GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Melbourne, 29th August, 1853.

HIS Excellency the Lieutenant Governor has been pleased to direct the publication of the following Rules of the National Board of Education, which have been approved of by His Excellency.

By His Excellency's Command,
JOHN FOSTER.

RULES and Regulations of the Commissioners of National Education for the Colony of Victoria, and directions for making application for Aid towards the building of School-houses, or for the support of Schools.

I.

1. It is the earnest wish of the Government, and of the Commissioners, that the Clergy and Laity of the different religious denominations in the Colony should co-operate with one another in conducting National Schools.

2. The Commissioners will grant aid towards the building and support of schools of two classes,—Elementary Schools, and Schools of Industry; but they can grant aid only to a limited number of the latter, and these must be at certain distances from each other. It is an indispensable condition for aid towards a School of Industry, that a work-room shall be annexed to it, if it be situated in a town; and if it be a country or a rural School, that a certain quantity of land shall be provided for garden culture. The Commissioners will consider Schools for Females as of the class of Elementary Schools; but they will require that instruction be there given in sewing, knitting, and other works suited to females.

II.—AS TO THE GOVERNMENT OF SCHOOLS WITH RESPECT TO ATTENDANCE AND RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

1. The ordinary school business for secular instruction, during which children of whatever denomination they may be, are required to attend, is to embrace a period of not less than four consecutive hours each day.

2. The patrons of every school have the right of appointing such religious instruction as they may think proper to be given therein, provided that each school be open to children of all communions;—that due regard be had to parental right and authority;—that, accordingly, no child be compelled to receive, or to be present at, any religious instruction to which his or her parents or guardians object; and that the time for giving it be so fixed, that no child shall be thereby, in effect, excluded, directly or indirectly, from the other advantages which the school affords. If, therefore, religious instruction be given in the school-room, arrangements must be made for imparting it, before or after the hours set apart for secular instruction.

3. In schools towards the building of which the Commissioners have contributed, and which are, therefore, vested in the Commissioners in their corporate capacity, or in Trustees for the purposes of National Education, opportunities and facilities are to be afforded to the children for receiving such religious instruction as their parents or guardians approve of, in class-rooms, to be provided for the purpose, to which such pastors, or other persons as shall be approved of by the parents or guardians of the children respectively, shall have access at convenient times, to be appointed for this purpose; whether those pastors or persons shall have signed the original application, or not.

4. The reading of the Scriptures, either in the Protestant—authorized or Douay version, comes within the above rule as to religious instruction.

5. The rule as to religious instruction applies to public prayer, and to all other religious exercises.

6. The Commissioners do not insist on the "Scripture Lessons," "Lessons on the Truth of Christianity," or the book of "Sacred Poetry," being read in any of the National Schools, nor do they allow them to be read during the time of secular or literary instruction, in any school attended by children whose parents or guardians object to their being so read. In such case the Commissioners prohibit the use of them, except at the times of religious instruction, when the persons giving it may use these lessons or not, as they think proper.

7. Whatever arrangement is made in any school for giving religious instruction, must be publicly notified in the school-room, in order that those children, and those only, may be present whose parents or guardians allow them. This public notification is to be inserted in large letters in the "Time Table," and, as far as may be practicable, the general nature of such religious instruction should be also stated in the "Time Table," which is to be kept hung up in a conspicuous place in the school-room in large characters.

8. If any other books than the Holy Scriptures, or the standard books of the church to which the children using them belong, are employed in communicating religious instruction, each work is to be made known to the Local Patrons by the pastor or religious instructor, and the Local Patrons are required to report the title and character of such work to the Commissioners.

9. The use of the books published by the Irish Commissioners is not compulsory; but the titles of all other books, which the conductors of schools intend for the ordinary school business are to be reported to the Commissioners, and none are to be used to which they object; their intention being to prohibit such only as may appear to them to contain matter objectionable in itself, or objectionable for common instruction, as peculiarly belonging to some particular religious denomination.

10. A registry is to be kept in each school recording the daily attendance of the scholars, and the average attendance in each week and each quarter, according to a form to be furnished by the Commissioners.

III.—AS TO TEACHERS.

