THE UNITED TOWN AND FARMERS' COMMON OF MANSFIELD INCREASED.

PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency SIR CHARLES HENRY DARLING, Knight Commander of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of Victoria, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by The Land Act, 1862, it is amongst other things enacted, that when any Crown land remains unsold in or within five miles of any municipal district, or upon or within five miles of any gold field, or in or within five miles of any town not contained in any municipal district, or within any agricultural area of which at least one-fourth part has been selected, the Governor in Council may proclaim such land to be a municipal common, or a gold fields common, or a town common, or a farmers' common respectively, as the case may be; and it is also enacted that the Governor in Council may at any time increase, diminish, alter, or abolish any common proclaimed before or after the passing of the said Act: Now therefore I, Sir Charles Henry Darling, the Governor of Victoria, with the advice of the Executive Council, do hereby increase the common hereinafter mentioned, in accordance with the above-recited provisions of the said Act, that is to say:—

THE UNITED TOWN AND FARMERS' COMMON OF MANSFIELD, mentioned in a Proclamation bearing date the twenty-fifth day of April, 1864, is hereby increased, by including therein thirteen hundred acres, more or less, being allotments 74, 75, 76, 77, 82, 83, 84, 85, and 86, all in the parish of Loyala, in the Delatite district, as shown on a plan deposited in the Crown Lands Office, Melbourne, deducting therefrom all sold or legally appropriated Crown lands.

Given under my Hand and the Seal of the Colony, at Melbourne, this tenth day of October, in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and in the twenty-eighth year of Her Majesty's reign.

By His Excellency's Command,
J. M. GRANT,

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

CONTROL OF THE MUCKLEFORD FARMERS' COMMON.

PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency SIR CHARLES HENRY DARLING, Knight Commander of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of Victoria, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS by The Local Government Act, 1863, it is amongst other things enacted, that the council of each shire shall, in the place and stead of the Board of Land and Works, alone have control over all farmers' commons and temporary commons for the use of selectors of lauds, such commons respectively being within the shire and proclaimed under the Act numbered CXLV, and over all farmers' commons within the meaning of the Act numbered CXVII, within the shire; and it is also enacted, that in all cases in which part only of any such common as hereinbefore mentioned shall be situated within any shire, the Governor in Council may order that the whole of such common either shall be and be deemed included in, or shall be and be deemed excluded from, such shire, or else may order that the several parts of such common so lying within and without such shire respectively shall be separate commons, and such common shall to all intents and purposes be deemed to be either within or without such shire, or such several parts thereof to be separate commons according to the tenor of such order: And whereas the farmers' common described amongst others in a Proclamation bearing date the fourth day of March, 1861, under the designation of the Farmers' Common at Muckleford, is situated partly within and partly without the shire of Maldon, and it is expedient that it should be wholly under the control of the council of the said shire: Now therefore I, Sir Charles Henry Darling, the Governor of Victoria, with the advice of the Executive Council, do order and proclaim that the portion of the Muckleford Farmers' Common which is situate beyond the boundaries of the shire of Maldon shall, in accordance with the provisions of the Act hereinbefore recited, be deemed to be included within the said shire.

Given under my Hand and the Seal of the Colony, at Melbourne, this tenth day of October, in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and in the twenty-eighth year of Her Majesty's reign.

CASTLEMAINE MINING DISTRICT.

BYE-LAWS.—[10th October, 1864.]

At a meeting of the mining board of the mining district of Castlemaine, begun and holden at the board room, Castlemaine, in the said district, on the tenth day of October, One thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, it is ordained by the said board as follows, that is to say:—

BYE-LAW 1.

That all bye-laws heretofore enacted shall be and the same are hereby repealed, and the following bye-laws substituted in lieu thereof, always saving and excepting the rights of all persons obtained previously to and held at the time of the following bye-laws coming into operation.

BYE-LAW 2.—INTERPRETATION OF WORDS AND TERMS.

For the purposes of these bye-laws, and any others that may subsequently be made, the words "miner" or "party" shall be construed to mean any party of miners, or mining company, or copartnership for mining purposes; and throughout these bye-laws every word and term used in the singular number shall be construed equally to mean and include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number; words importing the masculine gender shall include females, unless there be something in the context repugnant to such construction. The term "water privileges" shall be taken and construed to mean and include everything of or belonging to the use and application of water in any way whatsoever; and the words "Application, &c.," occurring after any bye-law or section thereof, shall be taken to refer to bye-law 13.

BYE-LAW 3.—QUARTZ WORKINGS.

1. Marking claims.—Every claim shall be marked by posts standing at least two feet out the ground, two of the posts to be placed on the supposed or ascertained line of the lode or vein at the northern and southern extremities of the claim.

2. Labor in claims.—The owner of a claim shall employ in connection therewith one man for every sixty lineal feet of reef held by him, except where otherwise provided for by these bye-laws, but it shall be sufficient if half the number of men work the ground during the first three months.

