SIGNALS.

2. General Use of Signals.—The signals prescribed in these rules shall be used for controlling the movements of trains in all cases in which exceptions are not allowed by approved special instructions.

3. Kinds of Signals.—The signals to be used for controlling the movement of trains shall be—

- (a) Distance boards.
- (b) Fixed signals.
- (c) Hand signals.

4. Stop Signals for Approaching Trains.—(a) At stations where distance boards are provided, these should be placed at a distance of not less than 100 yards outside the outermost facing points.

5. Banner Flag.—(b) A banner flag is a temporary fixed danger signal consisting of a red cloth supported at each end on a post and stretched across the line to which it refers.

6. Position of Fixed Signals.—Fixed signals shall be fixed on the side of the line of which they can be seen by drivers of approaching trains, but the left-hand side of the track is to be preferred unless the sighting is greatly interfered with.

7. Hand Signals.—(c) A hand signal shall be made, by day, by showing a flag or hand, and, by night, by showing a light.

8. Stop Signal.—The stop signal shall be given by day—

- (a) by showing a red flag, or
- (b) in the absence of flags, by raising both arms with the hands above the head; and by night—

- (i) by showing a red light, or
- (ii) in the absence of a red light by violently waving a white light.

9. Caution Signal.—The "proceed with caution" signal must be used, when it is intended that the train should proceed slowly, and shall be given by day—(a) by waving a green flag vertically, or—(b) in the absence of flags, by waving one arm in a similar manner; and by night, by similarly waving a green light.

10. Proceed Signal.—The proceed signal shall be given, by day—

- (a) by holding a green flag steadily,
- (b) in the absence of flags, by holding out one arm and by night by holding a green light steadily.

11. Signals for Shunting.—In shunting operations, signals shall be given as follows:—

- (1) To move away from the person signalling, a green flag or green light moved slowly up and down.
- (2) To move towards the person signalling, a green flag or green light moved from side to side across the body.
- (3) To slow down, the above signals to be displayed slower and slower until the danger signal is given.

12. (a) In shunting operations, the following signals may, during daylight, be substituted for signals by flag—

- (1) To move away from the person signalling throw the arm nearer to the driver in the forward direction.
- (2) To move towards the person signalling throw the arm nearer to the driver across the body in the direction in which the train is to move.
- (3) To slow down, the above signals to be displayed slower and slower until it is desired to stop, when both arms should be raised, with the hands above the head.
- (4) To show that part of the train is uncoupled, place the hands together in front of the body and separate them smartly: (this signal, when necessary, is to be given before the movement signal).

13. Working of Fixed Signals.—When a train is approaching a station it must be brought to a stand outside the distance board unless the "proceed signal" be given.

14. The station-master shall not give permission for a train to pass the distance boards until—

- (a) All facing points over which the train will pass are correctly set and secured.
- (b) All trailing points over which the train will pass are correctly set.
- (c) The line over which the train is to pass is clear and free from obstructions.

CHAPTER III.

WORKING OF TRAINS GENERALLY.

15. Standard Time.—The working of trains between stations shall be regulated by the standard time prescribed by the Victorian Railways, which shall be sent daily to all principal stations on the tramway when practicable.

16. Notice of Running.—No train shall be allowed to run unless previous notice has been given, whenever practicable, to all stations concerned.

17. Permission to Approach and Authority to Proceed.—No person other than the station-master on duty may ask for or give permission to approach or give authority to proceed for a running train.

18. An authority to proceed given to a running train shall lapse as soon as the last vehicle of the train has passed inside the facing points.

19. Pushing Engine.—(1) No train, except those specified in rules (3) (a) and (b) below, shall be pushed by an engine outside station limits. Engine pushing trains outside station limits shall not ordinarily exceed a speed of 5 miles an hour.

(2) Sub-rule 1 shall not apply in the case of an engine assisting in rear of a train.

(3) An engine may only be allowed to push a train outside station limits—

- (a) At the written request of an engineering employee of rank and then only in the case of a ballast or construction train.
- (b) Under orders of a traffic employee of rank and only in the case of a breakdown between stations, owing to accident, breach in line or other cause.

(4) When a train leaves a station with orders to be pushed outside station limits, the leading vehicle, must, if possible, in the case of rule (3) (a) and (b) above, be a braked vehicle and be fitted with a light showing red in the direction in which it is moving. In such a case a tail light will be exhibited on the engine. The guard, in charge of the train, must ride in the leading vehicle, or in the nearest one fitted with a brake.

