No councillor shall speak twice on the same motion or amendment, except by way of explanation or in reply upon any original motion of which he may have been the mover, or the mover of the amendment last proposed, unless by permission of a majority of the council; but a councillor merely seconding a motion shall not be held to have spoken, but may address the council at a subsequent part of the debate; and the president or the chairman shall, without waiting for the interposition of the council, call to order any councillor proceeding to speak a second time on the same motion or amendment.
15. No councillor shall digress from the subject-matter of the question under discussion or impute improper motives to others; and all personal reflections upon any councillor, or any councillor appearing before the council in any improper manner, shall be considered highly disorderly, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Five pounds. Councillors while speaking shall address themselves to the president, and stand while doing so. Any councillor may require the secretary to take down in writing any particular words employed by a councillor immediately on the same being used.
16. In taking the sense of the council the president shall put the question first in the affirmative, then in the negative. The council shall in all cases vote by show of hands, and on a division the names of the members voting pro et con, shall be recorded. The ruling of the president shall be final in all points of order, and shall be given without argument or comment, except by way of citing precedents. If two or more members rise to speak at the same time the president shall decide who has the first claim to be heard.
17. The last amendment moved must be put first, and if carried must then be put as an original motion, on which an amendment can be moved as before. It shall be competent for any councillor to move one amendment on any question, but no more.
18. No discussion shall be allowed on any motion for the adjournment of the council, and if, on the question being put, the motion for the adjournment is negatived, the subject then under consideration, or the next on the notice-paper, or any other that may be allowed precedence by the president, shall be discussed before any subsequent motion for adjournment be entertained, but if the motion for adjournment be carried then the business undisposed of shall have precedence at the next meeting of the council.

19. Any part of this bye-law or standing order may be suspended pro tem, in a case of emergency, with the consent of two-thirds of the council present.

20. All works amounting to more than Fifty pounds shall be done by contract, and shall be advertised in a local newspaper not less than twice consecutively.

21. Tenders are to be removed from the tender-box by order of the president or chairman in the presence of the council. A correct list is to be made of the names and the amount of each tender for entry upon the minutes, and the accepted tender must be marked by the president or chairman: Provided that if the council, for any sufficient reason, deem such course convenient, the tender may be referred to a committee or to the surveyor for examination, before finally accepting or rejecting any tender. The council is not bound to accept the lowest or any tender presented.

22. All payments shall be made by cheques, but no cheque shall be signed unless the amount for which it is given shall have been previously passed at an ordinary meeting of the council, and is contained in a list of payments to be approved of by the finance committee, and signed by the president or chairman.

23. The secretary shall prepare vouchers for all salaries, and submit the same when due, together with all surveyor's vouchers in each month, to the first ordinary meeting of the finance committee of the council, who shall examine and mark all such vouchers before the amounts are paid.

24. The president shall have power to grant leave of absence to any officer for a period not exceeding three days; but for any longer period application must be made in writing to the council.

25. The treasurer shall present to the council at every ordinary meeting a statement of all moneys received by him since the previous one, and of moneys lodged by him in the bank to the council's credit, and state the balance; such statement to be kept in a book for that purpose.

26. The secretary shall present a statement of the financial affairs of the council at every ordinary meeting, and shall also keep a debtor and creditor account for each division of the shire; the same shall be posted up for reference at all ordinary meetings. The secretary and the surveyor of the council, with all requisite books and documents, shall attend all meetings of the council, at least one hour prior to the hour of meeting to afford members any information they may desire, and the other officers when required are to attend. The secretary shall have the custody of the common seal of the council, and shall affix the same to all contracts in the presence of two members of the council, and attest the same, and report having done so to the next ordinary meeting of the council.

27. The surveyor and secretary shall be custodians of all plans and specifications of works executed and to be hereafter executed under the orders of the council, and all such plans and specifications shall be the property of the council, and the surveyor and secretary shall be jointly responsible for the safe keeping of the same.

28. The collector shall, previous to the day on which the ordinary meetings of the council take place, prepare a report showing the amount of rates received by him since his previous report, and of moneys paid to the treasurer, and the amount of uncollected rates, and shall deliver the same to the secretary, such report to be kept in a book for that purpose. The collector shall in no case distrain without the orders of the council. At a period not exceeding three days all moneys received by the collector for rates shall be paid to the treasurer, and the collector shall take the treasurer's receipt for the same.

29. Any subject may be referred to a committee of the whole council.

30. It shall be competent for any councillor, without previous notice, to move for a call of the whole council for the consideration of any subject at the next or any subsequent meeting, and upon such motion being carried due notice thereof shall be given by the secretary to each councillor, by post, of the day on which the order or notice of motion comes under consideration; and any councillor not in attendance when such order of the day or notice of motion comes under consideration, or present at the time of voting on such motion or any amendment thereon, shall be liable to a fine of Twenty-one shillings on each occasion of absence, unless reasonable cause can be shown to the council for such non-attendance.

31. The engineer, treasurer, collector, and thistle and dog inspector, shall submit monthly reports of the duties performed in their respective offices, and the engineer shall in each report state in detail how the labor party have been employed, the same to be kept in a book for that purpose.

WILLIAM VALE, President.
