HIS EXCELLENCY SIR CHARLES DARLING having been pleased to issue a commission, authorising the abovenamed persons to take the necessary steps for managing and conducting an Intercolonial Exhibition, to be held in Melbourne, the Honorable the Chief Secretary of Victoria addressed himself to the Governments of the various dependencies of the Crown in Australasia, inviting their cordial co-operation.

Highly encouraging replies have been received: these convey a well-founded assurance that the project of instituting a series of exhibitions of natural products, general industries and art, to be held in succession in the several Australian colonies, has been accepted in a spirit which acknowledges the truth of the proposition, that such exhibitions would "prove of public advantage alike to all."

The commissioners are conscious, however, that it is not sufficient to rely solely on the good intentions and proffered support of the respective Governments. They deem it right to appeal to the public spirit of the different communities. They have now the honor, therefore, to invoke the earnest assistance of their fellow-subjects, not only of those who dwell in Victoria, but of those also resident in the other British colonies in these seas, to aid them in furtherance of the design, and they do so with a confident expectation that the appeal will be considered worthy of a generous encouragement.

The commissioners do not propose to demonstrate by labored arguments the benefits which must arise almost unbidden from a comprehensive, well-directed organization, for such a purpose, of the inhabitants of these regions, so favored by Divine Providence—those benefits are self-apparent.

They desire, however, to impress upon all thoughtful and energetic persons the necessity for engaging actively in its support.

An opportunity for united exertion, such as is now afforded, is of a character eminently interesting.

Exhibitors will be undismayed by the manifold disturbing influences which encumber a competition with the populous and opulent societies of the old world, will be unaffected by the innumerable distractions which, in the perplexing variety of European exhibitions, call away the mind of the beholder from objects purely colonial.

Although the contemplated display cannot vie with the splendor of those which excite the rivalry of nations, purposes of the highest utilitarian and social importance to those immediately concerned may be thereby served.

A searching and penetrating attention may be concentrated on our mineral treasures, portions only of the boundless stores of which have been hitherto brought to light;—on improved economic methods of winning them from the earth, and applying them to the ends for which they are intended;—on the sources of wealth which, in their raw state, abound on the surface of our soils, in the rivers and in the waters which encircle our coasts;—and on the rare excellencies and peculiar development, in different latitudes, under different conditions of culture, of those products which successful enterprise has introduced amongst us, rendering us already independent of many countries, and enabling us to contribute to the necessities, the comforts, and luxuries of most.

No. 178.—DECEMBER 5, 1865.—1.

A deliberate comparative survey may be made of the results flowing from the adoption of the liberal arts happily domiciled in these climes, and the exercise of those useful manufactures which genius, self-reliance, and perseverance, have established in lands so suitable for their natural vigorous growth.

A diligent compilation of the statistics of the actual products and of the productive capabilities of the different colonies will form a most valuable fund of information.

Such, with many other engaging comparisons and combinations, may occupy most profitably the intelligent observation of those who associate themselves in the undertaking; while all who enter heartily into the cause will doubtless be impelled to further efforts conducive to a still more extensive and intimate acquaintance of the colonists with each other, the expansion of the limits of their practical knowledge, and the increase of their material prosperity; convinced that the periodic recurrence of such opportunities for amicable contention are calculated to generate sentiments of mutual respect, and perpetuate those reciprocal feelings of esteem and friendship which should ever animate subjects of the great nation from which we are sprung.

On behalf of the Commissioners,
REDMOND BARRY,
President.

REGULATIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF INTENDING EXHIBITORS.

AN Exhibition of the Products, Manufactures, and Arts of New South Wales, South Australia, Queensland, Western-Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, and Victoria, will be held in Melbourne in 1866. The Exhibition will open not earlier than the month of August, and will remain open for not less than two months.

The commissioners will be prepared to receive articles intended for exhibition from the 1st to the 21st of July inclusive.

In order to give the commissioners the opportunity of making adequate arrangements, forms of application for space should be sent in without delay, and in no case will applications be received later than the 17th June, 1866.

