- (6) Any reference to workplace includes any predecessor workplace of the workplace in accordance with item 6.
- (7) A reference to workplace includes, where applicable, a reference to an establishment within the meaning of Part VII of the Act as in force prior to 1 July 1993 which corresponds to the workplace.

- (2) In determining the predominant activity in relation to a workplace, regard must be had to, but must not be limited by, measures of activity during the preceding period of 12 months or less consisting of data relating to sales, cost of goods produced, cost of labour or gross profit, taken from—

4. Employer with two or more workplaces

- (1) Unless the authorised insurer or the Authority determines otherwise in accordance with clause 10, if a worker is engaged in operations at two or more workplaces of an employer and the remuneration paid or payable to the worker in respect of operations in each workplace is not identified, the proportion of the remuneration attributable to each workplace is the same proportion as the number of hours during which the worker is engaged in operations in the workplace is of the total number of hours during which the worker is engaged in operations in those workplaces.
- (2) If an employer has two or more workplaces and it is not reasonably possible to determine the proportion of the remuneration paid or payable by the employer that is attributable to each workplace, the authorised insurer or the Authority may, in accordance with clause 10, subject to such terms and conditions as it determines, authorise the employer to pay premium on the basis of estimates of the proportion.

5. Workplaces of employer may be grouped

If the predominant activities carried on at two or more workplaces of an employer are of the same kind any of those workplaces may be determined to be one workplace unless the determination would result in the calculation of the premium or an adjusted premium payable by the employer in an amount different from the amount which would have been calculated in accordance with this Order if the determination had not been made.

6. Predecessor

A workplace is the predecessor of another workplace if the predominant activity that was being carried on in the former is being carried on, in substance, in the latter and in succession to the former, notwithstanding that, when carried on in the former, it may have been carried on by a different employer or at a different physical location or both.

SCHEDULE 7

REVISED PREMIUM

1. Where the authorised insurer or the Authority becomes aware of any new information affecting the calculation of the premium after the premium payable is calculated, the authorised insurer or the Authority may recalculate the premium in accordance with this Order and the difference must be met by a further payment by the employer or by a refund to the employer, as the case requires.

WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 4) 1996/97 Sch. 8SCHEDULE 7—continued

2. (1) The circumstances under which an employer may apply under section 22 of the WorkCover Insurance Act to have the premium adjusted are—

SCHEDULE 8PAYMENT OF PREMIUM AND DISCOUNTS

1. An employer may elect to pay premium in an annual instalment and, if the premium payable is calculated to be $500 or less, the employer must pay the premium in this manner.
2. A premium payable by way of an annual instalment is due on 7 August 1996 and, if such a premium is paid by that date, the amount of the premium is, subject to Schedule 5, to be discounted by 5%.
3. If a premium has been discounted in accordance with item 2, for the purposes of calculating—

WORKCOVER INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION

DETAILED CLASSIFICATION

DIVISION A : AGRICULTURE, FORESTRY, FISHING AND HUNTING

1. This Division includes all workplaces predominantly engaged in 'agriculture, forestry, fishing and hunting' or in providing related services, such as sheep shearing, aerial agricultural services, harvesting or forest protection. Agricultural extension or advisory services provided by government departments are, however, included as activities predominant to Public Administration in Subdivision 71.
2. The term 'agriculture' is used here in the broad sense to include the breeding, keeping or cultivation of all kinds of animal or vegetable life except forest trees and marine life. Sun-drying of fruit is also included in this Subdivision.
3. Institutional farms such as research farms and prison farms are not included in this Division, but are classified to those classes in Division K, which include the institutions concerned.
4. 'Forestry' includes afforestation or the harvesting or gathering of forest products. Logging operations such as felling, hewing or rough shaping of timber in the forest are included in this Division.
5. 'Fishing' includes the catching, gathering, breeding or cultivation of marine life from ocean, coastal or inland waters (coastal waters include estuaries and inlets). Included also is the processing of ocean and coastal water fishery products aboard vessels predominantly engaged in both catching and processing those products.
6. 'Hunting' includes the catching or taking of all types of animal wildlife on land. The catching or taking of wildlife such as crocodiles in inland waters is also included.

DIVISION B : MINING

1. This Division includes all workplaces predominantly engaged in 'mining', in mineral exploration on own account, in the provision of a wide variety of services to mining and mineral exploration on a contract or fee basis, as well as mining workplaces under development. The term 'mining' is used here in the broad sense to include the extraction of minerals occurring naturally as solids such as coal and ores, liquids such as crude petroleum, or gases such as natural gas by such processes as underground or open-cut mining, dredging, quarrying, the operation of wells or evaporation pans, or by recovery from ore dumps or tailings.
2. Workplaces predominantly engaged in dressing or beneficiating ores or other minerals by crushing, milling, screening, washing, flotation or other, including chemical beneficiation, processes, or predominantly engaged in briquetting or iron ore pelletising are included in this Division. These activities are generally carried out at or near mine sites as an integral part of mining operations and are therefore regarded as predominant to this Division. Natural gas absorption, purifying and similar treatment plants are also included in this Division.
3. Excluded from this Division are workplaces predominantly engaged in refining or smelting of minerals or ores (other than preliminary smelting of gold), or in the manufacture of such products of mineral origin as coke, cement or fertilisers.
4. Workplaces which are predominantly engaged in undertaking mineral exploration on own account, ie: workplaces classifiable to the classes in Group 161, cannot be classified, as is usual in the case of other workplaces, on the basis of their gross receipts. Instead their classification will be determined, where possible, on the basis of their gross expenditures.

