F. W. MABBOTT,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

Marine Act 1915.

Regulations for the Examination of Engineers for Certificates of Competency.

In pursuance of the powers conferred upon it by the Marine Act 1915, the Marine Board of Victoria, with the consent of His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor of Victoria, acting by and with the advice of the Executive Council thereof, doth hereby make the Regulations following, that is to say:—

1. Short Title.—These Regulations may be cited as “The Regulations for the Examination of Engineers, 1920.”

2. Commencement and Repeal.—These Regulations shall take effect on and from the date of publication hereof in the Government Gazette, from which date all previous Regulations relating to the Examination of Engineers shall be and stand repealed.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

3. Grades of Certificates.—Two classes of Certificates are contemplated namely “Ordinary” for service on Steam-ships and “Motor” for service on vessels propelled by internal combustion engines:—

(a) Certificates of Competency in the case of Ordinary Certificates consist of three grades, namely, “First Class Engineers’ Certificates”, “Second Class Engineers’ Certificates”, and “Third Class Engine-drivers’ Certificates”.

(b) Certificates of Competency in the case of Motor Certificates consist of two grades, namely, “First Class Motor Engineers’ Certificates” and “Second Class Motor Engineers’ Certificates.”

In the case of the grade in each class, Certificates will be granted to those persons who pass the required examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions applicable to that grade.

4. Application.—A person desirous of obtaining a certificate shall make application for examination on the proper form, which may be obtained at the Marine Board Office; such application form, properly filled in, together with the candidate’s testimonials, as hereinafter specified, must be lodged with the Secretary at least two days before the date of examination.

5. Gaps in Service.—Before the acceptance of any application, the Secretary shall be careful to ascertain that there are not any gaps in a candidate’s service, during which his conduct is not properly accounted for.

6. Calculation of Service.—The candidate’s service, as shown on his discharges, should be reckoned by the calendar month, i.e., the time included between any given day in any month and the preceding day of the following month, both inclusive. The number of complete months from the commencement of the period, ascertained in this way, should be computed, after which the number of odd days should be counted. The day on which the agreement commences, as well as that on which it terminates, should both be included, and all odd days should be added together and reckoned at 30 to the month.

7. Service must be Verified.—Service which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of agreement of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted. (See also Regulation 52.)

8. Age.—Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism, or other satisfactory evidence of age.

9. Testimonials: Shore Service.—All candidates will be required to produce, in addition to the official discharge certificates, testimonials as to their workshop service and as to their service at sea. The testimonials as to workshop service must be signed by the employer, and must testify to the candidate’s conduct and ability, and state what kind of work he was engaged on (e.g., fitting, erecting, &c.), and for how long.

10. Testimonials: Sea Service.—Testimonials as to service at sea must testify to the applicant's sobriety, experience, ability, and general good conduct, and should cover the whole of the applicant's sea service; no application will be accepted in any case where the applicant does not produce satisfactory testimonials for at least the last eighteen months' service at sea preceding the date of application to be examined. They must be signed by the Master and Chief Engineer, or in the case of testimonials to chief engineers, by the Superintending Engineer, and must clearly state:—

- (a) In respect of a steam-ship, whether the applicant was on regular watch, and in regular charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers, also, if not engaged on both engines and boilers, the length of time he served on each separately.
- (b) In respect of a ship propelled by internal combustion engines, whether the applicant was on regular watch and in regular charge of a watch in the main engine-room.

It is desirable that testimonials of candidates should be indorsed by the Superintending Engineer. If in any case testimonials appear to have been withheld for improper or inadequate reasons, full particulars should be reported by the Secretary to the Board.

11. Further as to Testimonials.—In cases where a testimonial cannot, from any sufficient reason, be obtained from the Master or Chief Engineer of the vessel in which applicant has served, then, in lieu of the testimonial of such Chief Engineer, that of the Superintendent Engineer (or person occupying an equivalent position) of the company, or person owning such vessel, may be accepted, and, in lieu of the testimonial required to be given by the Master, that of the Secretary to, or Chairman of, the Board of Directors, or Managing Director of the company owning such vessel, or the owner or managing owner of the same may be accepted; provided that in every such instance the testimonial must state that the facts set forth are in accordance with reports made by the Chief Engineer or the Master, as the case may be, or else that the facts therein set forth are within the writer's personal knowledge.

12. Penalty for Misconduct.—Candidates who have neglected to join their vessels after having signed articles, or who have deserted their vessels after having joined, or who have been found by a competent Court guilty of gross misconduct, will be required to produce satisfactory proofs of two years' subsequent service and good conduct at sea, unless the Board, after having investigated the matter, should see fit to reduce the time.

13. Physical Defects.—The testimonials of candidates who are deaf, or who are labouring under any other obvious physical defect, must contain specific reference to any such defect, and shall indicate whether it in any way interfered with the efficiency of the candidate as an engineer on watch. When these modified testimonials are such as to completely satisfy the Examiner that the defect is not such as to interfere with the efficient discharge of the applicant's duties as engineer, the examination may proceed, otherwise the case must be referred to the Board. Candidates afflicted with nervous impediment in speech may write their answers to viva voce questions.

14. Foreign Service.—The testimonials of service of foreign or British engineers serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified in any mercantile marine office, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient, and in each case the Board reserves to itself the right of dealing with any application made under this regulation as it may see fit.

15. Foreign Engineers must know English.—Foreign engineers must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

16. Issue of Certificate.—When an applicant has passed his examination, and has complied with requisite regulations, he will be notified to that effect by the Secretary, and will subsequently receive his Certificate of Competency from the Board. His testimonials will be returned to him with his certificate.

17. Service found to be Insufficient.—If after a candidate has passed the examination it is discovered, on further investigation, that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a certificate of the grade for which he has passed, the certificate will not be granted to him; but if the Board are satisfied that the error in the calculation of the candidate's services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he may either have the fee returned to him or have it placed to his credit. Should his services entitle him to a certificate of a lower grade it may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the superior certificate and the fee payable for the inferior certificate will be returned to him, or placed to his credit. The superior certificate will not be granted until the candidate has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient, and has been re-examined in all the subjects, unless the Board see fit to dispense with the re-examination.

18. Payment of Fee.—The fee for examination shall be paid to the Secretary to the Marine Board.

19. Penalty for Bribery.—If a candidate, prior to examination, or during the course of any examination, offer any sum of money or other thing whatsoever by way of reward or bribe to any examiner or other officer of the Board, for the purpose of influencing him in any manner in regard to such examination, the Board may refuse to permit such candidate to be examined, or, if the examination shall have already commenced, may direct the examiner not to proceed with such examination. And, further, the Board may forfeit any fee paid by him, and may also debar the candidate from presenting himself at any future examination for a period not exceeding twelve (12) months from the date of the offer of such bribe or reward.

20. Fees not Returned on Failure.—If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

21. Scale of Fees.—The fees to be charged for examination are as follow:—

Third Class Engine-driver's Certificate	1	10	0
Second Class Engineer's Certificate (Ordinary or Motor)	2	0	0
First Class Engineer's Certificate (Ordinary or Motor)	3	0	0
Extra First Class Engineer's Certificate	1	0	0
Exchange of certificate (third class), as provided in regulation No. 26	0	5	0

22. Copy of Certificate.—When any Certificate issued by the Board has been lost or destroyed, and satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction has been furnished, a duplicate may be issued on payment of a fee of Five shillings; provided, however, that the Board may waive the payment of such fee in any case where the Board is satisfied that the loss or destruction of a Certificate is not attributable to carelessness on the part of the holder. A declaration as to such loss or destruction must be made by an applicant on a form to be obtained from, and returned to, the Secretary.

23. Resort to Regulations of the Board of Trade.—In any case not provided for in these Regulations it shall be competent for the Board, if it sees fit, to apply to any applicant for a Second Class or First Class Ordinary or Motor Certificate, any of the provisions contained in the Regulations made by the Board of Trade of the United Kingdom and for the time being in force relative to the Examination of Engineers for Certificates of Competency.

Qualifications required for the Various Grades.

(A) "RIVER AND BAY" CERTIFICATES.

24. Third Class Engine-driver.—Third Class Engine-drivers' Certificates will be of three classes, and applicable for service respectively in the following classes of steam-ships, namely:—

Class (a). "River Steam-ships," being steam-ships not exceeding 15 tons gross registered tonnage, plying on any river or on any inland waters in the State of Victoria.

