When the piers between the openings in any wall are less in area than one-third of the area of such wall, if there were no openings, the piers shall be increased in thickness to an extent determined by the surveyor, or the piers built in cement mortar, in which latter case the area of the piers need not exceed one-fourth of such area of the wall. This provision shall not apply to shop fronts or show windows approved by the surveyor.

Specification of Piers.

4. Where piers are specified for any story of a wall that story shall be strengthened by building piers projecting 4½ inches; such piers shall not be spaced further apart than 12 times the thickness of the wall, and in no case more than 12 feet apart, and shall not be less in width than one-fourth of their distance apart.

Height of Story, Domestic Class.

5. In the domestic class of buildings no story shall be of greater height from floor to ceiling or from floor to roof than 14 feet; but the height of a story if built in cement or with projecting piers may be 16 feet. No two stories of nine-inch wall, even if one has piers, shall exceed 30 feet in height, and no three stories of 13½-inch wall, including one with piers, shall exceed 48 feet in height; and no three stories, whatever the thickness, shall exceed 54 feet in height.

Height of Story, Warehouse Class.

6. In the warehouse class of buildings no story shall be of greater height from floor to ceiling or from floor to roof than 12 feet, but the height of a story if built in cement or with projecting piers may be 13 feet 6 inches. No two stories of 9-inch wall, even if one has piers, shall exceed 25 feet in height, and no three stories of 13½-inch wall, including one with piers, shall exceed 42 feet in height, and no three stories of any greater thickness shall exceed 48 feet in height. One story buildings of this class may be constructed of a greater height than herein stipulated provided that the walls are of the thicknesses specified for similar structures in the Public Buildings Class.

Flush Wall.

7. Where it is not desired to have projecting piers the wall may be built flush, if built 4½ inches thicker than specified in Schedule E to this By-law, without altering the rating of the stories below it.

Projecting Piers in Party Walls.

8. In the case of a party wall any projecting piers required by Schedule E to this By-law shall be built on both sides of the wall, or the whole wall shall be built 4½ inches thicker than specified in the tables in the said Schedule E appropriate to the class of building to which it belongs. In either case the wall shall be built central on the wall below.

Cement Mortar Walls.

9. If walls are built of cement mortar instead of lime mortar they may be of thicknesses one grade lower than those set forth in Schedule E to this By-law, provided always that no external or party wall shall be less than nine (9) inches in thickness.

Old Buildings.

10. Where it is desired to alter or raise or increase the size of an old building, if the walls are, in the opinion of the surveyor, sound and well consolidated for the purpose, and are approved by the surveyor, and the new work is to be built in cement mortar, the surveyor shall have power to treat the whole building as if built in cement mortar, and approve of walls of thicknesses one grade lower than those given in Schedule E to this By-law.

Steel Bond when Building Raised.

11. When any building is raised in accordance with the last preceding clause a steel bond shall be built in on top of the old wall, such bond to be three-sixteenths of an inch in thickness and hooked together at all intersections, the width to be equal to one and a half inches for every four and a half inches in thickness of the wall built upon it if so directed by the surveyor.

Public Buildings of Several Stories.

12. In public buildings of several stories the external or surrounding walls shall not be of less thickness than those specified in Table B in Schedule E to this By-law for similar heights and lengths, and where the span of the floor girders or roof girders or trusses exceed 30 feet piers of an extra thickness of four and a half inches shall be provided to the satisfaction of the surveyor.

Public or Assembly Halls.

13. In public or assembly halls, churches, theatres, and like buildings—

Increase in Thickness of Walls or Piers.

- (b) where the length of the wall exceeds 100 feet, or in case there shall be one or more stories built above such hall, theatre, or like building, the thickness of the wall shall be increased four and a half inches, or the wall must be strengthened by piers or buttresses to the satisfaction of the surveyor;

Reduction of Thickness.

