BETTING TICKETS.

6. (1) No betting tickets other than those which have been manufactured by the Government Printer shall be issued by the Comptroller of Stamps or used by bookmakers for the purpose of betting. All such betting tickets shall, before being so issued, be impressed with the amount of stamp duty payable in respect thereof, and shall have printed thereon a sequence number. Where a bookmaker, however, in respect of bets made with him on a double or treble event desires to use tickets of a type different from that

BETTING BOOKS.

10. (1) Particulars of every bet made by a bookmaker on a racecourse, or on any sports ground, shall be entered in his betting book either in pounds and multiples thereof (as the case may be) or alternatively in shillings throughout, together with the number of the ticket issued in respect thereof. In the case of a bet in respect of which payment is not then made, such particulars shall be entered in the said betting book, together with the surname and initials of the backer.

(2) Before recording a bet on any page of his betting book, the bookmaker shall write or otherwise indicate on the top thereof the name and the date of the race meeting or sports at which he is carrying on his vocation, the names of the clerks assisting him, the series and commencing number of his betting tickets and, in the case of a race meeting, also the name of the part of the racecourse in which he operates.
