REGULATIONS

OF THE

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR AND EXECUTIVE COUNCIL,

For the guidance of the Post Office Department under the Act of the Lieutenant Governor and Legislative Council, 15 Vic., No IX, intituled, "An Act to amend the Law for the Conveyance and Postage of Letters."

POSTMASTERS AND POST OFFICES.

Postage Act.	I. All persons in the Department of the Post Office are required to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the several provisions of the said Act, and as far as in them lies to see that they are duly carried into effect. They will be guided in such matters as are not therein specially provided for by the following Regulations.
Separate room for Post Office.	II. A separate office or apartment, where practicable, must in every case be provided for conducting the business of the Post Office.
"Post Office."	III. The words Post Office must be exhibited in large conspicuous characters outside the building, so as to attract public attention.
Official Declaration.	IV. No person who has not subscribed the Declaration required by Clause 2 of the Act, shall have access to the interior of a Post Office.
Time of keeping office open.	V. Every Post Office is to be opened at 9 a.m., and to close at 6 p.m., except where the mails arrive at a later hour, in which case the Office is to be kept open for half an hour after such arrival, but not later than 8 o'clock.
Sunday attendance.	VI. On Sundays, Country Postmasters must open their Offices for one hour, either before or after Divine Service, as may be considered most convenient for the public.
Removal of office.	VII. The Office must not be removed without the consent of the Postmaster General.
Letter Box. Construction. Closing time, how regulated.	VIII. The letter box must be fixed in a convenient and accessible situation, and the words "Post Office Letter Box" placed over it in very plain characters. Its construction must be such as to provide for the security of the letters, and it is to be closed only during the time of despatch of the mails as directed by Rule No. 11.

DESPATCH AND RECEIPT OF MAILS.

Despatch of mails. Letters to be stamped and plainly marked.	IX. Each Postmaster is carefully to stamp every letter passing through his office with the appropriate Post Office stamp on the day on which it is received, and in case there should not be affixed thereon a stamp or stamps equal to the rate of postage, he is to write legibly thereon the postage with which it is chargeable, marking letters on which the postage is paid, at the time of being delivered in, with red ink, and unpaid letters with black ink, as a distinguishing mark. He will further stamp with red ink the words "Post-paid," on letters which are so paid.
Moveable figure in stamp to be changed daily.	X. It is important that all letters should bear a clear impression of the Office dated stamp, and great care must be taken that the moveable figure is correctly changed at the commencement of each day, when an impression of the stamp must be made in a book to be kept for that purpose.
Statement of hours for closing the mail. Post Office closed for half an hour before the despatch of the mails. Fees on late letters.	XI. A statement of the hours of closing the mails is to be kept affixed on some exterior part of each Post Office, in order to avoid the frequent occurrence of letters being put in after the departure of the mail; and each Post Office shall be closed for half an hour before the despatch of the mails, to allow time for assorting and securing the same; but letters will be received to within a quarter of an hour of despatch upon payment of a fee of sixpence for each letter. Letters put in too late for transmission must be marked with the words, "too late," and the date of the mail for which they are so late.
Assortment of letters.	XII. All letters received into any Post Office are to be carefully assorted; each description of letter; "stamped," "paid," and "unpaid," being tied in separate bundles, and forwarded in the mail bag addressed to the Post Office most conveniently situated for distribution with reference to their address; and each mail bag is to be carefully secured and sealed by the Postmaster before it is despatched.
Making up mails. Letter bills.	XIII. Mails are to be made up at each passing of the mail conveyance. A Letter Bill, specifying the contents of such mail, is invariably to be forwarded with each, having the word "nil" written across when there may not be any letters, that a Letter Bill may appear for every day the mail should have arrived or been despatched.
Letters for other Post Offices.	XIV. When there may be letters for any Post Office, situate on some other road, they are to be sent in the mail to the Post Office nearest to the junction of such other road, the postage thereon being included in the Letter Bill with those intended for distribution at that office; and, when re-forwarded thence, they are to be inserted in the letter bill as "mis-sent," in order that the Postmaster may be allowed credit for the same in his account; and special care must be taken in the assortment of mails immediately on their arrival, that letters, so requiring to be forwarded, may not be detained beyond the first despatch after their receipt.

