THE following Notice to Mariners is published for general information at the request of Captain Cruikshank of the Screw Steamer Investigator.

By His Excellency's Command,
THOS. D. CHAPMAN.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

MASTERS of Vessels and others anchoring off Low Heads, at the entrance of the River Tamar, are requested in the daytime to keep the two white beacons in East Bay well open to the westward, and at night on no account to anchor with the light bearing to the southward of S.S.E., in order to avoid fouling the Submarine Cable which has been carried out from East Bay N.W. by N. a quarter of a mile seaward of the Lighthouse, and thence in a direction N.N.W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W.

D. CRUIKSHANK,
Commander S.S. Investigator.

SAILING DIRECTIONS, ENDEAVOUR STRAITS, INVESTIGATOR ROADS, AND GULF OF CARPENTARIA.

THE accompanying Sailing Directions, which have been extracted from the Queensland Government Gazette, No. 25, are published for general information.

WILLIAM M. K. VALE,
Commissioner of Trade and Customs.
Department of Trade and Customs,
Melbourne, 12th May, 1869. 1450.

THE following directions for the navigation of Endeavour Straits, and the Gulf of Carpentaria, and for Investigator Roads, have been supplied by Captain Chas. Edwards, of the Melanie, and are published for general information.

SAILING DIRECTIONS FOR ENDEAVOUR STRAITS AND THE GULF OF CARPENTARIA.

Small vessels from the east coast of Australia, bound down the Gulf of Carpentaria, generally go through Endeavour Straits, and pass to the southward of Woody Wallis Island into the Gulf.

Of the several passages into Endeavour Straits, the best is that between Possession and Meddler Islands, as there are no mid-channel dangers, the islands on either side being high, and the tides, although strong, setting straight through.

A vessel in mid-channel, between Possession and Meddler Islands, should steer S.S.W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W. three and a half miles, when she will be about a mile to the westward of Dayman Island; from thence eight miles on a S.W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. course will take her about three miles to the westward of Barn Island, with Red Island open to the southward of it. Be careful to keep to the eastward of the Heroine Rock, which may be ensured by keeping Meddler Island open to the eastward of Quoin Islet. When Red Island is open to the southward of Barn Island, steer W. by S.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. for Woody Wallis Island, about fourteen miles distant. On nearing Woody Wallis Island steer so as to pass about half a mile to the south-west of it—a midway course between it and the rock awash at low water, on the one-fathom bank, to the southward of Woody Wallis Island. Then steer about W. by S., keeping on the Woody Wallis side of the channel for about three miles until that island bears N.E. by E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. and Red Wallis N.N.E.; from thence steer S.W. crossing over sundry banks with four fathoms on them, and eight fathoms between, with hard sand, until the soft bottom of the Gulf is reached, but until then keep a good lookout for shoal water, and heave the lead constantly, as unknown knolls of sand may exist, the ground on the west side of Inskip Banks not having been surveyed.

Large ships should take the Prince of Wales Channel, and round Booby Island.

In sailing down the Gulf, the east coast should be kept on board at all times of the year, except when the north-west monsoon is blowing strongly. In the early part of the year, from March until the middle of September, the trade wind on the east side veers and hauls into land and sea breezes, whilst in the middle of the Gulf the trades blow constantly, and with a considerable set to the north-west.

At this time of the year it is advisable to follow the coast round, until well to windward of Sweer's Island (the port of entry of the Gulf), as just before the full and change of the moon strong gales from the south-east blow, with a heavy chopping sea, and a vessel would be driven to leeward, unless under the shelter of the land.

After the middle of September, vessels bound down the Gulf of Caernarvon, Sweer's Island, or back to the east coast, via Torres Straits, should still keep near the east coast of the Gulf, say from twenty to forty miles, as they will find there a moderate or fresh breeze from the northward, inclining to the eastward and westward, as land and sea breezes, but mostly blowing from the westward, whilst in the middle of the Gulf the wind will be light and south-easterly.

INVESTIGATOR ROADS; SWEER'S ISLAND.

