INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF THE BRITISH CONSUL IN THE FIJI ISLANDS.

THE Governor has directed the subjoined Despatches to be published for general information.

J. McCULLOCH,
Chief Secretary.

Chief Secretary's Office,
Melbourne, 20th July, 1869.

Downing street,
17th April, 1869.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit to you, for your consideration, and for that of your responsible advisers, the enclosed copy of Instructions (F. O., 19th March, 1869) recently issued by the Earl of Clarendon to Her Majesty's Consul at the Fiji Islands, together with a copy of a letter on the subject addressed to the Admiralty by the Foreign Office.

You will perceive that the Foreign Secretary has reserved for the present his decision as to the question whether it is desirable to take steps for an extension of the powers entrusted to Mr. March in his official capacity.

I beg to call your special attention to the limits within which the operations of the British Consular and Naval Officers will be restricted; and I have to instruct you not to afford any encouragement to measures such as have been contemplated in some recent instances, for the acquisition of land in the Fiji Islands by individuals or companies. If the promoters of any similar scheme were to apply to you for letters of introduction to the British officials in those Islands, it appears to me that it will be your duty to decline to accede to such request.

I have the honor to be, sir,
Your most obedient humble servant,
GRANVILLE.

The Officer Administering the Government of Victoria.

Mr. Murray to the Secretary to the Admiralty.

Foreign Office,
March 19, 1869.

SIR,—I am directed by the Earl of Clarendon to transmit to you, to be laid before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copy of a despatch which his Lordship has addressed to Mr. March, who has been appointed as Her Majesty's Consul at Fiji, containing general instructions for his guidance, both as regards the native chiefs and the British community settled in the islands.

Lord Clarendon does not doubt that the Lords of the Admiralty will concur with him in the opinion that it will be desirable that the British Naval Authorities, as well as Her Majesty's Consul, should, as far as may be practicable, confine themselves to matters in these quarters where the legitimate interests of British subjects are concerned, and should abstain, except in very extreme cases, from the employment of force, and from any measures which could give a color to the erroneous notions current in regard to territorial acquisition in the islands.

Lord Clarendon, therefore, desires me to request that you will suggest to the Lords of the Admiralty that the Naval Authorities on the Australian Station should be informed of the nature of the instructions addressed to Mr. March, and should be instructed, as far as may be consistent with the exigencies of the service, to give to him the countenance and support which will be afforded by the occasional visit of one of Her Majesty's vessels of war.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) J. MURRAY.

The Secretary to the Admiralty.

No. 36.—JULY 30, 1869.—1.

Lord Clarendon to Mr. March.

Foreign Office,
March 19, 1869.

SIR.—There are certain points connected with the existing state of affairs in the Fiji Islands to which I think it desirable to call your attention on your proceeding to your post, in order, if possible to relieve you hereafter from difficulty as to the course which you should pursue.

The absence of a constituted government will deprive you of the support to which a consular officer would, in ordinary cases, look, and as the quarter in which he might appeal for redress in case of injury to the interests which he is bound to protect.

On the other hand, the British community, with which you will have to deal, will comprise within its members many persons who, from their antecedents and habits, may be more prone to adventure than ready to conform to authority.

As regards the local chiefs, it is far from my intention to restrict you from the exercise of such influence in the shape of friendly communications and advice which you can exert for the benefit of an uncivilized race. But you will clearly understand that it will be your duty to avoid taking part in any internal dissensions, or in any acts of partizanship which would compromise the neutrality of your position, and place you virtually, or even in appearance, in a position of intervention in the disputes amongst the chiefs.

As regards the British community, I trust, that by the exercise of tact and judgment, you may be able to deal with most cases when your intervention is called for. Your powers of jurisdiction are, however, limited, and it may be a matter for consideration hereafter, whether they may not beneficially be extended. In the meanwhile there are various matters which will call for your early attention, and amongst these you will find the speculations set on foot in the Australian Colonies, involving the contemplated acquisition, by purchase, of large districts in the islands. As far as Her Majesty's Government are concerned, steps have already been taken to discourage enterprises of this description; but from the last information which has reached me the scheme has not been abandoned, and must be dealt with both with reference to the tendency shown by British settlers to extend their operations into the interior, and to a growing disposition to treat the islands in the light of a colonial possession of the British Crown.

It will be your duty, by your acts and language, to discountenance any such erroneous notion, and you will make it to be clearly and publicly understood that your functions are confined to the limits of your Consular duties, in watching over commercial interests, and, as far as may be, contributing to the order and well being of the British community; but that any attempt to form establishments in the interior will be at the sole risk of the undertakers, who, in withdrawing themselves beyond the bounds of your legitimate influence, may expose themselves to risk.

It is my intention to suggest to the Lords of the Admiralty that the Naval Authorities on the Australian Station should be directed, as far as may be consistent with other requirements, to cause some of Her Majesty's vessels of war occasionally to visit the islands for the purpose of giving weight to your representations, and supporting your proper authority. But you will understand that the presence of such a vessel of war is not proposed with the view to its being made serviceable for purposes connected with native feuds, still less that any operations should be undertaken which would be calculated to show an intention to acquire for this country any territorial possession in the islands.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) CLARENDON.

E. March, Esq.,
H. M. Consul, Fiji Islands.

Downing street, 18th May, 1869.

