EXEMPTION
Occupational Health and Safety (Certification of Plant Users and Operators) Regulations
1994

PURPOSE

To exempt power company employees from the requirement to hold a Basic Rigging Certificate of Competency to perform certain work.

DEFINITION

In this exemption "Power Company" means Citipower, Eastern Energy, Powercor Australia, Solaris Power and United Energy.

BACKGROUND

In undertaking their duties power company employees perform a number of tasks which require them to hold a Basic Rigging Certificate of Competency under the Occupational Health and Safety (Certification of Plant Users and Operators) Regulations 1994. However as the work required to be performed is only a small portion of that which falls within the scope of the Basic Rigging Certificate of Competency, an exemption is issued.

REGULATIONS

Regulation 7 (1) of the Occupational Health and Safety (Certification of Plant Users and Operators) Regulations 1994 states:

"(1) A person must not do any of the work encompassed by a Certificate of Competency unless he or she holds an appropriate Certificate of Competency in relation to that work."

EXEMPTION

Under Regulation 9 (1) of the Occupational Health and Safety (Certification of Plant Users and Operators) Regulations 1994, I exempt the power company employees from Regulation 7 (1) with respect to a Basic Rigging Certificate of Competency, for the type of work described below subject to the conditions listed below.

I am satisfied that the work can be performed as safely by a person who does not hold a Certificate of Competency as it can be performed by a person who holds such a certificate provided that the conditions are adhered to:

TYPE OF WORK

1. Erecting Distribution Pole Type Substations

As described in the power company Lineworker's Handbook—June 1995, Section 13-23.

2. Pole Erection into Live HV Conductors

As described in the power company Live Line Manual, Section 9.15—October 1995, Sheets 1 to 6 (inclusive) Drawing No. VX9/5485J.

3. Straining of Overhead Powerlines

As described in:

- (a) power company Overhead Line Construction Manual—June 1995, Section 7.1 to 7.4 (inclusive); and
- (b) power company Lineworker's Handbook—June 1995, Section 7.1 to 7.20 (inclusive).

CONDITIONS

1. Power company employees working under this exemption must hold a:

- (a) Crane Chaser's or Dogman's Certificate of Competency issued under the Lifts and Cranes Act 1967; or
- (b) Dogging Certificate of Competency issued under the Occupational Health and Safety (Certification of Plant Users and Operators) Regulations 1994; or
- (c) certificate that is equivalent to a Certificate of Competency issued under the Lifts and Cranes Act 1967 or the Occupational Health and Safety (Certification of Plant Users and Operators) Regulations 1994.

2. Each power company employee working under this exemption must be provided with training, instruction and information consistent with the safe execution of the relevant procedures listed in the "Type of Work" above.

3. Power company must retain a list of all employees who have successfully completed the training required under Condition 2 and this list must be available to WorkCover upon request.

4. Each power company employee working under this exemption must have a copy of the relevant work procedures which is subject to this exemption.

EXEMPTION

Application No. 7 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Atlast Young Women's Refuge Collective Incorporated. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a 24 hours crisis accommodation service for young women aged 12-25 years.
- The service has been operating since 1986 and is funded through the Supported Accommodation and Assistance Program.
- One of the applicant's aims is to guarantee a "women only" space as many of the service users have experienced domestic violence and/or sexual abuse.
- The refuge is staffed on a 24 hour basis and therefore employees are required to sleep over.
- The applicant offers Crisis Accommodation for young women aged 12-25 years and accommodates young women who are pregnant or have children.
- The applicant aims to provide for its clients a safe, secure and supportive environment.
- The applicant is funded by the Department of Human Services—Homeless and Family Violence Program to accommodate young homeless women aged 12-25 years with preference given to those who are under 21 years and to young women with children up to the age of 12 years who do not meet Domestic Violence Refuge Criteria.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ females only, this exemption to remain in force until 5 March 2000.

EXEMPTION
Application No. 17 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Dandenong Valley Job Support Incorporated. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male case manager.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male case manager.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- Dandenong Valley Job Support is a non-profit Commonwealth program that assists people with disabilities with entry into open employment.
- The applicant's psychiatric program currently consists purely of two female case managers whom are servicing a client listing of approximately 70% males of which many have expressed that they would prefer to have a male case manager.
- The applicant's case load is predominantly male and they are presently unable to provide them with a case manager of their own gender.
- The employment of a male case manager would address the gender imbalance among case managers employed by the applicant.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male case manager, this exemption to remain in force until 5 March 2000.