Sweer's Island shelters Investigator Road to the eastward; it is about five miles long by a mile broad; it has rocks and foul ground extending off it to the eastward for about one and a half miles; cross bearings of Locust Rock, and the north-east point of Sweer's Island, are the best guide for keeping outside of it; the south and south-west sides, also, have shoal water and rocky patches running off shore for about three quarters of a mile.

Inspection Hill, at the south-east point of Sweer's Island, is 104 feet in height, and being the only hill in the neighborhood, forms a good landmark.

Locust Rock is a small rocky islet, about one and a half miles S.E. by S. from Inspection Hill; it has a small reef (dry at low water), about one mile E.N.E. of it, both rock and reef are connected with Inspection Hill by foul ground. Locust Rock has also a bank of small gravel, running off it to the S.S.E. about one mile; the least water on it is one fathom.

Macdonald's Point is the south-west point of Sweer's Island, it has rocks and foul ground running off it for about three quarters of a mile, and extending along the south side of Sweer's Island to Locust Rock; to keep outside the shoal water, do not bring Locust Rock to the southward of E. by S., nor Raft Point to the westward of N. by W.

Inscription Point, the west point of Sweer's Island, is of white sand, and on it the township of Caernarvon is situated.

Red Cliffs form the point projecting into the bay between North and Inscription Points.

North Point of Sweer's Island is Rocky and wooded.

Raft Point, the east point of Bentinck Island, is wooded, and easily made out; to vessels coming from the southward, it appears as the point of the land projecting from the west side of Investigator Road.

Fowler's Island is a small island S.W. by S., two miles from Raft Point, it is one and a quarter miles long, N.N.E. and S.S.W., and has a clump of trees near the south point; it is fronted towards Investigator Roads by rocks and shoal water, to clear which, Raft Point should not be brought to the eastward of N.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E.

Investigator Roads, the anchorage of the port of Sweer's Island, is sheltered to the eastward of Sweer's Island, to the westward by Fowler's Island, and the south part of Bentinck Island, and to the northward by the reefs running off Bentinck Island, and the shoal water between Bentinck and Sweer's Islands; it is well sheltered from the prevailing winds, spacious and easy of access, having a broad and clear passage to it, with four to five fathoms water in every part.

Anchorage.—Vessels trading to Caernarvon, the township of Sweer's Island, should anchor to the westward of Inscription Point, at a distance from it of about three cables, in five fathom water, mud bottom; a favorite anchorage is with the Red Cliffs in sight over Inscription Point, about two cables lengths from the shore.

Directions.—To gain the anchorage in Investigator Roads, all but very small vessels must enter by the southern passage; vessels running in with a south-east wind should keep about three miles off the land until the centre of Sweer's Island bears north, when an opening will be seen between Raft and Inscription Points; a course N.N.W. should then be steered for the north point of Fowler's Island, until the north point of Sweer's Island is seen over Inscription Point; then steer for Inscription Point, and anchor about two cables lengths off, with the Red Cliffs just in sight over it.

Should the wind be from the northward, and the vessel have to beat in, care must be taken in approaching Locust Rock from seaward, to clear the reef to E.N.E. of it—the north-east point of Sweer's Island, bearing N. by W., just leads clear of this; to avoid the covered bank running off it to the S.S.E., Locust Rock should not be approached nearer than one and a half miles; the clump of trees on the south end of Fowler's Island, bearing N.W. by W., will lead clear of the bank, but this will be difficult for a stranger to make out, as Bentinck and Fowler's Islands are low and in one—a surer guide is the lead;—in rounding Locust Rock closely, if you have less than ten fathoms water keep to the southward until Locust Rock is well open to the eastward of Sweer's Island, when the bank will be passed.

When standing along the south side of Sweer's Island, keep Locust Rock to the northward of E. by S., to clear the foul ground running off. In working up the Roads, you may stand into Fowler's Island until Raft Point bears N.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E., and into Sweer's Island until Raft point bears N. by W., until so much to the northward has been gained as to shut in the S.E. point of Sweer's Island, with the next point to the westward; then in standing in to Sweer's Island, the north point must be kept in sight over Inscription Point.

