CHAPTER II.—APPOINTMENT AND PROMOTION IN THE GENERAL DIVISION.

Public Service Act 1928 and the Lunacy Acts.

Registration and Examination of Applicants.

1. Every applicant (except for the position of Messenger) must at the date of his application be between the ages of twenty-one and forty-one years, and must forward to the office of the Director of Mental Hygiene an application in his own handwriting, stating his full name and address, the date and place of birth, and the particular appointment or class of appointment which he desires to obtain. He must also send in a certificate of good moral character and industry, as well as a certificate of suitability for employment from either the Director of Mental Hygiene or the Medical Superintendent of one of the Hospitals.

Nurses should be approximately 5 ft. 3 in. in height, and Attendants 5 ft. 8 in., with correspondingly good physical development, and in their form of application they should state what their previous occupation or work has been.

Applicants for the positions of Messenger must be between the ages of sixteen and twenty; Messengers will not be retained after they have reached the age of twenty-one years.

2. Every applicant to be recorded for appointment to any office requiring the exercise of skill usually acquired in some mechanical trade or other occupation must satisfy the Director, by the production of certificates or otherwise, that he possesses the handicraft and experience necessary for the work of the office.

3. On the production of these certificates applicants may have their names entered in the "Register of Applicants for Employment," and will be nominated as vacancies occur. Prior to nomination, however, it will be necessary for applicants to furnish a certificate of good physical health.

4. New appointments, all things being equal, will be made from among those persons whose names are entered in the "Register of Applicants for Employment" according to priority of registration for vacant offices, combined with fitness in each case for the particular office to be filled, and the Educational Test Examination having been passed; but the Director may nominate any applicant who has special qualifications without regard to his position on the Register.

5. If any person decline to accept an appointment which is offered to him, his name will thereupon be removed from the Register. The name of a candidate may also be removed from the Register if he fail to reply within seven days to any communication from the Director respecting his nomination to the Department of Mental Hygiene addressed to him at his last place of residence known to the Director.

6. No name of any person shall remain on the Register as that of a person qualified for appointment after he shall have attained the age of forty-one years, or for a longer period than six months from date of registration.

7. Any person appointed under these Regulations will be on probation for twelve months, and the Attendants will be required prior to their probationary appointment to pass an examination which will prove the sufficiency of their education.

The subjects of examination shall be those specified hereunder:—

- (a) Handwriting: to be tested by copying out at least 200 words from a passage of simple English.
- (b) Spelling: to be tested by writing from dictation an extract from a newspaper—not less than 100 words.
- (c) Arithmetic: first four rules, simple and money.

Applicants who have passed any examination for candidates for appointment in the Public Service of Victoria, or any like examination, will be exempted from this examination. Persons appointed to positions in the General Division other than those of Attendants will not be required to pass the Educational Examination, i.e., Hospital Trained Nurses, Nurses, Artisans, and Servants.

Applicants for employment as Attendant on the staff of the Department of Mental Hygiene who enlisted in any Expeditionary Force raised in Victoria or (in the case of a person born in Victoria) raised in Australia for naval or military service with His Majesty's Navy or Army during the war commencing in the year One thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and left Victoria or (as the case may be) Australia with such Force, may have their names recorded in the Register of Applicants, and may be given preference in appointment after having passed the Education Test Examination provided by Regulation No. 7. A Military Discharge must be produced in every case.

First Departmental Examination.

8. Attendants and Nurses appointed under these Regulations must qualify themselves for retention on the staff of the Department of Mental Hygiene and for subsequent increments to their salaries by attending the necessary courses of lectures in Elementary Anatomy and Physiology, First Aid to the injured, and General Duties.

Failure of an Attendant or Nurse to pass the Departmental Examinations within the times specified will be considered to be evidence of incapacity to discharge the duties of his or her office; and the retention of Attendants and Nurses on the staff will be conditional on their passing these examinations. No Attendant or Nurse will be retained on the staff of the Department of Mental Hygiene unless he or she has passed the First Departmental Examination.

9. The First Departmental Examination cannot be undertaken before the Attendant or Nurse has been in the service of the Department of Mental Hygiene for a period of one year. In the event of a failure to pass at the first attempt, on the recommendation of the Medical Superintendent, the Director may approve of a second opportunity to pass the examination being given.

Second Departmental Examination.

