NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE following Sailing Directions for the eastern entrance into Western Port, and for the Anchorages off Cape Woolamai and the east end of Phillip Island, are published for general information.

By His Excellency's Command,
ROBERT S. ANDERSON,
Commissioner of Trade and Customs.

Department of Trade and Customs,
Melbourne, 7th February, 1862.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

SAILING DIRECTIONS FOR THE EASTERN ENTRANCE INTO WESTERN PORT, AND FOR THE ANCHORAGES OFF CAPE WOOLAMAI AND THE EAST END OF PHILLIP ISLAND.

THE eastern passage into Western Port has recently been surveyed, and its hidden dangers and prominent points marked by beacons and boys.

Vessels in the neighborhood desirous of entering Western Port, or seeking shelter and unable to fetch the western entrance, need not loose ground by running back round the promontory, but in any weather, if the S.E. point of Cape Woolamai can be seen, may with confidence steer for the eastern passage, where good anchorage, easy of access, sheltered from all winds, will be found for vessels drawing fourteen (14) feet.

Vessels of larger tonnage and heavier draught, up to eighteen (18) feet, can lie in the deep water anchorage, to the N.W. of Black Reef, sheltered from all winds except S.E. gales. Vessels drawing twelve (12) feet can go through the passage into Western Port at high water.

DESCRIPTION OF THE WEST SIDE OF THE PASSAGE.

Cape Woolamai.—The S.E. end of Phillip Island lies E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S., twenty-two miles from Cape Schanck, is a high steep wedge-shaped granite headland, sloping towards the N.W., of a red color and distinguished by being the highest land near the coast.

A rocky ledge, awash, lies about a cable's length off the pitch of the cape, upon which the sea breaks heavily in bad weather.

A small sunken rock, which only shows awash at low water, lies about a cable's length and a half to the northward of the S.E. part of the cape, and half a cable's length off shore.

Red Point is the northernmost part of the western head of the entrance, is about fifty feet high, and composed of bare red granite boulders with a small patch of trees on the rising ground to the westward of it, and may be known by a square open-framed wooden beacon, colored black, standing forty (40) feet from the water's edge. About two cables' length to the southward of the black beacon, an isolated square block of granite, colored white, juts out from the other rocks close to the water's edge.

Black Reef.—This reef divides the outer from the inner anchorage and runs out N. by E. a cable's length from the N.W. end of the sandy bight inside of Red Point. About twenty fathoms N. by W. from the end of the reef lies a rocky patch thirty (30) feet in diameter, with three feet over it and twelve feet between it and the reef. A pillar beacon, surmounted by a black ball, is placed on the middle of the patch, with the following bearings:—

Red Point S.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E.
Sandy Point S.W. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

Sandy Peak is the highest land most southerly of the sand hills on the east end of Phillip Island. The peak is steep, well defined, and marked by a cross beacon on the top, and is a good mark for the anchorage.

Woody Point.—The north-eastern part of Phillip Island is low, and covered with trees. It forms the western side of the inner heads, and bears N. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. two miles and one-tenth from Red Point.

Middle Rocks are two isolated flat rocks; the easternmost is the largest, being about one hundred and twenty feet long and thirty feet broad, and marked by a pillar beacon and black ball. These rocks cover at half tide, and lie about a quarter of a cable's length east from Woody Point, with five fathoms close alongside of the easternmost.

An extensive mud flat, which partly dries at low water, stretches out from Woody Point into the passage in a south and south-west direction, and into Western Port, N.N.E., about a mile, trending away in a W.N.W. direction upwards of four miles. The southern end is marked by a pillar beacon and black ball, with the following bearings:—

Davis' Point, E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N.
Sandy Peak, S. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

The south-east and north ends inside of Western Port are marked by two black buoys, and the eastern edge of the flat by three black cross beacons. The following are the bearings of the buoys:—

East buoy, in seven feet	{ White house on Church Island, W. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. Hut on Woody Point, S.W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.
North buoy, in ten feet

DESCRIPTION OF THE EAST SIDE OF THE PASSAGE.

Griffith's Point.—The east head is the S.W. part of the mainland; is a sandstone bluff, about seventy (70) feet, bare of trees for some distance inland. A rocky ledge runs out S.W. about two cables' length from the point. The extensive sandbank, which partly blocks up the eastern passage, having only four feet of water over it in most places, stretches out from Griffith's Point upwards of three-quarters of a mile to the S.W. and westward. The S.W. tongue lies about two cables N.E. from Red Point, with four feet over it, and two and three fathoms close to its edge. In bad weather, especially during ebb tide, the sea always breaks over the edge of the bank. It dries in patches at the north end.

