THE following Notice, received from the Government of South Australia, is published for general information.

T. B. STEPHENS.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

Notice to Commanders and Pilots of Ships.

THE following Signals will be used on board the Steam Dredge at this port, when working at the Inner Bay, on and after the 12th July, 1867, until further notice:—

1. Proceed with caution—Blue flag, by day.
2. Pass to the westward—Red ball, by day; red light under white light, by night.
3. Pass to the eastward—White ball, by night; green light under white light, by night.
4. Accident.—Dredge cannot be moved from centre of channel, in time to allow approaching vessel to pass—Blue flag with white centre, by day.

When No. 1 signal is observed, the speed of the approaching vessel should be reduced before nearing the Dredge. On a large or deep vessel approaching, the Dredge will, if necessary, be moved over towards the side of the channel; but should any accident have occurred which might prevent her doing so, signal No. 4 will be hoisted, leaving it to the judgment of the commander or pilot which side he will pass.

At night, the Dredge will display a colored light below the bright light, to denote on which side a vessel should pass. The pontoons will be moved to the eastward of the channel.

The pontoons are discharged in the bight at the north-west end of Torrens Island, remote from the navigable channel for vessels of any tonnage.

Three small black buoys have been placed to indicate the position of the limestone crust, as discharged; which should be avoided by boats and small craft in beating in or out.

As already published, the Steam Dredge displays a bright white light from sunset to sunrise.

President Marine Board.

The mortality of Melbourne and suburbs, together with the mean temperature in the shade, and the mean atmospheric pressure during the month of June, for the last eight years, were as follow:—

	Number of Deaths.	Mean Temperature.	Mean Height of Barometer.
June, 1860	280	49°7'	29°893 inches.
" 1861	284	48°8'	29°832 "
" 1862	234	48°8'	30°011 "

" 1865	287	48°2'	30°105 "
" 1866	341	49°3'	30°123 "
" 1867	250	52°2'	30°033 "
Mean of eight years	272	49°4'	30°015 "

The number of deaths in June was considerably below the average. The mean temperature was higher than that of the same month in any of the seven previous years.

Males and females contributed respectively 53 and 47 per cent. to the mortality. About 51 per cent. of the deaths were of children under 5 years of age, as against 41 per cent. in June, 1866, 43 per cent. in June, 1865, 45 per cent. in June, 1864, 31 per cent. in June, 1863, 43 per cent. in June, 1862, 51 per cent. in June, 1861, and 49 per cent. in June, 1860.

The day of highest mortality was the 24th. Upon it 16 deaths occurred. The lowest mortality was on the 30th. For it only 2 deaths were reported.

Five persons of 75 years old and upwards died during the month. Of these, three were octogenarians, namely, a male aged 85, of senile decay; a female aged 81, of pneumonia; and a female aged 84 of asthma. The other two were males of 75 and 76 years old respectively, and died of old age.

Thirteen violent deaths took place during the month, of which eleven are supposed to have resulted from accident, and two from suicide. The following are the particulars:—A horsebreaker, aged 26, died of a fractured skull; a farrier, aged 54, of an injury to the brain caused by a fall from a horse; a hawker, aged 61, of injuries received through being passed over by the wheel of a cab; and a hawker, aged 57, of tetanus, resulting from a slight injury to the left foot; an infant aged 15 months and an infant aged 23 months, died from the effects of scalds; a boy, aged 3, was drowned in the Kororoit Creek; a boy, aged 12, in a quarry at Braybrook; a ballast man, aged 35, in Hobson's Bay; and a gardener, aged 50, in the River Yarra; a child, aged 19 months, was suffocated by a foreign body in the larynx; a female aged 18 years and a female aged 28 years drowned themselves in the Yarra.

Fifty deaths or a fifth of the whole occurred in public institutions, viz.:—33 in the Melbourne Hospital, 3 in the Lying-in Hospital, 6 in the Benevolent Asylum, 3 in the Immigrant's Home, 3 in the Carlton Lunatic Asylum, 1 in the Industrial Schools, and 1 in the Melbourne Gaol.

