Sir,

I have the honour to transmit to you, for publication in the colony under your Government, a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, extending the provisions of the Foreign Deserters Act 1852 to the United States of Mexico.

I have, &c.,

The Officer Administering the Government of Victoria.

At the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of May, 1889.

Present:

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty.
Lord President
Lord Ashbourne.
Earl of Coventry

WHEREAS by the Foreign Deserters Act 1852 it is provided that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that due facilities are or will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British Merchant Ships in the territories of any foreign power, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council stating that such facilities are or will be given, declare that Seamen, not being slaves, who desert from Merchant Ships belonging to a subject of such power, when within Her Majesty's dominions, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships, and may limit the operation of such Order; and may render the operation thereof, subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deemed expedient.

SCHOOL FOR MODERN ORIENTAL STUDIES, ESTABLISHED BY THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

THE following letter and its enclosure are published for general information.

By His Excellency's command,

D. GILLIES,
Premier.

Premier's Office,
Melbourne, 14th August, 1889.

Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the Colonies, and India.
Offices, 1 Adam-st., Adelphi,
London, W.C., 5th July, 1889.

Sir,

I have the honour, by direction of His Royal Highness the President, to call your attention to a School of Modern Oriental Studies, which has been established by the Imperial Institute in union with University College and King's College, London, and to request that your Excellency will have the goodness to use your influence in bringing it under notice of those who are likely to have cause to proceed from your colony to England with the intention of pursuing studies of the nature included within the scope of this school.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your Excellency's obedient servant,
F. A. ABEL.

Organizing Secretary.

His Excellency the Governor of Victoria, Melbourne.

SCHOOL FOR MODERN ORIENTAL STUDIES, ESTABLISHED BY THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM, THE COLONIES, AND INDIA, IN UNION WITH UNIVERSITY COLLEGE AND KING'S COLLEGE, LONDON.

THE commercial and official classes in the United Kingdom, whose pursuits entail either temporary residence in, or visits to oriental countries and communication or correspondence with the natives of those countries have long experienced the want of facilities which might be afforded by a sufficiently comprehensive public institution, where a practical and colloquial acquaintance with the more important modern oriental languages might be acquired.

In France, Germany, and Austria-Hungary, there exist institutions of magnitude and importance, for affording instruction in the spoken and written oriental dialects and in matters relating to the history, commerce and political economy of the countries in which those languages are spoken.

In France, the School of Living Oriental Languages, which was founded nearly 100 years ago, receives from the State the free use of a large building and a grant of over £6,000 per annum; gratuitous instruction is there given in the chief modern oriental languages, and a commercial section has recently been added to it by the Minister of Public Instruction.

The Imperial Oriental Academy of Vienna has long been of world-wide celebrity and has greatly contributed to the extension of commerce in Austria-Hungary, whilst in Berlin, the Imperial German School of Living Oriental Languages, established a year ago upon a very important footing, has already received considerable development. This school is supported by an annual subvention of £3,600, and the tuition there is entirely gratuitous.

Although the scope of action of the Imperial Institute, as defined by its charter, does not embrace the exercise of actual educational functions, its governing body has considered that the creation and development of an organization for providing in the United Kingdom, the important aid to the official and commercial sections of the community which is furnished to continental nations by such establishments as above named, might prove a work of considerable utility.

There have existed at University College and at King's College, since their foundation, professorships of certain oriental languages; the Indian School of University College on the one hand, and the Oriental section of King's College on the other, have accomplished useful work in the preparation of candidates for the Indian Civil Service and other Government departments, by affording facilities for the study of some of the eastern languages.

The Committee of the Institute, having met with cordial response from the councils of the two colleges, to a proposal to consolidate the work of this nature now being performed there, and to bring it into harmonious working with a scheme for affording practical instruction in other important oriental languages, now desire to direct attention to the results of a careful consideration of the whole subject by a special committee, appointed by them for that purpose, which includes representatives of the Councils of University and King's Colleges, and of which the following are the members:—

Sir Frederick Abel, C.B., D.C.L., D.Sc., F.R.S. (Chairman).

Col. Sir Edward Bradford, K.C.S.I.

Sir Francis Dillon Bell, K.C.M.G., C.B.

Col. Sir Charles Wilson, R.E., K.C.B., K.C.M.G.

Sir Thomas Wade, G.C.M.G., K.C.B.

Maj.-Gen. Sir Frederic Goldsmid, K.C.S.I., C.B.