1. The appointment of teachers rests with the Local Patrons of schools, but the Commissioners are to be satisfied of the fitness of each both as to character and general qualification; and the Local Patrons have the power of removing the teachers of their own authority. A teacher should be a person of Christian sentiment, of calm temper and discretion; he should be imbued with a spirit of peace, of obedience to the law, and of loyalty to his sovereign. He should not only possess the art of communicating knowledge, but be capable of moulding the mind of youth, and of giving to the power which education confers, a useful direction. These are the qualities for which patrons of schools, when making choice of teachers, should anxiously look. They are those which the Commissioners are anxious to find, to encourage and to reward.

2. The Commissioners will provide a Normal Establishment in Melbourne for training teachers, and educating persons who are intended to undertake the charge of schools; and they will not sanction the permanent appointment of a teacher to any school, unless he or she shall have been previously trained at the Normal Establishment, or shall have been pronounced duly qualified by the Inspector, or other authorized persons.

3. Teachers, selected by the Commissioners for admission to the Normal Establishment, must produce a certificate of good character from an officiating clergyman of the communion to which they belong, and must pass through an examination in the books published by the Irish Commissioners. A vigilant superintendence will be at all times exercised over their moral conduct.

4. The Commissioners will grant a salary to each teacher proportioned to the nature and extent of the instruction which may be afforded by the school; and for the present according to the terms of their notice, dated the 1st August, 1853, as published in the Government Gazette.

5. The Commissioners propose, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, to divide Teachers into the following classes, to each of which a fixed salary will be attached, and class certificates will be issued:—

First Class,
Second Class,
Third Class,
Probationary Teachers,
Assistant Teachers,
Mistresses to teach Needlework.

6. All newly appointed teachers, who have not previously conducted National Schools, will be considered as probationers, and must remain as such for at least one year, at the expiration of which time they will be eligible for classification.

7. Examinations will be held at specified times by the Inspectors, with the view of promoting meritorious teachers, while those who may have conducted themselves improperly, or in whose schools the attendance has considerably decreased, will be liable to be depressed.

8. The Commissioners will not grant a salary to an assistant teacher or to a teacher of needlework, unless they are satisfied that the appointment is necessary; and such teachers, even though they may be classed, will not be paid any higher rate of salary than the amount awarded to them as assistant teachers, or teachers of needlework, until appointed to the rank of principal teacher, with the sanction of the Commissioners.

9. The Commissioners will determine upon a course of study for each class, in which the teachers will be examined as a test of their fitness for promotion; but their general conduct, the condition of their respective schools, their method of conducting them, and the daily average attendance of pupils, will also be taken into consideration.

10. The Commissioners will require that a further income be secured to the teacher, either by local subscription or school fees, to such amount in each case as they may direct, and that the payments made by the children shall not be diminished in consequence of any increase of salary which may be awarded to the teacher.

11. In schools consisting of male and female children, occupying the same room, under the care of one male teacher, the Commissioners will grant a salary to a teacher of needlework, provided the average daily attendance of children be sufficiently large to warrant the Commissioners in so doing.

12. In schools attended by female children only, under the care of a female teacher, such teacher must be competent to conduct the needlework as well as the literary department.

13. The Commissioners will also grant salaries to assistant literary teachers, in all schools where, in their opinion, the daily average attendance is so large as to render additional teachers necessary.

14. Salaries will be granted by the Commissioners to teachers individually. No new teacher, therefore, is to receive a salary from them unless they have first approved of him; and the amount will be regulated by the class in which he may be placed.

15. The Commissioners will award premiums to Masters and Mistresses who are most distinguished for order, neatness, and cleanliness, observable in themselves, their pupils, and in the school-houses.

16. The Commissioners also propose to establish a system of pupil-teachers, who will be apprenticed to competent masters, to be instructed and trained, so as to be prepared to complete their education as teachers in the Normal School. Salaries will be granted to the pupil-teachers, and gratuities to the training masters.

IV.—INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS.

1. Admission of Visitors.

1. The public generally must have free access to every National School during the hours devoted to secular instruction,—not to take part in the ordinary business, nor to interrupt it,—but, as visitors, to observe how it is conducted.

2. Every teacher of a National School is to receive courteously visitors of all denominations; to afford them free access to the school-room, and full liberty to observe what books are in the hands of the children or upon the desks, what tablets are hung upon the walls, and what is the method of teaching; but they are by no means required to permit any person to interrupt the business of the school, by asking questions of children, examining classes, calling for papers of any kind, or, in any other way, diverting the attention of either teachers or scholars from their usual business.