Intending exhibitors are requested to give a full description of their goods, on a form obtainable upon application to the secretary, and particularly to describe all points of novelty or originality in the objects exhibited.

Exhibitors must state whether they are the designers, inventors, manufacturers, or producers of the articles they propose to exhibit.

The commissioners reserve to themselves the right to receive for exhibition only, and not for competition (if space admit), any object not the produce of the above-mentioned colonies, which may be considered to possess special merit.

The commissioners decline to receive any article they may think unsuitable to the exhibition, or objects of an inflammatory, offensive, perishable, or dangerous character.

Counters and wall space will be provided.
All goods and articles for exhibition must be delivered at the building at the charge and risk of the exhibitor.

Articles and packages will be unloaded at the building.
Should the exhibitors or their agents not be present, the packages will be opened by the officers of the exhibition, and the contents distributed with care, but at the risk of the exhibitor.

Tickets will be issued to every exhibitor, his agent, or servant, to enable him to pass into the building between certain hours to arrange the articles for exhibition. These tickets must be produced on entrance, and given up when required.

Exhibitors may employ assistants to keep in order the articles they exhibit, or to explain them to visitors, after obtaining written permission from the commissioners to that effect.

Free admission, within limits to be fixed by the commissioners, will be given to exhibitors or their agents.

Effectual means will be taken, through the agency of the police and otherwise, to guard against fire and protect the property in the exhibition; but the commissioners will not be responsible for losses by fire, robbery, accident, or damage of any kind.

Medals or certificates of merit will be awarded in the different classes.

Prices may be affixed to the articles exhibited.

Articles of great size or weight, the placing of which will require considerable labor, must be sent on or before the 14th of June; and persons wishing to exhibit machinery or other objects that will require foundations must make a declaration to that effect in their application for space.

Any exhibitor whose goods can properly be placed together will be at liberty to arrange such goods in his own way, provided his arrangement is compatible with the general scheme of the exhibition, and the convenience of other exhibitors.

Exhibitors may not remove their goods or substitute others for them during the period the exhibition shall remain open without leave from the commissioners.

The commissioners will reserve space (if early application is made) for the exhibition of processes of manufactures in certain handicrafts which can be carried on without danger or inconvenience in the premises.

Steam and water power will be supplied for showing machinery in motion. Exhibitors must make all necessary mechanical connections at their own expense.

Packing cases must be removed at the cost of the exhibitor as soon as the goods are taken charge of by the commissioners.

Exhibitors will be permitted, subject only to the necessary general regulations, to erect, according to their own taste, all counters, stands, glass frames, brackets, awnings, hangings, or other similar contrivances, which they may consider best calculated for the display of their goods.

Packages and all articles intended for exhibition should be addressed as follows:—

To the Commissioners for the Intercolonial Exhibition of 1866,
Melbourne.

From [state exhibitor's name and colony.]

Free transit of goods for exhibition which may be forwarded by Victorian Railways will be allowed by the Government. Any further information required can be obtained from

CONDITIONS.

1. All the articles are to be of the best quality of the several kinds, in the best condition, and to be delivered in sound packages.

3. Fresh meat is to be supplied in such proportions as may be required, and, when the quantity admits, to be delivered in fore and hind quarters alternately. When shins of beef form a portion of the supply, a fair proportion of the bone, not less than five inches, must have been cut off.

4. The supplies coming under the head of rations and medical comforts are to be delivered direct to the establishment entitled thereto, on the written order of the officer in charge. All other supplies will be ordered by the head of department, either for delivery at the Stores and Transport Office, or at the office of the department concerned, as may be stated in the order.

5. Should the contractor fail to supply any articles at the time mentioned in the order, they will be otherwise procured, and the expense over and above the contract price will be deducted from his account.

6. The order issued by the head of department must accompany the goods, and the account is to be rendered simultaneously with delivery of the supplies. In other cases the account is to be rendered monthly.

