the Government of Victoria.

Extract of a Letter from Major-General Scott to the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, dated Upper Kensington Gore, London, S.W., 30th July 1873.

"Her Majesty's Commissioners consider that it may be useful to point out that the Directory contains—

- (a) The General Regulations, page 1946.

- (c) The Rules for Manufactures, Division II., with the Raw Produce, Machinery, and Processes employed, page 1948.

As the Industries included in this division are different each year, it is desirable that particular attention should be called to the classes of manufactures chosen for next year's Exhibition, which are as follow:—

- (Class 8.) Lace, Hand and Machine made (ancient and modern).
- ( " 9.) Civil Engineering, Architectural and Building Contrivances.
- ( " 10.) Heating by all Methods and Kinds of Fuel.

The Rules for Division III., recent scientific inventions and new discoveries, may be found on page 1948.

The Commissioners trust that the document will afford all necessary information to the British Colonies in respect to the next year's Exhibition. I am, however, to add that Her Majesty's Commissioners will have much pleasure in giving any further information or explanation that may be required."

THE OBJECTS OF THE EXHIBITIONS.

1. London Annual Exhibitions under the Royal Commission for Exhibition of 1851.—The London Annual International Exhibitions are conducted by the Royal Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1851, who are Trustees of the funds arising from the profits of the First International Exhibition in 1851, to be devoted to the promotion of Science and Art bearing on Productive Industry.

2. Objects of the Annual Exhibitions.—It is intended that these Exhibitions shall furnish the opportunity of decennially reviewing the progress, throughout the world, of Fine Arts, and of every branch of Industrial Manufactures, with the view of stimulating the application of the principles of Science and Art to Productive Industry.

3. Alliance of Fine Art and Industry.—In modern times Beauty or Fine Art has, sometimes, been too much dissociated from purposes of utility; but, in the ancient and mediæval periods, high Art was often brought into alliance with the commonest materials of manufacture. Thus, the Etruscans painted on vessels of clay subjects which still charm us by their beauty of composition and skilful drawing; the furniture and implements recovered from Pompeii are as remarkable for their artistic form as for their ingenious design; and the celebrated Cartoons of Raffaele were merely designs for the decoration of woollen hangings.

4. Objects admitted are exhibited in three Divisions.—Hence, in the London International Exhibitions, the Fine Art Division, No. I. will recur annually, so that encouragement may be given to progress in the application of Art to Manufactures, and to objects of everyday use. Illustrations of Musical Art will also be given. Division II. will consist of three or four of the chief classes of Manufactures, so selected that all the Industrial Arts shall be brought under review once in the series of ten years. The respective Raw Materials and Machinery employed in such Manufactures will also be exhibited. Division III. will include Scientific Inventions and New Discoveries, of such importance that their introduction to the public should not be delayed till the proper year for their exhibition in Division II. The objects admitted to the current series of London International Exhibitions are therefore classified as follows:—

Division I.—Fine Arts.

" II.—Manufactures, with the Raw Materials, Machinery, and Processes employed.

" III.—Recent Scientific Inventions and New Discoveries.

(See Special Rules for each Division, pp. 1947 and 1948.)

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

5. Buildings.—The London Annual International Exhibitions are held in permanent buildings, erected for the purpose at South Kensington, adjoining the Royal Horticultural Society's Gardens, and in the Galleries of the Royal Albert Hall.

6. Objects exhibited must be approved by Committees of Selection.—The productions of all Nations will be admitted, subject to the decision of competent judges as to their being worthy of exhibition, and provided that they have not been exhibited in previous International Exhibitions of this series.

7. Application to submit objects for exhibition.—Applications to submit objects proposed for exhibition to the official "Committees of Selection" should be made on the Form of Preliminary Application (No. 10, see Appendix G, p. 1950), which can be obtained at the Offices, 5 Upper Kensington Gore, London, S.W., and should be forwarded to the Secretary before the 1st January of the year in which the Exhibition will be held.

