If employed on the job for a full working week or longer at the rate of 42s. per week (of seven days).

Provided that where suitable lodging and sleeping accommodation is not available the employer shall provide a hut or tent with such accommodation therein, including a stretcher and mattress, but such provision will not relieve the employer from his obligation to make the allowances specified above in this sub-clause.

(c) An employee who is directed by his employer to proceed to construction work on a distant job and who complies with such direction shall not be entitled to any of the allowances prescribed by clause 12 of this Part but on proceeding to the locality of the work he shall be paid at ordinary rates of payment for the time incurred (not exceeding ordinary working hours for and on each day of travelling) in travelling thereto; he shall also be paid the amount of a second-class return fare and any excess payment due to transporting his tools if such be incurred; he shall also be paid at ordinary rates of payment for the time actually incurred (not exceeding ordinary working hours for and on each day of travelling) in travelling back upon the completion of his job to the place of his residence; he shall also be paid an amount of 5s. to cover the expenses (if any incurred) of reaching his home railway station and of transporting his tools.

Provided nevertheless—

(i) that neither the amount of the return fare, nor payment for return travelling time nor the amount of 5s. aforesaid shall be payable if the employee be dismissed for misconduct or within one working week of his commencing work on the job for incompetency or if the employee terminates or discontinues his work on the job within one month of his commencing it;

(ii) that travelling time shall for the purposes of this clause be calculated as the time taken by rail or usual travelling facilities—between the Spencer-street or Flinders-street railway stations or the railway station nearest to the employee's place of residence, if he resides outside the Melbourne metropolitan area and the locality of the work.

(d) An employee who has been directed by his employer to proceed to construction work on a distant job may after three months' continuous service thereon, and thereafter at three-monthly periods of continuous service thereon, return to his home at a week-end. If he does so, he shall be paid the amount of a second-class return railway fare on the pay-day which immediately follows the date on which he returns to the job, provided no delay not agreed to by the employer takes place in connexion with the employee's commencing work on the morning of the working day following the week-end.

Provided, however, that if the work upon which the employee is engaged will terminate in the ordinary course within a further 28 days after the expiration of any such period of three months as is hereinbefore mentioned then the provisions of this sub-clause shall not be applicable.
