WATER MANAGEMENT INVESTIGATION

Formation of Community-Based Committee

I, Patrick John McNamara, Deputy Premier and Minister for Agriculture and Resources, have agreed that an investigation in relation to water management be carried out for Traralgon, and that a community-based committee be appointed under Section 214 of the Water Act 1989.

The town of Traralgon has a long history of flooding. Over the past 19 years extensive flood damage has occurred on three occasions in June 1978, September 1993 and November 1995. The La Trobe Shire Council has recently engaged consultants to carry out a floodplain management study, which is jointly funded by Commonwealth, State and Local Government.

The study area encompasses the Traralgon Creek floodplain through Traralgon extending from approximately 1 km upstream of Shakespeare Street and down to the La Trobe River junction approximately 2 km downstream of David Street.

The main study outcomes will include an assessment of flood behaviour, a flood damages assessment, a comprehensive floodplain management plan which will include both structural and non-structural measures, and a comprehensive set of flood inundation maps.

A community-based committee will coordinate the preparation of a floodplain management plan for Traralgon in accordance with current floodplain management police and practice guidelines, and will provide a forum for consultation throughout the study.

The committee will be made up of affected landowners in the study area and relevant public statutory bodies. All relevant interests (including environmental interests) will, as far as possible, be fairly represented on the committee. Expressions of interest for landowner representatives will be advertised in local newspapers and will be assessed by the La Trobe Shire Council.

When the investigation has been completed, the committee will prepare a water management scheme for public exhibition and comment under Section 215 of the Water Act 1989.

EXEMPTION
Application No. 46 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Gay and Lesbian Switchboard (Victoria) Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ and train, men and women who identify as Gay or Lesbian or Bisexual, to work in the service provided by the applicant.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ and train, men and women who identify as Gay or Lesbian or Bisexual, to work in the service provided by the applicant.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Switchboard is a free and confidential telephone counselling, referral and information service, established in November 1991 to offer services to the gay and lesbian and wider communities.
- It is a defining characteristic of the service that it is peer-based—that is, that the services are provided by the same group of people for whom the service is intended to reach. Practically, this means that the applicant's policies require that volunteers and paid staff identify as gay men, lesbians or bisexuals in order to be eligible for selection into the applicant's counsellor training course or for paid employment.
- The applicant's client base is extremely diverse, and does not discriminate against callers. Whilst gay men and lesbians are the applicant's primary client group, the applicant does receive calls from people who are unsure about their sexual orientation, or the heterosexual friends and family of gay and lesbian people.
- The issues the clients ring to discuss are varied, from "coming out" and problems with isolation to relationship issues or other problems not necessarily to do with their sexual orientation.
- The applicant offers a service to all those who call. The applicant is able to refer to other agencies or organisations that may offer face to face counselling or social contact.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ and train, men and women who identify as Gay or Lesbian or Bisexual, for the service provided by the applicant, this exemption to remain in force until 30 July 2000.

INQUIRY HELD UNDER SECTION 17A

Notice is hereby given that on 3 July 1997 the Physiotherapists Registration Board of Victoria held an inquiry into the activities of a registered physiotherapist, namely Mr Henry Buch, Registration Number 1842. As a result of the inquiry the Board found Mr Buch guilty in Victoria of unprofessional conduct in relation to the treatment of a patient on 21 October 1993 as a result of persisting in the use of shortwave diathermy after he had become aware that, during the administration of shortwave diathermy, the pads had moved, or that the patient had slipped down on the pads.

The Board severely reprimanded Mr Buch and directed that he must, within a two year period, provide evidence to the Board of having completed a course in electrotherapy and until such time as that evidence is presented Mr Buch must cease using shortwave diathermy machines.

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994
REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT
Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration
Regulations 1997

Notice is given in accordance with Section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994, that a Regulatory Impact Statement has been prepared in relation to the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Regulations 1997.

The Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1996 is to come into operation later this year. It will repeal and replace the Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages Act 1959. The new Act implements an agreement of the Standing Committee of Attorneys-General made in February 1995 to introduce common core legislation dealing with the registration of births, deaths, marriages and changes of name. The legislation also provides for a common approach in all States and Territories for access to the register.

The information currently collected by the Registry under the old Act is prescribed in the Births, Deaths and Marriages (Prescribed Forms and Procedures) Regulations 1986. The fees for applications under the old Act are prescribed in the Births, Deaths and Marriages (Prescribed Fees) Regulations 1993. The new Act, when it commences operation, will also require regulations to implement many of its provisions and these are the subject of the Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS).

The objectives of the proposed regulations are:

- (a) to specify the particular details which would provide the greatest net public benefit, if they were to be prescribed as the particulars which it is compulsory to supply when registering or giving notification of events under the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1996; and
- (b) to determine an appropriate scale of fees for services provided by the Registry, to achieve an efficient and equitable allocation of public resources by ensuring that persons using the services meet the cost of provision of this service.

The RIS concludes that the objective of the non-fees regulations can best be achieved through the proposed regulations, as opposed to the three alternatives considered. The RIS concludes that the proposed fee regulations are justified on the basis that the fee schedule conforms to user-pay principles and the benefits would be greater than those which would be derived from the two alternatives considered. The proposed fee scale would pass-on to users significant productivity gains in the administration and operation of the Registry. Fees in the proposed scale would be the lowest in Australia.

Public comments are invited on the RIS and accompanying Regulations. Copies may be obtained from the Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages by telephoning (03) 9603 5874.

Written submissions will be received at the following address up to 4.30 p.m. on Thursday, 28 August 1997: The Registrar, Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages, 295 Queen Street, Melbourne 3000. All submissions will be treated as public documents.
