The 28th day of November, 1945.

In pursuance of the authority in this behalf conferred upon the Council of Legal Education by the Legal Profession Practice Act 1928, the said Council hereby alters its Rules made the 20th day of May, 1941, and subsequently amended, by adding after Rule 26 the following Rule:—

“ 26A. (a) Where a candidate establishes to the satisfaction of the Board of Examiners that he was engaged for a period of at least six months in war service, as defined in the preceding Rule, and obtains from the Faculty a certificate (either absolutely or subject to the condition of passing at a later date in such subjects or subject of the Public Examinations or the Matriculation Examination of the University as the Faculty may prescribe) that he is fit to pursue the course prescribed by paragraph (a) of Rule 15, he shall be deemed for all purposes to be in the same position as if he had at the date thereof obtained the certificate referred to in paragraph (b) of Rule 6: provided that if the certificate be granted subject to any condition as aforesaid the candidate shall pursue his course in accordance with that condition.

(b) Credit shall be given to a candidate who has given war service as defined in Rule 26 for any of the subjects of examination which are in the opinion of the Faculty substantially represented by examinations passed in any University, or any other examining authority approved in either case by the Faculty. Such credit shall be allowed although at the time the examinations were passed the candidate had not obtained a certificate referred to in paragraph (b) of Rule 6 or paragraph (a) of this Rule.

(c) Where a candidate, who is required by paragraph (a) of Rule 15 to have passed in the subject of Jurisprudence, establishes to the satisfaction of the Board of Examiners that he was engaged for a period of at least one year in war service as defined in Rule 26 and that the term which he is required by these Rules to serve as a pupil under articles has expired, he may apply to the Faculty for a certificate that by reason of the extent or circumstances of his war service he has been so prejudiced in his studies that it would be an undue hardship to require him to pass in all the subjects prescribed in paragraph (a) of Rule 15, and the Faculty may, if in its opinion the circumstances of the case so warrant, grant a certificate of exemption from Jurisprudence. A candidate who obtains such a certificate shall be deemed to have passed in Jurisprudence for the purposes of Rule 15 (a).”

All forgings shall be solid.

48. Platform.—Platform shall be in one length, not exceeding nineteen feet six inches (19' 6") in length, and shall consist of side timbers composed of not less than four inches by two inches (4" x 2") oregon or other approved timber. The width of the platform shall not exceed two feet four inches (2' 4") overall. The side timbers shall be secured with rungs at least one and three-quarter inches (1¾") in diameter, spaced eighteen inches (18") centre to centre; also with ties or iron or steel not less than three-eighths of an inch (⅜") in diameter, secured to approval by means of washers and nuts. After nuts have been tightened up, ends of ties shall be burred so that nuts cannot be removed. Ties shall be placed at both ends, and at least four other places between, evenly spaced. The recess in side timbers for housing the rungs shall not extend more than five-eighths of an inch (⅝") on either side of centre line of side timbers. The platform shall consist of four planks of oregon or other approved timber, to be each not less than six inches by three-quarters of an inch (6" x ¾") in single pieces of full length of platform to rest on rungs and secured thereto to approval.

STEEL TUBE SCAFFOLDING.

51. General Arrangement.—The scaffolding shall comprise a number of standards to which are connected horizontal members (ledgers) supporting putlogs on which are laid the scaffold planks, the complete frame being braced both longitudinally and transversely. The height of the topmost platform shall not exceed one hundred and fifty feet (150') measured from the base of a standard to the surface of the platform.

52. Materials.—Tubes shall be straight and free from indentations and other defects. The ends of all standards shall be squared to ensure even bearing over the whole area of the section at joints. The fittings or devices used for connecting the various members of the scaffolding shall be approved by the engineer. All fittings shall accurately embrace, over the whole area of their bearing surfaces, the member or members on which they are used. Where the efficacy of fittings is dependent on frictional grip, such fittings shall not be used to transmit tension forces. Fittings having screw threads in blind bosses or nuts, in which the amount of screw thread or nut cannot be directly observed, shall not be used.

53. Standards.—Standards shall be founded on metal base plates of approved design and construction. Joints in standards shall not occur at a distance greater than nine inches (9") from a ledger and shall be staggered on adjacent standards not less than six feet (6'). Where necessary, suitable guards or fenders shall be provided to prevent standards sustaining damage from any source.

54. Ledgers.—Each ledger shall be supported by and at each standard at each crossing, and shall be fixed in a horizontal plane and shall be continuous for the full length of the scaffolding frame. Where a straight ledger is supported by a row of four or more standards, the ledger joints may be placed at any position between the putlogs of a span, except within adjacent or end spans, provided that joints shall be so arranged as to be staggered in the vertical plane, and in the horizontal plane also when a double row of standards is used.

55. Putlogs.—Putlogs shall be fixed to ledgers at each side of each standard, except the standard at each end of the scaffolding frame where one only need be used. Such putlogs shall be placed one foot (1') from standards. The maximum span of a putlog shall be as hereinafter required, measured centre to centre of supports. Where one end of a putlog is supported by a wall or other part of a structure, such end shall be positively secured to the wall or structure, and in this case the span shall be considered as the distance between the face of the wall and the centre line of the ledger supporting the other end. Additional putlogs shall not be placed in positions more than one foot (1') from standards except as provided in Clause 56 hereunder. Putlogs shall be set horizontal and above the ledgers. The top surface of each putlog shall be in a plane parallel with the ledgers. Putlogs shall provide true and even support to the scaffold planks. A joint shall not be made in the span of a putlog.

56. Platforms.—Platforms shall be constructed of scaffold planks closely laid over the full width of the frame and shall butt near standards with a putlog on each side of the joint not more than one foot (1') from the butt, provided that not more than two (2) planks in any bay may be butted between extra putlogs inserted in the scaffold nine inches (9") on each side of the butt. Unless approved measures are taken to prevent uplift, no plank shall be less than eighteen feet (18') in length.

57. Bracing.—Scaffolding shall be securely and effectively braced in all directions.

58. Scaffolding.—Scaffolding for masons, bricklayers, and their labourers shall have standards spaced at distances measured along the scaffold not more than seven feet (7') centre to centre for a five or six plank scaffold, or six feet (6') centre to centre for a nine plank scaffold, ledgers spaced not more than six feet (6') centre to centre in a vertical plane. Scaffolding for other tradesmen and their labourers shall have standards spaced not more than eight feet (8') centre to centre, measured along the scaffold, ledgers spaced not more than seven feet (7') centre to centre in a vertical plane.

The maximum span of a putlog shall be five feet (5') for five and six plank scaffold and seven feet (7') for nine plank scaffolds. When two rows of standards are used and spaced five feet six inches (5' 6") apart, a nine plank scaffold may be built with seven (7) planks between standards and two (2) planks on extensions of the putlogs cantilevered towards the working face. In this case the putlogs shall be in one length, and approved measures shall be taken to ensure that the two (2) planks outside the standards cannot be accidentally dislodged. For such scaffolds the load due to the weight of men and materials uniformly distributed over the area of a bay of a scaffolding platform shall not exceed the tabulated intensities, nor shall the concentrated load applied to any bay of the scaffold exceed the tabulated weight, provided the concentrated load and the distributed load shall not act simultaneously. The concentrated load herein tabulated is not to be applied to the ledgers in positions more than one foot (1') from the standards.

The number of working platforms set up and used at any time on a scaffold shall not exceed two (2), but short platforms may be set up in different positions on the scaffold, provided that the total area of these platforms supported by any standard does not exceed that supported when two (2) full length platforms are set up.