Sir Philip Alcock, K.C.S.I., C.B.

Major C. M. Watson, R.E., G.C.M.G.

Sir George Young, Bart., LL.D. } Nominated by the Council

Professor Henry Morley, LL.D. } of University College.

The Rev. Henry Wace, D.D. } Nominated by the Council

Professor R. K. Douglas. } of King's College.

Arrangements have been completed by this committee and approved of by the governing bodies of the Imperial Institute, and of the two colleges, for the organization of a school in London, designed both for giving instruction in modern oriental languages; and also for the pursuit of studies relating to the history, literature, commercial and physical geography, political economy, and the natural and industrial resources of the countries and districts in which the various languages are used.

It is in contemplation to arrange for the delivery of special lectures or courses of lectures from time to time, in connection with the school, by experts or specialists, in any of the foregoing subjects.

This school will be carried on under the immediate direction of the committee above specified.

The classes which the "School of Modern Oriental Studies" comprises, are divided under two heads:—

Division I. includes classes for all oriental languages especially required by students qualifying for examinations for the Indian Civil Service, the instruction being of the same character as that provided for some time past at University College and at King's College.

These classes will, from the commencement of the Autumn Term of 1889, be continued at University College, and will be conducted under regulations common to the other classes which combine with them to constitute the general school.

This division includes instruction in Sanscrit, Bengali, Hindi, Hindustani, Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi, Pali, Marathi, Gujarati, Arabic, and Persian.

Division II. consists mainly of classes for modern oriental languages other than the Indian languages.

The courses of tuition will be of a practical rather than of an academic character; they will have particular reference to commercial and official requirements, and to the facilitation of colloquial intercourse with natives of oriental countries.

It is in contemplation, so soon as the number of students warrants the expenditure, to secure the services of native readers and teachers of conversation in connection with the classes of this division.

The languages to be taught in Division II. comprise Colloquial Arabic, Modern Greek, Colloquial Persian, Russian, Turkish, Chinese, Burmese, Japanese, Malay, and Swahili.

The classes under this division will be conducted at King's College, where arrangements will also be made for the establishment of evening classes.

The names of instructors, and the places where various classes will be held, are given below.

There will be three terms, of about ten weeks, in each year, as follows:—

Autumn Term—commencing about the beginning of October.

Spring Term—commencing about the middle of January.

Summer Term—commencing early in May.

The school will open with the autumn term of 1889.

A fee of three guineas per term will have to be paid, in advance, by each student for each language taken up for instruction. This payment will entitle the student to the use, within the colleges, of text-books, dictionaries, and works of reference required in connection with the particular language taught, and to the use of all the facilities which it is proposed to secure in the development of the school.

Accommodation will be provided to enable students to pursue their studies at hours when the classes are not held.

The libraries of both colleges will be open to students in any of the classes of the school, during the usual hours of study.

Intending students should communicate with the organizing secretary, at the offices of the Imperial Institute, 1 Adam's Street, Adelphi, London, W.C., where the registration of students will take place, and where all information regarding the school will be supplied.

June, 1889. Secretary of the Imperial Institute.

The total gain to the population was thus 7,284, viz., 3,367 males and 3,917 females, as shown in the table.

The estimated increase of population during the first six months of 1889 has been 13,419, viz., 6,349 males and 7,070 females.

The total allowance for unrecorded departures since the census of 1881 was taken has been 44,337, viz., 35,290 males and 9,047 females. Had no such allowance been made, the apparent population at the end of June would have been 1,148,625, viz., 622,972 males and 525,653 females.

The total excess of recorded arrivals over recorded departures during the quarter under review was 4,347, the greatest gain to the population being from the United Kingdom (1,902), the next from Tasmania (1,469), then from New Zealand (610), New South Wales (480), and South Australia (153). On the other hand, there was a loss of 267 by excess of departures for over arrivals from foreign countries. All the arrivals and departures referred to are by sea.

The population of New South Wales is estimated by the Government Statistician of that colony to have numbered 1,105,020 on the 30th June 1889, or 732 more than the estimate for Victoria.

"THE NEGLECTED CHILDREN'S ACT 1887."—REGULATIONS.

At the Executive Council Chamber, Melbourne, the twelfth day of August 1889.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Administrator of the Government.

Mr. Gillies
Mr. Wrixon

Dr. Pearson
Sir James Lorimer.

