* In cases where the minus sign (-) is prefixed to any number, it implies that the deaths exceeded the births by that number.

† Including the Melbourne Hospital, which is in Gipps Ward; the Alfred Hospital, which is in Albert Ward; the Immigrants' Home which is partly in Albert Ward and partly in Emerald Hill Town; the Lying-in Hospital, and the Children's Hospital, which are in Smith Ward; the Metropolitan Lunatic Asylum, which is in Kew Borough; the Yarra Bend Lunatic Asylum, which is in "Remainder of District;" and the Benevolent Asylum, which is on the boundary between Hotham Town and Melbourne City.

The mortality of Melbourne and suburbs, together with the mean temperature in the shade and the mean atmospheric pressure, during the month of December for the ten years 1871-1880, were as follow; the births are also given for as many years as the information is available:—

The births of 760 children, viz., 384 boys and 376 girls, were registered in Melbourne and suburbs during the month of December. In the month of November 721 births were registered, or 39 less than in the month under review. The births were 122 above the average of the previous seven Decembers; but if allowance be made for the increase of population the excess will be reduced to 46.

The deaths registered in December numbered 592, viz., 283 of males and 309 of females; the births thus exceeded the deaths by 168. The deaths outnumbered those in November by 152, and exceeded the average of December during the previous ten years by 106. If, however, allowance be made for the increase of population, they will be found to have been only 28 more than the average of the month during those ten years.

The highest temperature in the shade recorded at Melbourne Observatory during the month was 97.1° on the 5th, and the lowest was 46.0° on the 10th. The mean temperature of the month (62.0°) was more than a degree below the average. The greatest range of the thermometer in any one day (43.2°) took place on the 7th, viz., from a maximum of 93.8° to a minimum of 50.6°. The least range (9.3°) was on the 12th, viz., from a maximum of 63.1° to a minimum of 53.8°. The mean daily range was 18.5°. The mean atmospheric pressure (29.794 inches) was slightly below the average.

Males contributed 48 per cent. and females 52 per cent. to the mortality of the month. It will be noticed that the deaths of the latter exceeded those of the former, which is a very rare occurrence. Children under 5 years contributed 51 per cent. to the total mortality, as against 42 per cent. in December 1880; 46 per cent. in December 1879; 48 per cent. in December 1878; 50 per cent. in December 1877; 46 per cent. in December 1876; 45 per cent. in December 1875; 60 per cent. in December 1874; 48 per cent. in December 1873; 55 per cent. in December 1872; and 53 per cent. in December 1871.

The deaths of 29 persons who had arrived at the age of 75 years or upwards were recorded during the month. The following are the particulars:—A female, aged 75, died of tumour; 2 females, each aged 75, of paralysis; a female, aged 76, of apoplexy; a female, aged 76, of heart disease; a male patient in the Kew Lunatic Asylum, aged 77, of brain disease; a female, aged 78, of diarrhoea; a female, aged 79, of heart disease; a laundress, aged 79, of congestion of the lungs; a female, aged 81, of apoplexy; a female, aged 80, of brain disease; an hotelkeeper, aged 81, of bronchitis; a female, aged 82, of heart disease; 2 females, aged 83 and 84 respectively, of apoplexy; a bricklayer, aged 83, of heart disease; a female, aged 83, of fracture of the arm; a male patient in a Lunatic Asylum, aged 84, of brain disease; a blacksmith, aged 86, of hepatitis; a female hawkler, aged 88, of bronchitis; 4 females, each aged 80, a female aged 81, 2 females, each aged 83, a female aged 86, and a widow aged 89, of old age.

Of the deaths registered during the month 27 were attributed to external causes, of which 22 were accidental and 5 suicidal. The following are the particulars of the accidental deaths:—A tanner, aged 19, died of pyæmia, resulting from his arm being caught in machinery at which he was working; a dealer, aged 21, of gangrene of the arm, caused by a cut in the hand; a squatter, aged 33, was killed by being thrown from a buggy; a lumper, aged 41, by a bale of wool falling on him; a gatekeeper, aged 44, and a carpenter, aged 53, by trains passing over them; a laborer, aged 45, died of rupture of the bladder, caused by being crushed between the buffers of two railway carriages; a female, aged 83, of fracture of the arm, the result of a fall; a male infant, aged 1 month, a male child, aged 1 year, a female child, aged 2, a boy, aged 8, a coal-trimmer, aged 23, and a butcher, aged 29, were drowned; a female, aged 21, and an insurance agent, aged 55, were found drowned; a male child, aged 1, died of a scald; a male child, aged 2, and a female, aged 29, of burns, the latter falling into a fire while in a fit; a girl, aged 5, was poisoned by alcohol; a female infant, aged 1 month, died of suffocation; and a dairyman, aged 57, was choked by a piece of meat. The deaths of children under five years of age numbered 300, of which 146, or 49 per cent., were of males, and 154, or 51 per cent., were of females. Of those who died, 245 were under one year of age, 34 were between one and two, 8 were between two and three, 7 were between three and four, and 6 were between four and five.