3. Should any visitors wish for information which they cannot obtain from such an inspection, it will be the duty of the teacher to refer them to the Local Patrons of the school for it.

4. Every Teacher is required to have his Visitors' or Daily Report Book lying upon his desk, that visitors may, if they choose, enter remarks in it. Such remarks as may be made the teachers are by no means to alter or erase.

5. As the religious instruction of the children is under the control of the clergyman or lay person communicating it with the approbation of their parents, the Commissioners can give no liberty to any other visitor, whether clergyman or layman, to interfere therewith.

2. Inspection by the Commissioners or their Officers.

1. The Commissioners, by themselves or their officers, have a right to examine the schools, whenever they shall think fit. Those who visit on the part of the Commissioners will be furnished with credentials under their seal, which such visitors will shew to the teachers.

2. The Commissioners will divide the Colony of Victoria into School Districts, with a view to their effective inspection, and will appoint such inspectors and agents to each as may be necessary.

3. The Commissioners will take an early opportunity of issuing detailed instructions to the inspectors of their schools.

V.—APPOINTMENT OF LOCAL PATRONS OF SCHOOLS.

1. The appointment of Patrons of Schools which are vested in the Commissioners in their Corporate capacity, rests with the Commissioners, who will, however, whenever it may be practicable, appoint the original promoters of the school; and they will also, when occasions arise, add to the number of Local Patrons of a School, and name such additional Patrons.

2. The appointment of Patrons of Schools which are vested in Trustees for the purposes of National Education, will rest with the Trustees, subject to the approval of the Commissioners.

3. The Commissioners will consider themselves entitled to remove any Local Patron, whose continuance in office, as Patron of a school vested in the Commissioners in their corporate capacity or in Trustees for the purposes of National Education, may appear to them incompatible with the general principles of the National system.

4. The Commissioners will not interfere with the appointment of Patrons of Non-vested Schools; but they will require that the constitution of the Board of Patrons be submitted to them before taking the school under their supervision.

VI.—BUILDING.

1. Before any grant is made towards building a school-house, the Commissioners are to be satisfied that a necessity exists for such a school, that an eligible site has been granted by the Crown, or (if otherwise procured) that a satisfactory conveyance will be executed to the Commissioners in their corporate capacity, or to Trustees for the purposes of National Education, and that the applicant parties are prepared to raise, by private contribution, a portion of the whole sum which the Commissioners deem necessary for the erection of the house, providing furniture, &c.

2. The Commissioners, however, wish it to be understood, that on account of the present circumstances of the Colony, and the great increase of building expenses, they do not restrict their grants to the amounts hitherto advanced for the erection of school-houses; but that where the population is large, and the contribution by private subscription proportionate, they will be prepared to take these circumstances into consideration, and to make a more liberal advance.

3. The Commissioners will determine from the information afforded them the dimensions of the proposed building.

4. The Commissioners will not contribute to the ornamenting of school-houses, but merely to such expenditure as may be necessary for having the children accommodated in plain substantial buildings. If buildings of another description be preferred, the whole of the extra expense must be provided by the applicants.

5. Previous to the payment of any building instalments, certificates, according to a form furnished, must be forwarded to the Commissioners, stating that a due proportion of the works have been satisfactorily executed.

VII.—BOOKS.

1. The Commissioners furnish gratuitously to each school a first stock of school-books. They are to be kept as a school stock, for which the master or mistress will be held responsible. The Commissioners also supply books from time to time, for the general use of the children, and school requisites such as paper, slates, &c., at cost price, and maps or blackboards at reduced rates.

2. When books, &c., purchased from the Commissioners are sold to children attending a National School, it is directed that in no case shall any advance be made on their prices, and the Inspectors will receive instructions to enquire into, and report upon, any infraction of this Rule.

VIII.—NON-VESTED SCHOOLS.

1. In schools not vested in the Commissioners in their corporate capacity, or in Trustees for the purposes of National Education, and to the building of which they have not contributed, the Commissioners will grant aid only by way of salary and books.

