The Victorian Railway Department does not bind itself to the exact time notified in the time tables for the arrival and despatch of trains, the time tables being intended to show the times approximately only.

Should any circumstance occur prior to or during a journey which shall render it inexpedient for a train to proceed, the Victorian Railway Department does not undertake to forward the passengers or luggage, &c.

All excess luggage must be sent to the booking office fifteen minutes before the starting of the train, so as to give sufficient time to have it weighed and stowed, and the Victorian Railway Department will not be responsible for any package not fully and legibly addressed; nor for any luggage left by passengers accidentally or for their own convenience. Parcels will be booked and conveyed on the same terms.

It is hereby notified that the Victorian Railway Department will not be accountable for any article conveyed upon the railway unless it be entered and signed for as received by the proper officer; nor will the Victorian Railway Department be responsible for the loss or damage done to money in cash, or bills, or promissory notes, or securities for money, or jewellery, bullion, plate, clocks, watches, trinkets, rings, marbles, lace, furs, writings, prints, paintings, or other valuables, nor for damage done to china, glass, wearing apparel, musical instruments, furniture, toys, or any hazardous or brittle articles in packages or otherwise, unless the same be insured according to their value, and paid for at the time of delivery; nor for the loss or damage of any goods put into returned packages; nor for any goods left until called for or to order, or left or warehoused for the convenience of the parties to whom they are consigned; nor for the loss or damage of any packages insufficiently or improperly packed, marked, directed, or described, or containing a variety of articles liable by breaking to damage each other; nor for leakage.

The Victorian Railway Department will not be answerable for the loss or damage of any goods, while in their warehouses or sheds, arising from fire, civil commotion, tempest, or act of God. Notice is hereby given that the Victorian Railway Department will not carry aquafortis, oil of vitriol, gunpowder, lucifer and congrave matches, or other goods of a dangerous quality, unless by special agreement; and any person sending the same without giving written notice to the Victorian Railway Department is liable by Act of Parliament to a penalty of £20, which will be strictly enforced. No claim for loss or damage will be allowed unless made immediately after delivery of the goods.

All goods, from whomsoever received, or to whomsoever belonging, for the purpose of being carried, will be considered as subject to a general lien, and held for money due for the carriage of such goods, and also for the general balance owing by the owners or public carriers of such goods to the Victorian Railway Department. If in twenty-one days after notice has been given that such goods are detained for the above purposes, the money due be not paid, they will be sold by auction, excepting perishable articles, which will be disposed of forthwith, to defray expenses thereon. Dogs will be conveyed and charged for, but they will not be allowed to accompany passengers in the carriages. Smoking is strictly prohibited except in the smoking carriage.

The Common Seal of the Board of Land and Works was attached hereto in the presence of the undersigned two members of the Board, on the 3rd day of November 1879.

TAKE notice that on the 5th day of April 1879 an order was made in the Chancery division of the High Court of Justice in England in a certain action of Benjamin Cort Ogden and others, plaintiffs, and the Stamford, Spalding, and Boston Banking Company and others, defendants, 1878 O. No. 61, whereby it was ordered that an inquiry be made who were the persons interested in the hereditaments in the plaintiffs' statement of claim in that action mentioned, and in what shares and proportions and for what estates and interests, and whether they were parties to the said action; and if it should be certified that all the persons interested in the said hereditaments were parties to the said actions, and that the plaintiffs were interested to the extent of one moiety or upwards in the said hereditaments, it was ordered that the said hereditaments should be sold with the approbation of the judge, and that the money to arise from such sale to be paid into court to the credit of "Ogden v. The Stamford, Spalding, and Boston Banking Company, 1878 O. No. 61, proceeds of sale of real estate devised by the will of Augustin Pridmore deceased to Ann Geeson for life, with remainder to her children." But if it should appear that any of the persons interested were not parties to the said action, then it was ordered that any of the parties interested collectively or individually to the extent of one moiety or upwards in the said hereditaments were to be at liberty, when it should have been certified that the persons who ought to be served with notice of the said judgment had been so served, to apply to the judge, at chambers, for a sale of the said hereditaments. And also take notice that on the same day another order was made in the same division of the said court in a certain other action of Benjamin Cort Ogden and others, plaintiffs, and the Stamford, Spalding, and Boston Banking Company and others, defendants, 1878 O. No. 62, whereby it was ordered that an inquiry be made who were the persons interested in the hereditaments in the statement of claim in that action mentioned, and in what shares and proportions, and for what estates and interests, and whether they were parties to the said action; and if it should be certified that all the persons interested in the said hereditaments were parties to the said action, and that the plaintiffs were interested to the extent of one moiety or upwards in the hereditaments, it was ordered that the said hereditaments should be sold with the approbation of the judge, and that the money to arise from such sale be paid into court to the credit of "Ogden v. The Stamford, Spalding, and Boston Banking Company, 1878 O. No. 62, proceeds of sale of messuages and land in the parish of Spalding, devised by the will of Augustin Pridmore deceased." But if it should appear that any of the persons interested were not parties to the said action, then it was ordered that any of the persons interested collectively or individually to the extent of one moiety or upwards in the said hereditaments should be at liberty, when it should have been certified that the persons who ought to be served with notice of the said judgment had been so served, to apply to the judge, at chambers, for a sale of the said hereditaments.

And also take notice that by an order of the same division dated the 6th day of August 1879 it was ordered that service of the said orders, both dated the 5th day of April 1879, by inserting this notice thereof three times in the "Victoria Gazette" and three times in the "Melbourne Argus" newspapers, should be deemed good service upon you of the said orders.