WHEREAS by "The Neglected Children's Act 1887" it is amongst other things enacted that the Governor in Council may from time to time, by order to be published in the Government Gazette, make, alter, and repeal regulations for the purposes set forth in sec. 89 of the said Act. Now, therefore, the Administrator of the Government in Council doth, by this present order make the following regulations:—

REGULATIONS.

1. All regulations of the Governor in Council heretofore made pursuant to the provisions of "The Neglected Children's Act 1887" shall be and the same are hereby repealed, provided that all acts, matters, and things done under such repealed regulations shall not be affected by such repeal.

PART I.

ORDERS OF COMMITTAL.

2. Every order committing a child to the care of the Department for Neglected Children, or to a reformatory school, under the provisions of "The Neglected Children's Act 1887," shall be in such of the forms as are contained in the first schedule to these regulations, or to the like effect, as may be applicable to such committal, and such forms shall be substituted respectively for the corresponding forms contained in the schedule to the said Act.

3. Every order committing a child to the care of a private person or institution under the provisions of Part VIII. of "The Neglected Children's Act 1887" shall be in the form contained in the second schedule to these regulations, or to the like effect.

4. Every such order as aforesaid shall have appended thereto, in the form contained in the third schedule to these regulations, so much information concerning the child committed by such order upon the matters therein mentioned as it may be possible to obtain.

PART II.

RECEIVING DEPÔTS.

5. Every receiving depôt shall be placed in the charge of a superintendent or of a matron. Such superintendent or matron, as the case may be, shall be appointed by the Governor in Council, and every such appointment shall be published in the Government Gazette.

6. When any child is apprehended by any constable or person authorized by the Governor in Council, without warrant, under circumstances which make such child a neglected child under the provisions of the said Act, in such case, until the charge of such child being a neglected child shall have been heard and disposed of by some two or more justices, as required by the said Act, such constable or person shall, when practicable or expedient, place such child in one of the receiving depôts situate in the Royal Park, near Melbourne. But if it be not practicable nor expedient, having regard to the condition, state of health, or welfare of such child, to place such child in one of such depôts pending the disposal of such charge as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such constable or person to place such child with some respectable private person or persons, and to make such arrangements or agreements as may be deemed necessary or proper by such constable or person for the care and maintenance of such child by such private person or persons, or for such constable, being married, to place such child in his own dwelling, under the care and supervision of himself and his wife, and to provide for its care and maintenance at a reasonable charge.

7. When any child has been apprehended and placed in a receiving depôt pending the hearing and disposal of the charge of such child being a neglected child as provided by the 6th regulation, and it should become apparent at any time to the superintendent or matron of such depôt that such child is grossly immoral or depraved and that it would be desirable in the opinion of such superintendent or matron to isolate such child from all other children in such depôt, but that the means to make such isolation effectually are insufficient therein, it shall be lawful for such superintendent or matron to cause such child to be placed in the nearest reformatory school occupied by and used for children of the same sex, pending the hearing and disposal of such charge as aforesaid.

8. Every child committed or transferred to the care of the Department for Neglected Children shall, in the absence of any directions to the contrary from the department, be taken to the nearest receiving depôt occupied by and used for children of the same sex, and it shall be the duty of the superintendent or matron in charge of such depôt to receive and detain such child until the manner of his or her disposal shall have been determined by the Secretary.

PART III.

RECEIVING DEPÔTS.—PROBATIONARY SCHOOLS AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

10. The officer in charge of any industrial or probationary school shall classify the children committed to his care as he may think fit, provided that in any classification due regard be had to the conduct, age, and moral and physical characteristics of such children. Every child committed to the care of such officer shall be classified as aforesaid upon his admission. This regulation shall not apply to receiving depôts.

11. The officer in charge of every school shall prepare a time-table for the working of such school, and shall be responsible for its due observance. Four hours in each day of the week, except Saturday and Sunday, shall be set apart for secular instruction of the same kind as is imparted in the State schools, subject to the provisions of "The Education Act 1872." This regulation shall not apply to receiving depôts.

Absence of officers.

12. The officer in charge of any school or depôt is required to keep a diary, in which shall be entered a short statement of every unusual event of the day connected with such school, and of the number of children therein.

Absence of senior officers.

13. Except as hereinafter provided, no officer in charge of any school or depôt shall be absent therefrom for more than twenty-four hours at any one time, nor shall grant leave of absence to any officer, attendant, or instructor, for more than that period, provided that on Sundays and public holidays the officer in charge may make such arrangements as he may think fit for the absence on those days of himself, or of any officer, instructor, or attendant, as the requirements of the school under his control may permit. Leave of absence for a longer period than 24 hours must be applied for in the manner indicated by the Public Service Regulations. Leave of absence may be granted to instructors and attendants for a period of 21 days during the year, at such times as may be convenient to the service.