SIR,—I transmit to you herewith, a copy of a letter (16th April, 1869) from the Board of Trade, enclosing a Notice to Colonial Shipmasters and others, relative to sections 109, 136, 280, and 284 of The Merchant Shipping Act 1854.

I have, &c., &c.,

The Officer Administering the Government of Victoria.

Mr. Gray to the Under Secretary of State, Colonial Office.
(Colonial Certificates.)

Board of Trade,
Whitehall Gardens, 16th April, 1869.

SIR,—I am directed by the Board of Trade to state, for the information of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, that they have found it necessary to cancel certain Instructions issued by them in 1863, to the Superintendents of the Mercantile Marine Offices in the United Kingdom, under which a colonial vessel was allowed to clear without production of the master's and mate's certificates for any intermediate port or ports, not situate in the colony in which the vessel was registered, provided her ultimate destination, as shown by the ship's papers, was a port situate in that colony.

Notification of this fact has been made public in this country, but as colonial shipmasters and owners occasionally plead ignorance of the law on the subject, I am to suggest, for the consideration of Earl Granville, whether, it might not be desirable to furnish the Officers administering the Government of Her Majesty's several possessions abroad with copies of the accompanying printed notice, and to request them to take steps for giving publicity to its contents.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) THOMAS GRAY.

Colonial Office.

NOTICE TO MASTERS, MATES, BROKERS, AND OTHERS
INTERESTED IN COLONIAL SHIPS.

With reference to sections 109, 136, 280, and 284 of The Merchant Shipping Act 1854.

Colonial ships engaged in the trade of the United Kingdom.

In consequence of the ignorance occasionally manifested by colonial shipmasters of the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act which affect colonial ships engaged in the trade of the United Kingdom, attention is hereby directed to the terms of the last clause of section 109 of The Merchant Shipping Act 1854, viz. "The whole of the third part of this Act shall apply to (*) all ships registered in any British possession, and employed in trading or going between any place in the United Kingdom and any place or places not situate in the possession in which such ships are registered, and to the owners, masters, and crews of such ships respectively, wherever the same may be."

Officers' certificates.—By section 136 (one of the sections contained in the third part of the Act) it is provided as follows:—"No foreign-going ship or home-trade passenger ship shall go to sea from any port in the United Kingdom unless the master thereof, and in the case of a foreign-going ship the first and second mates or only mate (as the case may be), and in the case of a home-trade passenger ship the first or only mate (as the case may be), have obtained and possess valid certificates either of competency or service appropriate to their several stations in such ship, or of a higher grade; and no such ship, if of one hundred tons burden, or upwards, shall go to sea as aforesaid unless at least one officer besides the master has obtained and possesses a valid certificate appropriate to the grade of only mate therein or to a higher grade; and every person who, having been engaged to serve as master or as first or second or only mate of any foreign-going ship, or as master or first or only mate of a home-trade passenger ship, goes to sea as aforesaid as such master or mate without being at the time entitled to and possessed of such a certificate as herein-before required, or who employs any person as master or first, second, or only mate of any foreign-going ship; or as master or first or only mate of a home-trade passenger ship, without ascertaining that he is at the time entitled to and possessed of such certificate, shall for each such offence incur a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds."

Official logs.—By section 280 (another of the sections contained in the third part of the Act), it is provided that "The Board of Trade shall sanction forms of official log-books, which may be different for different classes of ships so that each such form contains blanks for the entries hereinafter required; and an official log of every ship (except ships employed exclusively in trading between ports on the coasts of the United Kingdom) shall be kept in the appropriate sanctioned form; and such official log may, at the discretion of the master or owner, either be kept distinct from the ordinary ship's log or united therewith so that in all cases all the blanks in the official log be duly filled up." And by section 284 it is provided that if in any case an official log-book is not kept in the manner required by the Act, or if any entry directed by the Act to be made in any such log-book is not made at the time and in the manner thereby directed, the master shall, for each such offence, incur the specific penalty therein mentioned in respect thereof, or where there is no such specific penalty, a penalty not exceeding five pounds.

THOMAS GRAY,
Assistant Secretary.

N.B.—This Notice should be freely circulated by the superintendant amongst brokers and others concerned with Colonial Shipping.

AUGUST

SAUL SAMUEL.

The existence of gales, which are likely to endanger shipping, will be signalled at the principal Telegraph Stations, on the coast of New South Wales, as soon as arrangements can be completed, in the following manner, viz.:

The signal masts will support two yards, which are to cross each other at right angles in the direction of the cardinal points of the compass;—the yard arms denoting respectively north, east, south, and west; midway between north and east will indicate north-east, &c.

A violent squall will be represented by a conspicuous diamond-shaped signal.

Gale, with clear weather, will be represented by a diamond-shaped signal over a drum.

Gale, with thick weather and rain, will be represented by a diamond-shaped figure with a drum over it.

The direction from which a gale is blowing will be indicated by the particular yard-arm, between which arm and the mast-head the geometrical signal is suspended.

Place where squall or gale is blowing will be shown by hoisting the numeral pendants already in use at Sydney, Newcastle, and other coast stations.

Gales that are general over a large portion of the coast will be indicated by the geometrical figures, without the mast-head flags.

Diagrams, explanatory of the above notice, will be issued. Sydney, 24th June, 1869.
