50. Postmasters should always bear in mind, that it is their duty to use every exertion to secure the safe delivery of letters to the rightful owners as speedily as possible.
- Letters opened.
51. Any letter that may be opened by a person for whom it is found not to be intended must be immediately re-sealed by the Postmaster, and marked on the back, in the handwriting of the opener, thus, "Not for _____ of _____."
- As to the return of re-directed letters in certain cases.
52. Postmasters must immediately return any re-directed letter, packet, or newspaper to the office from which it is received if found not to be intended for the person applying for the same; but before any letter is opened by any person, the postage due thereon must be paid to the Postmaster, and cannot afterwards be returned, even should the letter be found not to be intended for the person who opened it.
- Advertising to be discontinued.
53. Postmasters are required to pay especial attention to recorded addresses, and to all applications for letters that may be received, as the advertising of unclaimed letters is to be discontinued.
- Letter once posted becomes the property of the person to whom it is addressed.
54. A letter once posted becomes the property of the person to whom it is addressed, and cannot be given up again without the consent in writing of such person. No request, however urgent, will justify a departure from this rule.
- Treatment of unclaimed letters. 37 Vic., No. 226, clause 23.
55. Postmasters are required to observe the following rules in respect to unclaimed letters:—
- (a.) Victorian letters (that is, letters posted within the colony), if not claimed, are to be kept at the post office to which they are directed the remainder of the month in which they are received; and the whole of the following month; and if still undelivered, must then be sent to the Dead Letter Office by the first mail in the next month, or the third after receipt.
- (b.) Intercolonial letters (that is, letters posted in any of the Australian Colonies, or New Zealand), if not claimed, are to be kept three clear months, and are to be sent to the Dead Letter Office by the first mail in the fifth month after receipt.
- (c.) British and foreign letters (that is, letters posted in the United Kingdom, or at any place beyond the Australian Colonies), if not claimed, are to be kept six clear months, and are to be sent to the Dead Letter Office by the first mail in the eighth month after receipt.
- 37 Vic., No. 226, clause 23.
- How dead letters are to be forwarded.
- (d.) Dead letters are always to be returned in the covers supplied for that purpose, except in cases where the letters are too numerous, and then a bag must be used, properly sealed, with the address label indorsed "Dead Letters." Unclaimed registered letters must be entered on the dead letter bill, in the usual way, when returned to Melbourne.

(e.) Subpostmasters and Postmasters who do not receive mails direct from Melbourne, are to forward their dead letters and monthly lists to the Head Office with which they are in communication, for onward transmission from thence to the Dead Letter Office.

(f.) A careful examination must be made of all letters lying at a post office at the end of each month, in order to ensure the correct return of such as have become dead letters.

(g.) All unclaimed letters must bear the date-stamp of the day on which they are made up for return to the Dead Letter Office.

(h.) Unclaimed newspapers are to be returned to the General Post Office after having been kept the respective periods prescribed for the retention of the several classes of unclaimed letters. They must be returned by the first mail in each month, in a separate parcel, labelled "Unclaimed Newspapers."

56. Postmasters are required to observe, that newspapers must be posted without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides, and that the words "Newspaper only" must be placed in a visible and legible manner on the outside.

How newspapers are to be posted. 27 Vic., No. 226, clause 13.

57. Postmasters are also required to observe, that there must not be in or upon any newspaper or the cover thereof "Any communication character figure letter or number other than a line drawn through any report article or paragraph therein the printed title of such newspaper the printed names occupations and places of business of the printer publisher and vendor thereof the name occupation and address of the person to whom it is sent and the words aforesaid" (Newspaper only), nor shall anything be enclosed in, or with, or accompany such newspaper or cover, otherwise it cannot be forwarded. Any violation of the above renders the sender liable to a penalty of not less than five nor more than fifty pounds.

27 Vic., No. 226, clause 13.

58. Postmasters must notify to the public, that newspapers are required to be posted one hour prior to the time appointed for closing the mails, and before four p.m. daily.

Notice to be given respecting posting of newspapers.

59. Postmasters are required to observe the following rules in respect to the despatch and receipt of mails.

Despatch and receipt of mails.

(a.) The postage stamps on letters posted must be obliterated with the stamp provided for that purpose, and the office date-stamp must be impressed as legibly as possible on the back of all letters, whether for delivery at the several post offices, or for transmission to other post offices, as soon after receipt as practicable. In cases where Postmasters are unprovided with a date-stamp, the name of the office, and date of receipt, must be written on each letter in ink.

