MINIMUM CONTROL REQUIREMENTS FOR STATIONARY SOURCES
F-1 IRON FOUNDRY CUPOLAS

This section describes emission controls to be applied to cold and hot blast cupolas. For purposes of this section, cupolas are divided into two broad categories:

(a) Cupolas Giving Rise to Justified Complaints

Wherever a particular iron foundry cupola is the source of waste emissions giving rise to justified complaints, the Authority shall specify in writing: (1) the discharge limit to be met for any waste emitted from such cupola; (2) the date by which the limit must be achieved; and (3) the date by which a submission shall be lodged detailing the means by which it is proposed to achieve the limit.

The submission shall include complete plans and specifications of proposed equipment and sampling arrangements and should also include a time schedule for installing, commissioning and testing the equipment.

(b) Other Cupolas

Cupolas other than those described in Section (a) above shall be controlled by reference to Table 1-1 and the requirements described in Table 1-2.

REQUEST FOR EXEMPTION No. 2 OF 1981 BY THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

On Tuesday, 28 April 1981, Wednesday, 29 April 1981, Wednesday, 6 May 1981 and Friday, 19 May 1981, the Equal Opportunity Board sat to consider an application for an exemption under Section 34 of the Equal Opportunity Act made by the Education Department. The application sought an exemption in the following terms:

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS DIVISION

To facilitate the appointment of a teacher of a particular sex to one of the two Deputy Principal positions in a school where the remaining position is occupied by a teacher of the opposite sex.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS DIVISION AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS
DIVISION

In positions below Principal Class

1. To facilitate the appointment of a female teacher to be responsible for the organization and supervision of all matters concerning the welfare, health and discipline of girls. An exemption to enable the appointment of a male teacher to have similar responsibilities for boys is also sought.

2. To facilitate the appointment of a female teacher to be in charge of Physical Education for girls, and a male teacher to be in charge of Physical Education for boys.

After considering the application by the Education Department and the submissions made on behalf of the various organizations—The Association of Principals of Victorian Technical Institutions, the Equal Opportunity Unit of the Education Department, the Victorian Association of Teachers, the Victorian Federation of State School Parents Clubs, the Victorian Secondary Teachers Association, the Technical Teachers Union of Victoria and Mr Richard Coughlin, the Board granted the following exemptions from the provisions of Section 18 (1) and (2) and Section 53 of the Equal Opportunity Act:

1. An exemption giving the Education Department leave to appoint a teacher of one sex to one of the two Deputy or Vice Principal positions in a school where the remaining position is occupied by a teacher of the opposite sex and the school involved requests such an appointment. This exemption includes leave to advertise such positions as open only to teachers of one sex. This exemption is granted for two years from 3 July 1981.

2. An exemption giving the Education Department leave to appoint a female teacher to be in charge of physical education for girls, and a male teacher to be in charge of physical education for boys where a particular school requests such positions. This exemption includes leave to advertise such positions as open only to teachers of one sex. This exemption is granted for a period of two years from 3 July 1981.

The Board refused the application for an exemption to facilitate the employment of a female teacher to be responsible for the organization and supervision of all matters concerning the welfare, health and discipline of girls and to enable the appointment of a male teacher to have similar responsibilities for boys. The Board's reasons included:

1. The Board felt that to allow the discriminatory selection described in evidence whereby a male teacher's abilities and experience are disregarded because he is not of the sex which the Education Department prefers for the position would conflict with the spirit of the legislation and would reinforce the belief that men cannot perform these tasks by keeping out of positions any men who can in fact perform the tasks covered by the job description.

2. The suggestion that a special teacher is needed to be responsible for the organization and supervision of all matters concerning the welfare, health and discipline of girls implies that girls have problems whereas boys do not and that girls need a senior teacher with responsibility for their welfare whereas boys do not. The position of "O.D. Girls" is thus discriminatory in itself.

3. Although the Board agreed with the evidence of Mr Collins that where all the positions of authority in a school are occupied by male teachers (for example at Point Gellibrand High School) the girls at such a school throughout their entire secondary education are presented with a rather distorted role model, the Board did not feel that the position described as "O.D. Girls" would do anything to change that perception on the part of the girls. Rather the Board felt that it would reinforce that perception and that the person holding the position "O.D. Girls" would be seen by the girls as having specific responsibility and concern with girls' problems rather than a full share in the administrative decision making process of the schools' senior teachers.

The Board felt that the school staffing patterns described by Miss Kelly who appeared on behalf of the Victorian Secondary Teachers Association as existing at Glenroy High School and described by Mr Coughlin as existing at Huntingdale High School where he is presently teaching, indicate a much more satisfactory response to a perceived need to take steps to show that female teachers can also hold positions of responsibility in a school than token appointments of a female Senior Mistress at some High Schools. The Board was concerned to avoid the possibility that if a girl pupil wished to discuss problems requiring advice and perhaps counselling with a male teacher, the existence of a female senior teacher designated as having special responsibility for counselling could mean that the pupil was forced to take her problem to the female teacher. This would, in the Board's view, be a reinforcing of the sex stereotypes which the Education Department and the Board both see themselves as having a responsibility to counteract where possible.

4. The Board felt that the group of duties set out under title (b) in the job description for "O.D. Girls" are demeaning or of low status so that by allocating them all to the one teacher who is female, she may be seen as acting in a maternal way in supervising toilets, changing rooms and sick bay and caring for the problems of the children rather than as having a professional teacher's role in the school.

5. The Board accepts the evidence that Form Co-ordinators or Pupil Welfare Co-ordinators or simply the Form Teacher in many cases would be a more appropriate person to do any necessary counselling than a senior teacher having a specific responsibility in that area. The Board was accordingly not persuaded that there is any necessity for the position "O.D. Girls" to exist to provide student counselling.

6. The Board accepted the submission that duty (f) "to support and give counsel to female members of staff on individual problems", is in itself discriminatory in that there is no similar position specifically designated for male staff problems in any school so far as the evidence before the Board would indicate.

EXEMPTION REQUEST No. 8 OF 1981

On Wednesday, 15 July 1981 the Equal Opportunity Board considered an application under section 34 (2) of the Equal Opportunity Act for a renewal of the exemption granted on 23 June 1980 to enable the Peninsula Women's Refuge Group to advertise for and employ women exclusively in the refuge.

The Board heard evidence as to the duties of the workers employed in the refuge and as to the background of the women and children who come to the refuge and the average duration of stay and the proportion of women who return to their former home and has decided to grant a renewal to allow the exemption to remain in effect until 15 July 1982.