(5) Trains that are being pushed outside station limits must, on approaching a station, be brought to a stand at the distance board and be then piloted into the station.

20. Engine Running Tender Foremost.—When any train is drawn by an engine with tender, running tender foremost, the speed shall not exceed 5 miles an hour or such higher speed as may be authorized.

21. Guards and Brake-vans.—(1) Except under special instructions, no engine with vehicles attached shall be despatched from any station without a guard and brake-van or hand-braked vehicle.

(2) Every guard must, except under special circumstances, ride in his own brake-van or braked vehicle.

(3) Unless it be otherwise directed by the authorized officer, one brake-van or braked-vehicle must be attached to the rear of the train.

22. Loading.—(1) No wagon or truck shall be so loaded as to exceed the marked carrying capacity, or such less load as may be prescribed by the authorized officer.

(2) No vehicles shall be so loaded as to exceed the maximum moving dimensions prescribed from time to time by the authorized officer.

23. Dangerous Vehicles.—If a guard or station-master has reason to apprehend danger from the condition of any vehicle on a train, the engine-driver shall be consulted, and, if he so requires, the vehicle shall be detached from the train.

24. Dummy Truck.—The use of dummy trucks is prohibited owing to the relatively light weight of timber trucks. Normally the load should never project beyond the trucks, but in exceptional authorized cases when the load in a truck projects to an unsafe extent beyond the end of the truck a coupling bar of suitable dimensions must be used.

25. Train Lights.—(1) At night, or in thick or foggy weather the head lights, as prescribed, shall invariably be carried.

(2) No engine shall be employed in shunting within station limits or in a siding, unless it carries the prescribed head and tail lights.

26. Limits of Speed Generally.—Every train must be run on each section of the line within the limits of speed sanctioned for that section by the authorized officer.

27. Limit of Speed Through Facing Points.—Except under special instructions no train shall be run through facing points at a speed exceeding 3 miles an hour, or such lower speed as may be prescribed.

28. Protection and Working of Points.—Where there are points in the main line at a place which is not a station, provision for the protection of such points, by signals or otherwise and for working them, will be made under the orders of the Commission to secure the safe working of trains to their satisfaction.

29. Warning Before Moving a Train.—Before a train is moved, the engine-driver must give two clear whistles at an interval of half a minute, as a warning the train is about to move. The driver shall be specially careful not to move the train without the orders of the guard.

30. Control of Shunting.—Shunting operations shall be controlled by hand signals, or by verbal directions as occasion may require.

31. Moving of Vehicles so as to Obstruct Running Road.—No vehicle shall be moved so as to foul or obstruct any running road unless the previous sanction of the station-master has been obtained.

32. Shunting on Steep Gradients.—When any vehicle is being shunted or detached on a steep gradient, the tramway employee in charge of the operations must see that a sufficient number of brakes are put on, that sprags or hand-scotchies are used when necessary, and that all necessary precautions are taken to prevent the vehicle getting out of control.

33. Loose Shunting.—Loose shunting of vehicles is prohibited.

Trains Stopped Between Stations by Accident, Failure, or by any Condition of the Road which is Dangerous to Trains.

34. Trains Stopped Between Stations.—When a train is stopped between stations, the guard in charge of the train must, unless the stoppage will only be one for a few minutes, immediately ascertain the cause; if the stoppage is other than incidental or authorized, and if he finds that through accident or for any other reason the train cannot proceed, the following action shall be taken, namely:—

- (1) The said guard must immediately, either himself go back, or send a qualified person back to protect the train;
- (2) the person so going back to protect the train must plainly show his hand danger signal to stop any approaching train until he is recalled by engine whistle.
- (3) The engine-driver must at once show a danger signal to the front, and must proceed to protect the train in front in the manner prescribed in clause (2); either by going himself or by sending his fireman or some other qualified person.

35. Advice of Accident or Breakdown.—(a) When a train comes to a stand between stations, and the driver finds he is unable to proceed, he should immediately advise the guard in charge of the train or send advice to the nearest station stating the nature and cause of the accident, and, if assistance has been asked for, he shall not allow the engine or any portion of his train to be moved until such assistance arrives, provided that if the train is subsequently able to move it may do so at a walking pace, but not unless a man has been sent ahead with hand signals to protect the train, such man keeping at least 150 yards in advance of the train, the other end of the train being protected in a similar manner.