(b.) Postmasters at places from which mails first start, or from which mail lines branch, are severally required to enter upon a way-bill a list of the mails forwarded by each despatch, and hand it to the mailman, taking his receipt in a book to be kept for the purpose.

(c.) On receiving mails at intermediate post offices, Postmasters are to sign the way-bill for the mails delivered to them, and note the time of arrival. They will then enter on the bill the number and destination of the bags they are about to despatch, noting the time of departure, and taking the mailman's receipt in the mail-book.

(d.) Postmasters at places situated at the end of a mail line of road, will also sign the way-bill for the mails they receive, note the time of arrival, and forward the bill by return post to the office at which it was first issued, for record; and the Postmaster at that place to report to this office any irregularity on the face of the bill.

(e.) If a mail or mails be at any time left behind at a post office through the negligence of the contractor or mailman, immediate steps must be taken for having such mail or mails conveyed onward to destination, or until the mailman is overtaken; and the cost, which the Postmaster must immediately make known to the Head Office, will be charged against the contractor.

(f.) On receiving mails, the seals are to be examined, to ascertain if they have in any way been tampered with. In opening the bags, care must be taken not to cut or injure them, and all mail-bags should be turned inside out so as to render it impossible for any letter or paper to be left in them.

(g.) The Postmaster or receiving officer must carefully check the contents of mails with the letter-bill (Schedule B), to see that they agree; and if any discrepancy appears, the fact must be immediately reported, and the letter-bill returned for correction. If the letter-bill is correct it must be at once signed and forwarded to the Head Office.

(h.) No Postmaster may open any mail not directed to his own office, nor in any way interfere with mails while in the custody of the contractor, except it be necessary for their protection.

(i.) All mails on being despatched are to be correctly addressed with the parchment labels provided for the purpose, and securely fastened with twine, and sealed with the office seals.

(j.) The address labels must be returned by the first opportunity to the office from which they have been received.

(k.) A letter-bill (form as per Schedule C. annexed), accurately describing the contents of the mail, is to be forwarded with every despatch, and when there are neither letters nor newspapers, a bag must be forwarded as usual, enclosing a letter-bill marked "Nil."

(l.) Letter-bills are to be numbered consecutively, a fresh number to be commenced with the first mail in each year.

(m.) Special instructions will from time to time be issued as to the places with which Postmasters are to exchange mails, and the hours for closing such mails, and on no account are mail arrangements to be altered without proper sanction.

(n.) Postmasters are required to report to the Head of the Department any irregularity relating to the business of the post office that may come under their notice, particularly as regards delay in the time of arrival and departure of mails, injury to same from wet or other causes, or any other breach of contract.

(o.) Letters addressed to places for which Postmasters do not make up separate mails should be forwarded to the nearest post office in direct communication with the post town given in the address.

(p.) Letters directed to places unknown to the Postmaster should be forwarded without delay to the General Post Office.

(q.) Letters sent to any post office in error, ought to be stamped with the date-stamp, and "missent" stamp, and forwarded to their proper destination by the first opportunity.

No person unconnected with the department to have access to the Post Office.
Postmasters to attend to Monthly Postal Guide.

60. Persons unconnected with the Post Office Department are not to be allowed access to the interior of a post office unless accompanied by a responsible officer.

61. Postmasters are referred to the Monthly Postal Guide, supplied to every post office, for detailed information relating to postal rates, &c., and they will be guided by the last number they receive.

Requisitions for stationery, &c.

62. Postmasters are to make requisition at the beginning of each month for the printed forms and stationery required, which must be used with a strict regard to economy. Sub-postmasters will obtain their supplies from the head office with which they are in direct communication.

Posting of notices at post offices.

63. Provision should be made at every post office for the exhibition of public notices relating to the department.

Penalties for breach of duty.

64. The attention of all persons connected with the Post Office Department is called to the penalty incurred under the 61st Clause of the Postage Act, for wilful breach of the provisions of the Act or of these Regulations.

When regulations come into effect.

65. These Regulations shall come into force and effect on the 3rd day of August, 1864, and shall take the place of the Regulations of the 20th June, 1854, and of the Instructions to Country Postmasters of 5th February, 1861.

Above Seven pounds, but not exceeding Ten pounds ... Five shillings.

Orders may be transmitted by telegraph to all Money Order Offices in Victoria and South Australia having telegraphic communication on payment of the telegraph charge for a message of ten (10) words in addition to the commission.

3. No Order is to contain a fractional part of a penny.

No fractional part of penny allowed. Particulars required for a Money Order.

