Conditions.

SHIRE OF WINCHELSEA.

BY-LAW No.

(a) Excavations must be the minimum size reasonably necessary for the work in hand. Where possible pipes are to be driven under the surface by blowing or other suitable means. (In these cases the full fee will not be payable, details of charges will be given at the time of taking out the permit.)

(b) The work shall be completed with all reasonable speed, and the opening repaired as follows:—

- (i) All trenches shall be filled with good loamy soil, wetted and thoroughly consolidated by ramming in layers not exceeding 6 inches in thickness.
- (ii) Where a surfaced roadway or footpath is disturbed the trench shall be filled to within 6 inches of the top as described in (i), and the remaining 6 inches filled with the metal and/or other surfacing materials removed when making the opening, and then thoroughly rammed to give an even hard surface conforming to the existing surface.

(iii) Pitchers disturbed shall be reset to the original level upon a layer of sand at least 3 inches thick, and well rammed into position with close joints properly flushed with sand, or where the joints were originally grouted, are to be grouted to a depth of at least 2 inches with 3 : 1 cement mortar or tar and sand, as the case may be.

(iv) Kerbs and gutters shall be re-set to line and level with close joints upon a layer of sand at least 3 inches thick. All holes required in the kerb are to be neatly cut out to size and shape, and in the case of pitcher channels, are to be at the joints, one-half in each stone. Any stones or channel sections broken are to be replaced by the person to whom the permit is issued at his expense.

(c) Service pipes are to be laid not less than 12 inches below the surface, and shall not be laid longitudinally under any road, path, or channel.

(d) If stop taps are under paths, proper stop tap covers shall be provided. They shall be firmly bedded and set flush with the surface and square with the building line.

(e) The recipient of the permit shall cause all works to be adequately barricaded and (where necessary) lighted for the protection of traffic, and shall be responsible for all damages incurred.

(f) Should the opening be made not in accordance with the information supplied at the time of applying for the permit, then the additional fee, as determined by the Council's officer, shall be payable by the applicant on demand by the said officer.