Class (b). "River Steam-ships," being steam-ships of less than 100 nominal horse-power, plying on any river or on any inland waters in the State of Victoria, not being salt water.

Class (c). "River and Bay Steam-ships," being steam-ships of less than 100 nominal horse-power, plying in any port or on any river, lake, or bay in the State of Victoria.

25. Qualifications.—(1) A candidate for a Third Class Engine-driver's Certificate of any class must be not less than 22 years of age:

(a) A candidate for a certificate restricted to service in a River Steam-ship not exceeding 15 tons gross registered tonnage must have served afloat three years as a fireman, or have performed such service which, in the opinion of the Board, is equal to the service first mentioned.

(b) A candidate for a certificate applicable to a "River Steam-ship" or to a "River and Bay Steam-ship" of less than 100 nominal horse-power must have served afloat two years as a fireman, and one year as a leading fireman and assistant engineer, making three years' service, or such service as, in the opinion of the Board, is equal to the qualifying service first mentioned; provided that not less than six months of the qualifying service must have been service afloat in the engine-room.

(2) All candidates for Third Class Engine-drivers' Certificates must—

(a) Produce satisfactory testimonials for the whole of the period of service.

(b) Be able to explain the use of the principal parts of engines and boilers in general use on the waters for which he is desirous of being examined, including all valves, cocks, and connexions; also the salinometer.

(c) Write a legible hand, and understand the first four rules of arithmetic.

(3) Service which has been performed in steam-ships under 15 tons gross registered tonnage plying on any inland water or on any river will not be accepted as qualifying service for certificates as engine-drivers on Steam-ships exceeding such tonnage; only such service as has been performed on steam-ships plying in the ports of Port Phillip, Melbourne, Geelong, Western Port, or Gippsland Lakes, or on Sea-going Steam-ships will be accepted as qualifying service for Certificates of Competency for Third Class Engine-drivers on "River and Bay Steam-ships."

26. Exchange of Certificates.—(1) The holder of a Third Class Certificate restricted to service on "River Steam-ships" (Class a), not exceeding 15 tons gross registered tonnage, plying on a river or on inland waters, who is desirous of obtaining a Certificate applicable to "River Steam-ships" (Class b) of less than 100 nominal horse-power, may have his Certificate exchanged therefor on his producing satisfactory evidence of having served for a period of not less than three (3) months as leading fireman or assistant engineer on a "River Steam-ship" exceeding 15 tons gross registered tonnage, and on his showing to the satisfaction of the Board's examiner that he has acquired practical knowledge and experience in the working of engines and boilers of such last-mentioned class of Steam-ships.

(2) The holder of a Third Class Certificate restricted to service on "River Steam-ships" (Class a) not exceeding 15 tons gross registered tonnage, plying on a river or on inland waters, and desirous of obtaining a certificate applicable to "River and Bay Steam-ships" (Class c) may have his certificate exchanged therefor on his producing satisfactory evidence of having served for a period of not less than nine (9) months as leading fireman or assistant engineer on a Steam-ship plying in the ports of Port Phillip, Melbourne, Geelong, Western Port, or Gippsland Lakes, or on Sea-going Steam-ships and on his showing to the satisfaction of the Board's Examiner that he has acquired a practical knowledge and experience in the working of engines and boilers of the class of Steam-ships plying in any such ports.

(3) The holder of a Third Class Engine-driver's Certificate restricted to service on "River Steam-ships" of less than 100 nominal horse-power, desirous of obtaining a certificate applicable to "River and Bay Steam-ships" (Class c) may have his Certificate exchanged therefor on his producing satisfactory evidence of having served for a period of not less than six (6) months as leading fireman or assistant engineer on a Steam-ship plying in the ports of Port Phillip, Melbourne, Geelong, Western Port, or Gippsland Lakes, or on Sea-going Steam-ships and on his showing to the satisfaction of the Board's examiner that he has acquired practical knowledge and experience in the working of engines and boilers of the class of Steam-ships plying in any such ports.

(B) ORDINARY CERTIFICATES.

27. Value of Ordinary Certificates.—Until 1st January, 1922, First and Second Class Engineers' Ordinary Certificates will entitle the holders to go to sea in the grade certified as Engineers of any vessel in the British Mercantile Marine, after that date they will not be available on ships propelled by internal combustion engines unless indorsed for the purpose. (See regulation 37.)

28. Second Class Engineer.—A candidate for a Second Class Engineer's Certificate must not be less than 21 years of age—

- (a) He must have served as an apprentice engineer for four years at least, and prove that during the period of his apprenticeship he has been employed in the manner set forth in regulation 39.

Journeyman's time will be considered as equivalent to apprenticeship.

Every applicant must produce testimonials of ability as a practical engineer to the satisfaction of the Board.

If the candidate has served as an apprentice engineer or as journeyman, under the conditions above prescribed, for less than four years, he will be required to make up the deficiency or to complete this period of four years by service as engineer at sea on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going or home-trade steam-ship of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, such service to be counted as equivalent to two-thirds of service as apprentice engineer or as journeyman; provided that service performed in any steam-ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria shall be regarded as being equivalent to not more than two-thirds of the same period of time served in a foreign-going or other home-trade steam-ship. (See also Regulation 41.)

If the candidate has not served at all as apprentice engineer or as journeyman, he will be required to have served at sea, in lieu thereof, as engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers, six years in a foreign-going or home-trade steam-ship of not less than 66 nominal horse-power; provided that service performed on any steam-ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria shall be regarded as being equivalent to not more than two-thirds of the same period of time served in a foreign-going or other home-trade steam-ship.

- (b) In addition to the apprenticeship as above described, or the alternative sea service, the applicant must have served eighteen months at sea as engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a

- foreign-going or home-trade steam-ship of not less than 66 nominal horse-power; provided that service performed on any steam-ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria shall have the value apportioned thereto in the paragraph immediately preceding. (See also regulations 54, 55, 56, and 57.)
- (c) He must write a legible hand, and have a good knowledge of arithmetic up to and including vulgar and decimal fractions and square root. He must also be able to apply these rules to questions relating to safety valves, coal consumption, consumption of stores, capacities of tanks, bunkers, &c., and other similar problems; and be able to calculate the suitable working pressure for a steam boiler of given dimensions, and the stress per square inch on crank and tunnel shafts and other parts of the machinery when the necessary data are furnished.
 - (d) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various designs of paddle and screw engines in general use, including turbines; and as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.
 - (e) He must have a satisfactory knowledge of the methods of construction of engines and boilers as used in the workshop, and of the attention required by the different parts of the machinery on board ship.
 - (f) He must be able to give a satisfactory description of boilers, and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connexions.
 - (g) He must understand the precautions necessary to be taken when raising steam in boilers and when opening stop valves to admit steam to pipes, &c.
 - (h) He must understand how to make good the results of ordinary wear and tear to the machinery, how to correct defects from accident, decay, &c., and how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement or total breakdown.
 - (i) He must understand the use of the water gauge, pressure gauge, barometer, thermometer, and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.
 - (j) He must be able to state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.
 - (k) He must be able to explain the methods of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and the methods of testing the fairness of shafts and adjusting them.
 - (l) He must understand the construction and working of evaporators, feed filters, and feed heaters.
 - (m) He must understand the construction and working of centrifugal, bucket, and plunger pumps, and the principles on which they act.
 - (n) He must understand the construction and working of steering engines, electric-light engines and dynamos, electric motors, refrigerating machinery, hydraulic machinery, and such internal combustion engines as are used to drive ships' launches, emergency and auxiliary machinery on board ship.
 - (o) He must possess a creditable knowledge of the prominent facts relating to combustion, heat, and steam.
 - (p) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams and understand the distribution of the steam in the cylinder as shown thereby.
 - (q) He must be able to make a dimensioned working sketch or drawing of some simple part of the machinery.

