LIQUIFIED GASES (TRANSPORTATION
AND GAS TRANSFER) (SELF-SERVICE OF LP
GAS) REGULATIONS 1987

Notice of Preparation of a Regulatory Impact
Statement

In accordance with the provisions of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1962, notice is given of the proposal to make regulations to be known as the Liquefied Gases (Transportation and Gas Transfer) (Self-service of LP Gas) Regulations 1987.

A Regulatory Impact Statement has been prepared as required by the Subordinate Legislation Act.

The objectives of the proposed regulations are—

- (i) to make provision for refuelling operations at certain LP Gas Motorfuel Stations to be carried out by self-service;
- (ii) to ensure that the self-service operations carried out at those LP Gas Motorfuel Stations are conducted in a safe manner; and
- (iii) to make it optional at all Motorfuel Stations for a person to wear protective gloves while filling LP Gas into vehicle fuel containers.

The statement concludes that amendment of the Liquefied Gases (Transportation and Gas Transfer) Regulations 1980 is the most appropriate way to introduce self-service of LP Gas. It further concludes that the measures specified by the proposed regulations are the most appropriate way to ensure the safety of the public.

Comments and submissions are invited from interested parties.

Copies of the Regulatory Impact Statement Regulations may be obtained either by writing to, The Acting Manager, Dangerous Goods Branch, Department of Labour, Level 3, 500 Bourke Street, Melbourne Vic. 3000 or by phoning Mrs Anderson or Mrs South during business hours on 602 8338.

Written submissions on the Regulatory Impact Statement should be sent to the above address no later than 21 days from the date of publication of this notice.

NOTICE OF REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

Proposed Statutory Rule exempting certain offices from the operation of the Act

The Attorney-General has made available a regulatory impact statement about a proposed statutory rule exempting the following offices from the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.

Auditor-General
Victorian Government Solicitor (formerly Crown Solicitor)
Director of Public Prosecutions
Lay Observer to Barristers and Solicitors Disciplinary Tribunals
Ombudsman
Police Complaints Authority
Solicitor-General
Public Advocate

Reasons for the Proposed Rule

The objectives to be achieved by the Rule are to exempt the eight offices mentioned from the requirements of the Freedom of Information Act so that each can function without the constraint of having to respond to requests to access to documents.

The Auditor-General, Ombudsman Public Advocate and Police Complaints Authority have a primary responsibility to report to Parliament on their investigations and it is considered that the release of documents prior to making their reports could significantly prejudice their ability to conduct confidential investigations, obtain further information in the future and compromise their reporting to Parliament. A similar reason exists in respect of the Lay Observer who reports to the Law Institute and the Attorney-General.

The Victorian Government Solicitor, Director Public Prosecutions and Solicitor-General generate documents in the course of their role as legal advisers to Ministers, Government departments and agencies. Those documents are considered to be protected by legal professional privilege and as such it is the Client Minister, Department or Agency which has the sole right to determine any question of access.

Summary of Impact Statement

The statement concludes that in the case of the Victorian Government Solicitor, Director of Public Prosecutions and Solicitor-General, the public's ability to obtain documents will be largely unaltered if the Rule is passed because access to documents can still be sought from the Client Minister, Department or Agency.

In respect of the other offices proposed for exemption, the statement assess the relative merits of exempting the offices to allow them an unfettered ability to investigate with complete confidentiality, to provide reports on their findings and to retain public confidence, against any social cost arising from the denial of access to documents held by those offices.

Obtaining a Copy of the Statement

A copy of the Regulatory Impact Statement is available from the Law Department, 221 Queen Street, Melbourne (telephone: 603 6833). Submissions about the proposed Rule will be accepted by the Department until 22 April 1987.

The volume is divided into five main parts. Part I contains a good deal of previously unpublished information on early shipping, charting and Customs activities around Port Phillip Bay.

Part II outlines the first Government-controlled immigration schemes involving Port Phillip. Passenger lists and other details have been included wherever available.

Part III deals with the growth and control of the liquor trade, which was of great importance to Customs and other civil authorities.

Part IV depicts problems encountered by the first newspaper publishers, who had to contend with Government licensing in addition to other pioneering difficulties.

Part V shows the attempts made to organise satisfactory postal services, at a time when the district's need for better communications was increasing with remarkable speed.