4. With the following exceptions, no Money Order to be issued unless the applicant furnish the surname and, at least, the initial of one Christian name, both of the remitter and the payee, together with the address of the remitter, for entry in the office books, so that, if necessary, he may be traced. If the applicant, however, tender the name of either the remitter or the payee at greater length, such particulars to be received, and the advice to be made out accordingly.

(1.) If the remitter or payee be a peer or bishop, his ordinary title to be sufficient; if a firm, the usual designation of such firm, such as "Baring Brothers," "Smith and Son," "Jones and Co.," to suffice; but the mere term "Messrs," such as "Messrs. Rivington," or the name of a company trading under a title which does not consist of the names of the persons composing it, such as the "Carron Co.," to be inadmissible.

(2.) The remitter, on stating that the Order is to be paid only through a bank, to have the option of giving or withholding the name of the payee, or to substitute for the name of the payee any other designation, such as "The Chief Clerk of the Foreign Office;" in such cases, the officer drawing the Order to cross it in the same way that cheques are commonly crossed when they are intended to be paid through a bank.

Issue of Money Order.

5. On an application for a Money Order, the particulars must first be entered in the issuing journal, and then the corresponding Order and advice must be prepared, and the date stamped on both; but as Money Orders have sometimes been procured without payment, postmasters are cautioned always to demand the money at the outset before attention is diverted to other matters.

Despatch of letters of advice.

6. When an Order is issued, payable in Victoria, the advice must invariably be despatched by the first mail to the office on which it is drawn. The advices of Orders payable in the other colonies and the United Kingdom to be sent in the first instance to the Melbourne Office; such advices, as well as those drawn upon Melbourne, to be tied together (unfolded) and enclosed in the envelope containing the daily account and returned advices.

How to write out an Order.

7. When an Order is demanded for a smaller sum than One pound, the postmaster must strike his pen through the £ and adjoining space both at the head and in the body of the Order, thus, —£—; again, when no amount is inserted in the space proper for shillings or pence, he must draw his pen through the vacant spaces; and when an amount is inserted which does not fill up the space, he must strike the pen through the portion unoccupied; so as, in all cases, effectually to prevent any subsequent alteration of the Order.

Opening of new Money Order Offices.

8. Every postmaster who issues or pays Money Orders, when he receives notice of the opening of any new office, or of any change whatever relative to Money Order Offices, must immediately make the necessary correction in his list.

Errors in Money Orders.

9. If an error of any kind be committed in filling up a Money Order, a new Order must be made out, as no alterations or erasures are permitted. Every spoiled Money Order must be sent with the advice in the account in which it would have been entered had it been issued, indorsed with an explanation of the irregularity, and the words "Not granted" must be inserted against the corresponding number in the issuing journal, and in the account furnished to the Melbourne Office. Care must be taken in separating an Order from an advice that neither be torn.

Order must not be cancelled.

10. An Order once issued cannot be cancelled.

11. Should any blank Order be omitted in the series supplied to the postmaster, and the circumstance not discovered in time to have such omission supplied from the Melbourne Office, a note must be made opposite the blank number in the account in which, if supplied, the Order would have appeared. Postmasters should be careful to examine the supplies of Orders and advices immediately upon their receipt, and report all irregularities to the Melbourne Office.

Receipt of ad-

12. Advices on their arrival must be examined to see whether the relative Orders are payable at that particular office; and also whether the advices issued in the other colonies and the United Kingdom have the Melbourne office-stamp on them, which they are in all cases required to bear. They must then be arranged in alphabetical order, according to the names of the towns of issue, and entered in the advice book (No. 8). Should an advice of back date be may be duly entered in the postmaster's books ; after which it must be again remitted to the Melbourne Office, its correctness being certified in the form of acknowledgment sent with the corrected statement.

Correction of accounts.

26. A postmaster must at once correct in his Money Order books every error pointed out to him, so that his accounts and returns of transactions may agree with the records in the Melbourne Office ; and he must take care that in his correspondence with that office all papers received therefrom are promptly attended to and duly returned.

Advance for payment of Money Orders.

27. Every postmaster who issues and pays Money Orders will be supplied from the Head Office with an advance in money (for which he must give a receipt) to enable him to pay Money Orders drawn upon his office. The amount of the advance will be determined and regulated by the business of each Money Order Office.

Advance to be held in trust and accounted for on demand.