29. First Class Engineer.—A candidate for a First Class Engineer's Certificate must be not less than 22½ years of age—

(a) He must—

- (1) have served at sea for eighteen months, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency or Service, on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going or home-trade steam-ship of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, as senior engineer in charge of the whole watch (see regulation 45); provided that service performed on any steam-ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria will not be recognised as qualifying service for examination for a Certificate of Competency as a First Class Engineer; or

- (2) possess a First Class Certificate of Service.
- (b) He will be required to show a superior knowledge of all the subjects specified in clauses (c) to (g) inclusive of the preceding regulation.
- (c) His knowledge of arithmetic must include the mensuration of surfaces and solids and the extraction of square and cube roots, and the application of these rules to questions relating to the power, duty, and economy of engines and boilers, and to the stresses in the rods, shafts, and levers of the engine. He should also be able to calculate the effect of the application of the lever, pulley, inclined plane, and other mechanical powers.
- (d) He will be required to make an intelligible hand sketch, or a working drawing, of one or more of the principal parts of a steam-engine, boiler, or other part of the machinery, and to mark upon it all the necessary dimensions in figures, so that the sketch or drawing could be worked from.
- (e) He must be able to calculate safety-valve pressures and the strength of the boiler shell and riveting, and of the furnaces, flat surfaces, and stays.
- (f) He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other, and to calculate the direct stress, the torsional stress, and the bending stress in round bars, and the direct stress and the bending stress in rectangular bars, with given loads.
- (g) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams, and to recognise and know how to correct defects in the working of the engine caused by a faulty distribution of the steam in the cylinders as shown thereby.
- (h) He must be able to explain the method of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and to sketch approximately the difference any alteration in the slide valve will make in the indicator diagram.
- (i) He must be conversant with the principles and practice of surface condensation, superheating, and the working of steam expansively.
- (j) He must understand the construction and working of, and be able to maintain in working condition, the auxiliary machinery which may be placed under his charge, viz., refrigerating machinery, electric-light engines and dynamos, electric motors, hydraulic machinery, the various descriptions of steering engines, and internal-combustion engines as used in launches and for auxiliary and emergency machinery on board ship, &c.
- (k) He must know how to provide against defects and breakdowns of the machinery, and be able to direct and carry out any ordinary repairs that may be required either to the engines or the boilers.

30. Extra First Class Engineer.—This examination is voluntary, and is intended for such persons as wish to prove their superior qualifications, and are desirous of having Certificates for the highest grade granted by the Board.

31. Notice Required.—Applicants are required to make application on form which may be obtained at the Marine Board Office; such form, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Secretary at least seven days before the date of examination.

32. Qualifications Required.—A candidate for an Extra First Class Engineer's Certificate must possess a First Class Engineer's Certificate and have served an apprenticeship of five years at least or, as an equivalent, three years' apprenticeship and three years at an approved technical school; or he must have served for one year at sea on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steam-ship of not less than 66 nominal horse-power as senior engineer in charge of the whole of the watch while holding a First Class Engineer's Certificate.

In addition to the qualifications specified for First and Second Class Engineers—

- (a) He must be able to write good English and have sufficient knowledge of elementary mathematics, trigonometry, &c., to enable him to work problems in mechanical science.
- (b) He must possess a thorough knowledge of the construction and working of the different forms of marine engines and propellers in all their details, including turbines and the various types of internal-combustion engines; he must understand the fundamental principles on which they act, and be able to calculate the strength of the various parts.
- (c) He must be familiar with all the processes employed in the manufacture of machinery in an engineering workshop.
- (d) He must be acquainted with the general principles of theoretical and applied mechanics; he must possess a knowledge of the theory of strain and stress, and be able to deduce the ordinary rules for the bending of beams and for the twisting and bending of shafts.
- (e) He must be acquainted with the modern theory of heat, and be able to solve questions relating to temperatures, pressures and volumes, power, economy and duty in connexion with engines and boilers.
- (f) He must be able to determine, by means of valve diagrams or otherwise, the distribution of steam in the cylinders and the effect in a compound engine of alterations in any one cylinder on the steam pressures, power, &c., of the others.
- (g) He must understand how to apply the indicator, and be able to draw the proper conclusions from the diagrams, and to construct the approximate diagrams from any given data.
- (h) He must be able to produce a fair working drawing of any part of the machinery, with figured dimensions fit to work from.
- (i) He must understand the theoretical principles governing the action of the screw propeller and the paddle-wheel, and must be able to estimate numerically the effect in speed of ship and consumption of fuel due to any alteration in pitch, diameter, revolutions, &c.
- (j) He must be able to give a description of boilers, including those of the water-tube type, and be familiar with the methods used in their manufacture, and must show that he possesses a knowledge of the theoretical principles which regulate their construction, and that he is able to calculate the strength of the various parts, including the riveting, boiler shell, furnaces, flat plates, stays, &c.
- (k) He must understand the general nature of the strains and stresses produced by steam pressure, temperature, &c., in the various parts of the engines and boilers.
- (l) He must have a knowledge of the principles involved in determining the size of a safety-valve, and in the construction of spring-loaded and dead-weight valves.
- (m) He must possess a thorough knowledge of the practice and theory of combustion; the chemical composition of fuels, coal, oil, &c.; the evaporative duty of fuels of given composition; the production of draught; the effect, in regard to economy, safety, and wear and tear, of increasing or diminishing the proportion of heating surface, of grate-bar surface, of area of section of air passages, of area of water surface, of steam space and water capacity.

- (n) He must be able to explain the formation of scale and the precipitation of salt under various conditions, and the precautionary means adopted in respect thereto, both with jet and with surface condensers.
- (o) He must understand the general principles involved in the construction and working of the barometer, thermometer, salinometer, steam and vacuum gauges and other instruments used in the engine-room, also of those used in determining high temperatures and in conducting experiments on heat.
- (p) He must be familiar with the general results obtained from past experience in relation to corrosion, pitting, and galvanic action in boilers, and the use of zinc and soda, and be able to explain the chemical reactions involved and know how to guard against deterioration of the boilers.
- (q) He must thoroughly understand the various causes and conditions which produce water-hammer action in steam pipes, the dangers occasioned thereby and the precautions to be taken against them.
- (r) He must be able to give a variety of illustrations of how defects in the machinery have arisen from accident, imperfect construction, or deterioration, and to show how these defects might have been prevented, and the best way of repairing them.
- (s) He must be familiar with the properties and processes of manufacturing and testing the ordinary materials used in the construction of machinery, and must possess an intelligent knowledge of the composition and properties of the lubricants, boiler cements, indiarubber, &c., in general use in steamers.
- (t) He must understand the causes of spontaneous combustion and the formation of explosive gases in coal holds, oil tanks, &c., and the precautionary measures proper to prevent accidents from these causes.
- (u) He must be acquainted with the fundamental principles and practice of the generation of electricity and its application to various purposes on board ship, and be able to describe and explain the working of the various machines, appliances, and instruments used.
- (v) He must be able to explain the construction and working of the refrigerating machinery in use on board ship, the electric-lighting plant, the steering engines, hydraulic and pneumatic engines, the pumps, and all auxiliary machinery placed under the Chief Engineer's control, and also have a knowledge of the other machines and appliances usually found on board ship.
- (w) He must possess a knowledge of the stability of floating bodies, and of the laws which govern the rolling of ships, and be able to make calculations as to the effect of filling or emptying ballast tanks, working coal or cargo into or out of the vessel, moving of weights on board, &c.
- (x) He must possess a practical knowledge of ship construction and understand the elementary principles involved, and be able to deal with engine and boiler seatings and to supervise and direct any repairs that may be required to an iron or steel ship.

If the candidate does not obtain 67 per cent. of the total number of marks allotted for the papers, he will be declared to have failed. The papers will be founded chiefly on the foregoing sub-regulations.

(C) CERTIFICATES FOR ENGINEERS OF SHIPS PROPELLED BY INTERNAL COMBUSTION ENGINES (MOTOR CERTIFICATES).

33. Value of Motor Certificates.—These certificates will entitle the holders to go to sea in the grades specified as Engineers of any vessels in the British Mercantile Marine propelled by Internal Combustion Engines using oil, spirit, gas or other similar substance as fuel, but are not available for service in steam-ships except when indorsed as hereinafter provided.

34. Second Class Motor Engineer.—A candidate for a Second Class Motor Certificate must not be less than 21 years of age.

(a) He must have served for at least four years as an apprentice or journeyman Engineer. Not less than two years of this service must have been spent at fitting, erecting or repairing internal combustion engines. The remaining two years may be occupied on the same kinds of work, or spent at an approved technical school, or in work on internal combustion engines at one of the other branches of the trade named in regulation 39, with the allowances specified therein.

Service as journeyman will be considered as equivalent to apprenticeship, but no time served before the age of fifteen is reached will be accepted.

Workshop service other than the above may be accepted if it is considered useful training for a Motor Engineer, but all such cases must be submitted to the Board for consideration before the candidate is examined, and at least an additional three months of qualifying service on marine internal combustion engines, either in the works or on regular watch in the main engine-room of vessels propelled by these engines, must have been performed in respect of each twelve months of workshop service of this nature, or other than on the making or repairing of internal combustion engines, so accepted. If the service is not altogether satisfactory a longer additional period than that specified may be required.