7. In the event of a difference of opinion between the contractor and the officer receiving the supplies, as to the quality, the same to be decided, in cases where the article is not of a perishable nature, by a board of survey, composed of persons named by the head of the department, and the decision of the board is to be considered final; in respect to breads of first quality, a sample of the best bread ordinarily retailed to the public will be considered as a test loaf.

8. If the board shall decide that the article is not of proper quality, it must be immediately replaced by the contractor, failing which it will be procured by the person requiring it, and the expense charged as in clause 5.

9. In cases where the article is of a perishable nature, or when from some other cause injury would be sustained either by the person to whom the rations are due, or to the contractor, in waiting for a board of survey, the head of the department, or officer in charge of the station, will have power to reject such article or articles as are obviously of inferior quality, it being understood that he will be responsible to the Government for so doing, and that the contractor must take back the rejected article and supply good in its stead, failing which it will be obtained by the officer requiring it, and the expense charged as in clause 5.

10. A repetition of irregularity in the quantity or quality of the supplies, or delay in delivery or replacing them when required, will subject the contractor, upon report of the Tender Board, to such mulct, not exceeding £50, as the Government may direct; it will also be in the power of the Government to terminate the contract forthwith.

11. It will be competent for the Inspector of Stores on behalf of the Government, or the contractor on his own behalf, to terminate the contract, by giving, in writing, a notice of three full calendar months; it being understood that such notice can be given only from the first day of the month.

4. The contractor shall, at the time of delivering the supplies, furnish his account in the prescribed form, and present it in a complete state to the Chief Medical Officer, or to the officer taking delivery of the supplies, for payment at the Treasury.

5. In the event of a difference of opinion between the contractor and the officer receiving the supply, as to the quality, the same is to be decided by a board of survey, composed of persons named by the Government; and the decision of the board is to be considered final.

6. If the board shall decide that the article is not of proper quality, it must be immediately replaced by the contractor, failing which it will be procured elsewhere, and the extra expense (if any), will be deducted from the contractor's account.

7. If from any cause injury would accrue to the public service by waiting for a board of survey, the Chief Medical Officer, the inspector of stores, or the head of the department ordering the supplies (as the case may be), will have the power to reject such article or articles as are obviously of inferior quality, it being understood that they will be responsible to the Government for so doing, and the contractor must take back the rejected article and supply good in its stead, failing which it will be procured elsewhere, and the extra expense (if any) will be charged as in condition 6.

8. A repetition of irregularity in the quantity or quality of the supplies, or of delay in delivering or replacing them when required, will subject the contractor, upon report from the Tender Board, to such mulct, not exceeding the sum of fifty pounds, as the Government may direct. It will also be in the power of the Government, upon such repetition, to terminate the contract forthwith.

9. It will be competent for the inspector of stores, on behalf of the Government, or the contractor, on his own behalf, to terminate the contract by giving a notice in writing of three full calendar months; it being understood that such notice can be given only from the first day of a month, and within the period for which the contract is made.

Printed forms of tender and conditions of contract may be obtained from the Inspector of Stores, Melbourne, or from the officer in charge of police at each station, by whom also any information or explanation will be afforded to persons tendering.

The tenders for each station will be accepted or rejected separately.

Tenders may be for either of the supplies required, oats, bran, hay, or straw only; and if all be included in one tender, it may be accepted for one article only, if advisable.

As much forage as the storage will accommodate will be drawn at a time for the convenience of contractors.

The price must be per ton for hay and straw, and per bushel of 40 lbs. for oats and 20 lbs. for bran, including delivery at the stations and all charges; bags to be returned when empty.

The net weight only after deducting the tare is to be charged.

The names and addresses of the tenderers and of their proposed sureties must be stated at full length.

The successful tenderer will be required to enter into a bond, with two approved sureties, for one-third the estimated amount of the contract, within ten days after the acceptance is notified.

Tenderers failing to take up their accepted tenders, or failing to carry out their contracts satisfactorily, will be ineligible to again hold contracts for Government supplies.

