- to provide treatment for individuals referred to its clinic or who present themselves in need;
- to extend such treatment to include spouses, families, employment and social groups when this is deemed desirable;
- to undertake programs of public education to awaken the public to the factors which lead to personal and social disorders and to prepare people for the common crisis in life and for a more realistic understanding of human relationships;

- to reduce any stigma which may be associated with seeking treatment for mental disorders when symptoms first appear;
- to conduct educational programs for workers in existing helping professions aimed at increasing their awareness of Social Health problems, sensitivity to early symptoms and their relationship to other members of family and social groups, and their ability to handle, through counselling and referral those who would benefit from the treatment of the nature proposed by the Board;
- to train selected lay people to act as health visitors under professional supervision;
- to encourage existing community organizations to be more aware of social health matters and more sensitive to the preventive and therapeutic functions such organizations undertake;
- to recruit research students and provide facilities for research programs;
- to evaluate the work undertaken by the Centre by assessing recovery rate, the effectiveness of educational programs and the strengthening of family and community structures;
- to have printed and published any newspapers, periodicals, books or leaflets that the Centre may think desirable for the promotion and support of its objects;
- to do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects;
