1. Short Title.—These Regulations may be cited as “The Port Phillip Pilot Sick and Superannuation Fund Regulations 1929.”

2. Repeal and Commencement.—These Regulations shall be deemed to have come into operation on the 1st day of July, 1929, on, from, and after which date all Regulations heretofore in force governing the maintenance of the Pilot Fund or the Port Phillip Pilot Sick and Superannuation Fund (hereinafter called “the Fund”) and the granting of allowances, gratuities, and pensions by the Pilot Board to pilots licensed before the date of commencement of the Marine Board Act 1887 and to their widows and children and by the Pilot Superannuation Board (hereinafter called “the Board”) to pilots licensed after the said date and before the commencement of the Marine Act 1928 and to the widows and children of such pilots, shall stand repealed. Notwithstanding such repeal all such allowances, gratuities, and pensions shall on, from, and after the said 1st day of July, 1929, be and continue to be paid to the recipients thereof under, subject to, and at the rates prescribed by these Regulations and any amendments thereof.

3. Applications for Allowances, Gratuities, or Pensions.—Applications for allowances, gratuities, or pensions shall be made in such form as the Board may require, and shall be accompanied by evidence satisfactory to the Board of the truth and substance of the grounds upon which such applications are based.

4. Sea and Harbour Pilots with Less than Ten Years' Service.—A sea or harbour pilot who has not completed ten years' service as a duly licensed pilot shall not be entitled to a pension from the Fund, nor shall his widow or child or children be entitled on his death to any benefit therefrom. Provided, however, that where any such sea or harbour pilot dies before completing ten years' service or is so disabled by sickness or accident as to necessitate his retirement from the pilot service before he has served for the said term of ten years, there shall be paid to him or his executors and administrators for the benefit of his widow and child or children from the fund (in the case of a sea pilot) a gratuity of such amount as shall be determined in accordance with the next succeeding Regulation or (in the case of a harbour pilot) a sum equal to the total amount directly contributed by him from his earnings to the Fund.

5. Determination of Amount of Gratuities to Sea Pilots.—The secretary to the Board shall at the end of every month record in a book to be kept for the purpose the amount which for that month has been contributed to the Fund from the earnings of sea pilots, and shall divide such amount by the number of pilots for the time being constituting the full complement of licensed sea pilots, and the sum so ascertained shall be recorded as aforesaid and shall represent the proportion which for that month is deemed to have been contributed by each pilot. The total amount of gratuity payable to any sea pilot or his executors or administrators under the last preceding Regulation shall be the sum of the amounts recorded as being his contributions for every completed calendar month of his service as a sea pilot.

6. Superannuation.—Any pilot who has served ten years and upwards as a duly licensed pilot and who has attained the appropriate age of retirement for the time being prescribed by the Marine Board Regulations, or who in consequence of infirmity, sickness, or accident, has become incapable of performing his duties, shall be entitled from the date of his retirement to an annual pension from the Fund in accordance with the scale set forth in Schedule I. hereto.

7. Computation of Pension in Certain Cases.—Where a pilot entitled to a pension under these Regulations has, in addition to the completed years of service, served for a further period of less than one year, his pension at the rate prescribed in Schedule I. hereto, according to the number of such completed years of service, shall be increased by an amount for each completed month of such additional service equal to one-twelfth of the sum ascertained by dividing the annual pension which would have been payable if such additional service had amounted to a full year by the number of completed years of service shown opposite that annual pension in the said schedule.

8. Lump Sum in Lieu of Pension.—(a) Any pilot upon becoming entitled to a pension under these Regulations may, if he thinks fit, elect to receive payment thereof in the form of a lump sum instead of as a pension, whereupon he shall, upon granting to the Board a release under seal from all actions, claims, and demands whatsoever against the Board or the Fund, be paid a sum calculated at the rate of £65 for the first completed year of service, £66 for the second completed year of service, and so on, such rate increasing by £1 for each additional completed year of service thereafter up to and including 35 years' service.

(b) Where any pilot who has elected under paragraph (a) hereof retires in any year prior to the anniversary of the date when his service as a pilot first commenced, he shall be entitled, in addition to the sum referred to in the said paragraph, to an additional amount for each completed month's service in the uncompleted year equal to one-twelfth of the lump sum to which he would have been entitled for that year had he not retired before the completion thereof.