3. Base lines and width of quartz claims.—The width of claims shall be six hundred feet, three hundred on each side of the base line as hereinafter provided for, and the boundary lines that intersect said base line shall be at right angles thereto; on a second claim being taken up on the said reef adjoining the first, the owners of the first claim shall make application to the surveyor, who, after examination, shall mark off along the entire length of the ground then taken up, a base line on the supposed or ascertained line of the reef, and shall mark off said line by two or more posts at least four inches in diameter, to be provided by the miners interested, and fixed securely in the ground, and standing at least five feet above the surface. One post shall be erected at each end of the base line so marked, and if the end posts are not distinctly visible from each other, intermediate posts shall be erected by the surveyor for this purpose. The surveyor shall extend any base line, and mark the continuation as above, whenever applied to for this purpose. Further, on all reefs at present being worked where no base line has been marked off, on application by any of the miners on such reef, the surveyor shall mark off a base line in manner as hereinbefore described; but such base line shall in no case interfere with previously existing rights. The expense of marking out a base line as above shall be borne in equal proportions by all shareholders included in the ground marked off at the time of each operation, in proportion to the ground held by each, that is to say, so much for each sixty feet, or any part thereof, held by each shareholder.

4. Prospecting claims.—Any party prospecting on or for quartz reefs shall be entitled to mark off and hold a claim of three hundred and twenty feet along the line, or supposed line, of reef; provided such party prospect and work the same efficiently, and that such claim be not within five hundred feet of any other claim, or worked by less than two men.

5. Tunnelling claims.—Any party tunnelling for a reef shall be allowed twelve feet on each side from the centre of their tunnel, as a protection for the same, to any distance outside the boundary of the width of their claims, and also sufficient space at the mouth of the tunnel to deposit quartz or other substance. Application according to bye-law 12.

6. Well claims.—When a run of water shall have been struck on a quartz reef, any claimholder on the reef may call the attention of the warden to the subject, who shall visit the reef with four assessors, and after investigation, they may order all parties whose shafts are down to the water level to work their claims every day, or all day and all night if necessary, and also determine the number of men to be employed in each shaft.

7. Wall between claims.—A wall of three feet shall be left between each claim. Should any party neglect to leave a full wall, it shall be competent for the warden to deduct the length necessary for such wall from his claim, and assign it for a wall where omitted; and should more ground than sufficient be left for the wall, the warden shall curtail such excess, and deal with it in such manner as shall be most equitable and just. Walls between claims shall be the common property of the parties adjoining, and neither of them shall take down, mine into, remove, damage, endanger, or imperil any wall without first obtaining the consent, in writing, of the owner of the adjoining claim. Should openings be required through any wall for ventilation, and the parties interested cannot agree upon the terms, the warden shall give the necessary order for making the said openings, and also for the division of any auriferous deposits found therein or removed therefrom.

BYE-LAW 4.—ALLUVIAL WORKINGS.

1. Marking claims.—In marking alluvial claims, all parties shall do so by placing a substantial peg at each corner of the claim, which shall stand at least one foot out of the ground; they shall also cut a V trench, which shall extend at least two feet from each post along each boundary line of said claim. Claims in alluvial workings shall be taken and admeasured, where practicable, in square or rectangular blocks, and not exceeding in length thrice the breadth thereof, except as otherwise provided for in these bye-laws. A wall of three feet shall be left between each claim, which may be wrought by either party, who shall properly secure and timber the ground.

2. Extent of claims in new ground.—Mining on new ground shall be divided into shallow and deep sinking. Shallow sinking shall mean all shafts less than sixty feet in depth. The extent of ground for each man employed shall not exceed fifty feet by fifty feet, or two thousand five hundred superficial feet. Deep sinking shall mean all shafts exceeding sixty feet in depth. The extent of ground for each man employed shall not exceed seventy-five feet by seventy-five feet, or five thousand six hundred and twenty-five superficial feet. One-half the number of men shall be sufficient to work the claim until ten days after the same shall have been bottomed, when the full number shall be employed.

3. Old alluvial workings.—The extent of ground for each man employed on old or abandoned ground shall not exceed one hundred feet by one hundred feet, or ten thousand superficial feet.

4. Discovery of deposits and leads of gold.—When any miner or miners shall in alluvial ground sink and then drive in search of and discover any deposit or lead of gold, he or they shall, if the ground be unoccupied and immediately over the place where such lead or deposit shall be situate, be entitled to mark off and hold his or their claim over and in advance of the termination of the drive; and in all cases the party exploring in such manner shall enjoy the use of the drive and shaft from which such exploration shall have been made, and such a thickness of wall around both shaft and drive as shall be necessary for its preservation.