10. The Second Departmental Examination—in general nursing and duties—cannot be undertaken until after the end of the second year of service in the Department of Mental Hygiene, but the Attendants and Nurses must present themselves for this Examination before the end of the fourth year of service, dating from the time of appointment on probation. In the event of a failure to pass this second examination at the first attempt, on the recommendation of the Medical Superintendent, the Director may approve of other opportunities to pass the examination being given. In the event of a second failure to pass, however, the services of the unsuccessful candidate may be dispensed with.

11. The first increment will only be recommended to the Attendant or Nurse conditional on the First Departmental Examination having been passed, and if he or she is approved of by the Medical Superintendent and the Director, and on the production of a certificate of good conduct and diligence from the Medical Superintendent of the Mental Hospital where he or she is employed. The second increment will not be recommended until the Second Departmental Examination has been passed. Attendants will not be recommended for the third increment until the Third Departmental Examination has been passed.

Third Departmental Examination.

12. The Third Departmental Examination in mental disorders, nursing, and duties, together with elementary anatomy and physiology of brain and nervous system, can only be undertaken after the third year of service and one year after the passing of the Second Examination. On the passing of this examination a certificate will be given to the successful examinee setting forth that he or she is a Trained Mental Attendant or Nurse. In the event of failure other opportunities will be given to pass on the recommendation of the Medical Superintendent. This Examination will qualify Attendants and Nurses for promotion to the Second Grade. Attendants and Nurses who passed the Second Nursing Examination provided by the previous Regulations will be eligible for promotion to the Second Grade without passing the Third Nursing Examination provided by these Regulations. Before being eligible for promotion to the position of Head Attendant or Hospital Attendant and Chief Nurse or Hospital Nurse they must pass the Third Examination.

13. In determining the claims of officers to promotion, consideration will be given to the particular qualifications required for the vacant office, merit, good and diligent conduct, length of service, relative seniority, and the nature of the work performed hitherto by the applicant. In the nursing staff, the possession of the Departmental Nursing Certificate will be considered the essential qualification.

14. For promotion to the First Grade selection will be made from among those Attendants and Nurses who have passed into the Second Grade, and who have, by reason of their special fitness for the work, as well as by their good conduct and industry, proved themselves capable of taking charge of a large and important ward.

15. Except in a case in which the Director shall certify that some particular office in the Department of Mental Hygiene should be filled by a Hospital Trained Nurse, the person to fill the position of Hospital Attendant or Hospital Nurse may be selected from among the Attendants and Nurses who have demonstrated their capacity for the special work required of them.

16. Officers appointed to any position in the Department of Mental Hygiene shall not, until they shall have served for a period of five years on the staff of the Department, be transferred to any other Department or Branch unless such transfer is determined to be in the interests of the Public Service.

Board of Examiners.

17. All Departmental Examinations will be conducted by a Board of Examiners, which will consist of the Director or a Deputy appointed by the Director, and one or two Medical Superintendents or Deputy Superintendents as may be considered necessary appointed by the Director.

18. The subjects for the Departmental Examinations shall be those set forth in the syllabus of lectures adopted from time to time and issued to each Mental Hospital, the text-book being as prescribed from time to time.

19. The employees at the Children's Cottages, Kew, and the Reception Houses, so far as is practicable, will be subject to the same rules as the employees in the Mental Hospitals.

20. In accordance with the exigencies of the Department, and in order to facilitate the better training of Attendants and Nurses, the Director may transfer an Attendant or Nurse from one Hospital to another, or from the female side to the male side of the same Hospital where the nursing of male patients is undertaken by female Nurses.

21. All probationers and persons appointed on the staff of the Department of Mental Hygiene will be required to sign the agreement hereunder at the time of entry on duty.

CHAPTER III.—CLASSIFICATION OF THE GENERAL DIVISION.

Public Service Act 1928 and the Lunacy Acts.

1. In the case of appointments, promotions, or transfers to any office in the General Division in the Department of Mental Hygiene, the scale or amount of salary assigned to the several offices mentioned in the Schedule hereto shall be that respectively entered opposite the name of the office in such Schedule in the column headed "Yearly Rate of Pay."

2. In cases where no minimum salary is entered opposite the name of his office in the said Schedule every officer shall be entitled to receive pay at the maximum rate without addition thereto.

3. In cases where there is a minimum rate and a maximum rate, every officer shall be entitled to receive salary at a rate within the minimum and maximum limits to be approved by the Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Director of Mental Hygiene, provided that an officer on his first appointment to the Department shall be paid at not more than the minimum rate of his office.

