117D. The pilot or exempt master in charge of any inward-bound vessel in the Port of Port Phillip shall not permit her to shape a course for the South Channel Dredged cut whilst an oil tanker outward-bound is navigating between the Hovell Pile Light and No. 9 buoy.

B. With effect on and from the 1st November, 1953, Port Rule 12A, respecting the navigation of outward-bound deep draught vessels through the fairway at Port Phillip heads, which was published in the Government Gazette of the 23rd August, 1939, is repealed and the following rule is substituted in its stead:—

12A. (1) The owner, agent or master of any vessel drawing over 29 feet of water, hereinafter referred to as an outward-bound deep-draught vessel, and which the owner, agent or master thereof intends to send to sea through the Port of Port Phillip, shall—

- (a) notify the Marine Board of Victoria, Melbourne, during office hours, for transmission to Point Lonsdale Signal Station or Point Lonsdale Signal Station at other times, as early as practicable, of the anticipated time of arrival of such outward-bound deep-draught vessel at the Heads.

(2) Upon the receipt of a communication from the Marine Board, or from the owner, agent or master, pursuant to the preceding clause, and upon the observation of the signal prescribed in that clause exhibited from the outward-bound deep-draught vessel, the Officer in Charge of the Point Lonsdale Signal Station, unless instructed otherwise by the Port Officer, will, as soon as circumstances permit, exhibit or cause to be exhibited from such station the signal prescribed in Port Rule 61A, meaning entrance closed to inward traffic and to outward traffic from the West Channel, viz. by day 3 drums vertically disposed or by night a flashing green light;

(3) Upon the exhibition of either of the signals in the preceding clause hereof at Point Lonsdale Signal Station, the master in charge of the pilot steamer on duty outside Port Phillip Heads shall cause to be exhibited from the said Pilot steamer a red pennant above a black ball by day or three green lights vertically disposed by night;

(4) The pilot or exempt master in charge of any outward-bound deep-draught vessel shall not allow his vessel to proceed beyond the West Channel leading line until either of the signals referred to in clause (2) hereof is exhibited from the said Point Lonsdale Signal Station.

(5) The pilot or exempt master in charge of any vessel proceeding into the said port, and which has reached a position within the Port Phillip heads at a time when either of the signals referred to in clause (2) hereof is exhibited at the Point Lonsdale Signal Station, shall not allow such vessel to proceed beyond the West Channel leading line until such time as any outward-bound deep-draught vessel exhibiting the signal prescribed in paragraph (1b) hereof has reached a position west of the Bowen Light situate within the said Port.

(6) Upon any outward-bound deep-draught vessel having cleared Port Phillip heads the pilot or exempt master in charge thereof shall cease to exhibit the signal prescribed in paragraph (1b) hereof and the officer in charge of the Point Lonsdale Signal Station and Master in charge of the pilot steamer shall cease to exhibit the signals referred to in clauses (2) and (3) as soon as the passage of outward-bound deep-draught vessels permit.

C. With effect on and from the 1st November, 1953, Port Rule 117B, respecting the navigation of oil tankers through Port Phillip heads and the South Channel Dredged cut, which was published in the Government Gazette of the 20th June, 1951, is repealed and the following rule is substituted in its stead:—

117B. To avoid the risk of collision and other dangers due to the necessity for passing close to oil tankers in confined waters, masters of vessels shall not attempt the navigation of Port Phillip Heads whilst an oil tanker is passing through. To aid in the observance of this Rule, the precautions represented by the following signals must be strictly adhered to, that is to say:—

(1) Inwards by day or by night. An oil tanker inward-bound, before shaping course for the fairway, shall—

- (a) signal Point Lonsdale Signal Station that she is ready to proceed; and
- (b) display the prescribed signal for a vessel carrying inflammable liquid, viz. by day a red flag with a white circular centre and by night a red light at the masthead or where it can best be seen, but not less than 20 feet above the deck.

(c) The officer on duty at Point Lonsdale Signal Station will, when all traffic likely to be met has cleared the Heads, display the following signal, viz. by day four drums vertically disposed, or by night a flashing red light whereupon the entrance will become closed to outward traffic and the tanker may proceed inwards.

(2) Outwards by day or by night. The owner, master or agent of any oil tanker which it is intended to send to sea shall—

- (a) notify the Marine Board of Victoria, Melbourne, during office hours, for transmission to Point Lonsdale Signal Station, or Point Lonsdale

Signal Station at other times, as early as possible, of the anticipated time of arrival of the tanker at the Heads.

- (b) Upon arrival at No. 4 Buoy, South Channel, the master or pilot in charge of the tanker shall signal Point Lonsdale Signal Station that he is ready to proceed, and shall not permit the said tanker to proceed westward of the West Channel leading line until the officer on duty at Point Lonsdale, after all traffic likely to be met has cleared the Heads, has displayed the following signal, viz., by day three drums vertically disposed, or by night a flashing green light, whereupon the entrance will become closed to inward traffic and to outward traffic from the West Channel and the tanker may proceed outwards.

(3) Following the passage of tankers, the officer in charge at Point Lonsdale will, as soon as circumstances permit, cease to display the signals prescribed in 1 (c) and 2 (b) hereof, whereupon the entrance will be open to normal traffic.

Given under my Hand and the Seal of the State of Victoria aforesaid, at Melbourne, this twenty-second day of September, in the year of our Lord One thousand nine hundred and fifty-three, and in the second year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II.