14. The officer in charge and the next in command of any depôt or school shall not be both absent at the same time, except when urgent public duty renders such absence necessary. If at any time the absence of such officers shall be rendered necessary by public duty, the fact and time of such absence, and the reasons therefor, shall be stated in the diary aforesaid.

Officers' and Servants' Duties, Etc.

Lawful orders to be obeyed.

15. Every officer and servant in any receiving depôt or school shall promptly obey every lawful order given to him or her by his or her superior officer. If at any time any officer or servant shall feel aggrieved in consequence of any such order, then he or she may make complaint by letter, through the officer in charge, to the head of the department, provided that no complaint shall be entertained unless made as aforesaid within one week of the occurrence forming the ground thereof.

Suspension and dismissal.

16. It shall be lawful for the officer in charge of any receiving depôt or school to suspend any officer or servant when guilty, in the opinion of such officer in charge, of neglect of duty or of gross misconduct, but such case shall be at once reported to the permanent head of the department in the usual course.

Medical attendance.

17. Resident officers, servants, and attendants in any receiving depôt or school shall, in case of sickness, be provided with personal medical attendance and medicines. If any such officer, servant, or attendant should decline the services of the medical officer of the depôt or school, or obtain that of any other medical practitioner during an illness except in consultation with such medical officer, no further claim can be made on that occasion to the services of such medical officer. All questions as to the incapacity through sickness of any officer, servant, or attendant to perform duty shall be decided by the medical officer, and no leave of absence or exemption from duty on account of sickness shall be given to any such officer, servant, or attendant unless the recommendation in writing of such medical officer in that behalf shall have been previously obtained.

Families of employés.

18. With the permission of the Minister, the families of persons employed in any school may reside on the premises of such school for such time and subject to such conditions as the Minister may think fit.

Admission, Licensing, Transfer, and Discharging of Children.

Children's statement on admission.

19. Upon the admission of any child committed to the care of the department, under the provisions of "The Neglected Children's Act 1887," to any receiving depôt or school, the officer in charge of such depôt or school shall forthwith endeavour to elicit from such child full particulars as to his parents and all other relatives, schooling, religious training, occupations, and past career generally, and whether such child has previously been an inmate of any industrial school or reformatory or a ward of the department, and the statement of such child shall be taken down in writing and press-copied in a book to be kept for the purpose, and such statement shall be attached to the order by which such child was committed as aforesaid to the care of the department.

return.

20. All orders received by the officers in charge of any receiving depôt or school, by which children have been committed to the care of the department, under "The Neglected Children's Act 1887" shall be sent to the secretary's office not later than the day next after the receipt thereof, and a return giving full particulars of all children admitted to or discharged from such depôt or school during the same week, shall be sent to the secretary's office on Monday of the next ensuing week. The fact of a child having been previously an inmate of any industrial school or reformatory, or committed to the care of the department, shall be specially recorded in such return. Whenever the date of the birthday of any child committed under any such order as aforesaid becomes material for any purpose, and if such date have been omitted from such order, or cannot be inferred therefrom, such birthday shall be assumed to be, except in the case of infants in arms, the first day of July, and such date shall be adopted in all calculations as to age, except when the correct date of such birthday has been obtained.

21. Every child committed to the care of the department, as aforesaid, shall be examined by the medical officer of the receiving depôt or school to which he has been sent, as soon as possible after his admission, and such child shall be again examined by such medical officer immediately prior to his discharge from such depôt or school, and the state of the health of such child as the result of such examinations shall be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose. Children committed as neglected to be examined by medical officer.

22. Any ward of the department who has been placed at service shall be received temporarily into a receiving depôt or school upon leaving his or her situation, and any child who has ceased to be a ward may be similarly received at the discretion of the officer in charge. Re-admissions.

23. Every ward placed at service shall, upon leaving the depôt or school where he or she has been placed or detained, be made acquainted with the terms upon which he or she is being placed at service, and such ward shall be warned that in the event of his or her being sent back to such school for misconduct, he or she will be liable to be punished and kept to hard work; and such ward should also be made to understand that only one outfit will be provided for him or her, unless from sickness, accidental destruction, or any other special cause the superintendent should think fit to authorize a special issue, and also that any deficiency in his or her kit will, on his or her again leaving for service, be made good from any wages or other moneys of such ward put to his or her credit in the books of the department. Children to know the terms of licensing.