8. Space guaranteed to Foreign Governments.—Foreign Governments desiring to have space guaranteed to them can obtain such guarantee upon making application (see paragraph 59) before the 1st January of the year in which the Exhibition is to be held. Such guaranteed space cannot, however, be reserved for any foreign objects which are not delivered at the time appointed by Her Majesty's Commissioners. Objects forwarded by a Foreign Government to fill any such guaranteed space will not (if they come within the scope of the Exhibition) be submitted to the Committees of Selection, but will be exhibited on the responsibility of the Government sending them. Her Majesty's Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of admitting to the Exhibition, through the Committees of Selection, any object coming from a foreign country, whether such country has had space guaranteed to it or not.

9. Objects to be approved by Committees of Selection.—Objects produced in the United Kingdom or in the Colonies, as well as objects produced in those foreign countries for which space has not been guaranteed, must be sent direct to the Building for the inspection and approval of the Committees of Selection. All objects must be delivered on the appointed days, at the proper entrances to the Building (which will be duly advertised), and into the care of the appointed officers, free of all charges for carriage, &c., unpacked, labelled, and ready for immediate exhibition.

10. Goods must be delivered punctually.—In order that the necessary arrangements for Meetings of the Committees of Selection may be carried into effect, strict punctuality will be required in the delivery of all objects, whether Foreign or British.

11. Carriage must be prepaid.—The Commissioners cannot undertake to receive any package which may be presented by carriers with charges unpaid. Foreign artists whose works are not sent through a Foreign Government should consign their works to an agent in London. Messrs. Chaplin and Horne, Swan with Two Necks, Gresham Street, London, will convey packages from vessels to the Exhibition at fixed rates, and are recommended as the London Agents for Exhibitors.

12. No rent for space; and cases, etc., are provided for Exhibitors.—No Rent will be charged for space; and Her Majesty's Commissioners will provide glass cases, railings, and shafting for machinery in motion, free of cost to the Exhibitors, should the Exhibitors desire it; but their requirements in these respects must be notified to the Commissioners before the 1st January of the year in which the Exhibition is to be held. (See Appendix G, p. 1951, Form No. 10a.)

13. Woodwork of cases to be black.—In the case of Exhibitors supplying their own glass cases, all the woodwork of frames should be black and polished, and the designs approved by Her Majesty's Commissioners.

14. Objects generally will be arranged for Exhibitors.—Her Majesty's Commissioners will carry out the arrangement of the objects by their own officers, unless the Exhibitors make special application to be allowed to do so. The arrangement of Machinery and other articles requiring skilled assistance and special fittings must be undertaken by the Exhibitor.

15. Arrangement of objects.—The arrangement of objects will, as far as possible, be according to Classes, and not Nationalities.

16. Changes will be made if desirable.—Her Majesty's Commissioners reserve to themselves the power of determining all questions relating to the position and arrangement of all objects in all the Classes, as well as those relating to such changes as may from time to time be found desirable.

17. Labels.—Every object sent for exhibition should be accompanied by a Label, stating the name and address of the Exhibitor, and if several works are sent, a Numbered List of the works submitted for approval must be sent in with them, each work bearing a label and a number corresponding with this list. To each work should also be securely attached a label bearing the title and the name and address of the artist and owner: particular accuracy is requested in this respect.

18. Prices should be attached. Price clerks.—Prices should be attached, whenever possible, to all objects intended for sale at the close of the Exhibition. Price Clerks will be appointed to register the selection of objects for purchase, and to introduce the seller to the buyer.*

19. Rejected goods to be removed by owners.—Objects not accepted for exhibition must be removed from the Building in compliance with the notices which will be given, after the decisions of the Committees of Selection have been notified to Her Majesty's Commissioners.

20. Accepted goods must remain during the Exhibition.—Objects exhibited cannot be removed until the close of the Exhibition, except under the orders of Her Majesty's Commissioners.

21. Medals for Exhibitors.—No prizes will be awarded; but a Medal will be given to each Exhibitor, as a certificate that he has obtained the distinction of admission to the Exhibition.

22. Catalogue.—An Official Catalogue will be published in the English language, but every Foreign country will be at liberty to publish a Catalogue in its own language.