5. Alluvial prospecting.—Any party prospecting for alluvial gold deposits shall be entitled to the following areas: If at a distance of three hundred yards and under one mile from any gold workings, one hundred feet by one hundred feet; if one mile and under three miles, two hundred feet by two hundred feet; if three miles and under ten miles, three hundred feet by three hundred feet; if ten miles and upwards, four hundred feet by four hundred feet; provided such claims be worked by not less than two men. When a prospecting party shall have discovered gold in their claim, they shall within one week thereafter give written notice of the same to the registrar of the division, who shall post a notice thereof at his office; and if such party shall neglect to give said notice, then and in such case the extra ground shall be declared by the warden to be forfeited, and may be taken up as abandoned ground.

BYE-LAW 5.—PUDDLING AND SLUICING.

1. Ordinary puddling and sluicing claims.—In old or partially worked ground, or in new ground where the average depth from the surface shall not exceed ten feet, and where steam, horse, or water power shall be employed in connection with puddling, the extent of claim shall not exceed one-half of an acre for each man employed.

2. Extended claim for puddling, sluicing, and cement crushing.—Whereas it is expedient to afford facilities for and to encourage the investment of capital in re-working of auriferous alluvial lands, and where the proposed mode of working is such that an expense of not less than One hundred pounds is necessary in making a race or cutting, or timbering or machinery, every holder of a miner's right shall be entitled to take up and hold a claim not exceeding ten acres in extent, and he shall employ on or in connection with said claim one person for every acre so held. No such claim under this section shall be allowed except on ground which has been previously worked and abandoned. Application according to bye-law 13 to be posted for fourteen days.

3. Puddling and sluicing claims in narrow gullies.—It shall be lawful for any party taking up ground in narrow gullies, to mark the same in any form such party may think fit, provided the whole width of such previously abandoned ground in such gullies be taken in the admeasurement of such claim.

4. Sludge.—The owner or occupier of any machine which discharges sludge or water shall make, for the proper conveyance of such sludge or water to the main drain of the gully or flat in which such machine shall be situate, a good and sufficient drain; and when there shall be no main drain into which any such private drain can fall, then such private drain shall be made to unite with the private drain of any other machine situate in the same gully or flat, and the owners of such private drains shall be compelled to maintain the same in good order and free from obstruction. And further, the owner of any such machine shall not on any pretence whatsoever allow any sludge or water to run upon or spread over any road or crossing-places in common use in this district. And further, when two or more private drains shall unite, they shall be considered a main drain, which in all cases shall be carried to the main channel or creek, and be kept free from obstruction at the joint expense of all parties using the same.

BYE-LAW 6.—FRONTAGE SYSTEM.

1. Tunnelling ground.—Ground where the sinking shall exceed forty feet in depth, and principally through rock or cement, or alluvial sinking which shall exceed eighty feet in depth, shall be considered tunnelling ground, and may be taken up and worked on the frontage system either by sinking or tunnelling. The extent of claim shall be fifty feet in frontage for each man employed. Parties taking up claims under this bye-law shall peg off their frontage and give notice to the surveyor, who shall properly mark the claim by two rows of pegs parallel to each other, and at right angles with the supposed lead or frontage of the hill, said rows of pegs to be carried to any distance not exceeding three-quarters of a mile. The pegs in said parallel lines shall be within twenty yards of each other. All parties shall run their tunnels within their own parallels; nevertheless, where it shall appear to the surveyor that considerable time and expense can be saved by driving at any distance outside the parallels, they shall be permitted to do so, and the surveyor shall mark off the ground necessary for the purpose, provided that such permission shall not interfere with any existing rights; and twelve feet shall be allowed on each side from the centre of the tunnel as a protection to the same, and sufficient space at the mouth thereof on which to deposit all materials taken from said tunnel or claim. Parties may work their claims with one-half the number of men until gold shall have been obtained, after which the full number shall be employed. When gold shall have been found, the owners shall mark off their claim in breadth by two cross lines of pegs not exceeding three hundred feet apart, excepting where a tunnel shall exceed one thousand feet in length, the cross lines in the latter case not to be more than five hundred feet apart, and in each case to be marked off at right angles with the side parallel lines, after which any party may take up a claim between the same parallels. Application according to bye-law 13.

2. Extended claims in old and abandoned tunnelling ground.—In all tunnelling ground partially worked and abandoned the extent of claim for each man employed shall be eighty feet of frontage by three hundred in depth. Application according to bye-law 13.

3. Priority of claims in tunnelling ground.—In tunnelling under hills on the frontage of which angles may occur, or which may be of an oblong or elliptical form, no party shall be allowed to tunnel from any of the said angles, nor from either end of such hills so as to interfere with parties tunnelling from the main frontage of such hills. In cases of two or more parties tunnelling from opposite sides of the same hill, and their side boundary lines meeting or intersecting, or their claims meeting, the party that first marks off their claim shall be entitled to priority of claim thereon. In cases of tunnelling under hills or fronts of hills, such as occur at the junction of creeks in which there may be two leads or gutters, all parties shall, if required, take their claim or claims on the lead or gutter nearest the side of the hill at which their tunnel commences.