5. In general the manufacture of parts or components is a predominant activity of the same class as the manufacture of the finished product except where the manufacture of parts or components is specifically shown as a predominant activity of another class.
6. In some instances two or more activities are vertically integrated in the one manufacturing workplace in that the products of one activity are used as materials in the other. In these cases workplaces are generally included in the class to which the final activity is predominant. In some cases, however, the classes have been defined so that certain workplaces are included in the class to which the initial activity is predominant.

Sch. 9 WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 4) 1996/97

SCHEDULE 9—*continuedDIVISION F : TRADE

1. This Division includes all workplaces predominantly engaged in the trading of goods either as a retailer, wholesaler (physically handling the goods and, usually, taking title to the goods) or as an agent or purchasing, marketing or buying office. The term 'agency' is used here to include those operations which trade in goods but do not usually take title to the goods traded and do not physically handle the goods. Typically an agency receives commission or fees which are directly related to the value of goods traded. A purchasing, marketing or buying office is a separate workplace, of a multi workplace employer, which is predominantly engaged in buying or marketing goods for use by other workplaces of the employer. Such an workplace which buys or markets for other workplaces of the employer does not physically handle the goods.
2. The term 'wholesale trade' is used here in the broad sense to include the sale (as principals) of new or used goods to retailers or other wholesalers. The more important types of businesses engaged in wholesale trade are wholesale merchants who take title to the goods they sell; separately located sales branches or sales offices (not being retail stores), operated by manufacturing enterprises, which do not merely take orders but supply goods to customers from stocks physically held at their own premises.
3. The term 'retail trade' is used here, generally speaking, to include the activity of selling new or used goods to final consumers. The more important types of business engaged in retail trade are department stores or other shops, stalls, mail order houses, hawkers, door to door sellers, milk or bread vendors, vending machine operators or consumer cooperatives. However, cafes, restaurants, licensed hotels, motels, wine saloons and clubs are included in Division L, Recreation, Personal and Other Services.
4. In addition to the foregoing it may be useful to note that while most types of goods can enter wholesale trade, not all goods may be considered to enter the retail sector even though they may be sold to the final consumer. Goods not normally entering retail trade include cereal grains, metal ores, crude petroleum, industrial chemicals, iron and steel and industrial machinery and equipment.
5. Workplaces predominantly engaged in selling their own goods by auction are included in this Division, but workplaces (except stock and station agents) which are predominantly engaged in providing auctioning services for others are included in Division I, Finance, Property and Business Services.
6. Workplaces predominantly engaged in leasing goods (not manufactured by the same workplaces) for periods in excess of one year, without operators, from stocks physically handled by the workplace are included in this Division, as are workplaces predominantly engaged in the hiring out of most types of consumer goods.

7. Certain kinds of activity other than selling are commonly carried out by workplaces classified to this Division and have therefore been designated as predominant to the relevant classes of either Subdivision 47 or 48. The more important of these activities are:
 - (i) Glazing (Class F4728R).
 - (ii) Blending industrial or lubricating oils from refinery base stock (Class F4741J).
 - (iii) Washing or packing (incl. contract packing) fresh fruit or vegetables (Class F4764X).
 - (iv) Pulping, dehydrating or preserving eggs (Class F4765A).
 - (v) Bottling or breaking down bulk quantities of wine or spirits (incl. contract packing) (Class F4767F).
 - (vi) Blending or repacking tea (incl. contract packing), repacking (incl. contract packing) flour, cereal food products, dried fruits or a wide range of other groceries (Class F4769K).
 - (vii) Custom tailoring or dressmaking (Class F4840R).
 - (viii) Repairing footwear (Class F4846C).
 - (ix) Making or installing curtains (Class F4847F).
 - (x) Repairing locks or providing key duplicating services (Class F4853A).
 - (xi) Repairing non-electric household appliances (Class F4856J).
 - (xii) Repairing or installing household electric appliances (except heating equipment) not requiring electrical work (Class F4857K).
 - (xiii) Repairing or servicing motor vehicles (Class F4861A).
 - (xiv) Repairing tractors, agricultural or construction machinery (Class F4863F).
 - (xv) Repairing or servicing business machines or equipment (Class F4897C).
8. The treatment of such activities as repair, installation, assembly, blending, bottling and packing is usually specified in the class descriptions. Where these activities have not been specified it should be assumed that they are included in the class that trades in the product.
9. Workplaces predominantly engaged in both baking and retailing cakes are included in this Division, but workplaces predominantly engaged in both baking and retailing bread are included in Division C, Manufacturing.

Sch. 9 WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 4) 1996/97

10. In the case of workplaces which have goods manufactured for them on commission or contract a variety of situations are encountered with different treatments applicable to each. In general, if a workplace has no goods producing facilities itself (or, if it has, does not use these or does not employ contractors to use them on its behalf), ie: the workplace undertakes no goods producing activities at all, then all its sales of goods produced for it on commission are treated for classification purposes as wholesale or retail sales, as appropriate.