EXEMPTION
Application No. 18 of 1997

The Anti-Discrimination Tribunal pursuant to Section 83 (5) (a) (ii) of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 ("the Act") has considered an application pursuant to Section 83 of the Act by Drummond Street Relationship Centre Incorporated. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male counsellor.

Upon reading the material tendered in support of this application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male counsellor.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant currently has a gender imbalance in their counselling staff (5 women and one man).
- The appointment of a male counsellor will enable the applicant to ensure that their clients have access to a counsellor of their choice.
- The applicant is a not-for-profit organisation incorporated under the Victorian Associations Incorporation Act.
- As an approved Family and Child Counselling Agency under the terms of the Federal Family Law Act, the applicant receives funding from the Federal Attorney-General's Department to provide a couple/family counselling service.
- The applicant provides an opportunity for people to explore with a counsellor the difficulties they may experience when moving into, involved in a relationship or adjusting to life after a relationship has ended.

The Tribunal grants an exemption from the operation of Sections 13, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ a male counsellor, this exemption to remain in force until 5 March 2000.

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994
REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT
Proposed Liquor Control (Prescribed Substances) Regulations 1997

Notice is given in accordance with Section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared in relation to the proposed Liquor Control (Prescribed Substances) Regulations 1997.

The proposed Regulations provide that for the purposes of the definition of "liquor" in Section 3 of the Liquor Control Act 1987, an alcohol-based food essence is liquor if it is sold or disposed of at retail level and packaged—

- (a) in the case of vanilla essence (whether natural or imitation), in a container of more than 100 millilitres capacity; and
- (b) in any other case, a container of more than 50 millilitres capacity.

Accordingly, a retailer must therefore obtain a liquor licence in order to sell those alcohol-based food essences that are subject to the proposed Regulations.

The reason for the proposed Regulations is that certain alcohol-based food essences are packaged in sizes that are conducive to their use as an intoxicant. There have been reports of persons under 18 years of age consuming such substances and becoming seriously intoxicated.

The objective of the proposed Regulations is to contribute to initiatives to further minimise misuse and abuse of alcohol amongst persons under 18 years of age by regulating the retail availability of certain alcohol-based food essences.

The RIS found that it will achieve its objective by restricting the retail availability of those alcohol-based food essences that are conducive to misuse and abuse amongst persons under 18 years of age, whilst only imposing a relatively small cost on retailers who may wish to sell such essences.

The RIS examined an alternative to the proposed Regulations which was for producers and distributors of alcohol-based food essences to abide by a voluntary code of conduct.

The Regulatory Impact Statement clearly identifies that the proposed Regulations are the most effective means of achieving the objective.

Public comments or written submissions are invited on the RIS and accompanying Regulations. Copies may be obtained by contacting Ms Judy Pitcher, Liquor Licensing Commission, telephone 9412 6662.

Public comments or written submissions will be received at the following address up to 5.00 p.m. on 4 April 1997: Mr Brian Kearney, Chief Executive Officer, Liquor Licensing Commission, 232 Victoria Parade, East Melbourne 3002.

All submissions will be treated as public documents.

ATTACHMENT

JewelWay operates a multi-level marketing scheme for jewellery in Australia. The scheme consists of a network of Independent Representatives who sell jewellery directly to customers. A person who wishes to become an Independent Representative enters into a contract with JewelWay. The contract comprises the "Policies and Procedure", "Sales Compensation Plan" and the "Australian Independent Representative Application and Agreement". A person who thereby becomes a participant in the JewelWay business is not required to make any payment to or for the benefit of JewelWay.

Commissions and bonuses received by Independent Representatives are calculated solely on the value of jewellery sold. An Independent Representative does not receive any payment or other benefits in respect of the introduction of other persons who become participants in the business. The level in the business which an Independent Representative attains, and the consequent bonuses and benefits received, are also solely dependent on the value of jewellery sold by the Independent Representative and their down-line Independent Representatives.
