EXEMPTION

Application No. 4 of 1995

The Equal Opportunity Board has considered an application pursuant to section 40 (1) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984 ("the Act") by Ms D. Basinski, Manager, New Women, Goulburn—North Eastern, Women's Health Service. The exemption sought is to facilitate the appointment of a female with an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Island background to the position of Community Development Worker.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application, the Board is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 21 and 59 of the Act.

In granting this exemption the Board noted the following:

- * New Women is a Women's Health Service, funded under the National Women's Health Program and administered through the Victorian Department of Health and Community Services. Intrinsic to the philosophies of the National Women's Health Agenda, the Women's Health Association of Victoria and NEW Women, is the concept of Women's Health Services being run for women and by women.

- * New Women has received funding through the Victorian Government's Prevention of Cancer of the Cervix Program to develop a Koori Well Women's clinic focusing particularly on encouraging Aboriginal women to participate in programs aimed at cancer prevention.
- * The program requires a Community Development Worker to work closely with Koori women in their own communities, to identify women's health issues and to conduct women's health information sessions. The worker will need to know and understand Aboriginal cultural values in relation to health, the different roles of women and men and the particular and broad health needs of Koori people. The Community worker will need to be accepted by the communities with which he/she is required to work.
- * The new Women management team has been working with a local advisory group of Aboriginal workers. It has become evident that, in order for this project to succeed, New Women will need to appoint a woman, as issues of women's health are viewed clearly as women's business within the local Aboriginal community. In order to reach the full range of Aboriginal women it is also considered essential that the worker be accepted by the local Aboriginal community as a person of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Island background.

The Board hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 21 and 59 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984, this exemption to remain in force until 16 February 1998.

The document seeks to assist tertiary institutions to work toward the enhancement of access to, and prospects of success in, university studies for members of each of the designated categories of disadvantage, including women. Accordingly, tertiary institutions were asked to develop and implement strategies, among which would aim to increase the number of women studying at the post-graduate level, including research-based higher degrees.
- * Deakin University has reflected this in its 1994 Equity Plan, submitted to DEET as part of the Educational Profile. A stated objective of the University is to increase the number of women engaged in research-based higher degree studies to 49% of postgraduate research students.

KNOX PLANNING SCHEME
Notice of Approval of Amendment
Amendment L71 Part 2

The Minister for Planning has approved Amendment L71 Part 2 to the Local Section of the Knox Planning Scheme.

The amendment comes into operation on the date this notice is published in the Government Gazette.

The amendment rectifies typographical errors in Amendment L71 Part 1 and Amendment L76.

Amendment L71 Part 1 rezoned part of the former Boronia School Support Centre, Boronia, to enable the land to be developed and used for a new police station. The ordinances incorrectly sited the rezoning on Boronia Road, rather than Dorset Road, Boronia.

Amendment L76 involved site specific controls to land on Stud Road. The site, described as Plan of Consolidation 104763, part of Lot 2 and 3 on Lodged Plan 8723, was incorrectly identified on the north east rather than the south east corner of Burwood Highway and Stud Road.

Amendment L72 Part 2 corrects these anomalies.

A copy of the amendment can be inspected free of charge during office hours at the Department of Planning and Development, Ground Floor, 477 Collins Street, Melbourne and at the offices of the City of Knox, Civic Centre, Level 1, 420 Burwood Highway, Wantirna South.