XV. All Letter Bills are to be duly dated and signed before despatch, and numbered in progressive series, commencing with No. 1 on the first day of each year, and they are also to be receipted and dated immediately on arrival. Care must be taken in stating the hour of despatch and receipt, as on these documents the Postmaster General must depend in imposing penalties on the Contractors for delays in the conveyance of the mails. Letter bills to be duly signed and numbered.

XVI. All Time Bills which accompany mails are to be receipted and returned by the following post. Time bills.

XVII. All Letter Bills, whether received or despatched, are to be carefully entered in a book kept for that purpose, and in case of Letter Bills being received unsigned they are to be immediately returned for signature. Letter bills to be entered.

XVIII. The receiving Postmaster is to be considered chargeable with the full amount of postage specified in the Letter Bill on such letters as are unpaid, and with the difference of postage due on such as are only partially pre-paid, unless upon comparison with the contents of the mail, he should find the same to be incorrect, in which case he is to give notice of the error by the next mail to the Postmaster by whom it may have been despatched, in order that both the Letter Bill and book may be corrected. Incorrect letter bills to be returned.

XIX. Should the Letter Bill be incorrect in respect to paid letters it must be returned in like manner, the despatching Postmaster being chargeable with the postage on such letters. Letter bills incorrect in respect of paid letters must also be returned.

RATES OF POSTAGE.

XX. A Table of the Rates of Postage set forth in the annexed Schedule is to be kept constantly legible on some convenient part of each Post Office for public inspection, and each Postmaster will take care that such rates are duly charged and accounted for. Table of rate of postage to be publicly exposed for inspection.

XXI. Letters not paid in advance, or not having affixed to them stamps equal to the rate of postage, are subject to double the rates of pre-paid letters. Letters not prepaid to be charged double.

XXII. All letters for places beyond the Colony, must be pre-paid, or have affixed to them stamps equal to the rate of postage. Ship letters.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

XXIII. Letters having stamps affixed to them equal to the rates of postage chargeable upon such letters, pass free of all other postage. The stamps are to be placed on the front of the letter, above the superscription. Letters bearing stamps.

XXIV. In cases where the value of the stamps is less than the amount of postage to which it would be liable if pre-paid, the letter must be charged, on delivery, double the amount of the difference. Insufficient number of stamps.

XXV. Letters addressed to parts beyond the Colony, bearing an insufficient number of stamps, must be sent to the General Post Office, Melbourne, to be returned, in all practicable cases, to the writers. Ship letters insufficiently stamped to be returned to the General Post Office.

XXVI. The several Postmasters will be required to sell postage stamps to the public, which they will obtain, upon requisition, from the General Post Office at Melbourne, and they must be careful always to have a sufficient supply on hand. The stamps will be of the following rates, viz. :— Sale of postage stamps. Stamps to be obtained from the General Post Office, Melbourne.

Penny stamps .....	1d. each	<small>Price of stamps.</small>
Two-penny stamps .....	2d. "
Three-penny stamps .....	3d. "

XXVII. A poundage of 4 per cent. will be granted upon the sale of stamps, which will be supplied to the public at the following wholesale prices,— Poundage on sale of stamps. Stamps supplied to the public wholesale at a reduction.

	50 " 12s.
	75 " 18s.
	100 " 24s.

XXVIII. Postage stamps, when forwarded to Postmasters, will be charged against them in the same manner as postage, and will be included in their monthly account; but Postmasters will be allowed credit, at the end of each month, for any stamps remaining unsold, upon their furnishing a proper statement thereof, in the form hereto annexed (F.) Postage stamps forwarded to Postmasters and charged in their monthly accounts. Stamps remaining on hand to be accounted for.

XXIX. Any Postmaster, or person employed in the Post Office, who shall charge any higher rate for Post Office stamps than the prices fixed in Rules Nos. XXVI and XXVII, shall be dismissed from the service. Postmasters, &c., not allowed to charge for stamps beyond the fixed rate. Dismissal for infringement of this regulation.

XXX. When letters are posted all stamps on them must be carefully obliterated with the stamp furnished for that purpose. In the obliteration of stamps, the black composition supplied for the purpose must always be used; and Postmasters and others are enjoined to be particularly careful in the performance of this part of their duty. Obliteration of postage stamps.

Letters with obliterated stamps.

Postmasters, &c., not to affix stamps to pre-paid letters.

XXXI. Letters re-posted bearing stamps which have been previously obliterated, or defaced, must be treated as unpaid Letters.