2. In these Schools it will be for the Patrons to arrange for the giving of religious instruction, provided that the hours set apart for secular instruction be not interfered with, and that the children, whose parents or guardians so desire, be allowed to absent themselves from the school at reasonable times, for the purpose of receiving religious instruction elsewhere.

3. To entitle a school to a continuance of aid, the house and furniture must be kept in sufficient repair by means of private contributions; the school conducted in all respects in a satisfactory manner, and in accordance with the regulations of the Commissioners; and it must appear from the Register of the school that there is a sufficient daily average attendance of pupils.

IX.—BOARDING SCHOOLS.

1. The Commissioners would wish to establish in the more thinly peopled districts of the Colony a system of boarding children in the vicinity of National Schools, and in the mean time they request from such employers of labour as are favorable to general education, and inclined to become Patrons of schools in connexion with the Board, all local information on the subject which they may consider themselves able to afford.

X.—MISCELLANEOUS.

1. When any school is received into connexion with the Commissioners, the words "National School," and no others, must be placed conspicuously on the school-house.

2. The Commissioners require that no use shall be made of the school-houses for any purpose tending to contention, such as the holding of political meetings in them, or bringing into them political petitions, or documents of any kind for signature or otherwise.

3. The Commissioners require that the National School-rooms shall not be converted into places of public worship.

4. Subject to the preceding rule, the Commissioners will not, in ordinary cases, exercise any control over the use of school buildings on Sundays; such control being left in the hands of the Local Patrons.

5. The Commissioners will require that the principles of the following lesson, or of a lesson of similar import, be strictly inculcated in all schools admitted into connexion with the Board, and that a copy of the lesson itself be hung up in each school.

No. 53.—SEPTEMBER 7TH, 1853.—5.

"Christians should endeavour, as the Apostle Paul commands them, to 'live peaceably with all men' (Rom. ch. xii. v. 17), even with those of a different religious persuasion.

"Our Saviour Christ commanded his disciples to 'love one another.' He taught them to love even their enemies, to bless those that cursed them, and to pray for those who persecuted them. He himself prayed for his murderers.

"Many men hold erroneous doctrines, but we ought not to hate or persecute them. We ought to seek for the truth, and to hold fast what we are convinced is the truth; but not to treat harshly those who are in error. Jesus Christ did not intend his religion to be forced on men by violent means. He would not allow his disciples to fight for him.

"If any persons treat us unkindly, we must not do the same to them; for Christ and his Apostles have taught us not to return evil for evil. If we would obey Christ, we must do to others, not as they do to us, but as we would wish them to do to us.

"Quarrelling with our neighbours and abusing them, is not the way to convince them that we are in the right and they are in the wrong. It is more likely to convince them that we have not a Christian spirit.

"We ought to show ourselves followers of Christ, who, 'when he was reviled, reviled not again' (1 Pet. ch. ii. v. 23), by behaving gently and kindly to every one."

6. The Commissioners will regard the attendance of any of their teachers at meetings held for political purposes, or their taking part in elections for Members of the Legislature, except by voting, as incompatible with the performance of their duties, and as a violation of rule which will render them liable to dismissal.

XI.

1. The Commissioners desire it to be distinctly understood, that they will not hold themselves bound to grant assistance in any case, unless application shall have been made to them in the first instance; unless such application shall have been approved of; and unless they shall have funds at their disposal, when they come to decide upon the case, to enable them to grant the required aid. Applicants are, therefore, recommended not to incur any expense towards the payment of which they expect the Commissioners to contribute, until the decision of the Board shall have been communicated to them.

2. Applicants for assistance are not to understand that the Commissioners are bound to grant any specific amount of aid in any particular case, nor can they grant any, unless they have sufficient funds for the purpose, which will depend upon the amount placed at their disposal by the Legislature.

3. Persons desirous of obtaining assistance from the Commissioners of National Education, under any of the foregoing heads, will, upon intimating to the Secretary the nature of the the aid required, be furnished with the forms upon which their application must be laid before the Commissioners.

4. All letters should be directed as under, and in all cases prepaid.

Board of
National Education,

5. The Commissioners are empowered, under the Act of Incorporation, 15 Victoria, No. 7, from time to time, with the sanction of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, to revoke or alter any of the foregoing regulations, as it shall seem to them either expedient or necessary.