9. Widows' Benefits.—On the decease of a pilot in the exercise of his calling, after having served ten years and upwards or subsequent to his being placed on the superannuation list and leaving a widow him surviving, the said widow shall be entitled to receive a pension from the Sick and Superannuation Fund in accordance with the scale prescribed in Schedule II. hereto, subject to the proviso that the pension to the widow of any pilot shall in no case exceed Sixty pounds (£60) per annum, unless she shall have been married to him ten (10) years or upwards at the time of his death or superannuation, whichever may first have happened, and shall in no case exceed Eighty pounds (£80) per annum, unless she shall have been married to him at least fifteen years at the time of such decease or superannuation, whichever may first have happened.

10. Children's Benefits.—(a) If a duly licensed pilot having served for at least ten (10) years dies leaving a widow and child or children him surviving, a capitation allowance of £50 (Fifty pounds) per annum for each such child shall be made until the child attains the age of sixteen (16) years. On the death of a pilot's widow leaving any child or children of the pilot under the age of eighteen (18) years the capitation allowance, if there is but one child, shall be increased to Sixty pounds (£60) per annum, and shall continue to be paid until such child attains the age of eighteen (18) years. If, however, the said widow leaves more than one (1) child under the age of eighteen (18) years her surviving, the pension payable to the widow shall be divided into as many equal parts as there are children under the age of eighteen (18) years, and each such part shall be added to the capitation allowance of each child payable as aforesaid, and shall likewise continue to be payable until each such child attains the age of eighteen (18) years, but without the benefit of survivorship between the children, and provided that no child shall in any case receive a larger allowance (including the said capitation allowance) than Sixty pounds (£60) per annum.

(b) In the event of a pilot dying and leaving a child or children under the age of eighteen years him surviving, but no widow him surviving, the allowance payable in respect of each child shall be calculated as if the pilot had died leaving a widow surviving him for a period of 24 hours.

(c) No capitation or other allowance shall, however, be payable under this Regulation in respect of the child or children of any pilot who dies after having accepted, pursuant to Regulation 8 hereof, a lump sum in lieu of any pension to which he was entitled, under these Regulations.

(d) The Board may in its discretion pay the allowance to which any child is entitled under this Regulation to the widow or guardian, or to such other person as to it seems proper, and the receipt of such widow, guardian, or other person shall be a good and sufficient discharge of the Board.

11. Suspension of Widow's Pension on her Re-marriage.—In the event of a widow of a pilot re-marrying the pension payable to her under these Regulations shall be suspended from the date of such re-marriage, but if she again becomes a widow such pension may be restored to her on proof being adduced to the satisfaction of the Board that she is in circumstances needing assistance and is otherwise deserving of bounty. If such pension is at any time restored as aforesaid it shall likewise be suspended during all future re-marrriages.

12. Benefits Inalienable.—The benefits to pilots, their widows, and children conferred by these Regulations are personal to the recipients, and shall not be alienated by assignment, charge, mortgage, execution under judgments, bankruptcy, or other voluntary or involuntary disposition or encumbrance, and notwithstanding any assignment, encumbrance, or alienation which may purport to have been made thereof, the Board shall, in respect thereof, pay the persons entitled to the said benefits, or, if necessary for the protection of such persons, may in its discretion apply the same for their benefit or for that of other members of their families.

13. Sick Allowance.—Any pilot who by reason of accident or physical, mental, or visual unfitness to perform his duties has been granted leave of absence exceeding 24 hours in duration by the Marine Board, shall for the duration of such leave be entitled to receive a sickness allowance at the rate of Twenty-five shillings (25s.) per week.

14. Increase or Reduction of Pension.—If at any time after the granting of any pension the scale in accordance with which the same was computed or is being paid (hereinafter referred to as the “old scale”) is altered or superseded so as to increase or reduce the amount of pension payable in respect of corresponding periods of service, then all pensions granted in accordance with the old scale shall from the date of such alteration or supersession, and without any further or other authority than this Regulation, be accordingly increased or decreased as the case may be, and all persons whose rights to pensions accrue after the said date shall be entitled to such pensions only at the rates prescribed in the said altered or new scale.

The foregoing Regulations were made and passed at a meeting of the Pilot Superannuation Board held this sixth day of May, in the year of our Lord One thousand nine hundred and thirty.