Any deficiency in the requisite four years' workshop service may, as in the case of the Ordinary engineers' certificates, be made up by service at sea on regular watch in the main engine-room of a vessel of not less than 500 indicated horse-power or 373 brake horse-power propelled by internal combustion engines. If the vessel is a foreign-going or home-trade vessel one and a half times the period of deficiency must be served; provided that service performed on any vessel propelled by internal combustion engines trading between ports on the coast of Victoria shall be regarded as equivalent to not more than two-thirds of the same period of time served in a foreign-going or other home-trade vessel. Thus a candidate who has no workshop service must put in six years in a suitable foreign-going or home-trade vessel or nine years in the Victorian coast trade in lieu of his apprenticeship.

Until 1st January, 1922, workshop service in works where steam-engines, boilers, &c., are made or repaired will be accepted as qualifying, as regards service, for a Motor Certificate.

(b) In addition to the workshop service as above described, or the alternative sea service, the candidate must have spent eighteen months at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines of a foreign-going or home-trade (other than Victorian coastal) ship propelled by internal combustion engines of not less than 500 indicated horse-power or 373 brake horse-power, or 27 months in a similar vessel trading between ports on the coast of Victoria. (See also regulations 54, 55, 56, and 57.)

(c) He must write a legible hand and have a good knowledge of arithmetic up to and including vulgar and decimal fractions and square root. He must also be able to work out questions relating to spring or lever-loaded safety and relief valves; consumption of oil and stores; capacities of tanks, bunkers, &c.; speed of vessel, and other similar problems; and be able to calculate suitable working pressures for air receivers of given dimensions, and the stress per square inch on crank and tunnel shafts and other parts of the machinery when the necessary data are furnished.

(d) He must be able to give a clear explanation of the principles on which oil, gas or other internal combustion engines work, including the methods of ignition, to point out the differences between them, and to show by means of illustrative sketches and otherwise that he understands the details of the construction of those in general use.

(e) He must be familiar with the various methods of supplying air and fuel to the cylinders in the different types of engines, the construction of the apparatus for carburetting, atomising, or gasifying the fuel, and the means for cooling the cylinders, pistons, &c.

(f) He must have a satisfactory knowledge of the processes employed in the construction of internal combustion engines in the workshop, and of the methods used in fitting the machinery on board ship.

(g) He must know what attention is required by the various parts of the machinery; and understand the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connexions.

(h) He must be able to state and describe the chief causes which may make the engine difficult to start and to explain how he would proceed to remedy any defects arising therefrom. He must also be able to show that he understands the mechanism of the starting and reversing arrangements, and is competent to deal with defects therein.

(i) He must understand how to make good the results of ordinary wear and tear to the machinery; how to test the fairness of shafting, &c.; how to correct defects from accident, decay, &c.; and how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement or total break down.

(j) He must understand the construction of the pressure gauge, barometer, thermometer, and other instruments used in the engine-room, and the principles on which they work.

(k) He must understand the construction and working of centrifugal, bucket, and plunger pumps, and the principles on which they act.

(l) He must understand the construction and working of air compressors, gas producers, steering engines, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors, refrigerating, hydraulic, and other auxiliary machinery found on board ship.

(m) He must possess a good working knowledge of the construction and management of auxiliary steam boilers and machinery, and be familiar with the prominent facts relating to combustion, heat and steam.

(n) He must be familiar with the nature and properties of the various oils, &c., generally used in internal combustion engines; must understand what is meant by the "flash point"; and have a knowledge of the explosive properties of gas or the vapour given off by these oils, &c., when mixed with definite quantities of air; and be thoroughly conversant with the danger of exposing such gas or vapour to a naked light; or of allowing any leakage from the oil tanks, particularly into the vessels, bilges, and unventilated spaces, or from gas producers, pipes, vaporizers, &c.

(o) He must thoroughly understand the precautions to be taken against fire or explosion from oil or gas, and know how to deal with fire should it break out. He should also be familiar with the action of wire gauze diaphragms when placed in pipes and connexions to oil tanks, &c., for the purpose of preventing the explosion or ignition of oil vapour therein.

(p) He must be able to explain the principle, construction and arrangement of primary and secondary batteries and induction coils so far as is necessary for the efficient management of an oil engine.

(q) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams and understand the action of the gas in the cylinder as shown thereby.

(r) He must be able to make a dimensioned working sketch or drawing of some simple part of the machinery.

35. First Class Motor Engineer.—A candidate for a First Class Motor Certificate must not be less than 22½ years of age.

(a) He must have served at sea for eighteen months with a Second Class Motor Engineer's Certificate on regular watch on the main engines of a foreign-going or home-trade ship propelled by internal combustion engines of not less than 750 indicated horse-power or 560 brake horse-power as senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch, or have been the second senior in a watch of three, or third senior in a watch of six or more Engineers and have been in responsible charge of a definite section of the main machinery; provided that service performed on any ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria will not be recognised as qualifying service for examination for a Certificate of Competency as a First Class Motor Engineer.

(b) He will be required to display a superior knowledge of all the subjects specified in the preceding regulation (clauses (c) to (r) inclusive).

(c) His knowledge of arithmetic must include the mensuration of surfaces and solids and the extraction of square and cube roots, and the application of these rules to questions relating to the power, duty, and economy of engines, and to the stresses in the rods, shafts, and levers of the engine. He should also be able to calculate the effect of the application of the lever, pulley, inclined plane, and other mechanical powers.

- (d) He will be required to make an intelligible hand sketch or a working drawing of one or more of the principal parts of an engine or other part of the machinery, and to mark upon it all the necessary dimensions in figures, so that the sketch or drawing could be worked from.
- (e) He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other, and to calculate the direct stress, the torsional stress, and the bending stress in round bars, and the direct stress and the bending stress in rectangular bars, with given loads.
- (f) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams, and to recognise and know how to correct defects in the working of the engines caused by a faulty distribution of the gas in the cylinders, as shown thereby.
- (g) He must be able to explain the effects of altering the points of opening and closing the various valves, and to sketch approximately the difference any alteration in the action of the valves will make in the indicator diagram.
- (h) He must understand the construction and working of, and be able to maintain in working condition, the auxiliary machinery which may be placed under his charge, viz., air compressors, refrigerating machinery, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors, hydraulic machinery and the various descriptions of steering engines, &c.
- (i) He must know how to provide against defects and breakdowns of the machinery, and be able to direct and carry out any ordinary repairs that may be required either to the main engines or to the auxiliary steam or other machinery.
- (j) He must know how the flash point of an oil is ascertained, and be capable of determining that of any sample experimentally if the necessary apparatus is provided.

36. First Class Motor Certificates without Second.—Until 1st January, 1922, the holder of a Second Class Ordinary Certificate may be examined for a First Class Motor Certificate without previously obtaining a Second Class Motor Certificate, provided that he proves that he has served for at least eighteen months at sea in a capacity qualifying for First Class in a suitable motor vessel and can satisfy the Board as to the general sufficiency of his experience of marine internal combustion engines either in the works or at sea.

This permission will carry with it exemption from all the requirements as to workshop service and all other requirements which a candidate for a Second Class Motor Certificate has to comply with, but particulars of all such cases must be submitted to the Board before any such candidates are allowed to be examined for a First Class Motor Certificate.

An applicant under this regulation will be given the full examination in accordance with the syllabus contained in the last preceding regulation including examination in practical mathematics and drawing as well as in engineering knowledge.

37. Indorsement of Certificates.—The holder of an Ordinary Certificate may have it indorsed to the effect that he is competent for service in a motor ship provided that he complies with the conditions specified for a Motor Certificate of the grade required and passes the appropriate examination.

He will not be examined in practical mathematics or in drawing but will be required to show a reasonable proficiency in general engineering knowledge and a thorough understanding of the principles of the action, construction and working of motor engines.

The holder of a Motor Certificate may also have it indorsed for service in steam-ships on corresponding terms.

Until 1st January, 1922, the holder of a First Class Ordinary Certificate may have it indorsed for service in motor ships if he can prove at least eighteen months' sea service in motor ships in a qualifying capacity, and can satisfy the Board as to the general sufficiency of his experience of marine internal combustion engines either in the works or at sea and provided that he passes the appropriate examination. Every such case must be submitted to the Board before the candidate is examined.

38. Notice Required.—Intending candidates should, where possible, give at least a week's notice of their intention to sit for a Motor Certificate.