24. Whenever any ward of the department shall return to any depôt or school from service, the officer in charge shall ascertain the clothing or kit that he or she will require on again leaving for service, and the probable cost thereof; and the money to the credit of such ward in the books of the department shall, so far as is necessary, be made available for the purchase of such requisite clothing or kit, unless the officer in charge direct a further issue from store. An account of the money so expended must be shown to such ward. Revision of kit.

25. When any ward of the department shall be boarded out, placed at service, or in the custody of any person, or transferred to any reformatory school, such ward shall, in any of such cases, be rationed for the day of his or her leaving, and shall take with him or her so much of such rations as can be provided ready for consumption, unless, under special circumstances, it is considered unnecessary to do so. Rations on discharge.

26. The officer in charge of every school shall keep a book, to be called the "After Career Book," in which he shall make a record of the letters to and from the wards of the department who have left the school, together with all events of interest which may come to the knowledge of such officer concerning them, in order to provide material upon which to base information as to the results achieved by the system adopted. Children's after-career book.

Religious Instruction, Education, and Industrial Training.

27. All officers in charge of depôts or schools, and all teachers employed therein, are required specially to direct their attention to the moral and religious instruction of the children in their charge, and at all times carefully to check impropriety of speech or manner in them, and to teach them their duty to God and man, and to perform such duty from right motives, without regard to consequences. No effort should be spared to impress upon them the necessity of being honest and truthful. The strictest propriety of expression and manner is insisted upon and must be observed by all officers and servants in their intercourse with the children and each other. Moral training.

28. Religious instruction shall be given in all depôts and schools under the denominations—Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Jewish—and under no other denomination. Every child in any depôt or school shall be taught the religious creed of that one of the denominations aforesaid to which in the particulars attached to the order committing such child to the care of the department he is stated to belong. In any case where it may be subsequently ascertained that the child belongs to one other of the said religious denominations than that stated in the particulars aforesaid, the school records shall be altered accordingly, and evidence upon which such correction shall have been made shall be reduced to writing and attached to the said order of committal. To prevent any child suffering injustice in the matter of his religious training, the officer in charge shall, when it is alleged that any such child as aforesaid belongs to one other of the said religious denominations than that recorded in the particulars aforesaid, institute an inquiry to ascertain and determine the facts of such case. Every such alteration in the school records of a child's religion as aforesaid shall be reported for the information of the Minister. Religious instruction.

When practicable, the children in any school or depôt who belong to each of the said religious denominations shall be taken on Sundays to their respective places of worship. If it be not practicable so to do, religious instruction shall be given in the depôt or school separately to the children of each of the said denominations.

29. All persons entitled to admission to any depôt or school under the provisions of Part VI. of "The Neglected Children's Act 1887" shall have access to the schools and depôts and the children of their own denomination every Sunday at such hours and on such other days and hours as may be set apart for the purpose of religious instruction in the school time-table, and in the case of receiving depôts as may from time to time be fixed for the purpose. Access to depôts and schools by ministers of religion and others.

Religious observances.

30. Religious instruction must be imparted to the children in every depôt and school for at least half-an-hour daily. Officers sent in charge of children to a place of worship shall remain with them and not leave them until their return to the depôt or school.

Books for use of children to be approved.

31. No books shall be used by or for the children in any depôt or school until approved by the officer in charge. All tracts, books, and publications whatsoever which visitors may be desirous of distributing or giving to the children, or any of them, shall be left previously with the said officer.

Education of female wards.

32. Female wards in receiving depôts and schools who are twelve years of age and upwards shall be taught all the duties of domestic servants and seamstresses, and, as far as practicable, the use of the sewing-machine. No female ward is to be kept exclusively to one occupation.

Rewards and Punishment.

Discipline.

33. The officer in charge of any receiving depôt or school may punish, or cause to be punished, any child guilty of misconduct, and in a school the head teacher may inflict corporal punishment to the extent of six (6) strokes with a cane. All complaints and punishments whatever shall be carefully recorded and entered in the books prescribed by the Secretary for that purpose, and such books shall be laid before the members of the committee when visiting, and shall be produced to the inspector whenever he visits. The discipline of the school shall be maintained, not only by punishment, but by a well considered system of rewards and encouragements.

Corporal punishment.