XXXII. No Postmaster, or person employed in a Post Office, is allowed to affix a postage stamp to a letter which has been pre-paid with money at his office.

REGISTRATION.

Registration of letters. Bank notes or drafts should be cut in halves for greater security.

Registration fee.

Receipts.

Full address of registered letter to be entered in letter bill.

Caution to use care, and consequences attaching to the loss of a registered letter.

Registered letters for places beyond the Colony.

XXXIII. The system of registration is applicable to all descriptions of letters without distinction, whether they contain coin or articles of value or not. Parties sending bank-notes or drafts should be advised, for greater security, to cut such notes or drafts in halves, and send them by different posts.

XXXIV. Postmasters, or other persons employed in a Post Office, when called upon to register a letter, will demand a fee of sixpence, which is, of course, exclusive of any postage that may be due thereon, and will stamp, or write distinctly, on the letter, "Registered Letter," and enter the address and number of it on the left hand side of the Receipt Book with which he is furnished. To the party posting the letter he will give the receipt which he will cut out of the book, and upon which he must enter the address of the letter, so as to correspond with the entry in the book.

XXXV. The full address of registered letters must be entered upon the "Time Bill," or "Letter Bill," and it will be necessary for every officer on opening a bag, immediately to seek the "Time Bill," or "Letter Bill," and in the event of a registered letter being entered thereon, to certify its arrival, by attaching his initials to such entry. He will then place the letter in its proper channel for disposal, taking an acknowledgment, by initials or otherwise, from the person into whose hands it may be given for delivery or despatch, each officer pursuing the same course until it reach the party for whom it is intended, when the usual official receipt is to be obtained, and forwarded to the General Post Office at Melbourne, with the vouchers which accompanied the letter.

XXXVI. Should any letter entered as registered be missing, the opener of the bag must immediately report the fact, as, although the Post Office revenue is by law exempt from any liability in such cases, the officer of the Department into whose possession any such missing letter is traced, will be held responsible for it, until he shall have discharged himself of the responsibility by a satisfactory explanation.

XXXVII. Letters intended for any place beyond the Colony may also be registered upon payment of a similar fee, and the receipt from the Postmaster of the place to which the letter is addressed will be returned by the first opportunity, to the office where it was registered, with the vouchers which accompanied it.

MIS-SENT, RE-DIRECTED, AND DEAD LETTERS.

Mis-sent letters.

Undelivered letters.

Unclaimed letters to be returned to the writers.

Letters refused or addressed to parties "deceased," to be returned to the writers.

Returned letters to be entered under head of "mis-sent" in the letter bill.

Unclaimed foreign letters.

XXXVIII. When letters, newspapers, or packets of any kind are mis-sent to any office, the words "mis-sent" must be stamped or written on the front of each, and the dated stamp of the town or place affixed. Such letters or newspapers or other packets will then be forwarded to their destination by the first post.

XXXIX. In the case of the arrival of letters or newspapers for parties not known or not to be found, they are to be immediately entered on a list to be exposed for view on the outside of the Post Office, and if not claimed at the expiration of thirty days, they must be returned to the General Post Office, Melbourne, to be advertised in the Government Gazette; and if not claimed within one month thereafter, they will be returned to the writer. But should it be known in what other District the parties reside, such letters are to be immediately re-forwarded.

XL. When letters, newspapers, or packets of any kind are "refused," or the person to whom they are addressed is "deceased," they are to be returned immediately to the General Post Office, Melbourne, for the purpose of being sent back to the writer; and in all cases of letters returned to Melbourne the reason of non-delivery, is to be assigned on each.

XLI. The letters or newspapers so returned must be entered in the letter bill under the head of "mis-sent," in order that the Postmasters may be allowed credit for the same in their accounts, and the address of every refused or undelivered registered letter so returned must be entered full in the letter bill.

XLII. Foreign letters undelivered are to be advertised as unclaimed in the Government Gazette at Melbourne, and at the expiration of twelve months, if not applied for, they shall be returned to London, or to the place from whence they may have been received.

PETITIONS AND ADDRESSES.

Petitions exempt from postage.

XLIII. Petitions and addresses to Her Majesty are exempt from postage.
 XLIV. Members of Council may receive, free of postage, petitions and addresses to Her Majesty and His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, and petitions addressed to either the Executive or Legislative Council, if not exceeding 32 ounces in weight, and sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides.

