COUNCIL OF LEGAL EDUCATION.

CONSOLIDATED RULES RELATING TO THE QUALIFICATION OF CANDIDATES TO PRACTISE AS, AND FOR AND REGULATING
THE ADMISSION OF, BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS

AND

TEMPORARY RULE RELATING TO THE QUALIFICATION TO PRACTISE AS BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS.

TEMPORARY RULE.

The Nineteenth day of April, 1915.

WHEREAS it is desirable to remove hindrance to candidates joining the Naval or Military Forces of the Crown in the present war; and whereas the University of Melbourne has made provision whereby special examinations may be held in the case of candidates for degrees leaving Victoria with the Expeditionary Forces.

Now therefore in pursuance of the authority conferred by the Legal Practitioners Reciprocity Act 1903 the Council of Legal Education hereby makes the following Rule relating to the qualification of candidates to practice as barristers and solicitors, that is to say:—

Where any candidate has left Victoria for service with the Naval or Military Forces of the Crown in the present war and has passed any of the subjects of his course at a special examination of the University of Melbourne, he shall receive credit for the subjects so passed as if they had been passed at an annual or supplementary Examination.

On behalf of the Council of Legal Education—

(Signed) JOHN MADDEN, President.

(Signed) ARTHUR ROBINSON, Hon. Secretary.

CONSOLIDATED RULES.

Explanatory Notes.

The following are the existing Rules of the Council:—

1905	..	..	16th February. 13th April. 22nd June. 28th November.
1906	..	..	12th February.
1907	..	..	26th April.
1913	..	..	26th March. 1st May. 4th September. 15th December.

The powers of the Council as to Rules are contained in section 7 of Act No. 1887, and as they appear to be limited to three classes of cases an attempt has been made to frame this Consolidation in such a shape as to enable any member of a class to ascertain without difficulty all the requirements applicable to his particular case.

It has been found impracticable to group all such requirements under each class Division—because many of them are common to several classes and such grouping would cause much repetition.

The three classes above referred to are—

1. Practitioners in the Supreme Court of any State of the Commonwealth in which there exists a reciprocal right as to Victorian barristers and solicitors. Cf. No. 1887, sections 2 and 7 (2.)
2. Candidates, ib. 7 (3).
3. British practitioners, ib. 7 (4).

As to Class 1.—It will be observed that certain of the existing Rules refer to persons not previously admitted “in some other part of His Majesty’s Dominions” or to persons not previously admitted “elsewhere.” As these expressions seem to go beyond the legislative powers of the Council (see supra) they have been omitted in this Consolidation.

No. 1887 r. 7 (3).

As to Class 2.—“Candidates” is not defined in Act No. 1887, but in Consolidating it has been assumed that this expression is meant to include all persons applying other than Commonwealth or British practitioners or New Zealand practitioners qualifying under section 4, No. 2437.

As to the last-mentioned practitioners, no “alteration” in or “amendment” of the existing law is contemplated, and accordingly these practitioners are not included in the Consolidation.

As to Class 3.—Certain of the existing Rules tabulate the various practitioners entitled to apply (e.g., r. 13, 16th February, 1905); but as No. 1887, section 7 (4) is so general in its terms such tabulation has not been adopted in this Consolidation, and the terms of the section have been strictly followed.

Though the collocation and verbiage of certain existing Rules have been in many cases altered it is believed that (with the exceptions hereafter noted) the whole of the existing Rules are embodied in this Consolidation; and the rights of all persons under existing Rules have been carefully preserved.

It was thought advisable to give to managing clerks who at a December examination pass in two or more subjects and fail in one the like privilege in respect of the next supplementary examination as is given to certain other candidates; and accordingly this has been done. Cf. r. 14. Sept. 1913 r. 6.

In accordance with the wishes of the Law Institute in order to enable inquiries to be made as to the antecedents of intending Commonwealth and British applicants, provision has been made that such applicants shall give the Secretary of the Institute one month's notice of application. Cf. r. 35. A similar notice was required by section 3, No. 2437, in the case of managing clerks.

Certain of the existing Rules which purported to deal with the Board of Examiners have been omitted because there appears to be no power in the Council to legislate concerning the Board.

The following existing Rules in this Consolidation have been dealt with as under—

16th February, 1905, Part I., R. 1.—Has been omitted because it seems to be ultra vires the Council. No. 1887, section 7 (3) is the enabling section; and by virtue of that section and not of any rule of the Council Statutes and Rules of Court are to be deemed to be altered or amended by Council Rules. It is submitted that the Court and not the Council is to determine whether or not Council Rules "alter or amend" qualifications of candidates required by any Statute or Rule of Court.

R. 2.—No. 1216, section 11, provides for this; and this Rule does not "alter or amend" that section. However, this Rule 2 has been incorporated in Rule 4 of the Consolidated Rules because though perhaps inoperative its incorporation may be helpful to an intending candidate.

R. 3.—Has been modified by Consolidated Rule 5, as this Rule 3 seems ultra vires the Council which it is submitted cannot legislate concerning "some other part of His Majesty's Dominions"—the Council's powers being limited by section 7, No. 1887.

R. 5.—The words "and passed at a public examination in Latin" have been inserted in Consolidated Rules 5 (2) and 7. This imposes no new burden, and is necessary because candidates for the LL.B. degree, under new regulations of the University, are not required to pass in Latin at a public examination before beginning the course; they are required to pass in Latin at an annual examination before beginning the law work of the third year.

It.—It is not apparent why the last paragraph of (b) should have been retained when the amendments of 1st May, 1913, Rule 1 (a) and 15th December, 1913, were enacted; for this Rule 5 is really embodied in those amendments.

R. 6 (as amended by Rules, 1st May, 1913, R. 2 (5)).—This has not been expressly included, but has been incorporated in Consolidated Rule 33, which otherwise is based on Rule of 16th February, 1905, Rule 3 as amended by Rule of 28th November, 1905, Rule 6.

R. 8.—This is embodied with an amendment in Rule 17. The existing Rule allows candidates the alternative of the final examination or the University examinations. A single candidate could now call for a final examination, which would cost £50. If he failed, he could call for another, but not within four years. In these circumstances, it is considered that the final examination may well be dropped altogether. So far as is known, there are no candidates preparing for it.

R. 9, 1—R. 9, 2, 1, are embodied in Rules 6 and 7 of the Consolidation.

R. 9, 2, 2.—This is embodied with an amendment in Rule 18. The existing Rule provides for a fourth year of articles in lieu of the final examination and provides that the final examination may be passed at the same or different examinations. The new Rule does not purport to abolish the final examination, but by repealing the indulgence whereby the six subjects required might be passed at the same or different examinations is intended to induce candidates to accept the other alternative, viz., the fourth year of Articles.

Part 11., R. 2.—Has been omitted as ultra vires the Council.

R. 5.—The like.

26th April, 1907.—The like.

1st May, 1913, R. 5.—Appears to have been enacted in similar terms on 26th March, 1913, and is now comprised in Rule 31.

The heading to the following rules appears to be in accord with section 7, No. 1887. The heading of the Rules of 16th February, 1905, is "for the admission" whereas these Rules contain Rules "relating to the qualification" Cf. No. 1887, section 7 (3).