23. The Commissioners not responsible for damage to objects exhibited.—Her Majesty's Commissioners will take the greatest possible care of all objects sent for exhibition, but they will not hold themselves responsible for loss or damage of any kind.

24. Free admission tickets for Exhibitors.—Tickets of admission, available during the Exhibition, will be given, on application, after the opening of the Exhibition, to each Exhibitor, or Firm exhibiting.

25. Exhibitors considered to bind themselves to these Rules, as condition of admission.—All Exhibitors in the London International Exhibitions, by the fact of exhibiting, render themselves subject to the present Rules, and to such other Rules and Regulations as Her Majesty's Commissioners may, from time to time, lay down.

REGULATIONS FOR CLASSES OF FINE ART.—DIVISION I.

26. Fine Arts.—Examples of Fine Art (either applied or not applied to Works of Utility) will form part of each Exhibition of the Series, and will be arranged under Division I., in the following Classes:—

- Class 1. Painting of all kinds, in Oil, Water Colors, Distemper, Wax, Enamel, and on Glass, Porcelain, etc.; Mosaics; Drawings of all kinds.
- " 2. Sculpture, Modelling, Carving, and Chasing in Marble, Stone, Wood, Terra-Cotta, Metal, Ivory, Glass, Precious Stones, and any other materials.
- " 3. Engraving; Lithography; Photography, as a Fine Art, executed in the preceding twelve months.
- " 4. Architectural Designs and Drawings, Photographs of completed Buildings, Studies or Restorations of Existing Buildings, and Models.
- " 5. Tapestries, Carpets, Embroideries, Shawls, Lace, etc., shown not as Manufactures, but for the Fine Art of their design in form or color.
- " 6. Designs for all kinds of Decorative Manufactures.
- " 7. Reproductions, i.e., exact full size copies of ancient or mediæval Pictures painted before A.D. 1556. Reproductions of Mosaics and Enamels; Copies in Plaster and Fictile Ivory; Electrotypes of ancient Works of Art, etc. Such Works may be Ancient or Modern, according to the special regulations issued for each year.

27. Paintings and Sculpture.—As respects Modern works, an artist himself must not submit more than three works of each kind for exhibition, but he may submit works of as many different kinds as he pleases: thus the same artist may send for admission three oil paintings, three water-color paintings, three paintings on enamel, porcelain, etc.; also three sculptures in marble, three in wood, etc.

28. Privileges of Societies.—Works by British or Foreign artists, who are members of Academies, such as the Royal Academy of London, the Institute of British Artists, the Two Water Color Societies, the Royal Scottish Academy, and the French, German, Italian, Belgian, or other Foreign Academies,

* To afford the public facilities for obtaining objects at the close of the Exhibition, Clerks will be employed in various parts of the building to register Exhibits selected for purchase. They will be at their desks daily, and will assist intending purchasers under the subjoined rules framed in accordance with the practice followed at the Royal Academy Exhibitions.

- a. The Price Clerk will register the Exhibits selected by intending purchasers.
- b. Any object or picture not priced by the Exhibitor will be regarded by the Price Clerk as "Not for Sale," unless special instructions are given by the owner.
- c. An intending purchaser will sign his name and enter his address on a Form, which will be retained as a voucher for marking the object or picture as selected for purchase.
- d. The Price Clerk will then communicate with the owner of the Exhibit, and will enter it as selected for purchase.
- e. No article can be removed from the Exhibition until its close.
- f. All copies or duplicates must be obtained out of the Exhibition, and for them the Price Clerk will not take orders; such applications should be made direct to the Exhibitor.
- g. Articles selected for purchase will be removed by the Exhibitor, with whom all monetary transactions must be conducted.
- h. For the convenience of intending purchasers, the prices of objects will be inserted in the Catalogue, when they are furnished by the Exhibitors. Every endeavour will be used to insure correctness, but Her Majesty's Commissioners will hold themselves in no way responsible for loss which may be incurred through error in such entries.

and well-established Societies of Artists, will be secured admission if application be made and particulars of the works given by the respective Societies before 1st January 1874.