REGULATIONS FOR ESTIMATING SERVICE.

39. Workshop Service.—The workshop service of a candidate for an Ordinary Certificate must have been performed in works where steam-engines, boilers, &c., are made or repaired. The workshop service of a candidate for a Motor Certificate must have been performed in works where internal combustion engines are made or repaired.

No time served before the age of 15 will be counted.

Not less than two years of the apprenticeship time must have been spent at fitting, erecting, or repairing engines and machinery either in the works or outside. The remaining two years may be made up of time spent in engine works at fitting, erecting, or repairing engines and machinery or at one of the other branches of the trade given below, or at an approved technical day school (see regulation 43); the time so spent to count as follows:—

Fitting, erecting, repairing, or turning	Full time.
Working in drawing office	Full time up to one year, and beyond one year one-half time.
Patternmaking	One-half time with a maximum allowance of one year.
Planing, slotting, shaping, and milling	One-third time.
Boiler-making or repairing	One-half time.
Smith work	One-half time, with a maximum allowance of one year.
Coppersmith work	One-third time, with a maximum allowance of six months.

In the event of the apprenticeship time being extended to five years or more, four years at turning, followed by one year at fitting or erecting, may be accepted as qualifying.

This regulation applies only to works at which the making and/or repairing of engines, boilers, &c., forms part of the regular business for which the works exist. Service at works where the repairing of engines, boilers, &c., is merely incidental to the running of plant, however large, which is used for the production of power for other machinery, &c., will be dealt with under regulation 40, each case being considered on its merits.

40. Workshop Service other than the above.—Workshop service other than the above may be accepted if it is considered useful training for an engineer, but every such case must be submitted to the Board for consideration before the candidate is examined. For each twelve months of such service accepted the candidate must have performed at least an additional three months' service on marine engines (steam-engines for an Ordinary Certificate and internal combustion engines for a Motor Certificate) either in the works or on regular watch in the main engine-room or on day work at sea. If the service is not altogether satisfactory a longer additional period than that specified may be required; but if a portion only of the apprenticeship has been spent on work other than that specified in regulation 39, the additional service named above will only be required in respect of that portion.

This regulation applies to service on internal combustion engines by a candidate for an Ordinary Certificate, and to service on steam-engines by a candidate for a Motor Certificate. Until 1st January, 1922, however, workshop service in works where steam-engines, boilers, &c., are made or repaired, will be accepted as qualifying for a Motor Certificate.

41. Day Work at Sea.—Time spent on day work at sea on board a foreign-going steam-ship of net less than 66 nominal horsepower to make up any deficiency in the period of workshop service will be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of service as apprentice engineer or as journeyman; but only such service as has been performed after reaching the age of 21 will be accepted for such purpose.

Day work at sea will not be accepted as equivalent to any portion of the watch keeping service required by regulation 28(b); the whole of the period of sea service required by regulation 28(b) must have been performed on regular watch on the main engines and boilers.

42. Workshop Service in India.—Workshop service in India is in no case to be taken as equivalent to more than four-fifths of the same period of service in the United Kingdom.

43. Technical Schools.—Time spent after the age of 15 at a technical day school (recognised by the Board as suitable) where there is an engineering laboratory, may be taken into account and accepted as equivalent to artisan service, at the ratio of three years in the technical school to two in artisan service, provided that the applicant has taken the full engineering course, and can produce the Principal's certificate for regular attendance at all the approved classes and for satisfactory progress; and provided also that the remaining portion of the time has been spent in works where engines, boilers, &c., are made or repaired, in accordance with the scale of values indicated in regulation 39.

Time spent in attending evening classes in engineering at approved technical schools will similarly be allowed to count under the following conditions:—

- (1) Each candidate claiming an allowance for time spent in attending evening classes at a technical school must produce a certificate signed by the Principal of the school to the effect that he has attended regularly at a definite class or classes, which should be specified, and has made satisfactory progress. This certificate must also state the total number of hours spent by the candidate in attending each class.
- (2) Time spent by the candidate in attending such classes as have a direct bearing on the training of a marine engineer will be reckoned at the ratio of such number of hours to one day as the Board may determine. The total number of days so obtained will then be accepted in lieu of a certain fraction of the same period of workshop service. This fraction will be fixed for each school at the time of approval.
- (3) A candidate who has attended a technical school in the evening, while being employed as an apprentice or journeyman engineer during the day, must, in order that the school time may be accepted, produce satisfactory proof that he has spent the full working day in the works at which he is employed before attending the school. Such proof will usually take the form of a statement in the testimonial as to workshop service given by the employer.
- (4) Allowance will only be given for classes attended after the candidate has reached the age of 15.

Time spent in foreign technical schools will not be recognised.

44. "Sea Service" and Coast Trade Service.—The sea service required by these regulations is, unless otherwise stated, service performed in foreign-going or home-trade ships of at least the horse-power specified for the respective grades of Certificates; provided that service performed in any ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria shall be regarded as being equivalent to two-thirds of the same period of time served in a foreign-going or home-trade ship, i.e., eighteen months' service in the Victorian coast trade will be accepted as equivalent to twelve months' service in any other trade. In all cases the length of service will be deemed to have commenced on the date of signing of the articles of agreement and to end on the date of discharge.

Service in a qualifying capacity in a motor ship (of the horse-power required in the case of Motor Certificates) may be accepted as forming part of the 18 months' sea service in steamships required for an ordinary First-class or Second-class Certificate, an allowance of half the time so served being given, with a maximum allowance of six months. Qualifying service in steamships of the required horse-power will be accepted on similar terms as part of the sea service required for a Motor Certificate.

45. Qualifying Service Defined.—In the case of candidates for First Class Certificates qualifying service means, as a rule, service on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a steam-ship, or in the main engine-room of a ship propelled by internal combustion engines, as senior engineer in charge of the whole watch.

When, however, three or four engineers are on watch at the same time the service of the two seniors may be allowed to count, and when not less than six engineers are on watch together that of the three seniors, provided a certificate from the Superintending Engineer is produced stating the number of engineers on watch, the rank held by the applicant, and that he was in charge of a watch on a definite section of the main engines or boilers of a steam-ship; or in the main engine-room of a ship propelled by internal combustion engines. During the whole of the period claimed candidates must have been in possession of Second Class Certificates.

In the case of candidates for Second Class Certificates qualifying sea service means service as engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a steam-ship, or in the main engine-room of a ship propelled by internal combustion engines.

In no case will time spent in clerical or day work be allowed to count as sea service.

All candidates for Ordinary Certificates, including those for First Class, who have not been in charge of the whole of a watch, but qualify under this regulation as the second or third senior of the watch, and have been in charge of a section of the machinery only, will be required to have served at sea on regular watch on both the main engines and the boilers, not less than six months being spent on each.

46. Further as to Qualifying Service.—Only such service as gives the experience required to make a man thoroughly competent as a sea-going engineer is accepted as qualifying service. Even for a Second Class Certificate the candidate must prove to the satisfaction of the examiner that he is qualified by experience and knowledge to act as Chief Engineer in a vessel which is only required to be provided with an engineer possessing a Second Class Ordinary or Motor Certificate, as the case may be, on a voyage, say, from Victoria to South Africa or India, taking full responsibility for the management and control of the propelling power.

47. Service in the Army.—One-half of any time spent by a candidate for an engineer's certificate in serving in His Majesty's Forces will be accepted in lieu of a portion not exceeding twelve months of the workshop service required for a Second Class Certificate, or, alternatively, one-fourth of the time spent with the Forces will be accepted in lieu of a portion not exceeding six months of the sea service required by the Board's regulations for either a First Class or a Second Class Certificate. A candidate who has served for a sufficient time in the Army may obtain a reduction of the required period of workshop service in respect of a part of his service in the Army, and also a reduction of the required period of sea service in respect of the remainder of his Army service, the respective allowances being calculated in accordance with the rule indicated above. A candidate who has served for four years in the Army will, therefore, be able to present himself for examination for a Second Class Engineer's Certificate after completing three, instead of four, years' qualifying workshop service, and after completing twelve months' instead of eighteen months' qualifying sea service; provided that in other respects he complies with the regulations.

The allowances indicated above are the minimum allowances that will be made. Where the nature of a candidate's service in the Army is such that it may be regarded as useful training for a marine engineer, the allowance made in respect of such service may be greater than that indicated. Every such case will be considered on its merits, and no hard-and-fast rule can be formulated.

