Public Record Office Standard: PROS 84/32
TRANSFER OF PUBLIC RECORDS TO CUSTODY OF PUBLIC RECORDS OFFICE

Preface

Public Record Office Standard PROS 84/32, Transfer of Public Records to Custody of Public Record Office, was issued on 14 September 1984 in pursuance of section 12 (c) of the Public Records Act 1973.

Broadly speaking, the Standard provides for the transfer of public records to the custody of the Public Record Office once they are no longer needed for current administrative purposes, unless they are lawfully destroyed. In particular under the terms of this Standard, public offices are required under section 13 of the Public Records Act to arrange for the transfer of the generality of records a specified number of years after their creation. The period specified currently is 85 years. Thus records dating prior to 1899 are now required to be transferred.

For central government records, this transfer requirement replaces that part of an earlier Standard (PROS 82/4) which provided for transfer of all records dating prior to 1900.

The new Standard makes two substantial changes to earlier provisions relating to the transfer of pre-1900 records. Firstly the date range of records to which the new transfer requirement applies will move forward annually instead of being fixed. In 1985, the transfer requirement will apply to pre-1900 records, in 1986 to pre-1901 records, in 1987 to pre-1902 records, and so on. Secondly the new Standard is expressed in a way that enables it to be varied in particular cases more easily. The Standard has been varied to exclude some classes of records from the transfer requirement. Amongst the exclusions are records sentenced for destruction or transfer under a disposal schedule issued as a Standard approved by the Keeper of Public Records.

In summary, the immediate effect of the new Standard on public offices is to require the transfer of the generality of pre-1899 records, and each year the date range of records to be transferred will move forward by one year. It is anticipated that the maximum period for the retention of public records in most public offices will eventually be reduced from 85 years to 25 years.

Victoria

Public Records Act 1973

Paragraph 12 (c)

TRANSFER OF PUBLIC RECORDS TO CUSTODY OF PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE

Public Record Office Standard: PROS 84/32

1. The Public Record Office was established under the Public Records Act 1973 (as amended) for the better preservation, management and utilization of the public records of Victoria. Public records include any records made or received by a person employed in a public office in the course of his duties. The term "Public Office" is defined in sub-section 2 (1) of the Act to mean—

- (a) any department, branch or office of the Government of Victoria;
- (b) any public statutory body corporate or unincorporate;
- (c) any municipality or other body constituted by or under the Local Government Act 1958; and
- (d) any other local governing body corporate or unincorporate.

Public records include any record made or received by a court or person acting judicially in Victoria. The Keeper of Public Records is obliged by section 12 of the Act to establish Standards for the efficient management of public records and to assist public offices in applying those Standards to records under their control. The officer in charge of a public office is required by section 13 of the Act to cause full and accurate records to be made and kept and is responsible, with the advice and assistance of the Keeper, for carrying out a programme of records management in accordance with the Standards established by the Keeper.

2. Standards applying to the disposition and storage of public records have been issued as follows:

- (a) Applying to public offices referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) of the definition of "Public Office" in sub-section 2 (1) of the Public Records Act 1973:

* PROS 82/4: Guidelines for the Storage of Public Records (having effect for a period of 10 years from 30 June 1982)

* PROS 82/5: Procedures for the Disposition of Public Records (having effect for a period of 10 years from 1 June 1982)

- (b) Applying to public offices referred to in paragraphs (c) and (d) of the definition of "Public Office" in sub-section 2 (1) of the Public Records Act 1973:

* PROS 82/3: Records Management Manual for Local Government (having effect for a period of 10 years from 31 October 1983).

Under paragraph 1.5 of Standard PROS 82/4, it is provided that no public record dating prior to 1900 should be retained by public offices unless arrangements are made with the Public Record Office and that Standard is varied insofar as it relates to the transfer of records to the Public Record Office in respect of—

- (1) public records comprising a collection, catalogue or register of library material maintained by the State Library of Victoria;
- (2) public records comprising a collection, catalogue or register of exhibits maintained by the National Museum of Victoria or the Science Museum of Victoria;
- (3) public records comprising a collection, catalogue or register or works of art maintained by the National Gallery of Victoria; and
- (4) public records in the possession of the La Trobe University.