- (c) where solid masonry or brick-in-cement buttresses are employed and placed 16 feet or less apart and extended to the foot of the trusses or girders above, or if iron or steel pillars are inserted in the walls in lieu of masonry, and at distances not exceeding 18 feet apart, the thickness may be reduced in proportion to the increase of strength afforded by such buttresses or pillars; but in no case shall any wall be less than thirteen and a half inches thick in the topmost portion and four and a half inches shall be added going downwards for each story or for each gallery or for each 25 feet in height of the wall. Where iron or steel pillars are introduced in such walls the brickwork round the pillar shall be bonded into that of the connecting walls, and each of such pillars shall have not less than 9 inches of brick wall around its extreme dimensions;

Naves and Aisles—Arched Openings—Buttresses.

- (d) in the case of buildings divided into naves and aisles by walls of which the upper portions are external and the lower portions internal and pierced by arched openings carried on piers or columns the thickness of the nave walls shall not be less than that specified in Table C in Schedule E to this By-law for external and surrounding walls of similar heights, lengths, and spans, and the external walls of the aisles shall be of the same thickness unless strengthened by buttresses or piers to the satisfaction of the surveyor, in which case the walls may be four and a half inches less in thickness.

Cement Mortar Walls.

14. Where a wall is built in cement mortar it may be used for a span or height one-fifth greater than shown in Schedule E to this By-law.

Conversion into Public Building.

15. Where it is proposed to convert or alter any building erected for a purpose other than a public purpose into a public building such conversion or alteration shall be carried into effect in such manner as may be approved by the surveyor, and the provisions of this By-law shall apply to the public buildings thereby formed.

External Party and Cross Walls.

16. Except where otherwise provided in this By-law, all external party and cross walls shall be constructed of brick, masonry, or concrete, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this By-law. And no external wall shall have windows or openings within 4 feet of the boundary of land not in the same occupation.

17. Where a cross wall becomes in any part an external wall such cross wall shall be of the thickness required for an external wall of the same height and length and belonging to the same class of building.

Limit of Size of Warehouse Buildings.

18. No building of the warehouse class shall extend to more than four hundred and fifty thousand cubic feet unless divided by party walls in such manner that no division thereof extends to more than four hundred and fifty thousand cubic feet, unless the whole construction thereof is of fireproof material and the thickness of the walls is of extra first rating.

Warehouse Class Additions.

19. No addition shall be made to any building of the warehouse class, or to any division thereof, so that the cubical content of any such building or division shall exceed four hundred and fifty thousand cubic feet, unless the whole construction thereof is of fireproof material and the thickness of the walls is of the extra first rating.

Fireproof Staircases.

20. Buildings of more than two stories to be used as large business emporiums must be provided with sufficient staircases made fireproof to the satisfaction of the surveyor.

PART VI

CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS.

Unless where otherwise sanctioned in this By-law, all buildings and structures shall comply with the following conditions:—

(1) WALLS.

Bonding of Walls.

1. Every external party and cross wall constructed of brick, stone, concrete, or reinforced concrete, or other similar material approved of by the surveyor, shall be properly bonded and solidly put together with mortar. And no external wall shall have windows or openings within 4 feet of the boundary of land not in the same occupation.

Hollow Walls.

2. In the case of walls that are built as hollow walls the same quantity of stone, brick, or concrete shall be used in their construction as is provided in this By-law for solid walls as if they were built solid, as in this By-law provided; and no hollow walls shall be built unless the parts of the same are connected by proper ties, either of brick, stone, or iron, placed not more than three feet apart in every fourth course. No hollow wall shall be greater in superficial extent than two squares in any one story unless strengthened by a cross wall, fireplace, or projecting pier in each such area, and to the satisfaction of the surveyor.

Thickness of Hollow Walls—Ties for Hollow Walls.

3. No hollow wall shall be permitted in the warehouse class above the height of 10 feet unless such walls are strengthened at least four and a half inches in thickness, but the walls of the domestic class may, subject to the approval of the surveyor, be built with hollow walls, consisting on the ground floor of two walls of which each outer wall is at least four and a half inches in thickness, and each inner wall at least eight and a half inches in thickness; or, if built with cement mortar, such inner and outer walls may be four and a half inches thick and from the underside of the first floor to the underside of the wall plate for receiving the roof, may consist of two walls each four and a half inches in thickness, and in buildings of this class not exceeding 15 feet in height hollow walls may be built consisting of two walls, each of which shall not be less than four and a half inches in thickness; provided always that in every case the inner and outer walls shall be securely tied together with proper ties, as previously provided, and that in no case shall the cavity between the two walls exceed two inches, and no hollow walls shall be permitted in buildings of more than two stories or of a greater height than 25 feet, unless with the approval of the referees.

