the said Bill so assented to, which said copy was received by the Right Honorable Earl Grey, then being one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, on the twenty-third day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty: And whereas Her Majesty, in pursuance of the Act of Parliament, passed in the fifth and sixth years of Her Majesty's Reign, intituled, "An Act for the Government of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land," and in exercise of the powers reserved to Her Majesty, hath, by an Order bearing date the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, by and with the advice of Her Majesty's Privy Council, declared Her disallowance of the said Bill: Now, therefore, I, SIR CHARLES AUGUSTUS FITZ ROY, as such Governor aforesaid, by this my Proclamation, do signify to the said Legislative Council such disallowance, and that I have duly received a Certificate under the Hand and Seal of the Right Honorable Earl Grey, now one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, certifying the day on which such Bill was received as aforesaid.

Given under my Hand and Seal at Government House, Sydney, this third day of January, in the Year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, and in the fourteenth year of Her Majesty's Reign.

(L.S.) CHS. A. FITZ ROY.

By His Excellency's Command,
E. DEAS THOMSON.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

Sydney, 3rd January, 1851.*

DISALLOWANCE OF VAGRANT ACT.

REFERRING to the Proclamation of this day's date, intimating the disallowance of the Act of Council 13 Victoria, No. 46, His Excellency the GOVERNOR is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State, explanatory of the reasons for which Her Majesty in Council has seen fit to disallow the Act in question.

By His Excellency's Command,
E. DEAS THOMSON.

(No. 91.)

*Downing-street,
4 July, 1850.*

SIR,

I have had under my consideration amongst other Acts passed by the Legislature of New South Wales, during its last Session, and reported on in your Despatch No. 246, of the 16th of December last, that numbered 46 of the 13th Victoria, and entitled, "An Act for the more effectual prevention of Vagrancy, and other purposes."

2. You report that this Act closely resembles the Act which it repeals 6 Wm. 4, No. 6, and re-enacts some of its provisions which had been found very wholesome in a police point of view, but that it extends those provisions to expiree convicts who may arrive in New South Wales from the neighbouring Colonies. That these provisions may be very advantageous, as applied to those classes of the population whom the former Acts embraced, I have no reason to doubt, but the Act now before me extends the application of these provisions in a manner which I regard as objectionable. It imposes, in the first place, on all persons who shall have been transported to, or convicted in, any British Colony in the Southern Hemisphere who may arrive in New South Wales, the necessity of notifying to the Magistrates, within a certain time, every change of residence, and renders them liable to two years' imprisonment, with hard labor, for neglecting to do so.

3. This provision indeed (as I understand the Act), ceases to have any force after the expiration of seven years from the latest conviction of a party, so that a prisoner who had been sentenced, for instance, in this country, to seven years' transportation, and who after three years' imprisonment in England had been sent as an Exile to New South Wales, would be free from the necessity of registering his change of residence at the end of four years.

4. But there is a further provision that every such convict who, having been duly summoned by any Justice of the Peace to give an account of his means of support, shall fail to appear without lawful excuse, shall be liable, in like manner, to two years' imprisonment with hard labour. I should infer that it must have been the intention of the framers of the Act to confine the operation of this provision, as well as of that requiring the registration of their place of abode, to persons whose latest conviction had been within seven years, but it does not appear to me that from the manner in which it is worded, such would be its effect; on the contrary, if I understand it rightly, every person who having been at any period convicted, should come to the Colony, would remain for ever subject to this severe regulation, and to the mark of difference from all other classes of Her Majesty's subjects which it imposes.

5. It is obvious that it would be both unjust and impolitic to render all persons who had ever been convicted permanently liable to such a regulation, and both the enactments to which I have adverted, making as they do no exception in favor of those convicts to whom Her Majesty may have been pleased to extend either free or conditional pardons, as seriously interfering with the Crown's prerogative of pardon, although I do not doubt they were not so intended. Her Majesty's remission of the whole or part of a sentence passed in this country or elsewhere in Her dominions, would be of little avail if on the arrival of the parties to whom Her Grace had thus been extended in a particular portion of Her dominions they were immediately rendered subject to a code of restrictions which would at once materially abridge their freedom, and also perpetuate a distinction between them and other classes of Her subjects. In order to show how manifestly objectionable such an enactment would be, it is only necessary to point out that under it, a person to whom Her Majesty might have been advised to extend a free pardon on proof of his having been wrongfully convicted, though he would regain all the privileges of any other British subject on his return to this country, would remain subject in New South Wales to some of the penal consequences of his conviction.

6. It is obvious also that in this respect the present Act very materially differs from the repealed one, which imposed these restrictions only on persons again convicted in the Colony, and was therefore regarded as creating an additional penalty for the commission of a fresh offence.

7. For these reasons I have felt it my duty to advise Her Majesty to disallow this Act, being at the same time aware that as its disallowance will revive the repealed Act of 5 William IV, the police arrangements of the Colony will not be materially impeded thereby, and the Legislature will have an opportunity to reconsider the subject.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

GREY.

GOVERNOR SIR CHARLES FITZ ROY.