28. Every such advance must be held strictly in trust by postmasters for the purpose above mentioned, and must be accounted for by them on demand made by the Head of the Department, or by any officer duly authorized in that behalf ; and every postmaster who may find it necessary to lodge any public money as aforesaid in any bank must, before making such deposit, obtain the sanction of the Head of the Department ; and every postmaster who may be so authorized to deposit the public money must open an account, to be called a "Public Account," and to be so described in the bank books, and all deposits of public money must be made by such postmaster as to the credit of such public account, and all cheques drawn by the postmaster against such public account must be so described on the face thereof, and bear the official designation of the postmaster in the manner following :—

(Signature).....

Postmaster,
Public Account.

and every such public account shall be separate and distinct from any private account such postmaster may have at any such bank.

Remittance of money received for Money Orders.

29. Every postmaster must be careful to remit by the first post all moneys received by him for Money Orders issued from his office, unless he has been advised of Orders having been drawn on him to a greater amount than his advance, in which case he is authorized to retain sufficient money in hand to discharge known liabilities of his office, but must forthwith report the circumstance to the Head Office, and his report must be accompanied by a list of the Orders to meet which such money has been retained.

Sufficient funds to be provided.

30. Care should be taken to prevent the balance in hand from being much below the advance ; and with that view timely application must be made for funds. Should a postmaster be compelled to refuse payment of an Order for want of funds, he must forthwith report the fact to the Melbourne Office.

31. Every cheque, bill, or bank note remitted, must be stamped on its face (as nearly as possible in the centre) with the date-stamp of the day such remittance is made.

32. Every letter containing a remittance must be entered in the letter-bill, like a registered letter, the amount contained in the letter being stated opposite the entry on the letter-bill ; and if a postmaster do not by return of post receive an acknowledgment of any remittance, he must immediately apprise the Secretary.

Monthly statement of unpaid Orders.

33. On the evening of the last day of each calendar month, the entries of all Orders which have ceased to be payable must be cancelled in the advice book, and the words "Too late" written in the place usually occupied by the date of payment ; at the same time a list of all unpaid Orders must be made out on the prescribed form and forwarded to the Melbourne Office with the monthly account.

Duplicate Orders, transfers, repayments, alteration of name, &c.

34. In the case of the miscarriage or the loss of a Money Order, a duplicate is granted on a written application to the Secretary, and by a similar application to the same officer, who can alone act in such cases, authority can be obtained to transfer the payment of an Order, from one office to another, or to stop payment, or to correct any error in the name of the remitter or payee, or to repay the money to the remitter. Every such application, however, must contain a second commission (namely, Sixpence for an Order not exceeding £5, and One Shilling for an Order between £5 and £10), though one commission will suffice, even when, in the same application, more things than one relating to the same Order are asked for—as both the stoppage of payment and repayment to the remitter.

Unless a sufficient reason is given for an exception, the application must be either from the remitter or payee. Whenever, on complaint being made, it is found that the necessity for an application, entailing the payment of a fresh commission, is attributable to the Post Office, the commission will be returned ; and when it can be ascertained where the blame lies, the officer in fault will be required to pay the additional commission, the responsibility in the first instance resting on the postmaster.

35. A postmaster must give information how to apply for a Duplicate Order, &c., and must furnish the applicant with the prescribed form of application (forms 24 to 27).

Moreover, when the payment of an Order is refused in consequence of the replies to the questions respecting the remitter not corresponding with the entries in the advice, or of a difference in the name of the receipt, the postmaster should advise the applicant for payment to communicate with the remitter, and to request him to apply to the Secretary, at the Chief Office, enclosing in his application the additional commission chargeable for the alteration required.

36. In every case of transfer, repayment, or alteration of name, the document containing the authority must (when the Order has been paid) be fastened to the Order, and returned with it, enclosed in the account to the Chief Office.

37. A transferred Money Order, when it has been paid, must be indorsed, "Transferred from [naming the office at which it was originally drawn] to [naming the office at which it was paid] ;" and an Order after repayment must be crossed with the word "Refunded."

38. When a postmaster receives notice of the transfer to a different office, of an Order originally payable at his own, he must immediately cancel the relative entry in his advice book, noting therein the date of transfer.

39. The date of issue of a Duplicate Order must be noted in the issuing journal; and should an application be received from the paying office for the advice of an Order of which a duplicate has been issued, it must on no account be forwarded thereto direct, but must be transmitted with the application to the Chief Office.