4. Cross drives for ventilation may be made in tunnelling ground.—In tunnelling under hills, when one or more openings or cross drives shall be required between claims from one parallel tunnel to another for ventilation, it shall be lawful for the warden, with or without assessors, so give the necessary order, decision, and direction for making such drives or openings, and for the allocation of the work and distribution and division of all or any auriferous deposits that shall be contained therein or taken therefrom.

5. Special prospecting tunnelling claim.—Where a claim is distant not less than five miles from any known gold workings, and where for the sake of drainage or other cause tunnelling is necessary for the effectual working of the same, although the conditions above as to depth of soil or geological formation does not exist, the warden, after receiving the written opinion of the surveyor recommending that the ground be brought under this section, may grant a claim of one hundred and fifty feet frontage, and after gold is found the same depth of claim as is provided for in section 1 of this bye-law. Application according to bye-law 13.

BYE-LAW 7.—WATER PRIVILEGES.

1. Races.—Any party may cut a race from any river, creek, or other water-course, and may convey water therein at the rate of one sluice-head for every two men employed in any claim worked by means of such race; provided first they mark off the course of said race by means of pegs fixed at distances of twenty yards or thereabouts. No party shall be registered for more than five sluice-heads of water in any one race; nevertheless, when there shall be an excess of water at the source of any race, the owners may divert the same, or any portion thereof, provided it does not interfere with the right of any other party then existing or subsequently obtained.

2. Tail races.—Any party may be allowed to cut a tail race through any claim or claims between their work and the creek or other natural water-course, provided they give notice to the owners of such claims, and make application to the surveyor who shall define the width and course of such tail race. Application in manner prescribed by bye-law 13.

3. Extension of races.—Any party holding a water privilege, and conveying water to any claim or machinery by means of any race, shall be at liberty to extend or alter the course of the said race, and he or they shall continue to enjoy his or their original water privileges, provided such extension shall be applied for in the manner prescribed by bye-law 13.

4. Waterwheels.—Any party shall be allowed to cut a race and use one sluice-head of water to propel any waterwheel or other machinery for mining purposes; but should there be an excess of water, after others who may be interested therein are fully supplied, the owner of such waterwheel or machinery may then apply to his use so much of the surplus as may be deemed necessary. Application in manner prescribed by bye-law 13.

5. Measurement of water.—Every sluice-head of water shall be measured by means of a box placed at the head of the race, to be six feet in length by ten inches in width, and three and a half inches in depth, inside measurement, to be placed on a level and above the water-mark in the race; the said box to be kept full by means of a wing dam, and an opening of two inches across the bottom at the end next the race shall be considered a sluice-head. When the race shall exceed a mile in length, the width of the box may be increased half an inch for each mile.

6. Side streams not claimable.—When any race shall cross any gully, creek, or stream, the owner of such race shall conduct all water in such gully, creek, or stream either under or over said race, so as to flow in its usual course, if said owner be requested to do so in writing by any party requiring the same.

7. Waterholes and dams.—Any party desirous of constructing a dam, or holding an abandoned one, shall mark off the ground, and post and keep posted for seven consecutive days a notice on the same, stating the approximate area applied for. No person shall, without the consent in writing of the owner of such dam, take water from (except for domestic purposes only), make use of, or in anywise damage any covering placed over and protecting such dam, or dig into, cut through, or undermine the bank or side thereof in such manner as to cause the said dam to lose the water therein. Any person duly authorised by the delivery of a certificate as mentioned in bye-law 13, to construct a dam as aforesaid, who shall fail to commence operations in a bond fide manner within seven days after such certificate shall have been granted, shall forfeit the same, unless he can show sufficient cause for the delay. Any waterhole or dam which remains unused for three consecutive months shall be considered abandoned, unless protected by these bye-laws.

8. Waterholes for domestic purposes.—Any party wishing to preserve a waterhole for domestic purposes must make application to the registrar, who shall deliver to such applicant an authority in the form of schedule 3, to set apart the same, when the applicant must erect an upright pole near the hole crossed by two bars of wood, thus ↓.

9. Priority of right.—Should there not be sufficient water to supply all the races cut from the same river, creek, or water source, the rights shall be held in accordance with the priority of the dates of the grants of such races. One sluice-head of water shall at all times be allowed to flow in the natural course of any river or creek, if required for mining purposes.

10. Mode of taking possession of water privileges.—All water privileges, except for domestic purposes, shall be applied for in the manner prescribed by bye-law 13; and the registrar shall register the same in the form set forth in schedule 7, and deliver to all persons interested a certificate in the form of schedule 3 annexed to these bye-laws. Any person who shall object to the registration of any privilege applied for as aforesaid, must send the objections in writing to the registrar, and lodge a complaint with the warden, who shall hear and determine if such objections be valid, and the registrar shall effect such registration, or refuse to do so, as the decision of such warden shall direct.