(b) The person lodging any such application shall at the time of lodging it pay to the Commission the relevant fee or fees prescribed by or under these Regulations and relevant to the matter and shall deliver to the Commission so many samples of the article and such other data in connexion therewith, including drawings, photographs and labels, as the Commission may require.

(c) Notwithstanding the requirements of clauses (a) and (b) of this Regulation if an article is approved within the meaning of the State Electricity Commission (Appliances) Act 1952 by a duly constituted authority in another Australian State the applicant shall be required to lodge only the application for approval in writing in Form 1 of the Second Schedule to these Regulations together with the best evidence of the approval of the said duly constituted Authority and any specification referred to in the certificate and such other information or evidence (if any) as the Commission may require and the fee prescribed in Item 1 of the First Schedule as to be paid on lodgment of an application.

TESTING OF ARTICLES.

5. (a) The Commission shall decide where and by whom any article which is to be tested shall be tested for the purpose of the considering of the application. If the Commission so directs the Board shall accept as correct a certificate as to the results of tests carried out under the direction of some authority or person on a sample of the article. If in the opinion of the Commission there is a specification of the Standards Association of Australia which requires sufficient and suitable tests to be carried out on any article and sufficient and suitable test results to be attained, it shall notify the Board accordingly and those tests and results shall be the tests to which the article shall be subjected for the purpose of that application and the results which it shall be required to attain but where the Commission does not so notify the Board the Board shall decide the test or tests (if any) to which the article (or any part of it) shall be subjected. A specification of the Standards Association of Australia must, to be used for the purpose of this clause, be one which at the time of the Commission's notification to the Board conforms to the then latest published revision by that Association.

(b) Where an article is to be tested the Commission shall take all necessary measures to have the article tested for the Board and as soon as the testing has been completed shall supply to the Board the results of such testing with a written statement which sets forth the tests carried out and where and by whom such article has been tested.

TESTING UNDER SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES.

6. If any person desires approval of an article but is unable for reasons thought by the Commission to be sufficient to submit samples for examination and testing, the Commission shall, at such times and in such manner and on such conditions as it thinks appropriate inspect the article and test it or cause it to be tested and shall notify the Board the result of the inspection and testing. The fee for inspecting and testing any article pursuant to this Regulation shall be such as the Commission determines as being the cost including the indirect and overhead expenses incurred by the Commission in respect of such inspection and test.

RE-TEST.

7. If the applicant for approval of any article which is not approved by reason of its not passing all tests or any of them, considers that by adjustment or alteration the article will pass all such tests then the applicant may adjust or alter the article and submit it for re-examination testing and approval.

The applicant shall furnish full and detailed information of any such adjustment or alteration and such further information as the Commission deems necessary.

The applicant shall pay to the Commission any fees demanded by the Commission in respect of any such re-examination and testing, but the fees shall not exceed the prescribed fee for examination and testing.

No article shall be, or be deemed to be, approved at any time when—

- (a) A Certificate of Approval as aforesaid has not been given for same; or
- (b) when the approval of the article has been withdrawn; or
- (c) it does not comply in full with every term, provision, or condition endorsed upon the Certificate of Approval thereof given by the Commission.

Where an approval of an article is withdrawn and notice of the withdrawal has been published in the Government Gazette, the Certificate of Approval in respect of the article shall be returned to the Commission within fourteen (14) days after the Commission gives notice of the withdrawal of approval to the applicant.

MARKING OF APPROVED ARTICLES.

9. (a) No person shall sell an approved article unless it is permanently and clearly marked with the mark words symbol and/or figures shown as Approvals Marking on the Certificate of Approval of that article.

- (ii) place an article in any container or wrapping which bears any mark or words
- (iii) affix or attach to an article or the container or wrapping thereof any label which bears any mark or words

(c) Any person who in or in connexion with the selling or hiring or offering or advertising for sale or hire of an article which has not been approved represents that it has been approved or will be approved or to the effect that it complies with the requirements of the Electrical Approvals Board or the Commission or the State Electricity Commission Acts or Regulations made thereunder shall be guilty of an offence and liable to a penalty not exceeding £10.

The Commission shall endorse or cause to be endorsed on the relevant Certificate of Approval particulars of the alteration or alterations so approved and thereupon the article altered in accordance with these particulars shall be approved and shall be deemed to be an approved article to which that Certificate relates.

The applicant shall pay the prescribed fee or fees to the Commission provided that the Commission may, if it thinks the circumstances so warrant, dispense with the payment of any such fee or any portion thereof.

(b) If the Commission does not approve the alteration in any particular as aforesaid of an article it shall so notify the person applying for the approval.

TRANSFER OF CERTIFICATE OF APPROVAL.

12. (a) When an applicant to whom a Certificate of Approval has been issued in respect of an article of any type disposes of his business, or that part thereof to which that Certificate is relevant the applicant may apply in writing to the Commission to have the Certificate of Approval of such article transferred to the person to whom the business or portion of the business is so disposed of or transferred.

Every such application shall be countersigned by such other person and shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(b) The Commission may, if it approves of the transfer of the Certificate of Approval to such person thereupon transfer the Certificate of Approval to the person to whom such business or portion of the business has been so disposed of or transferred.

LOST OR DESTROYED CERTIFICATES OF APPROVAL.
