Application No. 9 of 1986

On 12 March 1986, the Equal Opportunity Board considered an application under section 40 (1) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984 made by The Technical and Further Education Board for an exemption from the provisions of the Act to enable R.M.I.T. Technical College, Preston College of TAFE and Batman Automotive College combined, and Collingwood College of TAFE to each employ a female in the position of co-ordinator of a preparatory course for young women in non-traditional trade and technical careers to be conducted by the Colleges in 1986.

The Board had regard to the fact that the applicant had informed the Board that the duties of the co-ordinator will include the provision of assertiveness training, support in cases of sexual harassment and teaching of personal development to the course participants.

The Board determined that in order to ensure that the course has maximum effect in reducing the disadvantage suffered by women in trade apprenticeships, it is necessary that the co-ordinator of the course be female. Granting the exemption is consistent with the exemption provided by section 39 (f) of the Act for the course itself.

The Board hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 21 (1) and 59 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984.

This exemption shall remain in force until 31 December 1986.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 6 of 1986

On 12 March 1986, the Equal Opportunity Board considered an application under section 40 (1) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984 by The School of Mines and Industries Ballarat Ltd. for an exemption from the provisions of the Act to enable it to employ a female in the position of co-ordinator of a pre-apprenticeship training course for young women to be conducted by the School in 1986.

The Board had regard to the fact that the applicant had informed the Board that the duties of the co-ordinator will include counselling the course participants in problems suffered by them in entering a male dominated field and providing assistance to a personal nature, e.g. in the purchase of protective clothing.

The Board determined that in order to ensure that the course has maximum effect in reducing the disadvantage suffered by women in trade apprenticeships, it is necessary that the co-ordinator of the course be female. Granting the exemption is consistent with the exemption provided by section 39 (f) of the Act for the course itself.

The Board hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 21 (1) and 59 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984.

This exemption shall remain in force until 31 December 1986.

Application No. 7 of 1986

On 12 March 1986, the Equal Opportunity Board considered an application under section 40 (1) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984 by Wangaratta College of Technical and Further Education for an exemption from the provisions of the Act to enable it to employ a female in the position of co-ordinator of a pre-vocational course for young women to enter non-traditional trades to be conducted by the College in 1986.

The Board had regard to the fact that the duties of the co-ordinator will include counselling the course participants in problems suffered by them in entering a male dominated field and providing assistance of a personal nature, e.g. in the purchase of protective clothing.

The Board determined that in order to ensure that the course has maximum effect in reducing the disadvantage suffered by women in trade apprenticeships, it is necessary that the co-ordinator of the course be female. Application No. 8 of 1986

On 12 March 1986, the Equal Opportunity Board considered an application under section 40 (1) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984 by Shepparton College of Technical and Further Education for an exemption from the provisions of the Act to enable it to employ a female in the position of co-ordinator of an affirmative action programme to introduce young women to trade and technical subject areas, to be conducted by the College in 1986.

The Board had regard to the fact that the applicant had informed the Board that the duties of the co-ordinator will include providing support and being a confidante to the course participants to assist them in overcoming problems suffered by them in entering a male-dominated field, and liaising with the all male teaching staff of the College.

The Board determined that in order to ensure that the course has maximum effect in reducing the disadvantage suffered by women in trade apprenticeships, it is necessary that the co-ordinator of the course be female. Granting the exemption is consistent with the exemption provided by section 39 (f) of the Act for the course itself.