4. Any officer transferred or promoted to any class or grade shall thereupon be deemed to be junior to any officer already in such class or grade, but notwithstanding anything in the Schedule hereto he shall be paid an amount not less than that which he was receiving immediately before such transfer or promotion. Officers who are transferred to the Attendants' or Nurses' staff from the Artisans' and Servants' staff, and who are in receipt of salaries at or above the maximum of the Third Grade, may be transferred to the Second Grade on the recommendation of the Director without regard to their seniority. They will, however, be required to pass the Educational and Departmental Examinations prior to being so transferred.

5. In the case of Attendants and Nurses, promotion from Grade to Grade may be approved by the Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Director, and shall be regulated in accordance with the special regulations for Attendants and Nurses.

6. Increments may be granted to officers appointed to the offices mentioned in the following Schedule, and at the rates set forth in the Schedule.

7. Where an officer previously to his transfer from one office to another has been paid the same salary as in his new office, time served in such former office may be counted in reckoning the interval for the first increment.

8. Every increment shall be discretionary, and no increment shall be payable except on the certificate of the Permanent Head of the Department and of the Director that such increment has been earned by good conduct and efficient service.

9. If any officer is in receipt of pay greater than the maximum rate, he shall continue to receive such pay until he can be employed upon work equivalent to his salary.

10. Failure on the part of Attendants and Nurses to pass the Nursing Examinations will be taken as inefficient service, and, should the examinations not be passed, increments will not be granted.

11. If any officer be absent from duty on account of illness, no deduction shall be made from the salary of such officer on account of allowances if the officer is under medical treatment at his own home or at a general hospital. In the case of the single men and the members of the female staff, it shall be at the discretion of the Medical Superintendent as to whether the officers shall remain at the Mental Hospital for treatment or be allowed to leave the institution. When an officer on sick leave on full pay is drawing his allowances the full charge for these allowances as provided by these Regulations will be made. When the officer is on half pay only, half the charge will be made. No charge is to be made should an officer be allowed leave without pay.

HIS Excellency the Governor of the State of Victoria, by and with the advice of the Executive Council thereof, and in pursuance of the provisions conferred by the Coal Mines Regulation Act 1928 (No. 3657), doth hereby make the Regulations following, that is to say:—

DEFINITIONS.

- "Pressure" means the difference of electrical potential between any two conductors through which a supply of electrical energy is given, or between any conductor and earth.
- "Extra low pressure" means pressure normally not exceeding 32 volts alternating current or 115 volts direct current.
- "Low pressure" means pressure normally exceeding 32 volts alternating current or 115 volts direct current, but not exceeding 250 volts in either case.
- "Medium pressure" means pressure normally exceeding 250 volts, but not exceeding 650 volts.
- "High pressure" means pressure normally exceeding 650 volts, but not exceeding 6,600 volts.
- "Extra high pressure" means pressure normally exceeding 6,600 volts.
- "Earthed" means connected to the general mass of earth in a manner that will ensure at all times an immediate and safe discharge of electricity.
- "Active conductor" or "active" means a conductor which is or may be maintained at a difference of potential from the neutral conductor of the supply system, or from earth. Where the supply system does not include a neutral or earthed conductor, all conductors, other than earthing conductors, shall be considered to be active conductors.
- "Neutral" (neutral conductor) means that conductor of a 3-wire or multi-wire system which is maintained at an intermediate and approximately uniform potential in regard to the active conductors.
- "Source of supply" shall mean the generator where the supply is taken from a generator or the transformer where the supply is taken from a transformer.
- "Cutout" (fusible cutout) means a device for opening a circuit in the event of over-current, by the fusion of a specially designed part thereof. It comprises all the parts which, together with their mounting, base and containing case or cover (if any) form the complete device.
- "Fuse link" means that part of a cutout which is designed to melt and thus open the circuit. It comprises the fusible metal and any end connexions forming part thereof.
- "Inspector" means the Inspector appointed by the Minister of Mines to carry out inspections.

The expression "a gassy place" means any place which is either—

- any place or part of a mine where General Rule 5 of section 51 of the Coal Mines Regulation Act 1928 applies; or
- any place or part of a mine where any quantity, however small (capable of being detected by an ordinary safety lamp), of inflammable gas has been given off within the previous six months; or
- any working which is within 20 yards of, or is being advanced towards, any locality where it is doubtful whether or not there may be an accumulation of inflammable gas, or any place in the same district on the return airway side of such working.

EXEMPTIONS AND MODIFICATIONS.

In any case where the Chief Inspector for Mines, upon application being made to him in writing by any mine manager proposing to make an installation, is satisfied that strict compliance with these Rules would involve expenditure out of proportion to the degree of freedom from electrical hazard, the Chief Inspector may excuse compliance with these Rules, with or without conditions.

