REGULATIONS UNDER THE GOODS ACT 1937.

IN pursuance of the powers conferred by the Goods Acts, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Victoria, by and with the advice of the Executive Council thereof, doth hereby make the following Regulations (that is to say):—

1. For the purpose of these Regulations, unless the subject-matter otherwise requires or indicates—

“Artificial or imitation leather” means any product which is made to represent leather or is a colourable imitation of leather, and which is in fact not a hide, pelt, or skin or a sheer portion of a hide, pelt, or skin, which has been manufactured into leather by any tanning or other process after its removal from any animal, and shall include crushed or ground or scrap leather when incorporated with any other material which forms a colourable imitation of hide, pelt, or skin manufactured into leather.

“Carbonized Wool” means wool which has been scoured and carbonized.

“Down” means a mixture containing not less than 75 per cent. by weight of superdown, and the remainder consisting solely of small light fluffy feathers.

“Eiderdown” means down obtained entirely from the eider duck.

“Featherdown” means a mixture containing less than 75 per cent. but not less than 33 per cent. by weight of superdown, and the remaining part of which consists entirely of small light fluffy feathers.

“Superdown” means the undercoating of waterfowl (other than eider duck) comprising only light fluffy filaments grown from quill points without quill shafts.

“Garmented Flock” means a filling material obtained by the tearing up or disintegration and the subsequent garmenting of any manufactured fabric or material, whether old or new.

“New-material Flock” means a filling material made entirely by the tearing up or disintegration, without subsequent garmenting, of new fabrics.

“Light-coloured Flock” means a filling material obtained by the tearing up or disintegration, without subsequent garmenting of fabrics, not less than 50 per cent. by weight of which are light-coloured factory cuttings.

“Black Flock” means a filling material obtained by the tearing up or disintegration, without subsequent garmenting, of old fabrics.

“Wadding” means a loosely fabricated sheet of fibres obtained by the disintegration of old or new fabrics.

“Mixture” means a filling material comprised of two or more different materials blended one with the other.

“New” when referring to any material means material which has not been used in the manufacture of another article or used for any other purpose.

“Previously Used” when referring to any material means material which has been used in the manufacture of another article or used for any other purpose.

2. (a) The trade description to be applied to bedding (including mattresses, pillows, bolsters, quilts, and cushions) or upholstered furniture pursuant to the Goods Acts, shall contain a statement of the kind or kinds of material used in the filling of such goods, and as to whether any such material is new or has been previously used. In any case where the filling material consists of a mixture of any materials the trade description shall indicate the fact that it is a mixture, and the percentage by weight of each material in the mixture: Provided that for the purpose of this paragraph a trade name for a filling material shall not of itself constitute a statement of the kind or kinds of material used in the filling. In the event of a covering of artificial or imitation leather being used in any article of upholstered furniture, the said trade description shall contain a statement clearly indicating that such covering is composed of artificial or imitation leather. If such covering is of real leather, the kind or class of such leather shall be stated in the trade description.

(b) Where the filling material used in such goods consists wholly or partly of one or more of the following materials—kapok, garmented flock, new-material flock, light-coloured flock, black flock, wadding, cocoanut fibre, carbonized wool, curled hair, superdown, down, eiderdown, featherdown, feathers, raw cotton, cotton lint, cotton linters, rayon, rubber—the appropriate name set out in this paragraph (without any additional or qualifying words), and no other name shall be used in stating any of such materials in the said trade description, and no other material or materials whatsoever shall be described in any trade description by such name, whether with or without any additional or qualifying words: Provided that—

(i) In the case of superdown, down, featherdown, and feathers, words may be added to indicate the type of bird from which such materials were derived.

(ii) If the filling material consists wholly or partly of wing or tail feathers, or feathers which have been crushed or stripped, a statement to that effect shall be contained in the trade description.

(iii) If the filling material contains wool which has not been scoured and carbonized, a statement to that effect shall be contained in the trade description.

