By His Excellency Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, Knight Companion of the Royal Hanoverian Guelphic Order, Captain-General and Governor-in-Chief of the Territory of New South Wales and its Dependencies, and Vice-Admiral of the same, &c. &c. &c.

WHEREAS a certain Bill was passed by the Legislative Council of New South Wales in the thirteenth year of Her Majesty's Reign, intituled, "An Act for the more effectual prevention of Vagrancy, and for the punishment of idle and disorderly persons, rogues, and vagabonds, and incorrigible rogues in the Colony of New South Wales," which Bill was assented to in Her Majesty's name, by me, as Governor for the time being: And whereas I did, by the first convenient opportunity transmit to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, an authentic copy of the said Bill so assented to, which said copy was received by the Right Honorable Earl Grey, then being one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, on the twenty-third day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty: And whereas Her Majesty, in pursuance of the Act of Parliament, passed in the fifth and sixth years of Her Majesty's Reign, intituled, "An Act for the Government of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land," and in exercise of the powers reserved to Her Majesty, hath, by an Order bearing date the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, by and with the advice of Her Majesty's Privy Council, declared Her disallowance of the said Bill: Now, therefore, I, Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, as such Governor aforesaid, by this my Proclamation, do signify to the said Legislative Council such disallowance, and that I have duly received a Certificate under the Hand and Seal of the Right Honorable Earl Grey, now one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, certifying the day on which such Bill was received as aforesaid.

DISALLOWANCE OF VAGRANT ACT.

REFERRING to the Proclamation of this day's date, intimating the disallowance of the Act of Council 13 Victoria, No 46, His Excellency the Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State, explanatory of the reasons for which Her Majesty in Council has seen fit to disallow the Act in question.

By His Excellency's Command,
E. DEAS THOMSON.

(No. 91.)
Downing-street,
4 July, 1850.

SIR,

I have had under my consideration amongst other Acts passed by the Legislature of New South Wales, during its last Session, and reported on in your Despatch No. 246, of the 16th of December last, that numbered 46 of the 13th Victoria, and entitled, "An Act for the more effectual prevention of Vagrancy, and other purposes."

2 You report that this Act closely resembles the Act which it repeals 6 Wm 4, No 6, and re-enacts some of its provisions which had been found very wholesome in a police point of view, but that it extends those provisions to expire convicts who may arrive in New South Wales from the neighbouring colonies. That these provisions may be very advantageous, as applied to those classes of the population whom the former Acts embraced. I have no reason to doubt, but the Act now before me extends the application of these provisions in a manner which I regard as objectionable. It imposes, in the first place on all persons who shall have been transported to, or convicted in, any British colony in the southern hemisphere who may arrive in New South Wales the necessity of notifying to the magistrates, within a certain time, every change of residence, and renders them liable to two years imprisonment, with hard labor, for neglecting to do so.

3. This provision indeed (as I understand the Act), ceases to have any force after the expiration of seven years from the latest conviction of a party, so that a prisoner who had been sentenced for instance, in this country, to seven years transportation, and who after three years imprisonment in England, had been sent as an exile to New South Wales, would be free from the necessity of registering his change of residence at the end of four years.

4. But there is a further provision that every such convict who, having been duly summoned by any Justice of the Peace to give an account of his means of support, shall fail to appear without lawful excuse, shall be liable, in like manner, to two years imprisonment with hard labour. I should infer that it must have been the intention of the framers of the Act to confine the operation of this provision, as well as that of requiring the registration of their place of abode, to persons whose latest conviction had been within seven years, but it does not appear to me that from the manner in which it is worded, such would be its effect; on the contrary, if I understand it rightly, every person who having been at any period convicted, should come to the colony, would remain for ever subject to this severe regulation, and to the mark of difference from all other classes of her Majesty's subjects which it imposes.

5. It is obvious that it would be both unjust and impolitic to render all persons who had ever been convicted permanently liable to such a regulation, and both the enactments to which I have adverted, making as they do no exception in favour of those convicts to whom her Majesty may have been pleased to extend either free or conditional pardons, as seriously interfering with the Crown's prerogative of pardon, although I do not doubt they were not so intended. Her Majesty's remission of the whole or part of a sentence passed in this country or elsewhere in her dominions, would be of little avail if, on the arrival of the parties to whom her grace had thus been extended, in a particular portion of her dominions, they were immediately rendered subject to a code of restrictions which would at once materially abridge their freedom, and also perpetuate a distinction between them and other classes of her subjects. In order to show how manifestly objectionable such an enactment would be, it is only necessary to point out that under it, a person to whom her Majesty might have been advised to extend a free pardon on proof of his having been wrongfully convicted, though he would regain all the privileges of any other British subject on his return to this country, would remain subject in New South Wales to some of the penal consequences of his conviction.

6. It is obvious also that in this respect the present Act very materially differs from the repealed one, which imposed these restrictions only on persons again convicted in the Colony, and was therefore regarded as creating an additional penalty for the commission of a fresh offence.