(b) When a train comes to a stand between stations and the driver finds he is unable to proceed, he must give four sharp whistles to call the attention of the guard, who will, if by day, wave his red flag, and if by night, move his hand lamp up and down vertically, showing a red light, to indicate to the driver that he has understood his signal. The guard will then, if by day, place the red flag in a conspicuous place, and if by night, reverse his lamp as a sign to the driver that he has understood the situation. After giving the signal by red flag or reversing the lamp, as the case may be, the guard will proceed back and protect his train in accordance with Rule 3 (2).

36. Light Engine Stopped on Line.—If any light engine should, while on the line outside station limits, be unable to proceed, the engine-driver must see that the precautions prescribed by Rule 34 (3) are taken for the protection of the engine, both in front and rear, employing the fireman or some other competent person to assist him.

37. Train Parting.—(1) If any portion of a train should, while in motion, become detached:

(a) The engine-driver must use his judgment to keep the front portion in motion, if possible, until the rear portion has been brought to a stand, so as to avoid the chance of a collision between the two portions.

(b) The guard or guards in the rear portion must promptly apply their brakes and do all they can to prevent a collision with the front portion.

(2) As soon as the rear portion of the train has been brought to a stand, the guard in charge of the train must protect that portion in accordance with Rule 34, both in front and rear.

38. Portion of Train Left on Line.—(1) When a train, stopped between stations, has to be divided in consequence of an accident, or the inability of the engine to take the whole train forward, the guard in charge of the train must, before uncoupling, put down the brakes, and must, if necessary, otherwise carefully secure the rear portion of the train to ensure its remaining stationary.

(2) If the engine is capable of proceeding either with or without vehicles, the said guard shall give written permission to the engine-driver to uncouple and proceed to the next station, and may, if he thinks fit, give him written instructions to return.

(3) When the said guard has taken action under Sub-rule (2) he must immediately take steps to protect the rear portion of his train in accordance with rules.

(4) At night, or in thick or foggy weather, as soon as the engine, whether with or without vehicles, is drawn forward, the said guard must see that a light is shown on the front vehicle of the rear portion of the train.

(5) When the front portion of the train is taken forward, the fireman, or, if there are two guards with the train, the second guard, must, if it is practicable and safe to do so, ride upon the last vehicle of the said front portion of the train until it reaches the next station, but no tail lamp shall be placed on it.

(6) On entering a station with the knowledge that the block section behind is obstructed, the first duty of the driver, when the train consists of the engine only, is to instantly warn the stationmaster on duty of this fact, and when vehicles are attached and a guard accompanies, this first duty devolves upon the engine-driver and guard jointly.

(7) When under the written instructions referred to in Sub-rule (2) the engine is to be brought back, the guard in charge of the train must, until the arrival of the engine, continue to take the precautions prescribed in Rule 34, for the protection in rear of the portion of the train left on the line, and shall not permit a following train to move any of the vehicles under his charge.

38A. Authority to Stop Train or to Detach Wagons Outside Station Limits.—Under special instructions of the authorized officer, trains may be permitted to stop outside station limits or to detach wagons outside station limits, provided that the respective lengths of line on which such trains are to work have first been "blocked."

CHAPTER IV.

39. System of Working.—All trains working between stations will be worked on one or other of the following systems, namely:—

- (a) Absolute block.
- (b) Train following.

The regulations for working of trains on the above systems are printed as Appendices A. and B.

CHAPTER V.

THE ABSOLUTE BLOCK SYSTEM.

40. Essentials of the Absolute Block System.—(1) Where trains are worked on the absolute block system—

- (a) no train shall be allowed to leave a station unless permission to approach has been received from the station ahead, and
- (b) such permission shall not be given unless the line is clear not only up to the first distance board at the station at which such permission is given, but also for an adequate distance beyond it.

(2) The distance referred to in clause (1) (b) shall not be less than 200 feet, unless otherwise directed.

41. Conditions under which Permission to Approach may be Given.—The line shall not be considered clear and permission to approach shall not be given unless the whole of the last preceding train has passed within the outermost points.

42. Obstruction Outside the Station Section.—(1) After permission to approach has been given to a train, shunting or obstructing the line outside the facing points in the direction of an approaching train shall not be permitted.

(2) Obstructing the line between the station section and the distance board shall not be permitted unless a tramway employee specially appointed in this behalf by the stationmaster is in charge of the operation, and unless—

- (a) the block section into which the shunting is to take place is clear of an approaching train, or
- (b) if an approaching train has arrived at the distance board, the stationmaster has personally satisfied himself that the train has been brought to a dead stand at that distance board.

43. Obstruction Outside the Distance Board.—The obstructing of the line outside the distance board is prohibited unless the line has been blocked back.