SEAMEN'S AND SOLDIERS' LETTERS.

XLV. Seamen and soldiers, while they are employed in Her Majesty's Service, can send or receive letters, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, on their own private concerns only, at the rate of 1d. each, if superscribed and forwarded in conformity with the 18th clause of the Act. Sailors' and soldiers' letters.

ACCOUNTS.

XLVI. All letter bills are to be carefully preserved by the Postmaster to whom they have been addressed, and to be forwarded, as vouchers for his monthly accounts, to the General Post Office at Melbourne, by the first mail after the termination of each month, together with the margins or counterparts of those despatched, and a statement (in form F.) of all letters and postage stamps which may then be remaining in his Office, as well as any letter bills received in the early part of any month bearing date of despatch in the previous one. Letter bill.

XLVII. As soon as practicable after the receipt of these vouchers, an account will be furnished to each Postmaster, which is to be immediately examined and attested, and returned to the General Post Office, Melbourne, with the amount of collections appearing due thereon; and Postmasters will be held liable to the forfeiture of their quarter's salary should any part of their collections for the previous quarter be in arrear. In such accounts the Postmasters will be charged with the full amount of the letter bills, and allowed credit when necessary in any of the following particulars. Postmaster's accounts.

XLVIII. On being satisfied that any claim made to them, respecting overcharged letters or packets, is just, in conformity with Clause 29th of the Act, Postmasters will return the amount overcharged, requesting the parties to leave with them the covers, with a receipt thereon, if they can be spared; but if not, they will take a separate receipt as a voucher for the amount which they may thus return. In either case the receipt must be witnessed, and all such covers and receipts shall be forwarded to the General Post Office, Melbourne, at the end of each month, included in form F, that the Postmasters may be allowed credit for the same in their accounts. Overcharged letters.

XLIX. All additional postage which may be demanded on letters charged single only, but proving to be double, treble, or as the case may be, is to be accounted for at the end of each month, with the statement of letters and postage stamps remaining in the Office. (Form F.) Additional postage.

L. The postage chargeable on letters not having stamps of sufficient value, as also the fees on registering and on late letters, are to be accounted for in like manner.

LI. The Postmaster General is punctually to pay into the Treasury weekly, without any deduction whatever, all public monies collected since the last payment, and is further to make up and forward to the Auditor General, by the 10th of each month, an attested statement of such collections, transmitting in support thereof, as soon afterwards as possible, the monthly accounts of the several Country Postmasters. Payments by Postmaster General.
Monthly accounts.

NEWSPAPERS.

LII. Newspapers, if intended for transmission by the same day's post, must be delivered into the Post Office at such hours as the Postmaster General may direct. Newspapers to be posted before 3 o'clock, p.m.

LIII. All newspapers, if posted in conformity with the 20th Clause of this Act, are free of postage, with the exception of newspapers posted in any post town in the Colony, addressed to a person within the limits of that place or its suburbs, in which case postage at the rate of one penny for each newspaper will be charged. Newspapers free of postage.

LIV. Postmasters are to examine newspapers as often as practicable, and on detection of any enclosures or writing on the papers, except the address, are to charge them with postage on the same principle as letters. Postmasters to examine newspapers.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

L.V. It is the duty of every Postmaster to report to the Postmaster General, from time to time, any irregularity which may come under his notice relating to the business of the Post Office, and particularly on the part of the contractors in the manner of conveying the mails, as regards their non-preservation from wet, or delay in the time of arrival or departure, or in their conveying letters clandestinely, in violation of Clause 38 of the Act. Postmasters to report irregularities.

LVI. The attention of all persons connected with the Post Office Department is particularly directed to the penalties imposed by clause XLIII of the Act for wilful neglect to comply with any part of the said Act or these Regulations. Penalties.

Letters once posted cannot be given up.

LXVII. A letter once posted becomes the property of the person to whom it is addressed, and cannot under any circumstances be given up, even to the writer, but must be forwarded according to the address. No application however urgent will justify a Postmaster in departing from this rule.

Letters not addressed or imperfectly directed to be sent to the Chief Office.

LXVIII. Letters posted without any address, or imperfectly directed, so that they cannot be forwarded to their destination, should be duly stamped and sent to the General Post Office, Melbourne.

Letter Carriers' delivery.