White Beacon Patch lies N.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W. one mile from Red Point; is a small rocky patch on the west end of the sand, with three feet over it, and two fathoms close to the western end; is marked by a pillar beacon and white ball.

The N.W. end of the sand is marked by a white cask buoy, moored in 12 feet, with the following bearings:—

Sandy Peak, just open to the westward of white beacon, S. by W. Griffiths Point E. by S.

Davis' Point.—The westernmost part of the main land is low, sandy, and wooded to water's edge; it forms the eastern side of the inner head; a long mud flat extends from it in a N.E. direction. The N.W. part, on which there is a heap of loose stones, is marked by a pillar beacon with white ball; the western edge of the channel, to the north of the flat, is marked by three white cross beacons placed in five feet water, bearing from each other N. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. and S. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W.

The coal shaft recently opened lies N.E. three-quarters of a mile from Davis' Point, close to the water's edge. Should coal be found in large quantities, there is excellent shelter for vessels to lie and coal up to fourteen feet within three cables' lengths of the shaft.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ENTRANCE AND ANCHORAGE.

The distance between the N.E. part of Cape Woolamai (Red Point) and Griffith's Point is about a mile.

The navigable channel into Western Port and the anchorages is between these points close over towards Cape Woolamai at its south-east end, and close to Davis' Point at its north end.

The deep water anchorage is to the N.W. of Red Point, between the south-western edge of the sand and the sandy bight off the east end of Phillip Island; the available anchorage space is two cables broad and about half a mile long, in three and four fathoms sandy bottom.

The inner anchorage is further to the northward, past Black Reef beacon, is from two to three cables broad, and about a mile and a half long, with from fifteen to twenty feet water, sandy and mud bottom.

DIRECTIONS FOR ENTERING THE DEEP WATER ANCHORAGE.

After rounding the south-east end of Cape Woolamai haul in to the northward for Red Point, keeping a look out for the tail of the sand, taking care to be within cable's length of the point before it is brought to bear S.W. to clear the sand spit which lies N.E. two cables' length from Red Point, passing which you may anchor midway between it and Black Reef beacon keeping as close to the island side as the depth of water will admit. The soundings shoal gradually from eight fathoms of the S.E. part of Cape Woolamai to three fathoms close to Red Point, and the tail of the sand.

If bound to the inner anchorage, after passing Red Point keep midway between Black Reef beacon and the western edge of the sand, where the channel is only a cable's length broad but widens out immediately you are past the reef, to the N.W. of which you will find good shelter going as close in shore as the depth will permit; or after passing reef beacon steer N.W. half a mile, keeping the white beacon a little on the starboard bow, giving it a berth of half a cable's length in passing, and anchor midway between it and the white buoy, or you can run to the northward of the white buoy and anchor between it and Davies' Point. The channel here is over three cables' length wide and gives more room for getting under weigh again.

Vessels drawing twelve feet can, by choosing a proper time of tide, enter Western Port by the eastern passage, but they should wait until nearly slack water as the tide runs with great force through the narrows up to the north black buoy.

The navigable channel above Woody Point through the mud flats, which has been beached off, has not over seven feet at low water at its northern and southern ends.

The directions already given for the inner anchorage will take vessels bound into Western Port up to Davies' Point, which may be passed within twenty fathoms, and a course shaped for the south black buoy, bearing from Davis' Point N.N.E. 6-10 of a mile, pass to the eastward of it about half a cable's length when haul to the N.W. towards the edge of the mud flat off Woody Point, and when you open the northernmost white beacon to the westward of the other two stand up N.N.E. midway between them and the black beacons until past the northernmost black buoy, when you are clear of the mud flats. If bound towards Observation Point, a N.W. $\frac{1}{4}$ N. course four and a half miles will carry you to it keeping in three fathoms.

A small rocky patch with only three feet on it lies E. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. about three-quarters of a mile from the north black buoy, and a mile N.W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. from Anderson's Bluff. The patch is marked by a black and red chequered buoy.

Vessels within Western Port, and bound to sea through the eastern passage, after passing Observation Point, may steer S.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. for the north black buoy, keeping in three fathoms until close up to the buoy, give it a berth of half a cable's length in passing, and steer to the southward between the white and black beacons, hauling gradually to the eastward before passing the last black beacon. Leave the south black buoy on the starboard hand, steering about S.W. by S. through the narrows, keeping close over to Davis' Point, and when Griffith's Point bears E. by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. haul out south for half a mile, and round white beacon patch; thence steer about S.E. by E. out to sea, keeping about half a cable's length from the western edge of the sand, leaving the beacons on Black Reef and Red Point on the starboard hand.