34. Corporal punishment shall be administered as seldom as possible, and shall be only resorted to when absolutely necessary for discipline, and not for first offences, unless of a grave nature. Such corporal punishment shall be inflicted not otherwise than with a cane or leather strap, on the breech, back, or hand, and shall not exceed twelve strokes at a time. But should any male ward be guilty of an offence of an exceptionally grave character, he shall be liable to receive a whipping for such offence on the bare breech with a birch rod to the extent of fifteen (15) strokes. No corporal punishment shall be inflicted personally by the officer in charge.

Punishment by confinement in a cell.

35. In any case of misconduct by any ward of the department placed or detained in any receiving depôt or school, the officer in charge of such depôt or school may, if he should deem it necessary or expedient, order such ward to be confined in a light cell as a punishment, provided that the period of confinement at any one time shall not exceed forty-eight (48) hours, and may during such confinement in his discretion allow such ward no other food than bread and water. Should a continuance of such punishment be deemed necessary, it shall only be resorted to after a period of twenty-four (24) hours, during which period the offender shall have received full rations, and shall also have had at least six (6) hours' work or exercise in the open air.

Isolation.

36. When any ward of the department in any receiving depôt or school has been guilty of any grave moral or other offence, which, in the opinion of the officer in charge, renders necessary or expedient, the isolation and separation of such ward from all other wards in such depôt or school, a light cell may be used for the purpose of such isolation and separation, and full particulars of the offence and the time of such isolation shall be recorded in the punishment books.

Health of child under punishment.

37. In all cases in which corporal punishment is ordered to be inflicted under these regulations, care must be taken that the health of the child to be so punished will not suffer by its infliction. And no punishment of more than nine (9) strokes shall be ordered without ascertaining from the medical officer that the infliction of such punishment will not be prejudicial to the health of such child.

Absconding.

Absconders.

38. In the event of any ward of the department having absconded, information must be at once given to the local police, and every effort made to secure the return of such ward to the school or receiving depôt whence such ward has absconded, and notification of the return of such absconder must also be promptly forwarded to the police.

Visiting; Children's Letters, Money, Etc.

Visitors to schools and receiving depôts.

39. All persons entitled to visit or to be admitted to the receiving depôts and schools under the provisions of Part VI. of "The Neglected Children's Act 1887" may be admitted on any day, and shall be afforded by the officer in charge or his representative any reasonable information they may desire with reference to the system and management, and also with reference to any teacher, officer, or servant, and their duties and their performance thereof, and to any person placed or detained therein. A book must be kept by the officer in charge in which such visitors shall be afforded an opportunity to enter their names and addresses, with any observations relative to the above matters or any of them which they may desire to make. Copies of such observations shall be forwarded monthly to the secretary for transmission to the head of the department.

Visits of relatives and friends.

40. The relatives and friends of any ward of the department placed or detained in any depôt or school may visit such ward, with the permission and at the discretion of the officer in charge of any such depôt or school. The names and addresses of all relatives and friends so visiting or seeking to visit as aforesaid shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose, and in case permission to visit any such ward shall be refused by the said officer to any friend or relative of such ward, such refusal, and the reason therefor, shall also be recorded in the said book.

August 16, 1889.

41. Every ward of the department placed or detained in any receiving depôt or school may be permitted to write once a month to any of his or her relatives or friends. All such letters and the replies thereto, and all correspondence between such wards and their friends or relatives, shall be perused, and if approved, initialed by the examining officer. Any such letter or correspondence, or any portion thereof, shall be retained or obliterated by the officer in charge if the contents appear in his judgment to be objectionable. Children's letters.

42. His duty will be to visit such children not less than once in every three (3) months, and to attend to them in illness or in case of accidents, either at the residences of the foster parents, or at his own residence or surgery, as may be necessary, and to supply all medicines and medical appliances which may in such cases be actually necessary. It shall be the duty of such medical officer to report to the committee any deficiency of accommodation, any defects in the sanitary conditions or surroundings of the residences of the foster parents, insufficient supply of food or clothing to, or absence of cleanliness of the foster children; and generally any ill-treatment to them, or any cause of complaint touching all or any of such matters or anything incidental thereto that may come under his notice.

107. An allowance for such medical attendance and supervision as aforesaid shall be paid by the State at the rate of £1 (one pound) per annum for a foster home containing one child; thirty shilling (30s.) per annum for foster homes containing two (2) children; and forty shillings (40s.) per annum for foster homes containing three (3) or more children. 110.