No. 132.—8037.—2

GENERAL.

1. All electrical apparatus and conductors shall be sufficient in size and power for the work they may be called upon to do, and efficiently covered or safeguarded, and so installed, worked and maintained, as to reduce the danger, through accidental shock or fire or over-heating, to the minimum, and shall be of such construction, and so worked, that the rise in temperature caused by ordinary working will not injure the insulating materials.

All metal sheathing, metallic armouring of cables, metal boxes and conduits, frames of generators, transformers (including bell transformers), motors (including portable motors), metal cases and metal framework (if any) of switch-gear, the neutral point of three phase generators and transformers, the neutral conductor of a 3-wire system and one conductor on the secondary side of any single phase transformer shall be connected to earth. These connexions shall be made irrespective of the voltage of the supply.

All other portions of the electric lines and apparatus shall be kept effectively insulated from earth.

The minimum size of earthing conductor shall be 7/064-in. copper cable, except in the case of trailing cables of smaller cross sectional area than .0225 inch, in which case the size of the earthing conductor shall be not smaller than that of the current carrying conductors in the cable. Where the current carrying capacity of the active conductors exceeds 100 amperes, the current carrying capacity of the earthing conductor shall be at least one-half that of the active conductor. The earthing conductor shall be run in such a manner that it will not be liable to mechanical damage, and shall be connected to an earthing system at the surface of the mine. Joints, if any, shall be soldered and be of equal conductivity to that of the rest of the cable.

2. Where a medium-pressure supply is used for power purposes or for arc lamps in series, the conductors which form the connexions to the motors, transformers or lamps, or are otherwise used in connexion with the supply, shall be completely enclosed in strong armouring or metal casing effectively connected with earth; or they shall be fixed at such a distance apart, or in such a manner, that danger from fire or shock shall be reduced to the minimum. This rule shall not apply to trailing cables, which are dealt with under Rules 31 to 33 inclusive.

3. Motors of coal-cutting and other portable machines shall not be used at a pressure higher than a medium pressure.

4. Cables carrying a higher pressure than a medium pressure shall not be run underground except for transmission of electrical energy to transformers and induction motors in which the whole of the high pressure circuit is stationary.

The high pressure conductors (other than overhead lines above ground) which form the connexions of such motors or transformers, or are otherwise used in connexion with the supply shall be armoured cable, the armouring and lead sheathing of which shall be effectively connected with earth.

All high pressure machines and apparatus shall be so marked by the use of the word "Danger" and the voltage in large block letters, as to clearly indicate that they are supplied at high pressure.

For work underground, when furnished with a current at a pressure higher than medium pressure, a transformer shall not be of less normal rating than 10 kilowatts, nor shall a motor be of less normal rating than 20 brake horsepower.

5. A test of the insulation of every complete lighting and power circuit, including all machinery, apparatus, and devices forming part of or in connexion with such circuit (either collectively or in parts), shall be taken at least once a month; and a record of such test shall be made in a book kept for the purpose and signed by the person making the test. The insulation of every such circuit shall be so maintained that when tested with an instrument designed for measuring insulation resistance, and the testing pressure of which is 500 volts, the insulation resistance shall not be lower than 1 megohm, and in the event of that value not being obtained suitable steps shall be taken to localize and remedy the defect.

6. In every completely insulated system, earth or fault detectors shall be kept connected up in every generating and transforming station, to show immediately any defect in the insulation of the system. These instruments shall be inspected daily by a competent person.

7. No repair or cleaning of the current carrying parts of any electrical apparatus shall be done when the apparatus is alive.

Gloves, mats, or shoes of indiarubber or other non-conducting material, shall be supplied by the manager, and shall be used where necessary by the attendants.

8. Where electricity is used below ground for power or lighting purposes, there shall be employed a competent person, who shall be subject to the authority of the manager, and, in his absence, the under-manager, and shall have charge of all electrical machinery and apparatus in or about the mine, and who is in these Rules called "the electrician" or "electrician."

Where the supply is taken from a supply authority no electrical wiring work shall be carried out under these Rules except by a person who holds a licence or permit under the regulations of the State Electricity Commission relating to the Licensing of Electrical Mechanics, and any such work carried out on the surface of the mine shall comply with the provisions of the State Electricity Commission Wiring Regulations for the time being in force.

The electrician or some other competent person shall be on duty at the mine when the electrical apparatus or machinery is in use.

Every person appointed to work any electrical apparatus shall have been instructed in his duty, and be competent for the work that he is set to do.