Suspension of Operation of Standards

3. In pursuance of section 12 of the Public Records Act 1973 and of paragraph 3 of that Standard, I hereby vary and amend Standard PROS 82/4 by suspending the operation of so much of paragraph 1.5 of that Standard as would require the transfer of public records dating prior to 1900 to the Public Record Office and by rescinding the variation of that Standard referred to in paragraph 2 above.

Standard Relating to Transfer of Public Records

4. When a public record in the possession of a public office other than the Public Record Office has ceased (whether before or after the commencement of this Standard) to be required to be readily available for the purposes of a public office, the officer in charge of the public office shall, unless the record is lawfully destroyed cause it to be transferred to the custody of the Public Record Office in accordance with the arrangements approved by the Keeper of Public Records.

5. Where a public record in the possession of a public office other than the Public Record Office has been in existence as a public record for 25 years (or for such longer period as may from time to time be approved by the Keeper), the officer in charge of the public office shall cause the record to be transferred to the custody of the Public Record Office in accordance with arrangements approved by the Keeper of Public Records.

Variations to Standard

6. Paragraphs 4 and 5 of this Standard are suspended insofar as they relate to records described in Schedule One of this Standard.

7. For the purposes of paragraph 5 of this Standard, a record or class of records specified in Schedule Two or Schedule Three of this Standard may be retained in the possession of a public office for such longer period as is specified in the Schedule for that record or class of record.

Standard

8. In pursuance of section 12 of the Public Records Act 1973, I hereby establish these provisions as a Standard applying to the records of all public offices. This Standard and the Schedules thereto as varied or amended from time to time shall have effect for a period of 10 years from 14 September 1984 and may be renewed at the expiry of that period.

Schedule One

Paragraphs 4 and 5 of the Standard are suspended insofar as they relate to public records—

- (1) comprising a collection of library material maintained by the State Library of Victoria (not being records created by the Library for its own administrative purposes or records created by a public office other than the Library or by a public officer not employed by the Library) and public records comprising a catalogue, register or index of such library material;
- (2) comprising a collection of exhibits maintained by the Museum of Victoria or formerly by the National Museum of Victoria or by the Science Museum of Victoria (not being records created by the Museum or by the National Museum of Victoria or by the Science Museum of Victoria for its own administrative purposes or records created by a public office other than the Museum, the National Museum of Victoria or the Science Museum of Victoria or by a public officer not employed by the Museum or formerly by the National Museum of Victoria or the Science Museum of Victoria) and public records comprising a catalogue, register or index of such exhibits;
- (3) comprising a collection of works of art maintained by the National Gallery of Victoria (not being records created by the Gallery for its own administrative purposes or records created by a public office other than the Gallery or by a public officer not employed by the Gallery) and public records comprising a catalogue, register or index of such works of art;
- (4) in the possession of the La Trobe University;
- (5) comprising a collection of library material maintained by a library established by a municipality or a regional library service established by one or more municipalities (not being records created by the library or library service for its own administrative purposes or by a public office other than the library or library service or by a municipality or by a public officer not employed by the library or library service) and public records comprising a catalogue, register or index of such library material;
- (6) records sentenced for destruction or transfer to the Public Record Office in accordance with a disposal schedule or authority issued as a Standard approved by the Keeper of Public Records (where such records are transferred to the Public Record Office or are otherwise disposed of in accordance with a provision of that schedule or authority).

Schedule Two

The period referred to in paragraph 5 of the Standard is varied in respect of each record or class of records specified in Column One to the Period specified for that record or class of records in Column Two:

Column One	Column Two
(1) Public records of all public offices referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) of the definition of "Public Office" in subsection 2 (1) of the Public Records Act 1973 (not being records referred to in Schedule Three)	85 years