40. On the receipt of a duplicate with the necessary authority for payment, the advice book must be referred to, and the issue of the Duplicate Order and date of its receipt, must be noted therein against the advice entry. Should, however, the original Order have been paid, the duplicate must be immediately returned to the Chief Office. If the original Order be presented after the duplicate has been paid, it must be cancelled, and sent to the Chief Office, unless the presenter refuse to give it up, in which case it may be returned to him, though not until the following words have been written across it, "Cancelled, paid by Duplicate Order on the (adding the date)."

41. Repayment, whether of an original, or a renewed, or a duplicate Order, is not made to the remitter until it has been ascertained through the Chief Office of the country where such Order was payable, that the advice has been cancelled at the office on which the Order was originally drawn.

42. The journals and window books, being the property of the Postmaster-General, must be carefully preserved and delivered up when called for, or when a postmaster quits office.

Journals and window books must be preserved.

43. The envelopes for transmitting accounts to the Melbourne Office must be kept strictly to their proper use; separate envelopes to be used for transmitting remittances. Letters of advice from one provincial office to another must not be sent in envelopes, but must be sealed or wafered; and should a postmaster receive an advice not sealed or wafered, he must report to the Melbourne Office the name of the office in fault. Such advices must be entered on the letter-bills.

Envelopes.

44. The hours for issuing Money Orders will be between Ten o'clock a.m. and Three o'clock p.m. daily, Sundays excepted.

Hours for issue and payment.

45. The postmaster will use for all telegraph messages Form No. 12, as a receipt to the remitter, and take a receipt, No. 13, from the payee or receiver.

Telegraph Money Order.

46. When a Money Order is applied for to pass through the telegraph, the postmaster will have to send the Order to the Telegraph Office, and on no account entrust it to a stranger or other than an employé of the Post Office (See Form No. 5).

PETITION FOR A NEW BOROUGH.

SEBASTOPOL.

NOTICE is hereby given, in accordance with the provisions of The Municipal Corporations Act, 1863, section 11, that a petition has been presented to the Governor, signed by one hundred and seventy inhabitant householders resident within the portion of the county of Grenville hereinafter described, praying His Excellency to constitute their locality a Borough under the style and title of "The Borough of Sebastopol."

The boundaries set forth by the petitioners for the proposed borough are as follow, viz.:—"A certain area or district in the county of Grenville: bounded by a line commencing at the north-east angle of the pre-emptive section of John Winter, Esquire; thence north along the west side of the River Yarrovec one hundred and eighty-two chains, more or less, to the south-east angle of the municipality of Ballarat West; thence west ninety-two chains, more or less, to the east boundary of the parish of Cardigan; thence south one hundred and eighty-two chains, more or less, to the northern boundary of Winter's pre-emptive section; thence north 89° 33' east ninety chains, more or less, to the starting point; and containing about 1792 acres."

The Governor has been pleased to order that the said petition be taken into consideration by his Executive Council on Monday, the 12th day of September next ensuing.

PETITION FOR SEVERANCE FROM THE YACKANDANDAH ROAD DISTRICT.

EAST INDIGO.

THE Governor has received a petition signed by sixty-five persons, each of whose names is represented as appearing on the ratepayers' roll for the Yackandandah Road District, setting forth in substance that by reason of the remoteness of the part wherein the petitioners reside from other parts thereof, and of the diversity of the industry and interests of such part from those of the remainder thereof, it is expedient to constitute the two parts of such district so differently affected separate districts.

The petitioners state that their locality is eastward of Indigo Creek, and that its natural boundaries are on the south the Dividing Granite Range, and on the north the River Murray; they also state that the rates are spent in and about Yackandandah, and that they derive no benefit therefrom.

And they pray as follows:—

"Your petitioners and memorialists therefore pray that they may at once be separated from the Yackandandah Road District, and thereby relieved from the pernicious effects attendant on their annexation thereto or connection therewith; and that your Excellency will be graciously pleased to constitute them a separate road district, under the name of 'The East Indigo Road District,' having the boundaries shown on plan A accompanying this petition."

7. The name, age, late place of residence, and probable cause of death of the deceased, must be stated at the time of giving the order.

12. A plan of every monument and tombstone proposed to be erected and placed, shall be exhibited to the said trustees before permission for the erection thereof is given; and the said trustees shall be at liberty to withhold such permission and prevent the erection of any monument or tombstone which shall appear to them inappropriate or unbecoming; and shall determine and fix the position of any monument or tombstone which may be proposed to be erected, according to the description, size, and character thereof, having reference to the general plan for ornamenting the said cemetery, in an appropriate manner.

13. No servant or other person employed by or engaged in any duty on behalf of the trustees, will be permitted to receive any gratuity for the discharge thereof.
