She shall inquire as to the course of her previous pregnancies, confinements, and lying-in periods (if any) as regards both mother and child. She shall advise as to personal and general arrangements for the confinement and, where necessary, visit the house. Where the arrangement for the confinement is made with the management of a maternity hospital, the matron or other midwife of such hospital shall carry out the above requirements.

29. In the case of a primipara, or where illness or abnormality has occurred in connexion with any previous pregnancy, or where any previous pregnancy has ended in an abortion, a premature birth, or a still-birth, the midwife shall explain to the patient that her case is one in which the advice of a medical practitioner is required. She shall urge the patient to seek such advice, or attend at a hospital or a pre-natal clinic or other suitable institution.

30. In the event of any abnormality existing or occurring during pregnancy, labour, or lying-in, the midwife in attendance shall explain to the husband, or the nearest relative or friend present, that the case is one in which the attendance of a medical practitioner is required.

31. For the purposes of these Regulations, the conditions mentioned in the Third Schedule hereto shall be deemed to be abnormalities, and the midwife shall explain that a medical practitioner should be summoned urgently.

32. Before touching the external genital parts of any patient the midwife shall on each occasion tuck up the sleeves of her dress and surgically cleanse her hands and forearms, and whenever making an internal examination she shall, in addition, wear sound sterile rubber gloves.

33. The midwife shall early during labour thoroughly cleanse the external genital parts with soap and water, and then swab them with an efficient antiseptic solution. In particular, the parts shall be swabbed with the antiseptic solution on the following occasions:—

- (a) before making the first or any subsequent vaginal examination;
- (b) after the termination of labour;
- (c) daily during the lying-in period whenever washing or cleansing is required;
- (d) before and after passing a catheter.

34. The swabbing with an antiseptic solution shall be repeated before a douche is given and before any manipulative procedure is carried out. For this purpose the midwife shall use only sterile absorbent cotton wool or other clean sterile material.

36. No midwife shall make any vaginal examination contrary to the instructions of the medical attendant.

42. In the case of a child born apparently dead, the midwife shall carry out the methods of resuscitation which have been taught her.

43. On the birth of a child which is in danger of death, the midwife shall inform one of the parents, or nearest available relative, of the child's condition.

44. The midwife shall examine the placenta and membranes after they have been expelled and satisfy herself that they are complete.

45. As soon as possible after delivery, the midwife shall remove, or cause to be removed, from the lying-in room all soiled linen, blood, urine, faecal matter, placenta, and membranes.

Management of Puerperium.

46. The midwife shall be personally responsible for the daily washing of the mother and infant, the dressing of the cord, and for the cleanliness and comfort of the patient.

Except where a medical practitioner is in attendance, she shall also be responsible for the proper dieting of both mother and child during the lying-in period, which shall be held, in a normal case, to mean the time occupied by the labour and a period of ten days thereafter.

47. A midwife who leaves a patient whom she has attended in labour shall re-visit such patient within twelve hours immediately following the delivery, and thereafter twice daily during the period for which she is engaged. If prevented from attending twice daily, she shall enter the reason in her case-book. She shall take and record the pulse and temperature of the patient twice daily, and oftener if necessary, and enter the details in a note-book or on a chart, which shall be carefully preserved. In addition, particulars of any drugs other than simple aperients which have been administered by her to the patient shall be noted.

Procedure Regarding Infectious Diseases.

48. Where a midwife has been in attendance on a septic case, or a case of infectious disease, or has been in contact with any one so suffering, or has an inflamed or septic wound on any part of her body, she shall cease to attend any fresh midwifery case for a period of seven days, or for such time as the Board thinks fit.

49. Before receiving permission to resume practice, she shall forward to the Board a certificate from a medical practitioner that she has disinfected herself, her clothing, and all her instruments and appliances in the manner prescribed hereunder, and that she is now free from infection.

50. Every midwife who has been exposed to infection in the manner indicated in clause 48 hereof shall—

- (a) remove all her clothing and take a bath in a hot disinfecting solution;
- (b) treat the hair with an efficient disinfecting lotion;
- (c) immerse all washable clothing in an efficient disinfecting solution for half an hour prior to washing;
- (d) suspend all clothing that cannot be washed in a closed chamber, and subject same to the fumes of formaldehyde for six hours;
- (e) boil for half an hour all instruments and appliances that are not injured by heat;
- (f) immerse all instruments and appliances injured by heat in an efficient disinfecting solution for half an hour.

51. Disinfecting processes shall be carried out as prescribed in the Fifth Schedule hereto.

60. Every midwife shall keep a record in or to the effect of Form 20 of the First Schedule hereto, of all cases attended to by her. On request, she shall allow any person authorized by the Board to inspect the instruments, appliances, and all records required to be kept by her, and make extracts from or copies of such records.

