STATEMENT OF PLANNING POLICY No. 9.

(CENTRAL GIPPSLAND: BROWN COAL DEPOSITS IN THE CONTEXT OF OVERALL RESOURCES.)

Whereas the Town and Country Planning Board on the 16th day of May, 1975, adopted a Statement of Planning Policy, a copy of which is annexed hereto;

And whereas in the preparation of the said Statement the said Board conferred with the State Planning Council;

And whereas a draft of the proposed Statement was submitted to the said Council and to every Responsible Authority which the Board considered likely to be particularly affected thereby for consideration and comment;

And whereas comments were received from the Responsible Authorities and were forwarded to the Minister with the adopted Statement;

Now therefore, His Excellency the Governor of the State of Victoria, by and with the advice of the Executive Council thereof doth by this Order approve the said statement with modifications so that the Statement as modified shall be as set out hereunder, that is to say:—

1. This is a Statement of Planning Policy under Part I. of the Town and Country Planning Act 1961. It is directed primarily to the planning of land use and of development necessary for the conservation and utilization of the Central Gippsland brown coal deposits in the context of overall resources. The area affected by the policy will be referred to as the Policy Area and is outlined on the map hereunder.

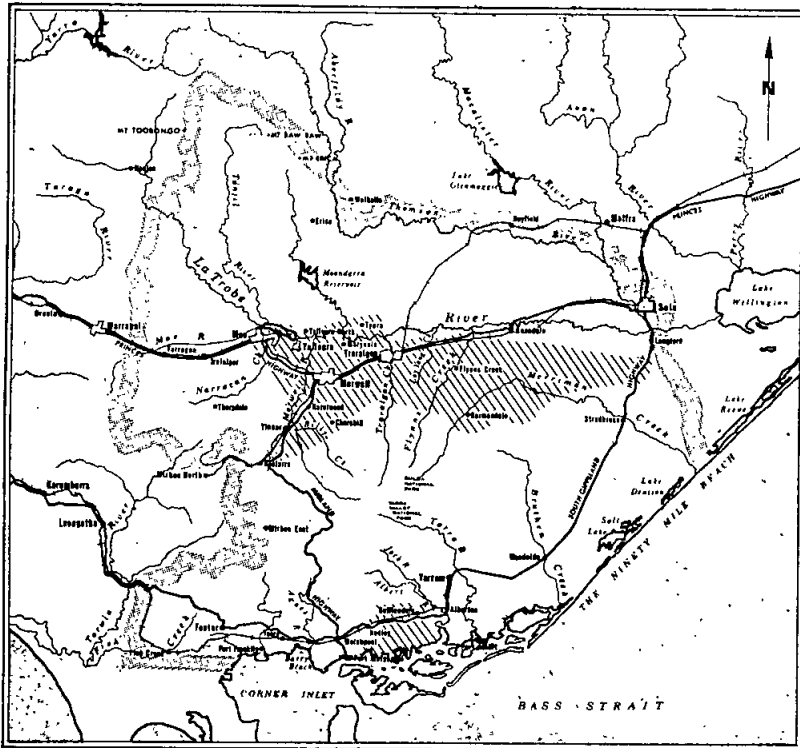

2. The planning policy to be applied is:—

- 2.1 Deposits of economically winnable brown coal and areas designated as containing them shall be protected to maintain their potential for extraction. In the rest of the Policy Area provision for the extraction and utilization of such deposits shall be a primary planning consideration. At every stage of development of the coal resources due account shall nevertheless be taken of other principal resources and activities in the Policy Area;
 - 2.2 The catchments of the river systems and underground waters in the Policy Area shall be planned and managed to ensure an adequate supply of water for development in the area; and the management and use of water resources shall complement and be integrated with resource planning both for the Policy Area and for the Gippsland Lakes;
 - 2.3 Urban and industrial development and other major works of a permanent nature (other than processing and treatment plant necessary for extraction and utilization of coal) shall be prohibited both in locations designated as being underlain by economically winnable coal and wherever else such development or works would prejudice the winning of that coal;
 - 2.4 Urban centres and areas of urban growth in the Latrobe Valley shall be planned and developed as a dynamically inter-related network with a strong regional focus;
 - 2.5 Brown coal excavations and overburden dumps shall be planned and rehabilitated to the highest practicable environmental condition consistent with their potential future use;
 - 2.6 The development of the resources of the Policy Area shall be planned to achieve a high level of environmental quality and shall take account of areas and features of recognized value for nature conservation, recreation and tourism, and of their landscape quality;
 - 2.7 Planning for resources utilization in the Policy Area shall take into account not only the interests of the Victorian community but also the needs and views of the local community.
3. The main factors requiring and influencing the Statement of Planning Policy are:—
- 3.1 The significance of brown coal as an energy resource in the thermal generation of electricity in Victoria particularly having regard to the facts that:
 - (a) more than 80 per cent. of the State's electrical energy is at present derived from the brown coal deposits in Central Gippsland; and
 - (b) brown coal will continue to gain in importance as other energy resources diminish or disappear;

