PRELIMINARY.

Art. 1 In the following rules every steam ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

RULES CONCERNING LIGHTS.

Art. 2 Lights.—The lights mentioned in the following articles, numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers between sunset and sunrise.

Art. 3 Lights for steam ships.—Seagoing steam ships when under way shall carry:

(a) At the foremast head, a bright white light, so fixed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz. from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles:

(b) On the starboard side, a green light, so constructed as to throw an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the starboard side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least 2 miles:

(c) On the port side, a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least 2 miles:

(d) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens, projecting at least three feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Art. 4. Lights for steam tugs.—Steam ships, when towing other ships, shall carry two bright mast-head lights vertically, in addition to their side lights, so as to distinguish them from other steam ships. Each of these mast-head lights shall be of the same construction and character as the mast-head lights which other steam ships are required to carry.

Art. 5. Lights for sailing ships.—Sailing ships under weigh, or being towed, shall carry the same lights as steam ships under weigh, with the exception of the white mast-head lights, which they shall never carry.

Art. 6. Exceptional lights for small sailing vessels.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for instant exhibition; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, they shall each be painted outside with the color of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with suitable screens.

Art. 7. Lights for ships at anchor.—Ships, whether steam ships or sailing ships, when at anchor in roadsteads or fairways, shall, between sunset and sunrise, exhibit, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding twenty feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, and at a distance of at least one mile.

Art. 8. Lights for pilot vessels.—Sailing pilot vessels shall not carry the lights required for other sailing vessels, but shall carry a white light at the mast-head, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light every fifteen minutes.

Art. 9. Lights for fishing vessels and boats.—Open fishing boats and other open boats shall not be required to carry the side lights required for other vessels, but shall, if they do not carry such lights, carry a lantern having a green slide on the one side and a red slide on the other side; and on the approach of or to other vessels, such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

Fishing vessels and open boats when at anchor, or attached to their nets and stationary, shall exhibit a bright white light.

Fishing vessels and open boats shall, however, not be prevented from using a flare-up in addition, if considered expedient.

RULES CONCERNING FOG SIGNALS.

Art. 10. Fog signals.—Whenever there is a fog, whether by day or night, the fog signals described below shall be carried and used, and shall be sounded at least every five minutes, viz.:

(a.) Steam ships under weigh shall use a steam whistle placed before the funnel, not less than eight feet from the deck:

(b.) Sailing ships under weigh shall use a fog horn:

(c.) Steam ships and sailing ships when not under weigh shall use a bell.

NOTICE TO SHIPOWNERS AND MASTERS.

FREQUENT complaints having been made of vessels not exhibiting their side lights when under weigh, whereby collisions have been with difficulty avoided, shipowners and masters are again cautioned against any infringement of the Regulations on this subject, and their attention is invited to the above regulations, which are published for general information.

Copies can be obtained at the Steam Navigation Board Office, King street, and at the different custom houses and harbor offices throughout the colony.

The mortality of Melbourne and suburbs, the mean temperature in the shade, and the atmospheric pressure during the month of September, for the last four years, were as follow:—

	Number of Deaths.	Mean Temperature.	Mean Height of Barometer.
September, 1860	259	53.8°	29.935 inches.
" 1861	234	57.2°	29.972 "

" 1863	214	52.1°	29.945 "
Mean of four years	233	54.5°	29.909 "

The deaths during the month were fewer than those in the same month of either of the three previous years; they also numbered 19 less than those in the month of August. The deaths of males and females which occurred during the month were in the respective portions of 57 and 43 per cent.; those of children under five years of age (71) were doubled by those of persons above that age (143). For the last three months there has been an excess of deaths at the younger period of life, but in no case has it been so great as in the month under review.

The greatest mortality in any one day was 13 on the 29th, no more than 2 deaths were recorded on the 18th, and only 3 on the 1st and 11th.