29. What Pictures are admissible.—The Pictures may have been already publicly exhibited in other places than the Annual International Exhibitions, and may have been painted at any period of the career of the artist.

30. Preference given to Pictures mentioned in par. 28.—Merit being equal in the case of Paintings, preference in the Selection will be given to Pictures which have been already exhibited by Societies named in paragraph 28; also to those Paintings which are of a decorative character, and are designed for a special decorative purpose.

31. Deceased British Artists.—Collections of the works of deceased eminent British artists will be made every year by Her Majesty's Commissioners, to illustrate their career.* (See Appendix H, p. 1951.)

31a. Admission and arrangement of Works regulated by space available.—The admission of works sent direct by artists will be regulated by the space available either in the East and West Galleries, or in the Galleries of the Royal Albert Hall. Her Majesty's Commissioners reserve to themselves the absolute right of arranging all such works where they see fit.

32. Recently deceased Artists.—In the case of any distinguished artist recently deceased, a selection of his works may be exhibited as a group.

33. Army and Navy.—Works by officers of the Army and Navy will be collected by a committee, and exhibited separately.†

34. Sketches.—Sketches made by artists in furtherance of their works, also the works of amateurs illustrating their travels, are eligible for admission.‡

35. Exhibition of Collections.—Collectors who may desire to exhibit their collections of Fine Arts together may have space allotted upon making application before January 1st in each year.§

36. Decorative Fine Art.—Paintings and sculptures may either be works complete in themselves, or may form part of the decoration of objects of utility, e.g., vases in pottery, fans, panels for furniture, wood carving for furniture, etc., provided that such objects are entitled to be classed as works of Fine Art.

37. Architecture.—The buildings to which Architectural Drawings, etc., relate must have been designed, commenced, or finished within ten years preceding that in which the Exhibition is held. Architectural Drawings and Designs which have gained the Travelling Studentship of the Royal Academy, the Gold Medal of the Royal Academy, or the Soane Medallion of the Royal Institute of British Architects, within the preceding five years, will be considered admissible without other question than that of sufficiency of space. Each architectural work should bear the name of the architect who designed, as well as that of the artist who painted it. Architectural Models should be submitted when possible. Drawings of Plans, which can be admitted only as explanations of the general design, should be on as small a scale as possible.

38. Copies of Ancient and Mediæval Works of Art.—A producer will be permitted to submit for selection reproductions of any number of ancient or mediæval works of art.

39. Certificated Foreign Works.—Foreign works of Fine Art may be sent with the certificate of admission given by the respective Governments, or by the Academies, of the countries in which they are produced.

* Thus, in 1873, the works of John Phillip, R.A., and Thomas Gresham, R.A., were collected to follow a similar course in future years with the works of other eminent deceased artists. Her Majesty's Commissioners have accordingly decided to invite the owners of pictures painted by the following artists to intimate their willingness to lend such works for the International Exhibition of 1874, and they request to be favored with any information respecting them.

Lieut.-Col. Sir J. C. Cowell, C.B., R.E.	Major J. F. D. Donnelly, R.E., Hon. Sec. of the Committee.
Colonel H. Grealock, C.B.

‡ In 1873, Mr. Taylor lent fifty paintings by himself, illustrating Indian life and scenery, which were displayed as a series in the Indian Court.

§ His Royal Highness the Duc de Nemours also obligingly aided in supplying the void in the representation of French Art occasioned by the International Exhibition at Vienna, by sending sixteen pictures representing the visits of Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort to France in 1843; and of King Louis Philippe to England in 1844 (Nos. 261 to 277), and Sir R. Wallace has lent his unrivalled collection of works of Meissonnier, which are arranged together (Nos. 244 to 258).

Mr. J. Newton Mappin, of Sheffield, sent eighteen interesting pictures from his collection, which are also arranged together as his contribution (Nos. 223 to 244). Sir Robert Peel contributed paintings by Mr. Simpson, illustrating incidents in the Crimea (Nos. 1501 to 1514); and Mr. MacCallum contributed twenty-four sketches from Egypt (Nos. 1615 to 1539).