(c) The trade description to be applied to artificial or imitation leather, other than that which forms a covering of upholstered furniture, shall be such as to clearly indicate that the said artificial or imitation leather is not real leather, and shall not include any word or words or phrase calculated to lead any person into a belief that such artificial or imitation leather is real leather.

3. The trade description to be applied to any secondhand article of bedding (including mattresses, pillows, bolsters, quilts, cushions, blankets, and rugs), or of upholstered furniture pursuant to the Goods Acts, shall contain a statement of the fact that such article is second-hand.

4. The trade description to be applied to any blankets or rugs pursuant to the Goods Acts shall, where such goods are composed of mixed materials, contain a statement of the kinds of materials of which the said goods are composed, and the proportion per centum of such materials. In any case where blankets or rugs are composed of pure cotton or pure wool, the said trade description shall state such fact by using only the words “Pure Cotton” or “Pure Wool,” as the case may be, and no other name or words shall be used.

5. The trade description required by the Goods Acts and these Regulations to be applied to any bedding (including mattresses, pillows, bolsters, quilts, and cushions), or upholstered furniture, shall be applied thereto by securely and conspicuously affixing to each article of any such goods a label on which is stamped or printed in indelible permanent ink in bold-faced sans serif capital letters of not less than 10-point face measurement, a statement of the facts, matters, and things required by these Regulations in such a position that such statement will be clearly legible: Provided, however, that in the case of mattresses such label shall be sewn along all the four edges of the said label, the dimensions of which shall not be less than 2 inches by 2 inches.

6. The trade description required by the Goods Acts and these Regulations to be applied to blankets and rugs shall be applied thereto by securely and conspicuously affixing to each article of any such goods a label on which is woven in the letters, described in the preceding clause, a statement of the facts, matters, and things required by these Regulations. The label shall be affixed in such a position that such statement will be clearly legible, and shall be not less than 2 inches by 2 inches in dimension: Provided, however, that the label affixed to cot blankets may be of a dimension of not less than 1 inch by 1 inch.

7. The trade description required by the Goods Acts and these Regulations to be applied to upholstered furniture, or any article of second-hand upholstered furniture, shall be applied thereto by securely and conspicuously affixing to each article of any such goods a label on which is stamped or printed, in the letters described in clause 5 hereof, a statement of the facts, matters, and things required by these Regulations. The said label shall be deemed to be affixed in accordance with this provision if it is nailed, rivetted, screwed, tacked, glued, gummed, sewn, or by other suitable means immovably secured to or let into such goods in a workmanlike manner so that the description shall be clearly legible and, in a manner which will not permit of the label being rubbed off, obliterated, or detached in the handling, movement, or transport of the goods.

8. The trade description required by the Goods Acts or these Regulations to be applied to second-hand bedding (including mattresses, pillows, bolsters, quilts, cushions, blankets, and rugs) shall be applied thereto by securely and conspicuously sewing to each article of any such goods a label on which is stamped or printed, in the letters described in clause 5 hereof, a statement of the facts, matters, and things required by these Regulations. The label shall be sewn to each article in such a position that such statement is clearly legible, and shall be not less than 2 inches by 2 inches in dimension, save and except with regard to pillows and cushions, when such label shall be not less than one and a quarter inches by three-quarters of an inch in dimension.

9. The trade description required by the Goods Act or these Regulations to be applied to artificial or imitation leather, other than that which forms a covering of upholstered furniture, shall be applied thereto by securely and conspicuously affixing to each roll, sheet, or piece of such artificial or imitation leather, a tag or label on which is stamped or printed in indelible ink in letters of at least a quarter inch high, a statement of the facts, matters, and things required by these Regulations. The label or tag shall be affixed in such a position that such statement will be clearly legible.

10. Any person who contravenes or fails to comply with any of these Regulations shall be guilty of an offence and liable to a penalty not exceeding Twenty pounds.

And the Honorable Edwin Joseph Mackrell, His Majesty's Minister of Labour for the State of Victoria, shall give the necessary directions herein accordingly.