All tenders must be enclosed in a separate envelope, marked "Tender for ——" (as the case may be), and deposited in the box at the Government Stores, King street; or if sent by post they must be addressed to the Chairman of the Tender Board Stores and Transport Office, Melbourne.

The Government will not necessarily accept the lowest or any tender.

The decision of the Government will be made known by Gazette notice and by letter to accepted tenderers.

CONDITIONS.

1. The hay to be eaten, good, sound, and sweet; the straw to be wheaten, and both to be in all respects of the best quality; oats (colonial grown) and bran to be sound and sweet and of the best description.

2. The supplies are for police and telegraph horses, and are to be delivered on the order of the officer in charge of the district or station. The quantities stated in the schedule being only approximative, it must be understood that the Government may draw either more or less than those mentioned; and should new telegraph stations be formed or additional horses be required to be stationed in any of the districts tendered for, the supplies required may be drawn from the contractor. The excess over the estimate will not, however, exceed during the whole year 50 per cent. of the estimated quarterly consumption.

3. The contracts entered into under this notice are not to be considered as being infringed or vitiated by any contracts made by the military commissariat.

4. The forage, when delivered, must be accompanied by the particulars of quantity, showing the gross weight, the tare, and the net weight, to be endorsed on the back of the order, which, when signed by the officer in charge of the station for the net quantity received, will be returned to the contractor, and by him rendered in support of his account.

5. Each contractor will be required to prepare his own account in the prescribed form, and on presentation thereof to the officer in charge of the station or district, it will be forwarded for payment at the Treasury, Melbourne, or the Pay Office of the District, as may be indicated by the contractor on the account.

6. Should forage duly ordered under these contracts not be delivered within forty-eight hours of the time specified in the order for delivery, it will be competent for the department (should circumstances require it) to purchase the same at the risk of the contractor, from whose account any expense over and above the contract price is to be deducted.

7. In the event of a difference of opinion between the contractor and the officer receiving the forage as to quality of the same, it is to be decided by a board of survey composed of persons named by the head of the department ordering the supply, and the decision of the board is to be considered final.

8. If the board shall decide that the forage is not of proper quality, it must be immediately replaced by the contractor, failing which it will be procured elsewhere, and the extra cost, if any, will be charged as in clause 6.

9. When a board of survey cannot be conveniently assembled, or when, from some other cause, injury would accrue either to the public service or the contractor by waiting for a board of survey, the officer in charge will have the power to reject such supplies as are obviously of inferior quality, it being understood that he will be responsible to the Government for so doing; and the contractor must take back the rejected forage, and supply good in its stead, failing which it will be obtained by the officer requiring it, and the expense will be charged as in clause 6.

10. A repetition of irregularity in the quantity or quality of the forage, or of delay in delivering or replacing it when required, will subject the contractor, upon report from the Tender Board, to such mulct not exceeding £20, as the Government may direct. It will also be in the power of the Government, upon such repetition, to terminate the contract forthwith.

11. It will be competent for the Inspector of Stores on behalf of the Government, or for the contractor on his own behalf, to terminate the contract, by giving in writing a notice of three full calendar months to that effect, it being understood that such notice only can be given from the first day of a month, and provided that no such notice can be given before the 30th June, 1866; and in the event of a station being discontinued or any change in the supplies required, the contractor will receive the earliest possible intimation.

GEO. VERDON.

The requisite plans of these surveys to be finished in accordance with the specifications for contract surveying, and preparation of plans for photolithographic purposes.

The rates accepted for these surveys to be in operation up to the 31st December, 1866.

The surveys to be executed personally by the contractor, unless under very special circumstances, authority for which will have to be obtained from the Surveyor General.

The surveys in future are to be proceeded with in the following order. Lists of the applications for surveys in each district received in one calendar month will be handed to the contractor on or about the first day of the month following, and such surveys are to be proceeded with at once, and finished before any further applications of a more recent date can be commenced:—
