Temporary Entrance Light-Buoys

Former Notice: No. 36T of 1985 (items 2 and 3) refer.

Reference Position: Rear Lead Light Drum Island (Lat. 38° 43.7'S., Long. 146° 38.9'E. approx.)

Details: Shoaling across the leading line at the seaward end of Port Albert bar has resulted in a realignment of the entrance channel.

The temporary entrance light-buoys have been relocated as follows—

- (a) The fairway light-buoy in position 149.5°; 6735 metres (3.64 miles) from reference position. Abridged Description: FL.5s.
- (b) The entrance channel starboard hand light-buoy in position 131.5°; 3855 metres (2.08 miles) from reference position. Abridged Description: FL.G.3s.

The fairway light-buoy in position (a) at the seaward entrance of the bar channel and the entrance channel light-buoy in position (b) have been relocated to allow a safe course to be set from position (a) to position (b) and vice versa.

Every endeavour will be made to maintain the light-buoys in position to indicate the course to follow through the best depth of water although unpredictable shoaling may further alter the channel alignment.

Directions—Inward: Mariners are advised to navigate with caution passing close to the fairway light-buoy (FL.5s.) then setting a course to pass close to and abeam of the entrance channel light-buoy (FL.G.3s.) to starboard before altering to a westerly course to meet the leading line.

Any alteration to the "Directions—Inward" caused by further variation in the shoaling pattern will be promulgated.

RECOGNITION OF UNIONS UNDER THE OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY ACT 1985

The definition of Trade Union contained in section 4 of the Act sets out three categories of organizations of employees given rights and functions under Part IV of the Act (relating to health and safety representatives). These are:

- (1) "an association of employees which is a recognized association under Part V of the Industrial Relations Act 1979".
- (2) "an organization or branch of an organization registered under the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Act 1904 as amended and in force from time to time".
- (3) "an association of employees . . . which is approved by the Governor in Council for the purposes of this Act".

For the purposes of the Occupational Health and Safety Act the procedure to be adopted by the Department of Employment and Industrial Affairs for identifying these organizations shall be as follows:

(1) Associations recognised under Part V of the Industrial Relations Act.

Associations of employees are recognized "with respect to any trade or trades for which a Board has been constituted under this Act". (Section 53 Industrial Relations Act).

Recognition follows a hearing before the Industrial Relations Commission (Section 54) and recognised associations are provided with a certificate (Section 56).

Recognised associations with certificates issued pursuant to Section 56 of the Industrial Relations Act will be entitled to exercise the rights conferred by the Occupational Health and Safety Act in respect to their members working in the particular trade(s) for which the association is recognised by the Industrial Relations Commission.

(2) Organisations registered under the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Organisations of employees listed in the Register of Organisations kept and maintained by the Office of the Industrial Registrar for the Australian Conciliation and Arbitration Commission will be entitled to exercise the rights conferred by the Occupational Health and Safety Act in respect to their members employed in Victorian workplaces.

(3) Associations approved by the Governor in Council

This category was included in the definition in order to provide unions not coming within the other two categories with a mechanism for proving their entitlement to exercise the rights conferred on unions by the Act. It is designed to apply only to bona fide associations of employees and is not designed to interfere with established industrial coverage.

The procedure for seeking approval of the Governor in Council is as follows:

- (i) Applications shall be made in writing to the Minister in accordance with the attached form.
- (ii) Details of all applications shall be published in the Government Gazette.
- (iii) Any association of employees, or the Victorian Trades Hall Council, may within one month of publication of details of an application write to the Minister objecting to the approval of the applicant association as a union for the purposes of the Act.
- (iv) Officers making an objection on behalf of an association shall include in the letter to the Minister their authority for doing so, the reasons for the objection and their association's interest in the matter.
- (v) Upon receiving any application the Minister may refer the application to the Industrial Relations Commission. Following such a referral the President of the Commission shall constitute the Commission as appropriate. The Commission shall hear submissions regarding the application and make a report to the Minister as to whether approval should be given.

- (vi) The Minister shall consider all applications and recommendations in relation thereto and recommend to the Governor in Council whether approval under the Act be granted.
- (vii) In recommending the approval of an association the Minister shall have regard to whether—
- the association is a bona fide association of employees with an established governing structure, recognized coverage and membership;
  - any tribunal or board exists before which the association is entitled to appear in relation to the determination of conditions of employment; and
  - approval under the Occupational Health and Safety Act will interfere with existing industrial entitlements or coverage.