The persons who died at a more advanced age than five years numbered 292. Of these, 137, or 47 per cent., were males, and 155, or 53 per cent., were females; 13 were between five and ten, 4 were between ten and fifteen, 12 were between fifteen and twenty, 21 were between twenty and twenty-five, 14 were between twenty-five and thirty, 20 were between thirty and thirty-five, 18 were between thirty-five and forty, 35 were between forty and forty-five, 25 were between forty-five and fifty, 24 were between fifty and fifty-five, 31 were between fifty-five and sixty, 17 were between sixty and sixty-five, 10 were between sixty-five and seventy, 18 were between seventy and seventy-five, 9 were between seventy-five and eighty, and 20 were upwards of eighty, and 1 unspecified.

The following table shows the causes of death of persons of both sexes under and over five years of age, and the proportions per cent. of deaths from each cause in Melbourne and suburbs during the month under review:—

INDUSTRIAL AND REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

THE subjoined Memorandum, &c., relative to the collection of Maintenance Fees on account of Industrial and Reformatory School children is published for general information.

J. M. GRANT,
Chief Secretary.

Chief Secretary's Office,
Melbourne, 1st February 1882.

MEMORANDUM.

WITH reference to recent correspondence respecting the recovery of the heavy arrears due under Magistrates' Orders for the maintenance of Industrial and Reformatory School children, and as to the prevention of such arrears in the future, the Secretary of the Industrial and Reformatory Schools Department has the honor to forward to the Honorable the Chief Secretary separate statements (accompanied by vouchers) of the amounts outstanding at 31st December 1881 under the orders of each Bench of Magistrates throughout the colony; and to submit recommendations which it would seem expedient to transmit with these through the Law Department to the several clerks of courts for their early and earnest attention in regard to them.

I.—ARREARS.

1. The clerks should see that the entries in their Registers of Maintenance Fees correspond in each case with the statement of account now forwarded.
2. Should it be within the cognizance of the clerks that any of the debtors are dead or physically incapacitated for work, they should bring such cases under the early notice of the Benches, with a view to the cancellation of the orders, and the writing off of the claims in the maintenance registers, reporting the steps so taken to this department.
3. Should any debtor have left the district, and that to which he has removed be known, the order and claim should be transferred to the clerk of the nearest Bench, this department being duly informed of the transfer.
4. If trace of the address of any debtors has been lost and cannot be ascertained, the clerks should report the same without delay to this department, returning the vouchers and specifying the last-known address.
5. In regard to all other claims than those above described, the clerks should take immediate steps for recovering the amounts due, and for bringing the same to account.
6. When by the efforts to be now made the claims shall have been reduced in number, it is desired that the balance outstanding on each may be shown in the "Return of Maintenance Fees received and Orders made," which the clerks render monthly to this department on Form I 2, and the form will be modified accordingly.

II.—CURRENT MAINTENANCE.

7. With a view to guard against the future accumulation of arrears and to secure as far as possible the due and regular collection of Maintenance Fees, it is requested that the special attention of the clerks may be asked to the Instructions Nos. 85 and 86 of 31st December 1868, relative to the enforcement of a stated and punctual compliance with the Magistrates' Orders for Maintenance.
8. Also that, when a case is in the first instance adjudicated on, the decision of the Bench, in regard to a weekly charge for maintenance may be invariably notified in the schedule to the mandate for the information of this department; and that the fullest possible information be also supplied under the several headings of that schedule, both in regard to the children themselves, and as to the names, trade or calling, abode and circumstances of the parent, so far as these can be ascertained.
9. Where the parents are not brought into court at the same time as the children whom it is proposed to commit—as provided by clause 398 of the Police Regulations—the clerk should draw the attention of the Bench to the omission with a view to the case being remanded from time to time until every effort on the part of the police to discover the parent liable for the maintenance of the children shall have been exhausted.

NOTE.—The clerks in and around Melbourne should be desired to give early notice to this department of the day on which each summons under orders for maintenance is made returnable; in order that, should any circumstances render it expedient, an officer of the department may be in attendance at the hearing.

GEO. GUILLAUME,
Secretary I. and R. Schools Department.

To His Honorable the Chief Secretary, &c., &c.

Crown Law Offices,
Melbourne, 27th January 1882.

It is also requested that their reports of the action taken in reference to the claims for arrears now forwarded to them may be made direct to the Secretary of Industrial and Reformatory Schools Department not later than the end of February.
