This will continue to be so even after the new tariffs are introduced.

Price rise is again lower than CPI increase

The new tariffs will lift the price of gas for domestic and general industrial and commercial customers by 6 percent. For domestic customers the average increase will be 46 cents per week. That increase is less than the anticipated 7.1 percent rise in the 1990/91 Consumer Price Index.

Energy Conservation Benefits

To promote the efficient use of gas, domestic customers whose consumption falls below 8 GJ per 2 months (which is twice the average mid-summer consumption) will have a tariff increase of only 4 percent.

Important information about gas tariffs

- Customers who are on the "Domestic General 03" tariff and who hold a current Pensioner Health Benefit Card, Health Benefit Card, Health Care Card, Personal Treatment Card, or Transport Concession Card, are eligible for a 15 percent concession on three winter gas bills dated from 22 May to 13 November, 1990 inclusive.
- The "Easy-Way" home energy instalment payment plan is also available to all domestic customers.

Notes

- Gas tariffs are per meter per two months.
- In all tariffs the Supply Charge is the Minimum Bill.
- Where customers are billed other than on a two-monthly basis, the Supply Charge and the block sizes for the Commodity Charge are adjusted accordingly.
- c/MJ = cents per megajoule.
- m³/h = cubic metres per hour.

Further information concerning all Natural Gas Tariffs is available from the Customer Relations Department, Head Office (Telephone 652 5122), or any Corporation Branch Office.