LXIX. The Letter Carriers will deliver letters within the limits of the City of Melbourne twice in each day, starting from the General Post Office at nine o'clock in the morning, and at two o'clock in the afternoon; and Letter Carriers who shall, under any circumstances whatever, stop to deliver letters in the streets, or deviate from their direct round, or loiter whilst on delivery, will be dismissed from the service.

Letter carriers; on no pretence whatever, to stop or loiter whilst on delivery.

Sureties, bonds, &c.

LX. The Postmaster General shall be held bound to give satisfactory security, by bond, to Her Majesty, himself in £500, and two sureties in £250 each; every Postmaster, himself in £100, and two sureties in £50 each; and every person concerned in the assortment and delivery of letters, himself in £50, and two sureties in £25 each for the diligent and faithful discharge of their duties respectively, and for duly accounting for all public monies passing through their hand.

Surety's death or insolvency.

LXI. In the event of the death, bankruptcy, or insolvency, of any surety, notice is to be given to the Postmaster General, and a new surety named.

Postmaster General to exercise a general superintendence.

LXII. It is the duty of the Postmaster General to exercise a general superintendence over the several Postmasters and Contractors, to see that they are punctual and attentive in every part of their duty, and that the established Regulations are fully carried into effect; and he is further to submit from time to time to the Colonial Secretary, for the Lieutenant Governor's consideration, any measures the adoption of which may appear to him necessary to enable him effectually to carry on the duties entrusted to his management.

Hours of attendance at the General Post Office.

LXIII. The General Post Office will be open to the public from nine o'clock a.m., till six, p.m.

Arrivals of mails by vessels.

LXIV. On the arrival from beyond sea of any vessel within any Port in this Colony where a Post Office is established, the Postmaster General or Postmaster, as the case may be, whether on Sunday or any other day, will forthwith cause all mails, loose letters and packets to be brought to the Post Office and delivered as soon as possible thereafter; and the attention of all masters of vessels is to be particularly directed to the gratuities allowed upon all loose letters and packets so delivered over, and the penalties imposed for delay of the mails under clauses XXXIII and XXXIV of the said Act.

Private letter boxes.

LXV. Subscribers of one guinea per annum will be entitled to have private boxes and obtain their letters at a separate delivery window, but otherwise they will not be differently accommodated, nor be served earlier, the delivery of letters by the carriers and at the Office commencing at the same time.

Letters, packets, or parcels on naval or military service exempt from postage.

LXVII. All letters, packets, and parcels on Naval and Military Service by the 19th clause of this Act are exempt from postage.

By Command of HIS EXCELLENCY THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,

(For the Colonial Secretary.)

G. W. RUSDEN

TENDERS FOR LEASES OF RUNS BEYOND THE SETTLED DISTRICTS.

HIS Excellency the Lieutenant Governor directs it to be notified, that in consequence of the former Tenderer having neglected to fulfil the conditions of his Tenders for the undermentioned portions of Crown Lands which were formerly included in the Aboriginal Reserve at Mount Rouse, the Lands in question are now again open to public competition.

2. Sealed Tenders, in the prescribed printed form, will be received at this Office until noon of Wednesday, the fifth day of May next, from any persons desirous of purchasing the Lease of either of the Runs, according to the descriptions hereto annexed.

3. Every such Tender must state the term of years (not exceeding eight) for which it is proposed to take the Run, and whether, in addition to the minimum rent required by Her Majesty's Order in Council, it is intended to offer any, and if any, what amount of yearly premium for the Lease.

4. As the grazing capabilities of these Runs have not yet been determined, it will be necessary that each Tender contain an estimate of the number of Sheep or Cattle that the Run will carry, which in no case must be less than 4,000 Sheep, or their equivalent in Cattle.

5. Until the grazing capabilities of these Runs have been determined the Lessees will be required to pay rent according to their own estimates, as given in the Tenders; and in the event of the rent so paid proving to have been less than that determined by valuation, they will be required to make up the difference previously to the execution of the Leases.

6. It is also to be distinctly understood that the Government reserves to itself the right of excluding from the Lease of either of these Runs any Land which it may be deemed proper to reserve for any of the purposes referred to in the 9th Section of Chap. 2 of Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated 9th March, 1847.

7. A separate Tender must be made for each separate Run.

8. Forms of Tenders can be obtained from this Office, and also from the Crown Commissioner of the District in which such Runs are situated.

By His Excellency's Command,
W. LONSDALE.