2. Intending Contractors must give due consideration to the winter difficulties of the roads, including the necessity for provision for the crossing of rivers and creeks by boat or otherwise; and they must bear in mind that no excuse for delay will be even entertained, unless supported by the certificates of persons of known position and respectability, as to the cause of delay, and that it is attributable to no want of liberal provision both for ordinary duties, and to overcome difficulties arising from stress of weather, or the various accidents to which the men, horses, vehicles, and other means employed may be liable.

3. It is to be understood that the Mails are to be despatched and conveyed on the days and hours to be fixed by the Chief Postmaster, either according to the present arrangement, or as he may afterwards determine for the public convenience.

4. On all roads where wheel vehicles can travel, a preference will be given to carriage conveyance; but Contractors may propose any method, bearing in mind that they will be held strictly bound to use the conveyance they propose. The rate of travelling is not to be less than six miles an hour, including all stoppages.

5. The Contractors are to carry all bags, letters, packets, and newspapers, which may be delivered to them under the authority of the Chief Postmaster or any of the Postmasters, and to provide secure and waterproof lockers for the Mails in carriages, and covering for the bags on horseback.

6. In the event of the Contractor neglecting to perform the duty of conveying the Mails, at such times as the Chief Postmaster may choose to appoint, all necessary conveyance will be engaged at the expense of the Contractor, and the cost deducted from any payment becoming due to him.

7. Contractors will be liable to a fine of five shillings for every five minutes delay after specified time of starting; and to a like penalty for every ten minutes delay after the specified time of arrival, except for the first five or ten minutes respectively.

8. Contractors are particularly to remember that both on the main and branch lines they will be fined for the full delay that may, in consequence of their late arrival at any point on their line, ensue, in the further transmission of the Mail entrusted to them, and not merely for the amount of late arrival at such point. In such cases, unless strong disproof of blame can, as prescribed in Clause No. 2, be produced, the delaying Contractor can only avert or lighten the penalty by forwarding the Mail by express to its final destination, or until it overtakes the proper conveyance at a Post Office, and is there consigned to the charge of the Postmaster in time for due transmission.

No. 53.—SEPTEMBER 7TH, 1853.—7.

9. Contractors will be bound to prevent the conveyance of any letter or packet by any of their servants or passengers, or otherwise, to the prejudice of the Post Office revenue; but they will be bound to collect loose letters and private bags on the road, which must be delivered up to the Postmaster at the first Post Office arrived at, under the penalty of £5 for each and every offence in either respect.

10. A mail cart or carriage drawn by one horse must not carry more than one passenger; by two horses, not more than three passengers; and by three or more horses, not more than six passengers, exclusive of the driver, under the penalty of £3 for each passenger in excess. The Chief Postmaster will have the power, when it appears that delays have ensued, or are likely to ensue, from the carrying of passengers, to limit the number further, or forbid the conveyance of any under the same penalty. A preference will be given to Contractors who will dispense with passenger traffic.

11. The drivers and postmen to be free, and of certified good character, and, together with the horses and vehicles employed in the conveyance of Mails, to be at all times subject to the inspection and approval or rejection of the Chief Postmaster.

12. Contractors are requested to state the rate at which they will provide, on the requisition of the Chief Postmaster, a seat in their conveyance for officers of the department travelling on the public service. The Contractors for Nos. 29 and 30 will be bound to provide such conveyance free whenever required.

13. The Chief Postmaster can appoint deputies to exercise all or any of the powers reposed in him by the Contracts.

14. All fines and penalties incurred under the agreement are to be deducted by the Chief Postmaster from the next instalment falling due to the contractors, and are to be considered as over and above any penalties established by any Act of Council.

15. Each party tendering, or agent for him, must attend at the Audit Office, on the day appointed for opening the Tenders, and each Tender must bear the bona fide signature of two respectable and solvent persons engaging to enter into a bond with the Contractors for the safety of the Mails and the due performance of the Contract and every stipulation therein.

16. Contractors will be strictly bound not to assign any portion of their Contract without consent of the Chief Postmaster.

17. The hours for starting from each Post Office, or Stage, and all other particulars, may be ascertained at the Post Office, Melbourne, where parties proposing to Tender are invited to seek information.

18. Contractors will have to prepare their own accounts (forms for which can be had on application at the General Post Office), and take the necessary steps for their collection themselves, according to any regulations which may exist or may be issued.