BYE-LAW 8.—TO PROVIDE FOR THE ABSENCE OR NEGLECT OF SHAREHOLDERS OR THEIR SUBSTITUTES.

1. If any working shareholder in a claim shall at any time, absent himself from his work therein, he shall find and provide an efficient substitute as his representative in such claim; and in all cases of absence or neglect of such shareholder or his substitute, the remaining working partners shall be empowered to hire labor in his place or stead at his expense. No hired man, or any person who shall enter into any contract to perform any work in, upon, or in connection with any claim, shall take possession of such claim, or any share or portion thereof, under any pretence whatsoever.

2. Any party holding a claim, or portion thereof, or share or interest therein, and who employs hired labor to work the same, shall not have his title thereto forfeited through any neglect or omission on the part of the workmen employed; provided always, after notice in writing to such employer, his interest be fully represented in conformity with these bye-laws within forty-eight hours of receiving said notice, or pay to the other shareholders a sum equal to the wages of the number of men necessary to work efficiently the share held by him, calculated at the current rate of wages for every day he or his substitute or substitutes have been absent from work.

3. The interest of any sleeping shareholder in any mining partnership shall not be imperilled or forfeited by or through the neglect, omission, or cause of any working shareholder or his representative, unless he fail to remedy such neglect, omission, or cause in the manner provided for in the preceding section.

4. Any shareholder who, having received notice as provided for in the preceding sections of this bye-law of the absence of self or substitute from the working of any claim in which he is interested, shall fail during six days thereafter to pay the money due thereon to his copartners and supply the requisite labor, shall, unless a new arrangement has been entered into between the parties, forfeit all right and title to said share, and the same shall be considered abandoned.

5. In all cases where the interest of a shareholder in any claim shall by any means become forfeited, such forfeiture shall be deemed and held to extend to and include the portion, share, or interest only of the shareholder incurring such forfeiture at the time such forfeiture is incurred.

6. No party shall forfeit or lose his interest in any claim by being absent through accident, sickness, or attendance at a court of justice, or the mining board. The warden may protect claims or shares thereon for any period not exceeding fourteen days for any urgent cause, and such protection may be renewed from time to time, so long as the cause for such protection shall continue to exist; and further, no claim shall be forfeited through absence during public holidays.

BYE-LAW 9.—PROVIDING FOR SITES.

1. Area for machinery.—Parties requiring ground whereon to erect machinery, or for purposes in connection therewith, shall mark the ground to be applied for by a post at each corner thereof, standing at least three feet out of the ground, and post and keep posted for seven consecutive days, a notice in the form of schedule 1, thereon stating the area and purpose for which such ground is required; said ground shall be considered abandone when the machinery has been removed therefrom; but where the machinery is of less value than Fifty pounds, the ground shall be forfeited, if for the space of two months the site shall have ceased to be used for the purpose for which it had been obtained, except where otherwise provided for by these bye-laws. Application according to bye-law 13.

2. Business sites.—Each business license shall entitle the holder to occupy an extent of ground not exceeding in area fifty-four feet frontage by one hundred feet in depth. All persons occupying road sites are required to keep their frontages in a proper state of cleanliness, and make and maintain the necessary and requisite drains, and keep them free and clear of every obstruction so that the same shall in nowise be or become an annoyance or nuisance; and furthermore, a space of twelve feet as a right-of-way shall in every case, if practicable, be left in addition to such frontage.

3. Residence sites.—Any person being the holder of a miner's right shall be entitled to hold and occupy for the purpose of residence twenty perches or six hundred and five superficial square yards of land, and where practicable the same shall be marked in a block not exceeding in length twice the breadth. Nevertheless, all occupants of road sites shall be limited to a frontage of fifty-four feet by one hundred feet in depth. No tents or other dwellings shall be erected within twenty feet of ground known to be auriferous. All miners' tents erected on Crown lands shall be at least twenty feet apart from each other.

4. Mining on residence, machinery, or business sites.—It shall be lawful for the warden to grant permission to any party to enter upon and mine on any land held under a miner's right for residence, machinery, or under a business license, and to estimate what compensation (if any) shall be paid by the person or persons desirous of mining thereon; and further, to affix the limits and boundaries within which such mining shall be confined, and the position of any shaft, together with all and every such other restriction or restrictions as shall be considered necessary for the safety and protection of the occupants thereof.

BYE-LAW 10.—ROADS AND BRIDGES.

1. Buildings, &c., near roads.—No person shall erect any dwelling-house, store, tent, stable, workshop, or machine, nor construct any dam or waterhole within twenty feet of the centre of any public road or crossing-place in common use in this district, and the warden may order the removal of any buildings hereafter erected within such boundary.

2. Felling trees across public roads.—Any person who may fell or cause to be felled any trees across or upon any road, footpath, or crossing-place, claim, water-race, or channel in common use, shall remove, or cause the same to be removed, within twelve hours after the felling of such tree, or notice of such obstruction given.