7. For these reasons I have felt it my duty to advise Her Majesty to disallow this Act, being at the same time aware that as its disallowance will revive the repealed Act of 6 William IV, the police arrangements of the colony will not be materially impeded thereby, and the Legislature will have an opportunity to reconsider the subject.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

GREY.

Governor Sir Charles Fitz Roy.

CONDITIONS.

1. All the articles required by this notice are to be of the best quality of their several kinds.

3. Beef and mutton to be issued in such proportions as may be required, and when the quantity admits of it, to be delivered in fore and hind quarters alternately.

4. The maize meal to be similar in quality to the wheat meal, and to be twice ground.

5. When it may be necessary to substitute one article for another, the following proportions are to be observed, viz., 1 lb wheat flour or 1 lb biscuit equal to 1 lb bread; 1 lb salt beef or 1 lb mutton, or 10 oz salt pork, equal to 1 lb of fresh beef.

6. The tobacco to be the best colonial.

7. The above substitutions are not to be made except on the requisition of the officer authorised to draw the several rations.

8. Vegetables to be supplied in reasonable proportions of potatoes, greens, pumpkins, onions, &c. &c.

9. The supplies for road parties and surveying parties are to be delivered at the nearest fixed stations to the places where the party may be employed, on the requisition of the officer in charge; and in case the whole ration of forage be not required or delivered, each of the species to be reckoned as the portion of the ration undermentioned:—The maize or barley 4-12—the hay 5-12—the bran, 2-12—the straw 1-12.

10. The supplies (not specified in the preceding paragraph) are to be delivered direct to the parties or establishments entitled thereto, on the written order of the person duly authorised for the purpose.

11. Provisions and forage, when required by rations, according to the scales under their respective heads, the tenders are to express the price per ration only.

12. The tenders for forage are not required to state the price of the ration for oxen, as when the latter is required, one-half of the allowance fixed for horses will be drawn, and one-half the price allowed to the contractor, whose engagement is to provide for both horses and oxen.

13. In the event of a difference of opinion between the contractor and the party receiving the supplies, as to the quality, the same is to be decided, in cases where the article is not of a perishable nature, by a Board of Survey, according to the practice of the service. But in country districts, where a Board of Survey cannot be conveniently assembled, the party objecting will name one person as arbitrator, the contractor or his agent another, and these two will (previously to any other proceeding on their part) concur in naming a third, as umpire, who, in the event of the arbitrators not agreeing in opinion, will be called upon for his decision, which shall be final.

14. If the board, arbitrators, or umpire shall decide that the article is not of proper quality, it must be immediately replaced by the contractor, failing of which it will be procured by the department requiring it, and the expense charged to the contractor.

15. In the event of any unnecessary delay or failure of the contractor to supply the articles when required, they will be otherwise procured and charged in like manner.

16. In cases where the article is of a perishable nature, or from some other cause, injury would be sustained either by the parties to whom the rations are due or the contractor, by waiting for a Board of Survey, the head of the department or officer in charge of the party or parties for whom the rations are to be received, shall have the power to reject such article or articles as are obviously of inferior quality; it being distinctly understood that he will be responsible to the government for so doing; and that the contractor will have a right of appeal to the Governor, although in the meantime he must take back the rejected article and supply good in its stead, failing of which it will be obtained by the officer or party requiring it, and the expense charged to the contractor.

17. A repetition of irregularity in the quantity or quality of the supplies, or of any delay in delivering or replacing them when required, will subject the contractor, upon the report of the officer in charge of the parties or establishment, to such mulct, not exceeding one-fourth the amount of his monthly account, as the Governor may direct. It will also be in the power of the Governor, upon such repetition, to terminate the contract forthwith.

18. It will be in the power of either party to limit the duration of the contract, by giving in writing a notice of three full calendar months to the opposite party, and to end the contract at the expiration of that period, it being understood that such notice can be given only from the first day of a month, and within the period for which the contract is made or agreed to be made.

19. The contractor will be required to prepare his own account, monthly or quarterly, in the prescribed form; and on the production thereof, with the requisite vouchers in a complete state, to the Sub-Treasurer for examination, and upon their approval, payment will be made by him at Melbourne.

20. The value of all packages to be included in the price demanded.

21. Printed forms of tender may be obtained from the Sub-Treasurer; and a security of £2000 will be required for the due fulfilment of the contract. No tender can be attended to unless accompanied by a certificate from two responsible parties proposed as security, stating they are willing to become bound as securities for the contractor accordingly, and the bonds must be executed within twenty days from the day of acceptance of the tender being notified, failing of which the contracts will be again advertised or another tender accepted.

22. The tenders to contain the names of the tenderers and their sureties, and places of residence at length.

23. All tenders to be enclosed in a separate envelope, and marked "Tender for Provisions, &c" and to be deposited in a box marked "Tenders" at the western entrance of the Government Offices.

24. The tenders must include the whole of the rations and separate articles above mentioned.

25. The tenders are to be given in for the undermentioned districts, which may be tendered for separately or collectively. When the latter is the case each locality, as given below, must be stated in the tender.