Tides.—It is high water at full and change at Woody Point at 12.50. Springs rise about eight feet, and neaps about five. The tide runs with great force all through the passage, especially at the narrows, and between the Black Reef and the western edge of the sand. Vessels at anchor would do well to run a kedge out to keep them from fouling.

Excellent fresh water can be obtained at all times close to the fisherman's hut, just inside of Red Point.

All bearings are magnetic, and soundings low water spring tides.

PETITION UNDER THE MUNICIPAL ACT.

BROWN'S AND SCARSDALE.

IN pursuance of the Act of Council 18 Victoria No. 15, the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has directed the publication of the substance and prayer of a petition addressed to His Excellency as hereinafter set forth, signed by one hundred and sixty-seven landholders and householders resident at Brown's and Scarsdale, praying for the erection of their locality into a municipal district.

JOHN O'SHANASSY.

Chief Secretary's Office,
Melbourne, 23rd January, 1862.

390.

The petitioners state that they are resident landholders and householders in the locality hereinafter described, and known as "Brown's and Scarsdale," in the parish of Scarsdale, which they are desirous should be erected into a municipal district.

That there are between 5000 and 6000 inhabitants in the proposed district, most of whom are engaged in mining, commercial, and agricultural pursuits, and are located at Brown's, Scarsdale, and Black Hill, and that there is, besides, a large number of scattered habitations, the occupants of which it is desirable to include, and thus to secure to all the comforts and advantages derivable from centralization.

That the locality is well adapted for agriculture, and if rendered available by division into allotments of from half an acre to five acres or more will be capable of producing cereals and vegetables at present imported from other localities, and that the saving anticipated from such an arrangement might be applied to municipal requirements.

That the elements of wealth, such as a large and increasing population, a genial soil, and mineral productiveness, are here concentrated; that 325 acres are held under mining leases at a rental of £1625; and that there are 35 steam-engines in operation, which, with their appliances, are valued at £50,000; fifteen commodious hotels, a large number of mercantile establishments of a costly description, comfortable dwellings, a considerable number of horses and cattle, and a weekly yield of about 1500 ounces of gold.

That the greatest inconvenience experienced by the petitioners arises from want of roads, there being but ten chains of made road in the district, and the intercourse with surrounding localities constant and frequent, and that the prices of articles of necessity are enhanced through the hazards and delay inseparable from bad roads.

Lastly, the petitioners are stimulated to improve the surrounding lines of communication by the anticipation that their district will become the entrepôt between the western district and the sea-board via the Ballarat and Geelong Railway.

And the petitioners pray as follows:—"Your petitioners seeing the manifold advantages of municipal institutions in other districts believe that similar results would follow the extension of the Municipal Act to theirs, and they therefore most humbly pray your Excellency to proclaim the area herein described as 'The municipal district of Brown's and Scarsdale,' [viz.]—commencing at the south-east corner of the Smythesdale municipality; thence west along the south boundary of the said municipality one hundred and twenty chains; thence by a continuation of the same line sixty chains; thence south three hundred and twenty chains; thence east one hundred and eighty chains, running partly along the north boundary of Brown's pre-emptive right; thence north three hundred and twenty chains to the commencing point aforesaid, the whole area being nine square miles."

[The signatures to the above-mentioned petition appeared in Gazette No. 13, pages 177, 178 ante.]

PETITION UNDER THE MUNICIPAL ACT.

VICINITY OF AMHERST.

THE Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has directed the publication of the substance and prayer of the petition hereinafter set forth, signed by forty-eight persons, stated to be the majority of the residents within an area contiguous to the municipal district of Amherst, praying that the said district may be enlarged so as to include their locality.

JOHN O'SHANASSY.

Chief Secretary's Office,
Melbourne, 21st January, 1862.

165.

The petitioners represent that they constitute a majority of the residents within the area hereinafter described, which is contiguous to the municipal district of Amherst, and that, with the addition of their locality, the district will still comprise less than nine square miles.

They further state that they are entirely debarred from participating in municipal rights and privileges.

And the petitioners pray as follows, viz. :—

"Your petitioners therefore humbly pray that your Excellency will be pleased to extend the boundaries of the Municipality of Amherst in the following manner: Commencing at the south-east angle of section six with a line bearing east thirty-six chains thirty-six links; from thence by a line bearing north one hundred and fifty chains; from thence by a line bearing west thirty-six chains thirty-six links; from thence by a line bearing south one hundred and fifty chains to the point of commencement."