9. A notice prohibiting any person other than an authorized person from handling or interfering with apparatus, shall be posted at every motor room. No person other than an authorized person shall enter a machine room or motor room; and no person shall wilfully damage, interfere with, or without proper authority, remove or render useless, any electric line, or any machine, apparatus or part thereof, used in connexion with the supply or use of electricity.

10. Fire buckets, filled with clean dry sand, or a chemical fire extinguisher, shall be kept in every electrical machine room, ready for immediate use in extinguishing fires.

11. Instructions shall be posted up at the pit-top or mine entrance, and in every generating, transforming and motor house, containing directions as to the restoration of persons suffering from electric shock. All employees working in connexion with the electrical apparatus shall be required to acquaint themselves with the instructions in question.

12. In every mine where electricity is used below ground for power or lighting purposes, direct telephonic or other equivalent means of communication shall be provided between the surface and the shaft bottom or main distributing centre underground.

13. Within three months after the coming into force of these Rules, notice in writing of any existing electrical installation must be sent to the District Inspector of Mines.

14. A plan, of a scale not smaller than 2 chains to 1 inch, shall be kept at the mine, showing the position of all electrical machinery permanently installed and fixed cables in the mine, and shall be corrected as often as may be necessary to keep it as nearly as practicable up to date, and never more than three months in arrears; and the Inspector shall be entitled to examine the plan, and for official purposes only, to make a copy of every part thereof.

RECORDS OF ELECTRICAL ACCIDENTS.

15. Every personal accident occurring in connexion with the operation of the electrical equipment (including electric shocks and burns) shall be promptly reported by the person injured or by some other person on his behalf at the office of the mine, and shall be there recorded. This record shall be produced to the Inspector on demand.

REPORT OF BREAKDOWNS, ETC.

16. In the event of breakdown of, or damage or injury to, any portion of the electrical equipment in the mine, or of overheating, or of the appearance of sparks or arcs outside the enclosing casings; or in the event of any portion of the equipment (not being a part of the electrical circuit proper) becoming alive; every such occurrence shall be promptly reported in a book, kept at the mine for the purpose, and signed by the person making such report.

GENERATING STATIONS, MACHINE ROOMS, AND OTHER SITUATIONS.

17. Where the generating station under the control of the owner or manager of the mine is not within 400 yards of the shaft mouth, or mine entrance, a switchbox or boxes, effectively enclosed and locked, or a locked switch-house, shall be provided near the mine entrance, and a linked isolating switch shall be installed there for cutting off the supply of electricity to the mine.

18. Switchboard panels shall consist wholly of durable non-ignitable, non-hygroscopic materials which, unless all live parts of apparatus mounted on or in contact with the panels are adequately insulated therefrom, shall also be insulating materials of permanently high electric strength and insulation resistance.

Marble and slate panels shall be used only provided all conducting parts to be mounted thereon are insulated from the panel by a coating of suitable varnish or other non-hygroscopic insulating material.

Switchboards must be fixed in as dry a situation as possible. Every sub-circuit shall be protected by a cutout or linked circuit-breaker on each pole; except in the case of a system with an earthed neutral conductor, in which case the cutouts shall be on the actives only.

All such cutouts must be of the safe handle type, and circuit-breakers, where used, must be of a type which will prevent remaking of the circuit while a fault exists.

No cable shall be run across the space at the back of the board except below the floor, or at a height of not less than 7 feet above the floor.

The space at the back of a switchboard shall be properly floored, accessible from each end, and shall be kept locked up; but the lock must allow of the door being opened from the inside without the use of a key. The floor at the back of the switchboard shall be firm and even.

Switchboards having live metal at the rear thereof shall be erected with minimum spaces between the live metal and the supporting wall as specified hereunder:—

Where the area of the switchboard does not exceed 4 square feet—4 inches.

Where the area of the switchboard does not exceed 16 square feet—1 foot.

Where the area of the switchboard exceeds 16 square feet—2 ft. 6 in.

Where a switchboard is mounted within 1 foot of an inflammable wall, the wall shall be protected by a fire resisting insulating material not less than 1-16 inch thick.

There shall be a passage way in front of any switchboard not less than 3 feet in width, and this space and any space at the rear of a switchboard shall be kept clean and free from obstructions of every kind.

19. Every generator shall be provided with a linked switch connected on each active conductor between the generator and the busbars.

Suitable instruments shall be provided for measuring the current and pressure of each generator.

Every feeder connected to the busbars in the generating station shall be connected through an ammeter on the main switchboard.