40. Frames.—All pictures and drawings must be in gilt or other suitable frames. Drawings with wide margins are inadmissible. Excessive breadth in frames, as well as largely projecting mouldings, may prevent pictures being admitted or obtaining the situation which they merit; and oval frames should be avoided, as they are difficult to arrange. Each picture or drawing must be in a separate frame, but a series of drawings relating to one subject, very small miniatures, or sculptured gems, placed in a frame not exceeding the imperial size, will be admitted as one work.

41. Heavy objects of Fine Art.—To prevent unnecessary trouble and expense to artists who may wish to exhibit heavy objects, such as Sculpture, Decorative Furniture, Architectural Models, and bulky reproductions, photographs or sketches of the works proposed for exhibition, with specification of height, and dimensions of the base, should be sent to the Secretary on or before the 1st January of the year in which the Exhibition is held, so that a decision may be come to as to the possibility of their admission.

42. Label to be attached, with prices.—To each work should also be securely attached a label bearing the title and the name and address of the artist and owner: particular accuracy is requested in this respect. The prices of works, if for sale, must be stated on the label accompanying the work; and if not for sale the work must be so marked.

REGULATIONS FOR MANUFACTURES, WITH THE RAW PRODUCE, MACHINERY, AND PROCESSES EMPLOYED.—DIVISION II.

43. Manufactures.—In 1874, Division II. of the Exhibition will consist of the following Classes (see Special Rules and separate Notices):—

- CLASS 8. Lace (Hand and Machine made).
- " 9. Civil Engineering, Architectural and Building Contrivances.
    - a. Civil Engineering, Architectural and Building Contrivances.
    - b. Sanitary Apparatus and Constructions.
    - c. Cement and Plaster Work, etc.
  - " 10. Heating by all Methods and Kinds of Fuel.
  - " 11. Leather, including Saddlery and Harness.
    - a. Leather, and Manufacture of Leather.
    - b. Saddlery, Harness, etc.
  - " 12. Bookbinding.
  - " 13. Foreign Wines, in the Vaults of the Royal Albert Hall.

Under Division II. (Manufactures) will be exhibited selected specimens of the finished manufacture, as well as the raw material of the fabric in its different stages of production, and the machinery and processes employed in its manufacture.

44. Duplicates not admissible.—All industrial objects submitted for exhibition should be limited to such specimens as are necessary to show the manufacture and patterns in a satisfactory manner. No mere duplicates can be admitted; the same design in a fabric may, however, be shown with different combinations of colors.

45. Collections of ancient works of industry will be admissible.—With the view of increasing the educational value of the Exhibition, by chronicling the progress of Manufactures, Her Majesty's Commissioners will reserve certain spaces in the Industrial Division for special collections of ancient works.

46. Retail Prices.—In the case of Industrial productions, the special reasons (such as excellence, novelty, cheapness, etc.) why it is exhibited should be stated, and, whenever possible, the average retail price at which it can be bought.

47. Exhibitors to provide foundations, pulleys, etc., for Machinery.—Exhibitors of Machinery must construct all necessary foundations, and provide their own driving-belts and driving-pulleys, which are to be in halves, and bored to the proper diameter of the main shafting, as notified to them by Her Majesty's Commissioners. They must also supply and erect, at their own expense, any counter-shafting (including the necessary foundations) which they may consider requisite to increase or reduce the speed to suit their own particular machines.

48. Goods manufactured within the Exhibition Building may be sold to visitors.—In order that exhibitors of machinery and processes may recoup the cost of the operations illustrated, they will be permitted to sell to visitors such results of the operations as are actually manufactured within the Exhibition building, on condition of the payment of a moderate royalty, based upon a head-money payment on the total number of visitors to the Exhibition.

49. Particulars required for machinery.—The following information should be supplied, with the Form of Preliminary Application (Form No. 10), by proposing Exhibitors of Machinery (Form No. 10a).