CHAPTER VI.

TRAMWAY EMPLOYEES GENERALLY.

44. Supply of Copies of Rules.—The superintending officer shall supply to each stationmaster, guard, engine-driver, and permanent-way employee, a copy of the General Rules for working tramways, or a copy of such portions thereof as relate to his duties.

63. Responsibility for Reception of Trains.—The stationmaster will then see that the points are correctly set, and as the train approaches show a green signal.

CHAPTER VIII.

TRAMWAY EMPLOYEES ON THE PERMANENT WAY OR WORKS.

64. Conditions of Permanent Way or Works—Maintenance of Line.—Each employee shall be responsible for the condition of the permanent way and works in his charge.

Each employee must—

- (a) see that his length of line is efficiently maintained, and

76. When repairing, lifting, or lowering the line outside station limits, or when performing any other operation outside station limits which will make it necessary for a train to proceed cautiously, the ganger must himself be present at the spot, and shall be responsible that the caution signals prescribed are shown.

77. Duties of Ganger when Apprehending Danger.—If a ganger considers that the line is likely to be rendered unsafe, or that any train is likely to be endangered in consequence of any defect in the way or works, or of abnormal rain or floods, or any other occurrence, he must take immediate steps for securing the stability of the line and the safety of trains, by using the prescribed signals for trains to "Proceed with Caution" or to "Stop", as necessity may require; and shall, as soon as possible, report the circumstances to the nearest stationmaster and the superintending officer.

78. Precautions Before Commencing Operations which would Obstruct the Line.—No person employed on the way or works shall commence any operation, such as changing or turning a rail, which would obstruct the line and necessitate the showing of danger signals—

- (a) until such signals have been shown, and
- (b) if within station limits, until he has also obtained the permission of the stationmaster.

79. Showing of Signals.—(1) When "Proceed with Caution" hand signals have been shown, a man shall be sent in each direction, at least a hundred yards and as much further as the circumstances of the case may render necessary, to show these signals in such a manner as to be plainly visible to the driver of an approaching train.

(2) Another such signal shall also be shown at the spot where cautious driving is required, and a "Proceed" signal shall be shown to the engine-driver as soon as the train has cleared the portion of the line over which cautious driving was necessary.

(3) When danger signals have to be shown under this Chapter, they must be shown at an adequate distance in both directions from the place of obstruction.

(4) Danger signals must also be shown near and short of the point of danger.

80. Every tramway employee on way or works shall, on the requisition of the guard in charge of a train or the driver thereof, render assistance under Rule 34, for the protection of the train.

(iv) Protection of trolley.—The person in charge of a trolley must be held responsible under all circumstances for its use and for knowing when trains are due; and must, when passing a station, as a special precaution against accidents from light engines, &c., inquire from the stationmaster whether the line is clear, and whether any train is expected in either direction.

(v) Brakes.—All trolleys must be fitted with efficient brake gear, and the person in charge will be responsible that the brake is in proper order.

(vi) Trolleys running together.—When two trolleys are running together in the same direction, particular care must be taken that they are kept a sufficient distance apart to allow of the rear trolley being stopped in time if a trollyman should slip from the front trolley or if the front trolley should be stopped suddenly for any reason.

(vii) Hand signals, &c., to be carried.—Persons using trolleys must invariably carry with them on the trolley red and green hand flags, a signal lamp, and a padlock with chain.

(viii) Whether otherwise protected or not, no trolleys should be placed on the open line without a red flag by day or a red lamp by night showing both ways and conspicuously displayed so that they can be readily seen by drivers of approaching trains.

(ix) Design.—All trolleys must be plainly marked with a number and with the official designation of the gang for whose use they are supplied. The weight of a trolley and its load must not be more than that which four men can lift off the line when the wheels are attached. No trolley must be run on the main line unless it is accompanied by enough men to readily lift it off.

82. Rules for Working Motor Trolleys.—Where specially authorized by the Commission motor trolleys may be worked under the rules applicable to push trolleys enumerated in Rule 81.

(i) In the absence of such special authority, motor trolleys will be run under the rules applicable to running of trains, provided that where trains are worked on the absolute block system, a motor trolley may be allowed to follow a train in accordance with the rules laid down in Appendix B to Chapter IV.

(ii) Delaying trains.—Officers in charge of motor trolleys running on an authority to proceed are responsible for seeing that trains are not delayed.

(iii) Responsibility of officer in charge of a motor trolley.—The person in charge of a motor trolley is responsible for keeping out of the way of all trains and taking proper precautions to avoid accidents.