61. Any midwife who disobeys these Regulations, or who is guilty of misconduct or malpractice, may be suspended from practice for such period as the Board orders, or her name may be removed from the register by the order of the Board; but before the enforcement of any suspension or removal such midwife shall have an opportunity of giving an explanation, either personally or in writing.

FIFTH SCHEDULE.

Disinfection.

"Antiseptic" means any substance which has the power of preventing the growth and multiplication of germs. Disinfectants of weak strength are antiseptic in action.

"Asepsis" means a condition free from infective germs.

"Aseptic" means belonging to or pertaining to asepsis.

"Deodorant" means any substance which has the power of neutralizing bad odours. Some deodorants act by destroying the germs which produce the odour; others act by absorbing the odour, e.g., charcoal, and are not necessarily disinfectants.

"Disinfectant" means any substance which is capable of destroying the germs which cause infection, and includes heat, formalin, lysol, perchloride of mercury, permanganate of potash, carbolic, &c.

"Fumigant" means any substance which, when suitably treated, yields gas or fumes which act as an antiseptic or disinfectant.

"Germicide" has the same meaning as "disinfectant."

"Sepsis" means an infective condition of the body produced by disease germs.

"Septic" means belonging to or pertaining to sepsis.

"Septicemia" means a condition of the body when the germs of infection or their toxins are in the blood.

"Sterile" means free from germs.

Personal Disinfection.

The disinfecting solution referred to in clause 50 (a) may consist of one ounce (two tablespoons) to two gallons of water of Accol, Kerol, Cyllin, Hycol, Izal, or other standardized disinfectants of equivalent strength.

The hair may be treated with the following disinfecting solution:—

Formalin—2 drams.

Spirit rect.—1 oz.

Rose Water—to 10 oz.

The liquid is to be applied and thoroughly rubbed in so as to come in contact with all the hair.

Disinfection of Clothing.

The clothing referred to in clause 50 (c) may be disinfected in a similar solution to that recommended for a bath in the preceding paragraph.

To generate the formaldehyde fumes referred to in clause 50 (d) proceed in the manner indicated below:—

(1) Place a bucket or similar receptacle on the floor of the fume-chamber.

(2) Place crystals of permanganate of potash in the bottom of the bucket.

(3) Mix the formalin with an equal quantity of water, and pour over the crystals.

(4) Close the door of fume-chamber tightly.

For every one hundred cubic feet of space use two oz. of formalin, two oz. of water, and one oz. of permanganate of potash.

A cupboard or wardrobe may be used as a fume-chamber.

Disinfection of Instruments.

All instruments and appliances that are injured by boiling in water should be immersed for thirty minutes in a solution containing one teaspoonful of accol to one pint of water, or other standardized disinfectant of equivalent strength.

Liquor cresolis saponatus, lysol, pacolol, &c., may be used, but as the strength of these is about one-fifth of the germicidal strength of accol, the quantity of disinfectant required to be added to the water should be increased accordingly.

Instruments and appliances disinfected by chemical disinfectants should be thoroughly washed in freshly boiled water before use.

The midwife should be very careful that instruments and appliances are disinfected immediately before use in every case.

Disinfection of Arms and Hands.

Turn sleeves well above the elbows and fasten there.

Wash hands and arms thoroughly in hot water, using soap freely or in one per cent. solution of lysol or similar disinfectant (two teaspoonsful in a pint-and-a-half of water).

Pay special attention to the nails, and use a nail-brush vigorously.

Wash off all trace of soap in fresh water, and immerse hands for one minute, at least, in a solution of perchloride of mercury (one in five hundred), or of biniodide of mercury (one in one thousand).

Cleanliness and Disinfection of Eyes.

As soon as the head is born, and if possible, before the eyes are opened, the eyelids should be cleansed by gently wiping them with cotton wool swabs moistened with a weak solution of boric acid (a small teaspoonful to a pint of boiled water).

This should be repeated after the child is washed.

If there be any reason to suspect that the mother may be suffering from gonorrhœa, then drop, with a special drop-bottle, two drops of a one per cent. solution of nitrate of silver into each eye.

NOTE.—The foregoing particulars as regards disinfection are given only as a general guide for midwives; they should consult the medical attendant in all matters relating to the use of disinfectants.

PARTIES GENERALLY.

17. All persons may be joined in one special complaint as complainants, in whom any right to relief in respect of or arising out of the same transaction or series of transactions is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally, or in the alternative, where, if such persons brought separate complaints, any common question of law or fact would arise.

Complaint against two or more persons.
Cf. S.C.R., Or. XVI., rule 1.

18. When any person entitled to any relief jointly with any other person or persons is unable from any cause to procure the consent of any such person to join as co-complainant, he may make him a defendant.

When person entitled as co-complainant may be made defendant.