- 3.2 The importance of brown coal for the multiplicity of other uses such (for example) as:—
 - (a) the production of briquettes for domestic, commercial and industrial use;
 - (b) the manufacture of char and activated carbon;
 - (c) as converted into liquid products and the products derived therefrom; and
 - (d) as a feedstock for processes in which it is converted to liquid or gaseous fuel or other products;
 - 3.3 The large deposits of economically winnable brown coal in the Policy Area, which are particularly suitable for open cut operations because they occur in thick seams close to the surface;
 - 3.4 The vital role of the area in providing a substantial segment of the State's resources of both softwoods and hardwoods; the significance to the State of the forest resources and forest based industries such as timber production and paper milling; and the important contribution of those industries to the economy of the Policy Area and its employment opportunities;
 - 3.5 The importance of the Latrobe Valley for a variety of agricultural pursuits and particularly for dairying;
 - 3.6 The existing commitments for water (both surface and underground) to people and purposes in the Policy Area and the existing reservation for Melbourne and the Macalister Irrigation District of water from the Thomson River system;
 - 3.7 The increasing requirement for water in the Policy Area—both by people and in connection with the exploitation of brown coal and timber resources—involving industrial processing, cooling purposes, dust control and fire prevention;
 - 3.8 The degree of dependence of the Gippsland Lakes on the river systems of the Policy Area for the maintenance of their environmental quality and hence of their value to the State for recreation and nature conservation;
 - 3.9 The features of landscape interest and nature conservation value in the mountain and hill areas of the Gippsland region which provide for recreational and tourist needs of people from both within and outside the area;
 - 3.10 The existing and potential conflicts both direct and indirect between—
 - (a) the use of lands for brown coal extraction and their use for forestry, agricultural, recreational and residential purposes; and
 - (b) the economic utilization of forest resources for timber and paper production and provision for nature conservation and recreation;
 - 3.11 Recognition that the towns of the central Latrobe Valley, although linked by economic and social functions, are individually unable to provide the adequate and balanced distribution of physical and social services which could be fostered by the development of a strong regional focus;
 - 3.12 The profound effect of major industries and towns on the physical environment of the area;
 - 3.13 The potential for conflict between the interests of State and local communities and the importance of adequate recognition of both.
4. Implementation of this policy requires that every department, public authority, regional planning authority and other responsible planning authority, where appropriate to its function, shall pay special attention to the following:—
- 4.1 Protective measures to ensure that land designated as containing economically winnable coal shall be available for excavation to meet present and future requirements, including regulation of the use and development of adjoining areas to promote ease of coal winning, safety and environmental amenity;
 - 4.2 Formulation and application of strategies and detailed management plans for development of coal deposits, with particular emphasis on the staging of new or extended excavations and the provision or relocation of ancillary works and services;
 - 4.3 Evaluation of prospective transportation needs and of alternative measures to provide for them;
 - 4.4 Regulation of land use and development so that the timing and staging of the use of brown coal minimises the destruction of viable agricultural pursuits;
 - 4.5 Planning of forestry activities and development, both public and private, in a manner which will not impede the exploitation of coal;
 - 4.6 Formulation of detailed planning and management policies designed to protect the natural systems of the area—with particular attention to water resources of the area, whether surface, underground or marine and to the conservation of the Latrobe Valley river system, the Gippsland Lakes and Corner Inlet;
 - 4.7 Comprehensive planning for the rehabilitation of all extractive industry sites including:—
 - (a) evaluation of rehabilitation problems and prospects before new workings are approved;
 - (b) the formulation of comprehensive programmes to ensure that worked areas are returned to effective use in the interests of the community at the earliest practicable time; and
 - (c) the management of overburden dumps to achieve progressive utilization and high environmental standards;
 - 4.8 Minimization of the detrimental effect of extractive industry on landscape quality, and the achievement of high environmental and aesthetic standards in all industrial areas;
 - 4.9 Integration of regional planning for urban development with proposals for, and the effects of, the extraction and utilization of the brown coal;
 - 4.10 The evaluation of possible incentives and the formulation of special policies designed to attract a wider range of industries and types of employment to the region and to reduce the reliance of local residents on the power and paper industries of the region for employment opportunities;
 - 4.11 Programs designed to provide an adequate range of reticulated and other engineering services, to improve the manner in which they are distributed throughout the area, and to establish new services to cater for population growth;
 - 4.12 Development of adequate educational, recreational, health, welfare, housing and other social services and facilities to complement planned urban growth, restrictions on growth, or phasing out of urban areas in order to minimize and alleviate disadvantage to individuals and families and to adequately serve people who reside or desire to reside or relocate in the Policy Area;
 - 4.13 Preservation and enhancement of the amenity of residential development in urban areas;
 - 4.14 Establishment of adequate buffer areas between the activities of major industries and works, and urban communities;
 - 4.15 Development of an efficient communications network co-ordinated with development in the Policy Area;
 - 4.16 Conservation of significant flora and fauna by reservation, regulation and management of the use of land; evaluation of the capacity of the area to withstand change and development without detriment in a physical and biological sense; formulation of appropriate safeguards and remedial measures where necessary;

- 4.17 The formulation of co-ordinated planning guidelines for the inland streams and lakes and the coastline in South Gippsland to sustain recreation and nature conservation values; regulation of access to beaches, forests and catchment areas in accordance with their capacity to withstand recreational usage;
- 4.18 Adequate control of all forms of pollution, including safeguarding and enhancement of air and water qualities and establishment of acceptable levels for noise;
- 4.19 Protection against fire;
- 4.20 The institution of adequate programs to foster public participation in the planning of the area and to enable assessment of the needs and views of the local community and to assist in reconciling State and local interests.
