Subordinate Legislation Act 1994
REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT
Building (Qualifications) Regulations 1996

Notice is given in accordance with section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994, that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared in relation to the Building (Qualification) Regulations 1996.

The Building Act 1993 introduced reforms to the system of building regulation and the Building Regulations 1994, which came into operation on 1 July 1994, supported the implementation of the Act. As with any new system, experience gained through implementation of the regulations has identified the need to improve them thereby enhancing the operation of the system.

The proposed regulations aim to clarify the various classes of building practitioners to distinguish the varying risks associated with the provision of specialist services and to provide better information to the consumer. In addition, it would enable persons without formal qualification to continue to carry on a business as long as they meet the necessary criteria.

The objective of the regulations is to amend the Building Regulations 1994:

- (a) to provide for standards of professional conduct for building practitioners;
- (b) to prescribe qualifications and clarify other matters relating to the registration of building practitioners;
- (c) in relation to the registration of domestic builders; and
- (d) as a result of changes to the Building Act 1993 and the House Contracts Guarantee Act 1987.

The RIS has been prepared to examine the proposed Regulations, consider and evaluate alternatives, and it concludes that the objectives could be best achieved by making the Regulations.

Public comments are invited on the RIS and accompanying Regulations. Copies may be obtained by contacting Alex Kelpedidis on 9628 5123.

Written submissions will be received at the following address up to 5.00 p.m. on 15 February 1996: Building Control Commission, 1st Floor, 477 Collins Street, Melbourne 3000; or by post to PO Box 536E Melbourne 3001, or by fax on 9628 5677.
