The term "Special Establishments" refers to any group of persons (other than a Private Family)—as a rule unrelated, but sometimes embracing whole families—living together in the same dwelling for the sake of convenience, comfort, or expediency. A person living by himself is regarded as a Family.

* Persons living together, but not of the same family, such as Mates in their work, Barracks (either Police or Military), and Firemen's Quarters, are included in this line.