48. Marine Technical Schools.—A candidate for either a Second Class or a First Class Ordinary or Motor Certificate who, within two years from the date of application to be examined, has attended an approved course, comprising general mathematical and scientific instruction at a technical school recognised by the Board as suitable for the training of marine engineers, will be allowed to count time so spent as equivalent to sea service in the ratio of three months at the technical school to two months at sea. Time so spent cannot be accepted as equivalent to more than one-sixth of the total sea service required for either certificate, but a candidate who has been allowed to count such time on examination for a Second Class Certificate, will not be debarred from counting similar subsequent time on applying for examination for a First Class Certificate.

Time spent in an approved marine technical school subsequent to obtaining a First Class Certificate, and within two years from the date of application to be examined, may also be accepted as forming part of the qualifying service required under regulation 32 in the case of candidates for Extra First Class Engineers' Certificates, but, if such time is substituted for sea service, it will only count as equivalent thereto in the ratio of three months at the school to two months at sea.

In every case in which an allowance is made for time spent at a marine technical school, the candidate will be required to produce the Principal's certificate for continuous and regular attendance at all the approved classes and for satisfactory progress.

The candidate must also produce his class note books, which will be forwarded to the Examiner of Engineers, in order that he may satisfy himself that the candidate has followed the approved course of instruction, and that the remission of sea service claimed may be allowed accordingly.

Application for examination of candidates claiming remission of sea service should be made at least a week before they desire to sit.

49. Recognition of Study by Engineers interned in Germany and elsewhere.—Time spent by a candidate for a First Class or Second Class Ordinary or Motor Certificate in attending courses of lectures or classes at Ruhleben or other internment camp will be accepted in lieu of a portion of the sea service required to qualify him for the certificate, subject to the following conditions:—

- (1) If nine hours a week are spent in attending lectures or classes, five weeks spent in this way will be accepted in lieu of one week's sea service. If eleven hours a week are spent in this way, four weeks will be accepted as one week's sea service. In no circumstances can a remission of more than three months' sea service be made.
- (2) The lectures must form part of a definite course of study, which may be regarded as useful training for a marine engineer.
- (3) The candidate must produce a certificate, signed by the lecturer or by some other recognised officer of the camp, that he has attended regularly, and has profited by the instruction given. If possible, the candidate should also produce his note books.

Every case in which an allowance is claimed under this paragraph must be submitted to the Board for its determination.

50. Engineers who have been interned in Germany or elsewhere abroad.—The provisions of regulation 47 relating to service in the Army shall be applied mutatis mutandis to engineers who have been interned in Germany or elsewhere abroad.

51. Foreign Engineers.—Foreign engineers cannot be examined for a First Class or Extra First Class Certificate unless they have performed, with the requisite British Certificate, the sea service stated in regulations 29 and 32 in respect of a First Class or Extra First Class Ordinary Certificate, or in regulation 35 in respect of a First Class Motor Certificate, as the case may require. The service may have been performed in foreign vessels if the candidate can produce satisfactory testimonials as to conduct and character, and is able to prove that the service has been in the required capacities, and that during the period of service he held a British Certificate of Competency of the rank required by the regulations (see regulation 14).

52. Names on Articles.—In all cases the candidates' names must have been duly entered on the ship's articles as engineers in their proper ratings (see also regulation 7).

53. Regular Watch.—Being on regular watch means being on watch for at least eight hours each day.

54. River and Bay Service.—Service as engineer on regular watch on a river and bay ship of not less than the required horse-power may be accepted under the following conditions for either an Ordinary or a Motor Certificate:—

- (a) The service will only count half as much as sea service in foreign-going or home-trade ships, and only one-third as much as sea service in ships trading between ports on the coast of Victoria, i.e., every two months' of river and bay service is only equivalent to one

- month's sea service in foreign-going or home-trade ships, or to (approximately) twenty days' service in ships trading between ports on the coast of Victoria.
- (b) Candidates for Second Class Certificates, in addition to river and bay service, must prove that they have had at least three months' qualifying service at sea in a foreign-going or home-trade (other than Victorian coastal) ship of not less than the horse-power specified in regulations 28 and 34, or four and a half months' similar service in a ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria.
- (c) Candidates for First Class Certificates, in addition to river and bay service in vessels of not less than the horse-power specified in regulations 29 and 35, must prove that they have had at least six months' qualifying service at sea, with a Second Class Engineer's Certificate, in foreign-going or home-trade (other than Victorian coastal) vessels of not less than the specified horse-power, or nine months' similar service in a ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria.

55. Service in Auxiliary Screw Ships.—Service as engineer performed on board auxiliary screw whalers, and other vessels with auxiliary power of not less than that required for a Second Class Certificate, may be allowed to count as qualifying for examination for a Second Class Engineer's Certificate of Competency to the extent of one-half the time the vessel is actually at sea. If the candidate is able to prove that the main engines were running longer than this, he will be allowed to count the whole of such extended time.

56. Service in Dredgers, Fishing Boats, Tug Boats, or Pilot Vessels.—(1) Service in sea-going dredgers, fishing boats, or tug boats, and in sea-going pilot vessels when on their station, or when going to or returning from the same, may be accepted under the following conditions:—Two months of such service is only equivalent to one month's qualifying service in a foreign-going or home-trade ship. Candidates for Second Class Certificates may perform all their sea service in sea-going dredgers, fishing boats, tug boats, or pilot vessels, but they must have been on regular watch on the main propelling machinery, and the horse-power of the vessels must not be less than that required. Candidates for First Class Certificates must, while in possession of a Second Class Certificate, have served in vessels of at least the horse-power specified in Regulations 29 and 35, and have been in charge of the whole of a watch on the main machinery. They must, in addition, have served in a qualifying capacity for at least six months in a foreign-going or home-trade (other than Victorian coastal) ship, or nine months in a ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria.

(2) Where an engineer is employed on a fishing or other vessel and is required to do stoking or other work not usually performed by an engineer in the Mercantile Marine, such service will not be accepted as qualifying.

(3) When service on fishing boats is claimed as qualifying for a Certificate as engineer, it must be shown that it is of a similar nature to that performed by engineers in the Mercantile Marine.

57. Service in Yachts.—(1) Service performed in yachts, either within or beyond home-trade limits, may be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, provided that the candidate's name is entered on the vessel's articles, and that he can prove to the satisfaction of the Board, that the time claimed was actually served at sea.

(2) Candidates for Second Class Certificates may perform all their service in yachts, but the candidate must have been on regular watch on the main machinery, and the vessel must be of not less than the horse-power specified in Regulations 28 and 34.

(3) Candidates for First Class Certificates must have served on vessels of the requisite horse-power, and must have been in regular charge of the main machinery. In addition they must have served for at least three months in a qualifying capacity on board a foreign-going ship. This additional service will, however, not be required in the case of a candidate who has served for 27 months as First Engineer, or for three years as Second Engineer, of a yacht of the requisite power.

58. Definition of Certificate.—The term "Certificate" in these regulations means a Certificate of Competency issued by the Marine Board of Victoria or by the Board of Trade, or by a British Possession under Order in Council in accordance with the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act.

59. Surrender of Certificate.—The Certificate, if any, held by an applicant when applying for examination must be surrendered to the Board before the issue to him of a Certificate of a higher grade.

REGULATIONS FOR THE CONDUCT OF EXAMINATIONS.

Candidates who submit themselves for examination must comply with the following regulations, viz. :—

60. Candidates to be Punctual.—Candidates are required to appear at the examination room punctually at the time appointed.

61. Tables to be Cleared.—Before commencing the examination, the tables and desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper, or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates while in the examination room do not have in their possession any book or paper, except as specified in regulation 66.

62. Strangers not Admitted.—No persons will be allowed in the rooms during the examinations other than those whose duties require them to be present.

No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

63. Face Sheet and Blotting Paper.—At the commencement of the examination the working paper, containing the rules, should be given to each of the candidates, and they should be instructed to read the rules. A sheet of blotting paper will be issued to each candidate with the first examination paper, and it must be returned to the Examiner when the last paper is completed each day. The examiner will be careful to see that the blotting paper has not been used by the candidate in solving his problems or for conveying information to other candidates.

64. All Work to be Shown.—No candidate will be allowed to work out his problems on a slate or on waste paper, or to write on the blotting paper supplied for his use in the examination. Violation of this rule will subject the candidate to all the penalties of failure.

All worked papers must be signed and dated by the candidate.