3. Holes near roads to be fenced.—If any party shall, in carrying on mining, sink any shaft or excavate any kind of hole, of whatever depth, within the distance of ten feet from any road, footpath, or crossing-place in ordinary use, unless such hole or shaft be sufficiently barricaded by a mound of earth thrown up to the height of four feet above the surface of the adjoining ground, or logged up to a like height for a windlass, such party shall erect around such shaft or hole a substantial two-rail fence, the upper rail whereof shall be at least three feet six inches above the surface of the adjoining ground. Should any party leave any claim unworked for a short period, or abandon it, such party shall properly fill up the shaft or hole, or completely cover the same with logs not less than six inches in diameter, or erect around it a fence as aforesaid. No person shall remove, cast down, damage, or destroy any portion of such barricade, railing, timbers, or fence.

4. Mining near roads or crossing-places.—No party shall mine within a distance of fifteen feet from the centre of any public road or crossing-place in common use in this district. The warden may, however, sanction the working of the same, upon receiving sufficient security for the proper re-making of such road or crossing-place, provided such road be not under other lawful jurisdiction. Application according to bye-law 13.

5. Roads through claims, &c.—The warden shall authorise the construction of roads, tramways, and races, through ground held by virtue of miner's right or business license, on payment of a reasonable compensation, to be awarded by assessors, to the occupiers thereof. When any such road, tramway, or race shall have been unused for a period of one month for the purpose for which the same was originally granted, such privilege shall be considered forfeited, unless otherwise protected.

6. Bridges.—When any race or sludge channel shall be carried through any private or public road, the party cutting or using the said race or sludge channel shall build a substantial bridge over such race or sludge channel, and keep such bridge in efficient repair.

BYE-LAW 11.—FOR PROTECTION.

1. Protection to purchased land.—No person shall mine within a distance of ten feet of any building, or brick or stone wall or fence on private property, without obtaining the consent in writing of the owner thereof.

2. Protection to claims under injunction.—Whenever any injunction, issued by the judge of the court of mines, or by any warden, shall prohibit any party or parties from working any claim held under these bye-laws, and such party or parties, in obedience to such injunction, shall be absent from such claim, it is hereby ordained that until such injunction shall be dissolved, or expire by effluxion of time, no person by virtue of a miner's right or business license shall trespass upon, occupy, or interfere with such claim or any portion thereof.

3. Protection to mining companies or associations.—Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained in these bye-laws, the registrar shall, on application, issue to any company or association having a capital of Five hundred pounds and upwards, or to any party during the formation of such company or association, a certificate of protection in the form of schedule 3, for any period not exceeding three months, for the ground held by them, while making preliminary arrangements: no second certificate of protection shall be issued unless it can be shown that a sum of at least Three hundred pounds has been expended in connection with such claim.

4. Protective registration.—Any party searching for gold in any claim may register the same for a period not exceeding three months, provided that at least three months' bona fide work shall have been done by the party applying for the registration in the following cases:—1st. Where at least one-half of the working shareholders would be compelled to temporarily abandon their claim through the actual want of funds, either with or without the consent of the remaining owners. 2nd. In claims where the water is too heavy for hand baling, and arrangements shall have been made or are being made for the erection of steam or other efficient machinery to pump out the same. Registration of claims and other privileges shall be allowed when the owners are compelled to suspend operations in consequence of an overflow of water. No claim or share therein shall be registered in which there shall be water that may be detrimental to adjoining claims, save as provided for during the erection of machinery. No claims shall be registered a second time unless three months' work, where practicable, intervenes between each registration. Where any party shall have obtained the registration of any claim or other privilege through or by false representations, such registration shall be null and void. Application for protection under this bye-law shall be made to the registrar, who shall deliver to the applicant a notice in the form of schedule 1, which shall be posted and kept posted every day on some conspicuous place on the ground desired to be protected for seven consecutive days; at the expiry of such time the registrar shall, on application, register the same in the form set forth in schedule 8, and deliver to the applicant a certificate in the form of schedule 3, annexed to these bye-laws, a true copy of which shall be kept posted on the claim during the period of protection.

GENERAL BYE-LAW 12.

1. Plurality of claims.—It shall be lawful for any person being the holder of a miner's right, to mark off, hold, and occupy any number of claims not exceeding fifty, or any number of shares in any claim or claims, or any privileges; but no person shall take possession of or hold more than one residence site.

2. Temporary union of claims.—Where it is considered advantageous to work two or more claims by baling water, or carrying on mining operations at one or more places or places in one or other of said claims, the owners may unite their claims and privileges connected therewith for said or other defined purposes, provided they shall employ the full number of men in the united claim they required to employ when the claims were separate. The owners of each separate claim may put an end to this union by giving the notice of separation fixed in their terms of agreement, said agreement to be registered with the registrar of the district.