[The signatures to the above-mentioned petition appeared in Gazette No. 8, page 116 ante.]

VICINITY OF CRESWICK.

THE Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has directed the publication of the substance and prayer of the petition hereinafter set forth, signed by thirty-eight persons, stated to be the majority of the householders resident within a defined area adjoining the Municipal District of Creswick, praying that their locality may be united with, and form part of, the said municipal district.

JOHN O'SHANASSY.

Chief Secretary's Office,
Melbourne, 14th January, 1862.

The petitioners state that they are a majority of the householders residing at Bald Hills, adjoining the southern boundary of the municipality of Creswick, and that they are desirous that the locality hereinafter described be united to and form part of the said municipality, viz.:—Commencing at the south-west corner of the said municipality; thence south one mile and ten chains; thence east one mile; thence north one mile and ten chains to a point on the south boundary line of the said municipality one mile east from the commencing point."

They further state that the number of householders residing within the abovementioned area exceeds thirty-six to the square mile, and that they believe it will be a great benefit to the inhabitants to have the locality annexed to the Creswick Municipality.

And the petitioners pray as follows:—
"Your petitioners therefore humbly beg that their petition will receive your Excellency's consideration, and that your Excellency will be pleased to grant the same."

[The signatures to the above-mentioned petition appeared in Gazette No. 5, page 75 ante.]

CONFERENCES.

On the 7th of September, 1861, the Chairman and Councillor Lee conferred with the Lauriston and Edgecombe Road Board upon the steps to be taken with respect to a projected bridge across the Coliban River, resulting in the board declining pecuniary assistance but promising support by every other means in their power.

On the 20th of September, 1861, Councillors Wilson and Graham had a similar conference with the Metcalfe Road Board, attended with a similar result.

DEPUTATIONS.

On the 9th of October, the chairman by appointment waited with a deputation upon the Honorable the Commissioner of Public Works, at Melbourne, to urge the erection of a bridge over the Coliban River in the township at the expense of the Government. The request was refused.

SANDHURST MUNICIPALITY.

TWELFTH HALF-YEARLY REPORT, 11TH JULY, 1861, TO 10TH JANUARY, 1862.

PUBLIC WORKS.

THE works completed during the half-year or now in progress are:—

Earthwork formation and roadways in Mollison street, Water street, Sheepwash road, Melvor road, Kennedy street, McCrae street, Arnold street, Mundy street extension, Williamson street extension, McLaren street, Forest street, and High street B.

Kerbing and channeling in Melvor road, McCrae street, Dowling street, Rowan street, Forest street, Bernal street.

Flagging Pall Mall and High street.

Bridge, &c., over creek at View Point. Additions to lock-up, gravelling roads, &c., clearing dead timber in reserve, improvement to cattle yards, manure pits, with other minor works, and the general maintenance of existing works, at a total cost of £6955 4s. 6d.

The expenditure for lighting, sweeping, prevention of fires, and for the board of health has amounted to £1443 4s. 10d. for the half-year.

BYE-LAWS PASSED.

No. 32. For further regulation of Sandhurst Market.—Not assented to.

No. 33. For striking a rate of One shilling in the pound for the year 1861.

FINANCE.

The sum of £4051 8s. 4d. has been received from the Government as grant-in-aid, making a total for the current year of £6012 18s. 9d.; and £1500 has also been paid by the Road and Bridge's Department towards the construction of the new channel, culvert, &c., at View Point.

A special grant, for expenditure on public gardens, of £150 has also been received. At the commencement of the half-year, in consequence of decreased value of farming produce, &c., the council reduced the tariff of market and weighbridge tolls about 30 per cent., but they are happy to state without reducing the gross amount of income, which has not only been maintained but increased.

The income from the cattle market and abattoirs, the council are happy to state, has exceeded their expectations. It was thought that, at the commencement, the receipts could not meet the expenditure, but the accounts show a favorable balance of about £100 for the half-year after paying all expenses.

MISCELLANEOUS.

At the request of the Commissioners for the Victorian Exhibition, and contributions to the forthcoming International Exhibition in London, the council undertook to forward contributions from Sandhurst, which it appeared would otherwise not be represented.

In October the district was honored by a visit from His Excellency the Governor, and the council deemed it their duty to make such arrangements for the reception of His Excellency as loyalty and the dignity of the town required.

ELECTIONS.

On the 3rd September, Councillor Casey resigned the chairmanship of the council, and Councillor Strickland was elected chairman in his place.

In December, Dr. Cruickshank was elected health officer for the municipality—a salary of £50 per annum being attached to the office.