When fairly in the channel between Sweer's and Fowler's Islands the lead will be of great assistance; standing into Fowler's Island, tack when the water you have carried across shoals a fathom; in standing into Sweer's Island, tack when the water deepens half a fathom.

Winds.—From the end of May to the middle of September, the wind blows more or less strongly from south-east, freshening into a gale, just before full, and change; after the middle of September the wind hangs mostly from the northward, blowing a fresh breeze from the north-east in the morning, moderating and drawing round to north-west in the afternoon, falling light at night, and freshening again about 4 a.m.; these winds last till about the latter part of December, when unsettled cloudy weather, with rains and north-west winds in the daytime, and heavy squalls from the main-land at night set in; these winds last till about the end of February, when till the end of May the winds blow mostly from E.N.E. This description of the winds applies to the head of the Gulf of Carpentaria, as far east as the Norman River.

Tides.—Flood tide sets to the southward, and ebbs to the northward, from one to two knots at springs; the strength of the stream, and length of time of setting, depends on the strength of the prevailing winds, the tide going mostly with the wind.

Portmaster.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE accompanying Notice, which has been extracted from the New South Wales Government Gazette, is published for general information.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Snag in Entrance to Buller River.

Marine Department,

Wellington, 7th April, 1869.

NOTICE is hereby given, that there is a large snag on the Bar of the Buller River, which, in the present state of the channel, is right in the fairway of the North Channel.

The snag will be removed, or marked by buoys or beacons, as soon as practicable; and in the meantime masters of vessels are warned of its existence, and requested to observe closely the following directions:—

When entering in daylight, the flagstaff, and the beacon carrying the red flag, must be kept in one, and, failing this, vessels must be steered in close accordance with the directions of the semaphore arm at the flagstaff.

When entering by night, the (outer) red light and the (inner) bright light must be kept in one, if practicable, or, failing this, the bright light must be opened to the S.W. of the red light (or towards Cape Foulwind).

On no account must the line of the leading lights be crossed towards the N.E. till the vessel is inside the bar.

JAMES M. BALFOUR,
Colonial Marine Engineer.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.

THE accompanying Notice respecting a change in Cape Recife light, Algoa Bay, is published for general information.

WILLIAM M. K. VALE,

Commissioner of Trade and Customs.

Department of Trade and Customs,
Melbourne, 19th May, 1869.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Change in Cape Recife Light to warn ships of too near an approach to the Roman Rock in Algoa Bay.

On and after the 1st December, 1868, a ray of Red Light will be shown from the Cape Recife Lighthouse, between a N. 39° E. bearing and the shore northwards from the lighthouse.

Bearings are magnetic.

DIRECTIONS.

Vessels bound for Algoa Bay, after passing Cape Recife should not open the Red Light at the Cape until the Harbor Light upon the Hill is seen (which will first show red on a N. W. bearing, and lead nine-tenths of a mile eastward of the Roman, where a course for the anchorage may be shaped with safety). As the Hill Light cannot be seen from the Roman Rock, a ship is in safety so long as the light can be seen; but as its southern extreme of visibility leads only two cables north of the Rock, it is recommended that a course for the anchorage should not be shaped until the region of the Red Light is passed, and the Hill Light shows white on a N. W. by W. bearing.

In beating in or out of the anchorage, the opening of the Red Light at either of the lighthouses will be a signal for vessels to tack when near the vicinity of the Roman Rock.

F. SKEAD,
Harbor Master.

Population on the 30th Sept., 1868			384,859	299,457	684,316
Population on the 31st Mar., 1869...			387,844	301,694	689,538

NOTE.—The increase by excess of births over deaths during the past quarter was 2,836, viz., 1,264 males and 1,572 females. The increase by excess of arrivals over departures was 2,386, viz., 1,721 males and 665 females. The total increase from all sources was thus, 5,222, viz., 2,985 males and 2,237 females, as shown in the table. The return of population on the 31st December, 1868, is in excess of that given in the published table for the quarter ending at that date by 339, viz., 158 males and 186 females. This has arisen from the fact that some of the Deputy-Registrars' returns had not been received and others had not been finally examined when that table was issued.