3. Permission to enter claims.—The warden shall have power to authorise, in writing, any miner to enter into and upon any claim adjoining his own, or any surveyor or assessor to enter into and upon any claim for the purpose of measuring the depth of any shaft, or the dip, direction, inclination, or length of any tunnel or drive; but in all cases such examination shall only be made during the period of ordinary working hours, and in presence of one or more of the owners of the claim under examination.

4. Drains on wet claims.—The owners of wet claims shall cut a sufficient drain to convey the water to a main channel, which channel shall be cut and kept clear by or at the expense of all parties interested in such wet claims.

5. Tailings not to obstruct creeks or rivers.—No party mining, washing, or crushing in or on the banks of any main creek or river, shall deposit any soil, stones, or tailings, or other substances, in the bed of such creek or river which may obstruct the flow of water or change the course thereof.

6. Valuation of mining plant allowed.—In case any claim deemed relinquished or forfeited in accordance with these bye-laws be adjudged to any other party, should there be any mining plant, slabs, or other material on or in such claim which the incoming occupant shall consider beneficial to him, the value of the same shall be assessed by arbitrators mutually appointed, or by the warden or the judge of the court of mines, as the case may be, and the amount of such assessment shall be paid to the former owner within one month from the day on which such assessment shall have been made, or in default, the claim, mining plant, &c., shall revert to the former owner. In case the party to whom such claim shall be adjudged shall not require the mining plant, &c., therein or thereon, the former occupant shall have power to remove the said plant, within one month from the date of adjudication, or such plant shall become forfeited.

7. Compensation for damage.—In case of any injury, damage, or loss accruing to the owner or occupier of any building, garden, or other premises, held and occupied by virtue of a miner's right or business license, or to any claim, shaft, tunnel, or mining plant, road, drain, dam, race, or bridge, by the working of the adjoining claim, or by the overflow of sludge, tailings, or other substance, the party so injured shall be entitled to compensation from the parties causing such injuries. In case of dispute, the warden or warden and four assessors, shall determine the amount of compensation. Parties taking up claims through which tunnels, tramways, sluices, or water drains are constructed, shall be responsible for any injury done to the same through the working of such claims.

8. Claims when deemed abandoned.—If any party in possession of any unregistered claim shall leave the same unworked for more than four consecutive days, such claim shall be considered abandoned, and any party leaving a registered claim unworked for a period exceeding eight consecutive days shall be considered to have abandoned the same, unless otherwise provided for by these bye-laws; nevertheless, it shall be lawful for any party to leave any claim unworked whilst engaged in the extraction of gold from any substance taken therefrom, or in the erection of machinery, or procuring timber, or doing anything necessary for the working of such claim, provided there be no water in such claim injurious to the adjoining claims. Water rights, sluicing claims, and puddling claims shall not be deemed abandoned when the water is insufficient in quantity to enable the holders to work with advantage, provided they resume the work within fourteen days after a sufficient supply of water shall have been obtained. Every race applied for under registration shall be surveyed by the mining surveyor as soon as possible after receiving notice of said registration, and if the owner of said race fail to commence cutting the same within thirty days after it has been surveyed, or if he fail to complete the same in a workmanlike manner, and in a reasonable period, such race shall be deemed to be abandoned.

9. Transfer of claims and shares of claims.—The holder of any claim or share or interest in any claim, or of any interest registered in accordance with bye-law 13 of these bye-laws, may transfer such claim, share, or interest to any party by delivering to the registrar a notice, in writing, requesting him to register such transfer in the name of the transferee, together with the certificate of the registration originally delivered to the transferer; and on production of the miners' rights of both parties, and written notice from the holders of liens (if any) which may have been registered in respect of and as against such claim, share, or interest in approval of such transfer, the registrar shall complete such transfer in the form set forth in schedule 2, delivering to the transferee a certificate in the form of schedule 4, to be signed by both parties. Where a portion only of the share or interest is intended to be transferred, a certificate in the form of schedule 3 shall be delivered to the transferer, defining the amount of share or interest to be by him retained. No transfer of any claim or share, or interest in any claim, shall prejudice any lien or liens effected thereon and registered prior to and existing at the time of such transfer.

10. Lien on claims.—The holder of any claim or share, or interest in any claim, or any privilege registered in accordance with bye-law 13 of these bye-laws, may grant a lien thereon as security for any debt or liability incurred by him at or previous to the time of granting such lien, provided such lien be registered with the registrar of the division. The proposed holder of the lien shall deliver to the registrar a notice, containing full particulars of the nature, conditions, amount, and description of the lien proposed, mutually signed by the giver and acceptor of the lien; and upon production of the certificate of registration of the proposed subject of lien, the registrar shall duly register the same in the form set forth in schedule 5, and deliver to the holder of the lien a certificate in the form of schedule 6, inserting therein particulars of names, nature, condition, and amount. If more than one lien shall be effected on the same security, priority of date of registration shall entitle to priority of right to security, and the first lien shall be fully paid and satisfied before any subsequent ones shall be entertained. No lien registered as aforesaid shall be cancelled unless the certificate thereof be delivered to the registrar, with an authority, in writing, by the holder of such lien, stating that the terms and conditions thereof had been carried out and fulfilled, and that he was no longer entitled to hold the same.