20. Circuit breakers must be so mounted that when the operating lever opens outwards, no danger exists of its striking the attendant.

Where the supply is at a high or extra high pressure there shall be no live metal work on the front of the main switchboard within 8 feet of the floor or platform, and the space provided under Rule 18 shall be not less than 4 feet in the clear. Insulating floors or mats shall be provided for switchboards where medium or higher pressure is used.

21. (a) Transformers and switchgear shall be placed in such positions as to ensure safety from danger by accidental contact or mechanical damage.

(b) Unless the apparatus is so constructed, protected, and worked as to obviate the risk of fire, no inflammable material, unless properly protected, shall be used in the construction of any room or chamber in which the apparatus is placed, within 3 feet of the current-carrying parts of any motor, transformer, or switchgear contained therein. Every such room or chamber shall be kept as dry as practicable and free from debris.

(c) Adequate working space and means of access clear of obstruction and free from danger shall be provided for all apparatus worked or attended to by any person, and all handles intended to be operated shall be conveniently placed for that purpose.

22. All terminals and live metal on machines shall be protected with insulating covers or with metal covers connected with earth or be otherwise protected to the approval of the Inspector.

23. If the transmission lines from the generating station to the shaft or mine entrance are overhead, lightning arresters shall be installed and be connected to each active conductor.

CABLES.

24. All conductors inside the mine shall conform to Australian Standard Specification No. C.50 and, except as hereinafter provided, shall be continuously covered with insulating material, and guarantees shall be obtained from the makers that the cables have been subjected to the tests detailed in that specification.

25. The size of the conductor (except in the case of overhead wires upon the surface and conductors inside motors) will be determined in accordance with the table appended to these Rules showing maximum current for copper conductors, column 3 of which refers to cables having insulation of Class A, and column 4 to cables having insulation of Class B, according to the following descriptions:—

Class A.—A dielectric which is impervious to moisture and only needs mechanical protection ("Dielectric" does not include the braiding or taping).

Class B.—Dielectric which, to be effective, must be kept perfectly dry, and therefore needs to be encased in a waterproof sheath, generally of soft metal such as lead, drawn closely over the dielectric.

Below ground, however, column 4 may be applied to cables having insulation of Class A, in cases where the atmospheric temperature never exceeds 100°F.

For the purpose of applying the table, the current in the conductor must be taken as equal to that required for the maximum number of motors, or other current-using apparatus, that are at any time used simultaneously on the circuit. Provided that, in the case of coal cutters, not in a longwall working, 20 per cent. shall be deducted from the normal working current. This proviso does not apply to trailing cables.

26. Unless fixed out of reach of injury, all conductors other than armoured cables, must, in addition to the insulation, be protected by a suitable covering. Where lead-covered cable is used the lead shall be protected from mechanical damage, be electrically continuous throughout and be connected to earth.

The exposed ends of cables, where they enter the terminals of switches, fuses, and other appliances, shall be properly protected and sealed so that moisture cannot creep along the insulating material within the waterproof sheath or the insulating material, if of an oily nature, leak out of the cable.

27. All joints must be mechanically and electrically efficient. They must be suitably soldered, or be connected by an approved connector. The insulation of joints must be equal to that of the original cable.

28. Overhead bare wires on the surface shall be properly secured to insulators 16 feet above ground and 7 feet from any building and clear of any traffic, and provided with efficient lightning arresters, if so required by the Inspector.

29. All cables used in shafts must be highly insulated and substantially fixed. Shaft cables not capable of sustaining their own weight shall be properly supported at intervals, varying according to the weight of the cable. The cables shall be boxed in or otherwise guarded and protected from falling material.

30. Where the cables in main haulage roads cannot be kept at least 1 foot from any part of the tub or tram, they shall be specially protected. When separate cables are used, they shall be fixed on opposite sides of the road, unless it is safer to have them on the same side, in which case they shall be kept as far apart as possible.

Cables and wires, unless provided with metallic coverings, shall not be fixed to walls or timbers by means of metallic fastenings.

Cables underground, when suspended, shall be supported by leather or other flexible material in such manner as to allow of their readily breaking away when struck, before the cables themselves can be seriously damaged.

Where main or other roads are being repaired, or blasting is being carried out, suitable temporary protection must be used, so that the cables are reasonably protected from damage.

31. Trailing cables for portable machines shall be specially flexible, heavily insulated, and protected with extra stout braiding, or hose pipes or be tough rubber compound cable or cable with equally effective covering. Trailing cables with bare metal armouring shall not be used for carrying current except at low pressure. Every trailing cable must contain an earthing conductor in addition to the current carrying conductor.