Bonding Hollow Walls.

4. All hollow walls shall be bonded longitudinally by the laying of hoop-iron or other approved reinforcing material, one strand to each half brick in thickness of wall, and at least two tiers for each story. The strands shall be laid for the full length of the wall and turned up and down at ends and openings and interlaced at angles. The cavity separating the inner and outer parts of a hollow wall shall in no case be of a width greater than two and a half inches, nor less than one and a half inches.

Hollow Concrete Blocks.

5. Hollow concrete blocks may be used for the construction of walls of buildings of one story, provided that such walls are not required by these regulations to exceed nine inches in thickness.

The thickness of the concrete at face and back of such blocks shall be not less than two and a half inches with four-inch cavity between, and the thickness of the cross ties shall be not less than two inches for the full height of the block.

Ties shall be spaced not more than 15 inches apart. Blocks requiring to be built up of special sections shall be rebated, dovetailed, or tongued together to the satisfaction of the surveyor.

Concrete blocks shall not be used green, and unless special permission is obtained no block shall be used within 14 days from date of construction. The blocks shall be bedded and jointed in cement mortar.

Joists and beams shall not be let into hollow concrete walls.

Walls on Boundaries—Parapet.

6. Where the external wall of any building is erected on the boundary of the land on which the same stands, or where the overhanging eaves or gutter of such building would be within two feet of such boundary, then the external wall of such building shall be carried up to form a parapet 15 inches at least in height above the roof or above the highest part of any flat or gutter as the case may be.

Thickness of Parapet.

7. In buildings of the warehouse class the thickness of such parapet shall be equal to the thickness of such wall in the topmost story, and in any other building of a thickness of eight and a half inches at the least.

Every party wall shall be carried up for a height of fifteen inches above the roof measured at right angles to the slope thereof, or fifteen inches above the highest part of any flat or gutter as the case may be, and of a thickness (in buildings of the warehouse class) equal to the thickness of such wall in the topmost story, and in any other building of a thickness of eight and a half inches at the least. Except that in the case of domestic buildings, where not more than two buildings are erected under one roof, it shall be sufficient if the party wall is carried up to the underside of the roof covering and of a thickness of eight and a half inches at the least.

Verandahs.

9. No verandah shall approach nearer than three feet to any adjoining property, unless built wholly of fire-resisting material or separated from any adjoining verandah or premises by a wall eight and a half inches at least in thickness and projecting four inches at least beyond the face of the wood-work.

11. Every wall and fireplace constructed of brick, stone, or other similar materials, except reinforced concrete construction, shall have a damp-proof course of asphalt or other impervious material laid throughout its entire length and thickness in a position to be approved by the surveyor, but such damp course may be turned vertically upwards within the thickness of the wall to a higher level on the outside.

Where, owing to a change of level, it is not practicable to lay the same on a level plane throughout the walls of a building, the same may be laid on two or more level planes.

Where a damp-proof course is laid on more than one level plane the ends of the damp-proof courses on each level shall overlap the ends of the damp-proof course on the next level, and each of such layers shall be connected by vertical connexions of the same material.

above the roof, flat, or gutter adjoining thereto than a height equal to six times the least width of such chimney shaft at the level of such highest point in the line of junction unless such chimney shaft is built of increased thickness or otherwise rendered secure to the satisfaction of the surveyor.

Hearth Stones.

13. There shall be laid level with the floor of every story before the opening of every chimney a slab or stone, slate, or other fire-resisting substance at the least six inches longer on each side than the width of such opening and at the least twelve inches wide in front of the breast thereof.

11. The bending moments of all girders shall be computed as being one-eighth part of the product of the total equivalent distributed load and the net span, but where the girders are satisfactorily "fixed" at their ends by reason of continuity or appropriate attachment to columns such calculated bending moments may be reduced by twenty per cent. Beyond this allowance, however, no further reduction of bending moments by reason of continuity of girders will be permitted.