11. Injury to notices, boundary pegs, &c.—No person shall remove, displace, alter, disfigure, or otherwise injure any notice, boundary peg, or \checkmark trench, in connection with any claim lawfully holden or applied for.

12. Stacking auriferous substances.—Any person wishing to take or retain possession of auriferous substances such as quarried quartz, or quartz and alluvial tailings and wash dirt, may have the same protected for any period necessary for the extraction of gold therefrom, provided they be placed on ground not known or supposed to be auriferous, and that the deposit be properly marked by one post at least, three feet high at each corner of the land so occupied, and that the same be registered within forty-eight hours of marking. Any person failing for three months to commence operations for the extraction of gold from the above substances shall be considered to have abandoned the same, unless he be able to give a satisfactory reason for the delay.

BYE-LAW 13.

Made of taking possession of claims.—Possession shall be taken of all claims by marking off the same in the manner prescribed by these bye-laws, and the party who shall first have marked in accordance therewith shall be deemed in possession; provided that when required by these bye-laws, application be made to the registrar to register said claim within the space of forty-eight hours from the time of marking off the same. The registrar shall, on application, deliver a notice, in the form of schedule 1, to the applicant, who shall within twelve hours thereafter cause the same to be posted on some conspicuous part of the claim applied for, where it shall continue posted for seven consecutive days from the date thereof, except when otherwise provided for; and if no objections (as hereinafter provided for) shall be lodged with the registrar, he shall, at the request of the applicant, complete the registration by insertion of the names of all persons by or on whose behalf such application shall have been made; such registration shall be in the form set forth in schedule 2; and the registrar shall also deliver to the applicant, for and on behalf of each party named and entered as interested and entitled in the registry, a certificate in form of schedule 3, setting forth the nature and amount of interest held by each party, such registration to be permanently in favor of the party so registered, but without prejudice to any other party who may have been in possession of the ground or any portion thereof at the time such registration was effected. Any party objecting to the registration of any claim shall, within the seven days hereinafter mentioned, send a written notice to the registrar, stating his objections, and lodge a complaint with the warden against the party making such application. The registrar shall, on receipt of the notice of objections, defer the registration until the warden shall have heard and adjudged the dispute; and if no injunction from the warden or the judge of the court of mines be issued and served within seven days from such hearing and decision to restrain the registrar from completing the registration, the said registrar shall, at the request of the applicant, complete the registration in favor of the party by or on behalf of whom the application was originally made. Application shall protect claims for a period not exceeding fourteen days from the date thereof.

BYE-LAW 14.—SURVEYORS AND THEIR DUTIES.

There shall be a competent mining surveyor to each division of the Castlemaine district under the jurisdiction of the board: His duty shall be, when required, to measure and adjust, in accordance with these bye-laws, the boundaries of claims, sites for machinery, tunnels, dams, races, &c.; mark off base lines on quartz reefs; survey in cases of alleged encroachment, and furnish the necessary plans drawn to a scale. The scale of fees shall be as follows:—

Should more than three candidates be proposed at the meeting, the chairman may, if he think necessary, appoint scrutineers, and proceed to take the vote by show of hands, or by such other method as to the chairman may seem fit. 5. Parties interested in any disputed election may appear in person or by authorised agent.

6. If the petitioner shall abandon his petition, the sum deposited by him shall be forfeited, and in all such cases the board shall have a discretionary power to dispose of said moneys as may appear just and expedient.

7. The decision of the board shall be arrived at by ballot, and the person or persons so determined to be, or not to be, duly elected shall be declared by the chairman, and such decision shall be final, record whereof shall be inserted in the minutes and signed by the chairman of the board.

CONVEYANCE OF MAILS, 1865.

TENDERS are hereby invited, and will be received until Noon of Tuesday, the 1st November, 1864, for the Conveyance of Post Office Mails, as undermentioned, for one year, from the 1st January, 1865, to the 31st December, 1865, both days inclusive.

All tenders are required to be written on a form, printed copies of which may be had gratuitously on application at any post office in the colony, and may be forwarded (if by post, prepaid) addressed to the Deputy Postmaster General, or placed in the Tender Box at the General Post Office.

Tenders are requested to describe by their numbers, as below, the mail services for which they tender, and every tender will be taken to include the entire service as called for.

Every tender must bear the bond fide signatures and addresses of the tenderer, and of two responsible persons willing to become bound for the fulfilment of the same in such sum as the Government may direct, not exceeding the gross amount of the contract.

It is particularly requested that the tenders for each service may be written on separate forms, and that the number of the service may be plainly endorsed on the outside of the cover.

The general conditions referred to in the printed form of tender, and upon which the tender is to be made, can be inspected by persons proposing to tender, either at the General Post Office or at any Post Office in the colony.
