IN PARLIAMENT.

SESSION 1926.

A BILL relating to the Corporation known as the "BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES."

NOTICE is hereby given that application is intended to be made in the ensuing session of the Parliament of the State of Victoria for leave to bring in a Bill for the following purposes, that is to say:—

1. To repeal the Act passed by the Governor and Legislative Council of New South Wales in the 14th year of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria intitled "An Act to Incorporate the Proprietors of a certain Banking Company called the Bank of New South Wales and for other purposes therein mentioned" (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1850").

2. To repeal the several Acts of the Parliament of Victoria called "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1855", "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1871", and "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1880".

3. To constitute the said Corporation a company deemed to have been incorporated outside the State of Victoria and to make applicable to such Corporation section 270 of the Companies Act 1915 of the Parliament of the State of Victoria in the same manner in all respects as if having been so incorporated the Corporation had commenced to carry on business in Victoria immediately after the passing into law of the above-mentioned Bill.

The objects of the Bill are to place the Corporation on the footing of a company incorporated outside Victoria, and so enable the Corporation by registration under section 270 of the Companies Act 1915 of the Parliament of Victoria to exercise the same powers as it is entitled to exercise in New South Wales under the Statutes in force there relating to the Corporation and to render it subject to the same limitations and restrictions as are imposed by such Statutes in lieu of those imposed by the Acts sought to be repealed.

And notice is hereby also given that printed copies of the said Bill will be deposited with the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, at State Parliament House, Melbourne, not later than the 21st day of May, 1926, and that the said Bill will be intitled "A Bill relating to the Corporation called the Bank of New South Wales."

And notice is hereby also given that copies of the several Acts herein referred to may be inspected at the office of Messrs. Malleson, Stewart, Stawell, and Nankivell, 46 Queen-street, Melbourne.

NOTE.—The Corporation was incorporated by the said Act of 1850 passed by the Governor and Legislative Council of New South Wales at a time when the territory of the State of Victoria was included in the colony of New South Wales. By virtue of section 14 of the Acts Interpretation Act 1915 of the Parliament of Victoria, the Act of 1850 has separate legislative effect in the State of Victoria with the result that the Corporation may be in the position of having been separately incorporated in New South Wales and Victoria. In the State of New South Wales the Corporation now has the powers and is subject to the restrictions appearing in the several Acts of the Parliament of that State relating to the Corporation, and in the State of Victoria it now has materially different powers and is subject to materially different limitations and restrictions, namely, those conferred and imposed by the Act of 1850, the said "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1855", the said "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1871", and the said "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1880." The total amount of certain descriptions of debts, engagements, and liabilities which may be incurred by the Corporation is limited by section IV. of an Act passed by the Governor and Legislative Council of New South Wales in the 18th year of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria to three times the amount of the actual paid up capital stock of the Corporation and by section III. of the said "The Bank of New South Wales Act 1855" (the repeal of which Act is sought, the amount of such debts, engagements, and liabilities in Victoria is limited to three times the amount of coin held by the bank there.

In the year 1923 the Parliament of the State of New South Wales passed an Act called the "Bank of New South Wales Act 1923" repealing certain sections of the Acts in force in that State relating to the Corporation and conferring upon the Corporation certain extended and enlarged powers, short particulars of which powers are as follow:—

- (a) to carry on any banking business;
- (b) to buy and deal in securities;
- (c) to establish agencies;
- (d) to act as agents;
- (e) to issue letters of credit;
- (f) to make advances by way of cash credits;
- (g) to make other advances on lands, live stock, policies, debentures, bills of exchange, and other property;
- (h) to make other advances on other securities;
- (i) to manage lands and other property;
- (j) to invest moneys in any manner;
- (k) to negotiate loans and advances of money;
- (l) to receive moneys and valuables on deposit or for safe custody or otherwise;

- (m) to borrow or raise money for any of the purposes of the business of the Corporation and to secure the repayment thereof;
- (n) to purchase any business similar to that carried on by the Corporation;
- (o) to amalgamate with any other company or corporation having similar objects to the Corporation;
- (p) to sell the business and undertaking of the corporation;
- (q) to buy or acquire shares in other companies;
- (r) to apply for any Act of Parliament for enabling the Corporation to carry any of its objects into effect;
- (s) to guarantee the payment of money;
- (t) to carry on any business of bankers, money changers, bullion and exchange brokers, financiers, and capitalists as principal or agent;
- (u) to give guarantees to the Customs or other public authorities;
- (v) to guarantee the due fulfilment of contracts;
- (w) to undertake the office of treasurer and to keep any register relating to stocks, funds, shares or securities;
- (x) to establish and support or aid benefit funds;
- (y) to promote any company calculated to benefit the Corporation;
- (z) to do all or any of the above things in any part of the world;
- (aa) to do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects.

Dated this 29th day of March, 1926.
