25. Motions to be Moved in Order.—Except by leave of the Commissioners, motions shall be moved in the order in which they have been received and recorded by the Trust secretary in the notice of motion book, and if not so moved or postponed, shall be struck out.

26. Motions not to be Proceeded with in the Absence of the Mover.—No motion entered in the notice of motion book shall be proceeded with in the absence of the Commissioner who gave notice of the same, unless by some other Commissioner producing written authority from him to that effect.

35. Amendment to Become the Question.—If an amendment be carried, the question or amendment as amended shall become itself the question, whereupon any further amendment upon any portion of the question coming after such first-mentioned amendment may be moved.

36. Second Amendment May be Moved.—If an amendment be negatived, then a second may be moved to the question to which the first-mentioned amendment was moved, but only one amendment shall be submitted to the Commissioners for discussion at one time.

40. Legal Questions.—If a debate or any motion moved and seconded be interrupted by the number of Commissioners present becoming insufficient for the transaction of business, such debate may be resumed at the point where it was so interrupted on motion upon notice.

41. Order of the Day to be Restored.—If a debate on any order of the day be interrupted by such insufficiency of number as aforesaid happening, such order may be restored to the notice-book for a future day, on motion upon notice; and then such debate may be resumed at the point where it was so interrupted.

42. Voting.—Whenever a division shall be demanded by any Commissioner, those voting in the affirmative shall first hold up their hands, and then those voting in the negative shall hold up their hands, and the result be declared by the chairman. Provided that sustenance shall not be granted to any applicant or his dependants whilst such applicant is in receipt of payments under the Workers' Compensation Act 1928, except where the amount of compensation paid is less than the amount of sustenance at rate that would ordinarily be payable in respect of the particular family unit concerned if no work were performed therefor, in which case orders amounting to the difference between such compensation and the said rate shall be issued by the Public Assistance Committee.

The issue of such orders shall be continued only for a period of four weeks after the commencement of payment of such compensation, but if the Public Assistance Committee is of opinion that the case is one of particular hardship it may, with the approval of the Minister, extend the period of four weeks for such further period as the Minister may determine.

Provided further that in the case of an applicant who has performed seasonal work sustenance shall not, until the expiration of a period of 52 weeks from the date of commencement of the last period of seasonal work performed (whether broken or otherwise) be granted where the average weekly income of such applicant not being income received by him merely as a casual worker, and all members of the family residing with him, or with whom he is residing for a period of twelve months immediately preceding the date of application, or for the period from the 27th day of November, 1933, to the date of application, whichever period is the shorter, exceeds by 25 per cent. or more the weekly permissible income for the family unit of the applicant.

Where, however, the applicant during employment has not resided with his family, and has not received free board and lodging from any source, 75 per cent. only of the amount earned as aforesaid by seasonal work shall be included in total family income.”
