EXEMPTION
Application No. 12 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by the Victorian Police Force in respect of the staffing ratio of males and females in the Protective Services Division at the level of Constable and Senior Constable.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ on a gender specific basis up to a maximum of twelve percent of the authorised strength of the Protective Security Division plus further gender specific temporary assignments on an "as required" basis.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The Protective Security Division is an area where Police members are required to perform a number of duties directly related to female witnesses, female suspects and offenders. Female members of the Protective Security Division are often required to perform body searches and engage in intimate conversation with these witnesses.
- Court Security—Providing court security often involves the searching of females in Court precincts and the searching and transportation of female prisoners.
- Close Personnel Protection VIPs—Providing protection for VIPs who are female poses a protocol problem for the Protective Security Division. Protective Security Division members, when performing these duties, are required to search and escort the VIP to areas restricted to women only, (dressing rooms, toilets, etc.).

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ on a gender specific basis up to a maximum of twelve percent of the authorised strength of the Protective Security Division plus further gender specific temporary assignments on an "as required" basis, this exemption to remain in force until 19 February 2000.

EXEMPTION
Application No. 13 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Remy-Moffitt Healthcare Services (A.C.N. 065 798 245) to advertise for and employ gender specific attendant care workers.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ gender specific attendant care workers.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant provides attendant care in the homes of people with physical and intellectual disabilities, and who are also suffering from the effects of acquired brain damage.
- In certain circumstances requests are made for attendants of a particular gender. These requests relate to certain aspects of a home care programme ie. showering, toileting, dressing, etc., attending swimming and other exercise programmes, or in other cases regular sleepovers are required. These programmes may also require the care of young children.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ gender specific attendant care workers, this exemption to remain in force until 19 February 2000.

EXEMPTION
Application No. 14 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by the Department of Human Services (DHS) to advertise for and appoint a person who is Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander in the Public Health Training Scheme (PHTS).

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 14, 37, 42, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and appoint a person who is Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander in the Public Health Training Scheme (PHTS).

In granting this exception the Tribunal noted:

- The PHTS is a two year full-time broad based training program in the public health practice. On the job training is provided in a variety of public health settings and supplemented by in-service training in management, information technology and finance.
- The scheme is highly regarded as a quality training program in the public health sector, all trainees have obtained employment on completion of the scheme.
- The position has been identified in recognition of a number of factors, these being;
 - the low rates of Aboriginal employment with the DHS (41 staff out of a total of 12,000) and more precisely 3 within the Public Health Branch (total staff being 220).
 - the low rate of Aboriginal employment in Australia generally, Victoria not being substantially different than any other State or Territory.
 - the specific lack of senior Aboriginal staff within the public health sector.
 - the limited access to mainstream health services experienced by Aboriginal people, partly due to the lack of relevant cultural knowledge within senior ranks of the DHS that cannot be remedied simply by cross cultural awareness programs.

- the desire by the DHS (in accordance with Government policy) to address the abovementioned factors.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 14, 37, 42, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and appoint a person who is Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander in the Public Health Training Scheme (PHTS), this exemption to remain in force until 19 February 2000.

EXEMPTION
Application No. 15 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Mrs D. Kempson of 1575 Nepean Highway, Mt Eliza, to advertise for and sell a property situated at Flat 9, 17 Oak Grove, Ripponlea, only to a person with a mental impairment.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 47, 49, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and sell a property situated at Flat 9, 17 Oak Grove, Ripponlea, only to a person with a mental impairment.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- All the occupied flats at 17 Oak Grove, Ripponlea, are occupied by persons with a mental impairment.
- The current occupant of the property the subject of this application is no longer able to look after themselves and the proceeds from the sale are needed to buy into a home for board and lodging.
- There is a covenant on the title of all flats at 17 Oak Grove, Ripponlea, restricting the sale of these flats to a person who has a mental illness or has a family member suffering a mental illness.

- People with schizophrenia or mental disorders often experience difficulty obtaining reasonable accommodation.
- Because all the flats in this block are owned/rented by people with schizophrenia or mental disorders it means that a person in a similar situation is entering a safe environment surrounded by people with similar disabilities.
- It is very likely that a person without a mental impairment may find it an uncomfortable environment to live in.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 47, 49, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and sell a property situated at Flat 9, 17 Oak Grove, Ripponlea, only to a person with a mental impairment, this exemption to remain in force until 19 February 2000.

EXEMPTION Application No. 59 of 1996

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal constituted by the President pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by The Graduate Union of the University of Melbourne Inc ("The Union") to exclude from the activities of the "mono group" of the Union, members of the Union aged 45 years and over and to advertise those activities on the basis of that exclusion.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 42, 60 and 195 of the Act to permit the applicant to exclude from the activities of the "mono group" of the Union, members of the Union aged 45 years and over and to advertise those activities on the basis of that exclusion.

In accordance with its Reasons for decision dated 17 February 1997 the Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 42, 60 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to exclude from the activities of the "mono group" of the Union, members of the Union aged 45 years and over and to advertise those activities on the basis of that exclusion. This exemption does not apply in respect of Mr Raja Sarangapany who by letter dated 13 October 1995 lodged with the Equal Opportunity Commission a complaint against the Union. This exemption is for a period of three years. This exemption is to remain in force until 19 February 2000.

Note: Copy of the reasons for decision may be obtained upon application to the Registrar of the Anti-Discrimination Tribunal.