Additional sheets of paper will be supplied by the examiner if required, but they must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

65. Books and Papers strictly Forbidden.—All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Board, and candidates are prohibited from bringing into the examination room books papers or memoranda of any kind whatever, except as specified in regulation 66. The slightest infringement of this regulation will subject the offender to all the penalties of failure, and he will not be allowed to present himself for re-examination for a period of three months, or, if a candidate for an Extra First Class Certificate for a period of six months.

66. Book of Logarithms.—Candidates for examination for Extra First Class Certificates may use the examination room book of logarithms, which must always be kept under the charge of the Examiner, who will be careful to observe that it is not used to conceal memoranda prepared for these examinations. No other books will be allowed unless the question set specially states that a book may be referred to.

Candidates for Extra First Class Certificates may, however, be allowed to use their own tables of four-figure logarithms if they so desire.

In allowing the use of such tables, Examiners should be particularly careful to see that they contain no notes, formulæ, or other information, either printed or written, apart from the actual tables of logarithms and trigonometrical ratios; and before the commencement of the examination any tables which the candidates propose to use should be examined to see that no other matter is contained in them.

67. Drawing Instruments.—All candidates have to pass an examination in working drawing, which may, at the candidate's option, consist either of hand sketches clearly dimensioned and complete in the necessary views and sections, or of drawings to scale. Drawing boards and T-squares will be provided by the Board, but the applicants will have to bring with them any drawing instruments they may require.

68. Candidates' Places.—Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from another, and no communication whatever between the candidates should be allowed.

69. Leaving Room or Building.—No candidate may leave his seat or the examination room without permission, and, in the latter case, without giving up the paper on which he is engaged. In no circumstances will the same paper be returned to him, but the examiner may substitute other questions.

70. Injury to Books.—In the event of any candidate being detected in defacing, blotting, writing in, or otherwise injuring any book or books belonging to the Board, he will be required to pay to the Secretary such amount as may be necessary to replace such book or books. He will not, however, be at liberty to remove the damaged book, which will still remain the property of the Board; he will also subject himself to all the penalties of a failure.

71. Silence.—Perfect silence is to be preserved in the examination room.

72. Order of Examinations.—The examination of candidates for both First and Second Class Certificates consists of four parts: arithmetic, drawing or sketching, elementary questions, and vivâ voce (see regulations 28, 29, 34 and 35).

73. Arithmetic.—When the number of marks obtained in arithmetic amounts to 28, that is, two-thirds of the maximum, the candidate passes in arithmetic, if less than 21 he fails.

If the marks obtained amount to 21, but not to 28, and if the applicant has had long experience, his testimonials and service should be taken into account, and his examination continued, if deemed advisable by the examiner, and he may be passed if showing sufficient superiority in practical knowledge to compensate for the deficiency in arithmetic.

74. Drawing.—When a candidate's drawing is not wholly satisfactory, he shall be deemed to have passed in such subject if in the remaining part of the examination he shows a superiority in practical knowledge. If no such superiority is shown and the candidate's practical knowledge is such as would otherwise have been accepted he should be failed in drawing, but if it is below the ordinary standard he should be failed in elementary or practical knowledge, as the case may require.

75. Elementary Questions.—All candidates will be required to fill up form Exn. 15b, and to give written answers to ten questions which may be selected from the Elementary Questions, or may be new questions somewhat similar in form and covering much the same ground. These questions are intended to test the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to furnish evidence as to his handwriting, composition, and spelling.

The elementary questions will be given on the second or third day of the examination to candidates for second class, and on the third day to candidates for first class, but candidates who have time after working the arithmetical papers on the first day or the drawing on the second day may be allowed to go on with the Elementary Questions.

Candidates for First Class Certificates are expected to show their superiority by giving answers to the Elementary Questions more complete than those of the other candidates.

76. (1) Viva Voce.—Having regard to the fact that, when the verbal examination is held, the candidate has already passed in arithmetic, and in drawing or sketching, and has also written answers to the Elementary Questions, the Examiner should deal with practical, rather than theoretical, questions in this division of the examination; and no candidate should be failed in the verbal examination without having been well cross-questioned on the points for which failure takes place. Candidates may, however, if the Examiner is satisfied that the written paper fairly represents their knowledge, be failed in the written elementary paper without being examined vivâ voce. In cases where the Examiner approves of the elementary paper, but fails the candidate for lack of either practical or elementary knowledge, a written account of the points on which he failed must be forwarded to the Secretary, with the elementary papers.

(2) Engineers presenting themselves for examination should have an extensive knowledge of the particulars of actual casualties which have occurred at sea, and be able to state how these might have been prevented, and how remedied. If an engineer presents himself who has had no personal experience of any defects, and who can tell nothing about casualties to machinery which have occurred in the experience of others, he should be closely questioned as to his knowledge of boiler and engine construction and the repairs of same.

(3) Questions on the management of engines and boilers at sea, the duties of the engineer on watch, the work to be done to the engines, boilers, and auxiliary machinery in port, and the periodical examinations of the working parts, should form part of the vivâ voce examination.

77. Failure in Examination.—(1) If the candidate fails in practical knowledge, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service at sea as Engineer on watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going or home-trade steam-ship, or in the main engine-room of a foreign-going or home-trade ship propelled by internal combustion engines, as the case may be, or equivalent service in a ship trading between ports on the coast of Victoria (four and a half months) subsequent to the date of failure. If he fails in arithmetic, elementary questions, or drawing only, he may, subject to the reservation herein contained, come up again at any time, but in all cases of failure any re-examination must begin entirely afresh.

(2) Failure in a number of the Elementary Questions involving fundamental principles, or in questions, ignorance of which might lead an engineer to do something actually unsafe in the management of any part of a ship's machinery, will be regarded as failure in practical knowledge.

(3) If a candidate fail three times in any part, or parts, of the examination within any period of three months he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of the last failure.

78. Penalty for Copying, Etc.—In the event of any candidate being discovered referring to any book or paper, or copying from another, or affording any assistance, or giving information to another, or communicating in any way with another, during the time of examination, or copying any part of the problems for the purpose of taking them out of the examination rooms, he will subject himself to all the penalties of failure, and will not be allowed to be again examined for a period of six months, or, if a candidate for an Extra First Class Certificate, for twelve months.

In the event of the offence being repeated, double the penalty specified will be enforced.

79. Penalty for Breach of Rules.—Any candidate violating any of the regulations, or being guilty of insolence to the Examiner, or of disorderly or improper conduct in or about the examination room, will render himself liable to the postponement of his examination, or, in the event of his having passed, to the detention of his certificate for such period as the Board may direct.

80. Reports of Examinations.—Reports of examinations, together with the examination papers, must be forwarded by the Examiner to the Secretary immediately the examinations are completed.

The foregoing regulations were made and passed at a meeting of the Marine Board of Victoria, held this second day of September, in the year of our Lord One thousand nine hundred and twenty.

COUNTRY ROADS BOARD.

At the Executive Council Chamber, Melbourne, the fourteenth day of September, 1920.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor of Victoria.

Mr. Lawson,

Mr. Baird.

Developmental Roads Act 1918 (No. 2944).

DECLARATION OF DEVELOPMENTAL ROADS UNDER THE DEVELOPMENTAL ROADS ACT IN THE SHIRES OF DIMBOOLA AND DONALD.

RESOLUTION CONFIRMED.

WHEREAS by Resolution set out below and dated the thirtieth day of August One thousand nine hundred and twenty the Country Roads Board incorporated under the Country Roads Act 1915 (No. 2635) being of opinion that the roads set out or described in the Schedule to the same are of sufficient importance and will serve to develop areas of land (whether alienated from the Crown or not) by providing access to railway stations or to main roads leading to railway stations, acting under the powers in that behalf conferred upon it by the Developmental Roads Act 1918 (No. 2944) declared such roads to be developmental roads within the meaning and for the purposes of the Developmental Roads Act 1918: And whereas the said Act amongst other things provides that the Governor in Council may by Order published in the Government Gazette confirm such Resolution whereupon any road or part thereof mentioned in such Resolution shall be a developmental road: And whereas it is deemed desirable to confirm the Resolution so made and passed by the said Country Roads Board: Now therefore His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Victoria by and with the advice of the Executive Council thereof doth hereby confirm such Resolution and declare upon the publication of this Order in the Government Gazette the roads mentioned in the Schedule to such Resolution of the Country Roads Board developmental roads within the meaning and for the purposes of the Developmental Roads Act 1918.

RESOLUTION OF THE COUNTRY ROADS BOARD ABOVE REFERRED TO.

Necessary Commodities Control Act 1919 (Act No. 3030).