The following table shows the number of persons of all ages according to the last census; the number of deaths of persons under and over five years of age, the total at all ages, and the number of deaths to every 1000 of the population during the month of June, in the Statistical District of Melbourne and suburbs, and in each of the sub-districts of which it is composed:—

NOTE.—The Melbourne Hospital is in Melbourne Proper, the Benevolent Asylum in North Melbourne and Carlton, the Yarra Bend Lunatic Asylum in Jika-jika parish (remainder of), and the Industrial Schools in South Yarra and Prahran.

* This calculation is made upon the population at the last census, instead of the present population, as there are no means of estimating the changes which have taken place in the different sub-districts since the census was taken. It is believed that the present population of the whole district of Melbourne and suburbs amounts to about 165,000. If this be correct, the mortality of the month under review would indicate a proportion of 1.52 deaths to every 1000 persons living.

The deaths of children under five years numbered 127, of which 57, or nearly 45 per cent., were of males, and 70, or about 55 per cent., were of females. Of those dying, 67 were under one year of age, 29 were between one and two years, 12 were between two and three, 11 were between three and four, and 8 were between four and five.

The persons dying at a more advanced age than five years numbered 123, of which 76, or nearly 62 per cent., were males, and 47, or about 38 per cent., were females; 13 were between five and ten, 3 were between ten and fifteen, 4 were between fifteen and twenty, 9 were between twenty and twenty-five, 10 were between twenty-five and thirty, 14 were between thirty and thirty-five, 12 were between thirty-five and forty, 8 were between forty and forty-five, 4 were between forty-five and fifty, 9 were between fifty and fifty-five, 8 were between fifty-five and sixty, 9 were between sixty and sixty-five, 7 were between sixty-five and seventy, 7 were between seventy and seventy-five, 2 were between seventy-five and eighty, 3 were eighty and upwards, and 1 was of age unspecified.

The following table shows the causes of the deaths of persons of both sexes under and over five years of age, and the proportions per cent. of deaths from each cause, in Melbourne and suburbs, during the month of June, 1867:—

Classes.	Causes of Death.	Under five years.	Over five years.	Total.	Proportions per cent.

The mortality from zymotic diseases was, in the month under review, exceeded by that from local diseases, which circumstance had not occurred before in any month since October, 1866. Scarlatina and diphtheria, two diseases of the zymotic type, still continued, however, to be attended with more than ordinary fatal results. The former occasioned 12 and the latter 19 deaths during the month, against 27 and 12 deaths respectively in May. Twenty-five deaths were set down to phthisis in May, and the same number in June.

30	...	18.6	13.8
31	...	15.7	...
Mean daily range	16.8	16.4	17.5

The days of highest and lowest range in each of the three months, with the maximum and minimum temperature of those days, are given as follow:—

				HIGHEST RANGE.	Minimum.	Difference or range.
				Maximum.
4th April	85.6°	57.0°	28.6°
11th April	70.6°	42.0°	28.6°
15th May	74.1°	47.0°	27.1°
22nd June	69.3°	37.0°	25.3°
				LOWEST RANGE.	Minimum.	Difference or range.
				Maximum.
30th April	52.4°	56.8°	5.6°
2nd May	58.8°	55.0°	3.8°
27th June	55.0°	52.4°	2.6°

The mean temperature, number of deaths, and daily average of mortality, in the quarter ending 30th June, during the last eight years, were as follow:—

				Number of deaths.	Mean temperature.
Quarter ending 30th June, 1860	917	54.4°
" 1861	975	54.2°
" 1862	739	52.9°
" 1863	868	53.9°
" 1864	828	54.3°
" 1865	1,091	53.3°
" 1866	1,020	55.5°
" 1867	916	54.7°
Mean of the quarter in eight successive years	919	54.2°

It is seen by the above figures that the mortality and mean temperature of the second quarter of 1867 were very close upon the averages of the corresponding quarter during eight years; also that, notwithstanding the increase of population in the district during the interval, the number of deaths was no greater than it was in the second quarter of the first of those years.