32. The separate conductors of a multiple trailing cable shall be divided at the motor end only for such a length as is necessary for the making of connexions to the motor; and the multiple cable with its outer covering complete shall be securely held by a suitable clamp on the motor frame in such manner as to protect the trailing cable from injury, and to prevent any mechanical strain being borne by any separate conductor electrically connected to the motor.

33. At points where the flexible conductors are joined to the main cables, a fixed terminal box shall be provided; and a switch and fuses shall be fitted in the terminal box capable of entirely cutting off the supply from the trailing cable.

34. A spare trailing cable shall be kept in each district of the mine where electric coal-cutting machines are in use; and in the event of the trailing cable in service breaking down, or being damaged in any way, or of its inflicting a shock upon any person, it shall be at once put out of service, and the spare cable shall be substituted therefor. The faulty cable shall not again be used until after it has been repaired and tested, at the surface of the mine, and passed by some competent person.

35. Each trailing cable in use shall be examined daily by a competent person for abrasions and other defects; and the result of such examination shall be recorded daily in a book, kept at the mine for the purpose, and shall be signed by the person making such report.

The machine men shall also be required to carefully observe the trailing cable, while in use, so as to detect defects; and, in the event of any defect becoming apparent, notice of the same shall at once be sent to an official of the mine.

36. All horse traffic shall be suspended on the part of every road along which a trailing cable is extended for the purpose of fitting a machine.

37. Trailing cables shall at all times be kept clear of the rails and traffic, except when fitting.

38. Each trailing cable shall have a distinguishing number, which shall be clearly indicated on a suitable label securely attached to the cable.

The insulation resistance of each conductor of every trailing cable shall be measured and recorded at least once per month; the resistance being taken between the conductor and the surrounding water after the whole cable with the exception of the ends has been immersed at least six hours.

The trailing cable must not be put into service unless the insulation resistance of each conductor measures at least 1 megohm after immersion as aforesaid.

For this test the manager must supply an instrument suitable for measuring resistances up to at least 100 megohms.

CUTOUPS, CIRCUIT-BREAKERS, AND SWITCHES.

39. Cutouts and automatic circuit-breakers shall be so constructed as to effectually interrupt the current when a short circuit occurs, or when the current through them exceeds twice the maximum working current in the case of motors, or twice the maximum permissible current of the cables which the cutouts protect. Cutouts shall be stamped or marked with the rated current of the circuit in which it is to be used, except that where there is no standard size of cutout of the same rating as the circuit, the cutout shall be rated and marked at the next higher standard rating.

Fuse links and the automatic trips for limiting the rupturing current of circuit-breakers shall only be adjusted and, except as provided in Rule 42, fuse links shall only be replaced by a competent person authorized by the manager.

40. All switches, circuit-breakers, and cutouts must have incombustible bases of marble, slate, or porcelain, or other suitable incombustible insulating material. All live parts of switches, circuit-breakers, and cutouts not in generating rooms or in compartments specially arranged for the purpose, must be covered. These covers must be of incombustible material, and must be either non-conducting or of rigid metal clear of all internal mechanism and connected to earth.

All switches and circuit-breakers shall be sufficiently robust as to withstand rough usage, the contacts shall have ample contact surface to prevent overheating, and the live parts shall be so guarded and protected that a person cannot come into contact therewith, nor an arc be formed during the normal operation.

41. All points at which a circuit (other than those for signals) has to be made or broken shall be fitted with proper switches.

RECORD OF GENERATOR CIRCUIT-BREAKER OR GENERATOR FUSE OPENING.

42. Cutouts shall not be replaced by any one except the electrician, or some other competent person appointed by the manager. A record of each instance of a generator circuit-breaker or generator cutout opening shall be made in the book kept in each generating station or room and signed by the person making the record.

MOTORS.

43. Every motor, together with its starting resistance, shall be protected by a cutout in accordance with Rule 18, and controlled by a switch capable of entirely cutting off the pressure. The switch shall be fixed in a convenient position near the motor; and every motor of 10 h.p. or over in a machine room underground shall be provided with a suitable ammeter to indicate the load on the machine. Where the rated horsepower of a motor installed underground exceeds 20 h.p., an automatic over-current circuit-breaker which opens on all poles simultaneously shall be provided to control the motor instead of the switch before-mentioned.