- a. A plan of each machine, showing the position of driven-pulleys, the minimum space required for attendants, and indicating the parts of the machine which should be placed most prominently for inspection by the public. An elevation would also be of use, if it could be supplied without inconvenience.
- b. A plan and section of the foundations required.
- c. The weight of the machine.
- d. The amount of motive power, in actual horse-power, required from main shafting.
- e. Should water, steam, or gas be required, all necessary information as to the quantities of the requisite supplies, which must be paid for by the exhibitor (see paragraph 12).

50. Exhibitors to pay for gas or water consumed.—Exhibitors must make their own connections for gas, water, and steam. They must also provide and attach meters of sufficient capacity to measure the quantities of gas or water which they may consume, and for which they must pay monthly to Her Majesty's Commissioners, at the rates actually charged at the time by the companies.

(The days for receiving Manufactures, &c., are stated in paragraph 57.)

RECENT SCIENTIFIC INVENTIONS AND NEW DISCOVERIES OF ALL KINDS.—DIVISION III.

51. Recent Scientific Inventions.—Division III., Recent Scientific Inventions and Discoveries, will consist of objects the excellence and novelty of which are considered by the Committee of Selection to be so great as to render it undesirable that their introduction to the public should be delayed until the proper year for the exhibition of their Classes of Manufacture in Division II.

52. Objects should be new.—No objects will be admitted into Division III. which have been shown in previous International Exhibitions of this series, unless very important alterations or improvements have been added to them since the date of their previous exhibition.

53. Information to accompany Forms of Application.—To assist the Committee of Selection in judging of the qualifications for admission of any Invention submitted for exhibition in Division III., it is desirable that the Form of Preliminary Application (No. 10, Appendix G, p. 1950) should be accompanied by a statement of the inventor's special claims to novelty and excellence, and (if possible) by the written opinion of some scientific gentleman of repute who has practically examined the Invention.

54. Act for protection of Inventions exhibited.—The Act of Parliament for the protection of Inventions exhibited at the Annual International Exhibitions is entitled "The Protection of Inventions Act 1870," 33 and 34 Vict. chap. 27, and dated 14th July 1870.

FOREIGN OBJECTS SENT THROUGH FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS.

59. Statement showing the amount of space required for objects sent direct by Foreign Governments.—In accordance with the general rule (paragraph 8), Foreign Governments which desire to insure the Exhibition of any of their Countries' productions belonging to the classes appointed for the year must make known their intention to send objects before the 1st January 1874, and must furnish Her Majesty's Commissioners, on or before the 1st January 1874, with a statement on the Form, No. 8 (see Appendix C), showing the amount and nature of the space required under the several Classes and Sections of each Division, when Her Majesty's Commissioners will immediately consider the applications from Foreign Countries with a view to the equitable distribution of the space at their disposal.

60. Delivery of objects by Foreign Governments.—The objects must be delivered at the Exhibition Buildings, free from all charges for carriage, &c., into the care of an agent, who will have them unpacked, and note the state in which the objects are found. The charges for carriage from the vessels arriving at London to the Exhibition Buildings are specified in paragraph 64.

61. Arrangement of objects sent by Foreign Governments—Foundations or special constructions.—Her Majesty's Commissioners will carry out the arrangement of all objects by their own officers. To enable them to do this for articles of great size or weight which will require foundations or special constructions, and the placing of which will entail considerable labour, Foreign Governments must furnish the particulars of the necessary foundations on or before the 1st January 1874; and all such objects must be delivered at the Exhibition not later than the dates specified above. Her Majesty's Commissioners will provide the foundations, but the fitting must be done by and at the expense of the Exhibitor or his agent.

62. Punctuality necessary for Foreign Goods.—In the case of Foreign Governments wishing to send all their contributions at one time, the dates specified in paragraph 57 may be anticipated, but in no case may they be over-stepped. The experience of the Exhibitions of 1871, 1872, and 1873 has shown the imperative necessity of insisting on the punctual delivery of objects.