PROCLAMATION

By His Excellency the Honorable SIR WILLIAM HILL IRVINE, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George; Lieutenant-Governor of Victoria and its Dependencies in the Commonwealth of Australia, &c., &c., &c.

IN pursuance of the powers conferred by the Necessary Commodities Control Act 1919 (Act No. 3030) to declare the highest price at which any necessary commodity may be sold or supplied either wholesale or by retail fixing different maximum prices for different parts of Victoria, I, the Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Victoria in the Commonwealth of Australia, by and with the advice of the Executive Council of the said State, do by this my Proclamation declare the highest prices at which Firewood (the same being a necessary commodity within the meaning of the said Act) may be sold or supplied wholesale or retail in Melbourne and Suburbs, shall be as follows:—

A.—Highest price, on sales by the truck; trucks to be properly loaded, and fully loaded to water-level, i.e., with all parts of the surface of the wood at least as high as the top edges of the sides of the truck.

Kind and Size of Wood.	On truck at siding, Melbourne or Suburbs.	On trucks at siding, country despatching station.	Where price is agreed for at a stage prior to wood being loaded into trucks.
Box Blocks (other than red box), 12 inches long or 14 inches long per standard "I" truck	£10 10s. per truck ..	£10 10s. per truck, less railway freight on 7 tons of firewood from despatching station to Arden-street siding, North Melbourne	Price as on trucks at siding at country despatching station less actual cost of carting (if any) and loading.
Blocks of red box, ironbark, or red gum, 12 inches long or 14 inches long per standard "I" truck	£9 7s. 6d. per truck	£9 7s. 6d. per truck, less railway freight of 6 tons of firewood from despatching station to Arden-street siding, North Melbourne
Blocks (other than box, ironbark, or red gum), or mixed blocks per standard "I" truck	£8 5s. per truck ..	£8 5s. per truck, less railway freight on 6 tons of firewood from despatching station to Arden-street siding, North Melbourne
All blocks 9 inches long Per 15-ton truck	7s. 6d. per standard "I" truck One and three-quarter times the price per standard "I" truck	7s. 6d. per standard "I" truck more than for blocks 12 inches long One and three-quarter times the price per standard "I" truck

B.—Where the ton is taken as the unit of sale, highest price per ton.

Box blocks (other than red box)	One-seventh of the price per standard "I" truck
All other blocks	One-sixth of the price per standard "I" truck

C.—Where a fuel merchant in Melbourne or suburbs is a bona fide wholesale purchaser at any of the above prices, and re-sells wholesale to another such fuel merchant.

Per standard "I" truck	Where the seller delivers to the buyer free, 30s. per truck in addition to the above prices. Where the buyer takes delivery on truck at siding, 10s. per truck in addition to the above prices
Per 15-ton truck	One and three-quarter times the last-named additions

Where the ton is taken as the unit of sale, one-seventh of the foregoing additions for box blocks (other than red box) and one-sixth thereof for all other blocks.

In all cases where the firewood has been or is carted from paddock or forest to railway siding or terminus of vendor's tram line after 31st July, 1920, and before 1st December, 1920, the maximum wholesale price may be increased by 10s. a truck, and the retail price by 1d. a cwt. (1s. 8d. a ton) on the condition that every vendor charging this increased price shall, before charging it, notify the Fair Profits Commission that he proposes to charge it because the firewood has been so carted during the period named.

FORTNIGHTLY LIST OF CROWN LANDS AVAILABLE (OTHER THAN MALLEE LANDS).

THE undermentioned areas are available for application, as provided by various sections of the Land Act 1915, and all applications received on or before Wednesday, the 20th October, 1920, will be deemed to have been simultaneously made, but any application lodged after such date may be considered if received in time for inclusion in the advertisement of the cases to be heard at the Local Land Board.

Applications on proper form, accompanied by 5s. duty stamp uncancelled (registration fee), may be delivered or forwarded by post to the Local Land Officer or to any Crown Lands Office in Victoria. Applicants may obtain from Local Land Officers, or the Enquiry Office, Lands Department, Melbourne, a certificate authorizing the issue by the Railway Department of a return ticket at concession fares to enable them to inspect available areas or to attend Local Land Boards. Specially reduced rates are also allowed for a selector when granted an allotment for removal of his family and belongings to the land.

A pamphlet explaining various sections of the Land Act 1915 may be obtained at a cost of 1s. Marked plans of any particular area, application forms, and any further information may be obtained from the Enquiry Office, Lands Department, Melbourne, and Land Officers, Alexandra, Ararat, Bairnsdale, Ballarat, Beechworth, Bonalla, Bendigo, Geelong, Hamilton, Horsham, Melbourne, Omsco, Sale, Seymour, Stawell, St. Arnaud, and Warracknabeal.

BOROUGH OF STAWELL.

Electric Light and Power Act 1915.

APPLICATION BY THE COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF STAWELL, UNDER THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER ACT 1915.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Council of the borough of Stawell intends to apply to the Governor in Council of the State of Victoria for an Order under sections 8 and 10 of the above Act.

(a) The object of the application is to obtain authority to supply electricity for public and private purposes, as defined by the said Act.

(b) The applicant is the Council of the borough of Stawell, and its address is Town Hall, Stawell.

(c) The area within which it is proposed to supply electricity is all that land included within the borough of Stawell, county of Borung, the exact limits of which are shown on a map, a copy of which, before the application is lodged, will be deposited with the Postmasters at Stawell and Stawell West, and at the Town Hall, Stawell.

(d) 1. The streets dedicated to public use, in or along which it is proposed that lines be, or may at any time be laid or erected, are the whole of the streets, roads, and rights-of-way throughout the said area.

2. But the applicant at present contemplates laying down or erecting lines only in the following streets or roads within the said area, viz.:

Darlington-road from Mathers-street to Walker-street, Walker-street from McLellan-street to Darlington-road, Ligar-street from Gertrude-street to Campbell-street, Lillian-street from Franklin-street to Bennett-street, Jennings-street from Ligar-street to Wimmera-street, Scallan-street from Wimmera-street to Church-street, Main-street from Frayne-street to Fisher-street, Patrick-street from Main-street to Hastings-street, Duke-street from Patrick-street to Hewitt-street, Grant-street from Wimmera-street to Hodges-street, Napier-street from Victoria-street to Colquhoun-street, Doyle-street from Brown-street to Wakeham-street, Brown-street from Doyle-street to Sloane-street, Luke-street from Seaby-street to Shirreff-street, D'Arcy-street from Playford-street to Seaby-street, Griffiths-street from Cooper-street to Smith-street, Longfield-street from Griffiths-street to Foster-street, Glenorchy-road from Bennett-street to Cemetery-road; and the whole of the following streets:—Woods, Moonlight, Byrne, Church, Oriental, Alfred, Alfred-lane, Wimmera, Bennett, Kofod, Houston, Campbell, Childe, Cemetery-road, Upper Clunes, Hewitt, Skene, Sloane, Wakeham, Shirreff, Crothers, Seaby.

(e) The applicant proposes to erect or lay down the lines, referred to in clause (d) 2 above within two years from the granting of the now proposed Order, and to extend them as may become necessary or advisable from time to time throughout the area, but the time within such extensions shall be made cannot now be specified.

(f) The following is a list of railways which the applicant proposes to interfere with in pursuance of the special powers to be inserted in that behalf in the proposed Order, viz.:—Victorian railways at level crossings (1) at junction of Main and Seaby streets, (2) at Sloane-street (by means of overhead wires).

(g) Copies of draft Order, and of the Order when made, can be obtained, at the price of One shilling per copy, at the Town Hall, Stawell, and at the office of T. W. Bridger, 450 Little Collins-street, Melbourne.

(h) Notices of objection, and other documents, may be served on the applicant at the following address:—Town Hall, Stawell.

Every council, company, person, or persons desirous of bringing before the Electricity Commissioners by whom the said Act is administered, any objection respecting this application must do so within three months from the date of the Government Gazette containing the advertisement, by notice addressed to the Electricity Commissioners marked on the outside of the cover enclosing it "Electric Light and Power Act 1915." A copy of every such notice of objection must be forwarded to the applicant for the Order.

Dated at Stawell this 17th day of September, 1920.

The common seal of the Mayor, Councillors, and Burgesses of the borough of Stawell was hereto affixed in the presence of—

(SEAL) CHAS. C. HUNT, Mayor.
GEORGE A. SMITH, Councillor.
D. MITCHELL, Councillor.