Defendants may be sued jointly, severally, or in the alternative. Cf. S.C.R., Or. XVI., rule 4. Complainant in doubt may join defendants for alternative redress. Ib., rule 7.

19. All persons may be joined as defendants against whom the right to any relief is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally, or in the alternative, and orders may be made against such one or more of the defendants as may be found to be liable.

20. Where the complainant is in doubt as to the person from whom he is entitled to redress, he may join two or more defendants to the intent that the question as to which (if any) of the defendants is liable, and to what extent, may be determined as between all parties.

21. Trustees, executors, and administrators may sue and be sued on behalf of or as representing the property or estate of which they are trustees or representatives, without joining any of the persons beneficially interested in the trust or estate, and shall be considered as representing such persons, but the court or a magistrate may, at any stage of the proceedings, order any of such persons to be made parties either in addition to or in lieu of the previously existing parties.

22. In cases not coming within the provision of the Justices Act 1928, section 80, an infant may sue on a special complaint by his next friend, and may defend by his guardian appointed for that purpose.

If the infant fails in or discontinues his special complaint and does not pay the amount of costs ordered to be paid by him to the defendant, proceedings may be taken for the recovery of such amount from the next friend as for the recovery of a debt under an order of the court for the payment of money.

24. Where an infant defendant appearing at the hearing of a special complaint names a person as his guardian, who then assents so to act, such person shall be appointed guardian accordingly; but if the defendant does not name a guardian the court may appoint any person in court willing to act as guardian, or in default of such person the court shall appoint the clerk to act as guardian, and the special complaint shall thenceforth proceed as if the infant had named a guardian and the name of the guardian appointed shall be entered in the register, but no responsibility shall attach to the person so appointed guardian at the instance of the court.

25. In all special complaints or matters to which an infant or person of unsound mind, whether so found by inquisition or not, is a party, any consent as to the mode of taking evidence or as to any other procedure given by the next friend, guardian, committee or other person acting on behalf of the person under disability shall, with the consent of the court or a magistrate, have the same force and effect as if such infant were under no disability and had given his consent.

26. Any two or more persons claiming to be interested or liable as co- Partners. partners may join in bringing a special complaint, or may be joined as Cf. Rules under defendants in a special complaint in the names of their respective firms (if Justices Act 1915, rule 19. any) and any person carrying on business in the name of a firm apparently consisting of more than one person may be sued in the name of such firm.

Where the defendant wishes to pay money into court he shall pay the same three clear days at least before the return-day, together with the cost of issuing and serving the summons, and, if the summons has been prepared and obtained by a solicitor, together with a further sum to be fixed by the clerk at the time of payment into court for professional costs; and the defendant shall forthwith after such payment send notice thereof to the complainant. But when the complainant does not receive notice of such payment having been made within a reasonable time before the sitting of the court at which the summons is returnable, or where he has properly incurred further costs before he received notice of such payment, the court may order the defendant to pay such additional costs as to the court seems just.

78. A defence of tender shall not be available unless the defendant three clear days before the return day pays into court (which payment may be without costs) the amount alleged to have been tendered.

But in default of such notice the complaint may go on for hearing, and the defendant shall be entitled to an order for such costs as in the opinion of the court he has properly incurred after such payment into court, unless the complainant recovers a sum larger than the amount paid into court.

82. Where under rules 80 and 81 money has been paid into court with a denial of liability, and the complainant has accepted the same in full satisfaction of his claim, and has sent the notice required under the preceding rule, he shall be entitled to have the money paid out to him on request. Provided that such money shall not be paid out unless the clerk has satisfied himself that notice of acceptance has been duly sent or delivered to the defendant.

83. In any special complaint in which a sum of money has been awarded to or recovered by an infant or person of unsound mind, the magistrate may at or after the hearing order that the whole or any part of such sum shall be paid into court to the credit of an account intitled in the special complaint; and any sum so paid into court may either be invested or be paid from time to time out of court to such person as the magistrate may direct, to be held and applied for the benefit of such infant or person of unsound mind in such manner as the magistrate from time to time directs.

REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION.

84. (1) If the parties to a special complaint agree to refer the subject thereof to arbitration and notify such agreement to a magistrate in writing signed by themselves or their solicitors, naming one or two persons as arbitrators, such agreement may be lodged with the clerk, and the magistrate shall order such reference and on such terms as to costs and fees to the arbitrator or arbitrators as may be reasonable.

The lessee must reside on his allotment until the land becomes freehold. A Crown grant may issue after twelve years, provided the full amount of the purchase money is paid, if the conditions of lease have been complied with.

Advances to a maximum amount of £625 may be made for the purchase of stock and implements, erection of buildings, fencing, clearing, &c.

The lessee cannot transfer, assign, mortgage, or sublet the whole or any part of his allotment within the first three years of the lease.