63. Arrangements for unpacking and inspection of Foreign Goods.—Her Majesty's Commissioners, with the view of reducing the expenses of Foreign Governments taking part in the Annual International Exhibitions, and saving them possible difficulty and inconvenience, have decided to provide, without charge to Foreign Governments, persons to unpack the Goods, in the presence of the Agent deputed on behalf of each Foreign Government to make a note of the state in which the objects arrive, but it must be clearly understood that no responsibility of any kind for loss or damage attaches to Her Majesty's Commissioners.

64. Carriage of Foreign Goods.—In reference to the subject of the carriage of Foreign Goods from the vessels in which they arrive to the Exhibition Buildings, Her Majesty's Commissioners recommend Messrs. Chaplin and Horne, for the conveyance of Foreign Goods from the Wharves to the Exhibition. Messrs. Chaplin and Horne will undertake to do this work at the rate of Seventeen Shillings and Sixpence per Ton, which would include Lighterage, Landing, Clearing, and Cartage to the Exhibition Buildings, the same rate applying to the return Carriage of the Goods.

65. Freight.—All charges for Freight, &c., must be prepaid, so that the Goods may be delivered from the vessel to Messrs. Chaplin and Horne without any payment by them.

66. Bills of Lading.—Should Foreign Governments be desirous of accepting the services of Messrs. Chaplin and Horne, Her Majesty's Commissioners will be obliged by their directing all goods for the Annual International Exhibitions to be consigned to them, and by their taking steps to insure that all Bills of Lading shall be in Messrs. Chaplin and Horne's possession before the arrival of the vessel.

67. Bills examined by officers of Her Majesty's Commissioners.—The Officers of Her Majesty's Commissioners will examine all bills, and certify to the correctness of the charges, in accordance with the terms stated above, if requested to do so by Foreign Governments.

68. Authority from Foreign Governments to employ Chaplin and Horne.—In the event of Foreign Governments desiring to avail themselves of the services of Messrs. Chaplin and Horne, Her Majesty's Commissioners request that an authority may be forwarded to their Secretary as soon as possible, in the following terms:—

Name of Country _____
To Messrs. Chaplin and Horne, }
Swan with Two Necks, }
Gresham street, London. }

I hereby authorize you to receive all Goods sent to the London International Exhibition of 1874, and to convey them from the vessels to the Exhibition Buildings, and again at the expiration of the Exhibition from the Exhibition Buildings to the vessels, at the rate of Seventeen Shillings and Sixpence per Ton each way.

Signature _____

69. Cost to Foreign Governments.—It will thus be seen that the only expense that Foreign Governments need incur, beyond the actual cost of carriage, will be the payment of an Agent to inspect the unpacking, and to note the condition of the objects.

Sub-committee for Colonial Wines.

Sir Daniel Cooper, Bart. | E. Apps Smith, Esq.

The Committee appointed to arrange and carry out the Exhibition of Foreign and Colonial Wines in 1874 desire to call attention to the advantages that may be obtained by exhibiting Wines on this occasion, and to point out that it affords a better opportunity of bringing the Wines of Australia more directly before the notice of English and Continental Buyers than has ever before been available. The arrangements for seeing, tasting, and obtaining samples of the Wines will allow of close and careful comparison with the various Continental Wines exhibited of the same character and class; which comparison, the Committee venture to hope, will be of some value. The Committee also will be glad if Exhibitors, where practicable, will send specimens of the Soil where Wines of a peculiar excellence or quality are grown, together with particulars of climate, temperature, &c., and information as to mode of growing, making and maturing the Wines, where those processes differ from the methods ordinarily in use on the Continent; to which might be added, age of the Vines, percentage of saccharine in the must, produce per acre, &c., &c.

The Committee are of opinion that, if a majority of the Growers will send specimens and information as here suggested, it cannot fail to have a material and beneficial influence, not only in extending the consumption of Colonial Wines, but also in improving and perfecting their growth and manufacture, by the interchange of statistics and experience with Growers of the older and more famous Wine Countries.

All Wines for Exhibition and tasting should be delivered at the International Exhibition, or Cellars of the Royal Albert Hall, not later than the 1st of March 1874.

T. A. WRIGHT,

Secretary for the International Exhibitions.
5 Upper Kensington Gore, London, S.W.