44. Where unarmoured cables or wires pass through metal frames or into boxes or motor casings, the holes shall be substantially bushed with insulating collars, and where necessary, with gas-tight bushings which cannot readily become displaced.

45. Terminal boxes of portable motors shall be securely attached to the machine, or must form a part thereof.

46. Where the insulation of a motor is found to become damp during a stoppage, it shall be tested to ensure that the insulation is dry before the working of the motor is resumed, in order that its base may not become alive.

WEEKLY REPORT OF EXAMINATION OF ALL PORTABLE MOTORS UNDERGROUND.

47. The casing or inspection doors of all portable motors used underground, and the casings of their switches and other appliances, shall at least once a week be opened by a competent person appointed by the manager, and the parts so disclosed shall be cleaned and examined before the coverings are replaced. In special cases requiring a motor to run continuously longer than one week, the motor shall be examined at the end of the run. A report of all such examination shall be entered in a report book and signed by the person who made the examination.

ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES.

48. Electric haulage by locomotives on the trolley-wire system shall not be permitted in coal mines, but in other mines shall be permitted provided that the supply is direct current.

49. In underground roads the trolley wires, unless sufficiently guarded, must be placed so that they are throughout at least 7 feet above the highest part of the road or track, or the pressure must be cut off from the wires at all times when such roads are used for travelling on foot. The hours during which travelling on foot therein is permitted shall be clearly indicated by notices and signals placed in conspicuous positions at the ends of and at all entrances into the roads. At other times no one except a person duly authorized by the manager shall be permitted to travel on foot along such roads.

50. Under the conditions indicated in the foregoing Rule, trolley wires may be used with current at a pressure not exceeding low pressure; but a pressure not exceeding medium pressure may be used on roads on which travelling on foot is not at any time permitted, except in the case of drivers of locomotives or of persons duly authorized by the management to travel only for the purposes of inspection and to effect repairs.

51. In connexion with the use of electric locomotives, either insulated returns or uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance may be employed, but in the case of an uninsulated metallic return, the drop in volts from the end to the source of supply must not exceed 7 volts per mile of track and not exceed 20 volts maximum.

LIGHTING.

52. Arc lamps shall be so guarded as to prevent pieces of heated carbon falling from them, and shall not be used in situations where there is likely to be danger from the presence of explosive dust. They shall be so screened as to prevent risk of contact with persons.

53. Wires for lighting circuits shall either be conveyed in conduits or casings; or they may be suspended from porcelain insulators, or tied to them with some non-conducting material which will not cut the covering, and so that they do not touch any timbering or metal work. On no account shall staples be used. Provided that where such wires are not protected by conduits or casings, stranded cable, not less than 7/029 inch, must be used. If metallic conduits are used, they must be electrically continuous and earthed. If separate uncased wires are used, they shall be kept at least 2 inches apart and not brought together except at lamps, switches, or fittings.

54. Electric lamps shall be replaced by a duly authorized competent person only, and while the lamps are being replaced the current shall be switched off.

55. Where portable lamps are used, the lampholder shall not be in metallic contact with the guard or other metal work of the fitting.

56. In all machine rooms and other places underground, where a failure of electric light is likely to cause danger, an adequate number of safety lamps or other proper lights shall be kept for use in the event of such failure.

57. Electric signal and telephone wires, whether insulated or not, shall be prevented from coming into contact with other electric conductors either by having both securely attached to insulators so that a clearance of 1 foot is maintained, or by the interposition of an insulating spacer which will maintain a distance of 2 inches between the conductors. Such spacer must extend at least 1 foot on both sides of the crossing conductor.

SPECIAL PRECAUTION IN GASSY PLACES.

58. In gassy places, gas and flameproof covers must be provided to enclose motors, lamps, switches, and cutouts. The fusable links shall be replaced by a competent person authorized by the manager to carry out such work. This proviso shall also apply to the adjusting of circuit breakers. Any plug fitting used in such a place must be of the interlocking type, interlocked with a gas-proof switch.

Conductors may be joined only in a gas-proof joint box by means of screwed connexions.

SHOT FIRING.

59. Current for shot firing purposes shall not be taken from any light or power circuit.

SIGNALLING.

60. The pressure used for aural signalling purposes shall not exceed 25 volts and, if alternating current, shall be obtained from a double wound transformer, one terminal on the secondary side of which shall be connected to earth. The use of auto-transformers is strictly prohibited.

Bell pushes used for signalling shall be so constructed as to prevent accidental closing of the circuit.

Conductors for signalling purposes connected on the secondary side of a transformer shall not be run in the same conduits as the conductors for power or lighting circuits.
